SUPREME COURT.

TUESDAY, Nov. 1st; Smith, J.

The trial of case Nathaniel Batchelder (late of Epping,) against the town of Epping was begun on Tuesday morning. The action was brought to recover damages for an injury received by Dr. Batchelder, by reason of being thrown from his carriage while travelling over a public road near Epping corner, in front of Bunker's hotel, as is claimed by reason of the faulty construction of the road. The case was tried in Portsmouth two years ago, and resulted in a verdict for the plaintiff; and has been brought forward on review. The plaintiff since the former trial has died, and the case is now on trial on a review brought by the town. The hearing of the plaintiff's testimony occupied the day. Marston & Eastman and John Hatch for plff.; Copeland, Wiggin, and Batchelder for deft.

POLICE COURT.

TUESDAY, Nov. 1; Bufford, J.

Thomas Brennan of South Newmarket was before the court on complaint of John E. Simpson, selectman of that town, charged with keeping spirituous liquors for sale. Brennan pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to pay a fine of fifty dollars, and costs taxed at $21.97. In default of payment the case will be returned to the supreme court.

THE ANTI-MASONIC WAR.

Monday evening there was a rumor that Mr. Mason had procured writs against William H. Sise and others, claiming heavy damages, but we could not learn enough of the matter to justify us in publishing it in Tuesday morning's CHRONICLE. On Tuesday we learned that the substance of the matter is as follows:

Daniel Mason sues Wm. H. Sise, (mayor,) Wm. F. Ham, (street commissioner,) John Shannon, Joseph Spinney and Samuel Taylor in an action of trespass, placing his damages at $5000, and by the writ the defendants are to be arrested and each held to bail in that sum. The alleged trespass consists in the defendants on October 20th seizing about 12,000 feet of Mason's boards, breaking them up, and throwing them over. On Oct 28th it is alleged that the same defendants broke up a lot of Mason's boards, and then hauled off (and have now got in their possession) about 4000 feet of boards, and that on the latter date they made an assault on Mason; struck him, blacking his eye; knocked him down; choked him, and rubbed his head and face in dirt and sand; and then caused him to be arrested and locked up. Then, in his absence, they tore down his blacksmith shop, threw out his tools and bellows, and stopped his work and interrupted his business.

This suit has no connection with Mr. E. C. Spinney's claims. Mr. Spinney claims to own the dock and wharf, which cost $1500. This dock the mayor has caused to be filled up, thereby ruining the wharf, and has taken possession of the land made by filling. Then the mayor is building a cess-pool on the disputed land, where it is alleged there is no need of it, and has commenced to dig for a sewer to be put in, running clear across the whole land. Mr. Spinney will claim very large damages for the loss of his dock and wharf, which it is asserted have been open and in use for a hundred years.

A "PRIVATE" SESSION.

Mayor Sise and Aldermen Call, Slater, Vaughan, Green, Hartshorn, Martin and Stavers held a little dark-lantern seance in the aldermen's room, Tuesday forenoon at about ten o'clock, and dignified it by the name of "special meeting" of the board. Our reporter was on hand, but was refused admission, as was also the reporter of the Times, on the ground that the session was to be a strictly "private" one. We shall give the public a report of the meeting all the same, and no thanks to the manager of the seance.

The meeting was called to see what action the board would take in relation to furnishing bonds for Wm. H. Sise, Wm. F. Ham, John Shannon, Joseph Spinney and Samuel Taylor, whose arrest had been demanded by Daniel Mason on a suit for trespass.

The mayor said some of the parties could furnish bonds, while others would perhaps find difficulty in doing so.

A resolution was offered that four aldermen should become responsible, and act as bondsmen; to which an amendment was offered that the whole board should assume the responsibility.

Alderman Green said he did not think it would be just to put on the bond the names of members of the board who were not present (Aldermen Noyes and Caswell not being at the meeting.) He also enquired by what authority the whole of the dock at Mason's mill had been filled, when the board had only voted to fill a certain portion of it.

Mayor Sise said Mr. Spinney had served an injunction on the city restraining it from filling the dock, which was to have been argued at this term of the supreme court, but for some reason had abandoned it; and he (the mayor) thought it would be cheaper to fill the dock, than to partly fill it and build a stone abutment.

In the end Aldermen Vaughan and Green refused to assume any responsibility, and the other aldermen present, Messrs. Call, Hartshorn, Martin, Stavers and Slater voted to become sureties.

The foregoing was the wonderfully important business which demanded a "private" session, from which the public in general and newspaper men in particular were rigidly excluded. Whether the chief magistrate of the city was ashamed of the whole business, and desired to keep the citizens as ignorant of it as possible, we cannot say. Neither do we know if the aldermen who voted to become sureties supposed that they were thereby in any way binding the city; but we do know that the "private" meeting was illegal, and that the signatures to the bond (if affixed, of which we have no knowledge) simply make the signers personally liable. In the General Statutes of New Hampshire, Chapter 46, Section 10, it is provided of "each branch of the city councils" that "their meetings shall be public."

REAL ESTATE SALES.

The following-described lots of land, belonging to the estate of the late Frank W. Miller, were sold at auction on Tuesday, Nov. 1st, by Henry F. Wendell, under a power of attorney given to Joseph H. Foster, treasurer of the Portsmouth savings bank, to secure mortgages to said bank:

Lot bounded by South street 150 feet, Union street and Willow lane 325 feet, with a small barn thereon, was sold to Mr. M. Bufford for $750.

Lot next north of the above, about 200 feet on Union street, to Mr. J. Janvrin, for $450.

Another lot, 158 feet on the east side of Union street, and 150 feet deep, to Mr. J. Odiorne, for $400.

Lot on the west side of Union street 200 feet, and 150 feet deep, to Mr. B. F. Webster, for $300.

Lot 115 feet on Willow lane, five feet on Broad street and 458 feet deep, with a building, to Mr. Bufford for $570.

A large lot on the east side of Willow lane, size not given, to Mr. J. H. Hutchinson for $425.

Lot 200 feet on South street and 450 feet on Broad street, containing more than two acres, to Mr. Bufford, for $900.

MECHANICS' ASSOCIATION.

The annual meeting of the Mechanics' Association was held in their reading room on Tuesday evening, Nov. 1st, and the following officers were chosen:

Wm. A. Hodgdon, president;
Wm. G. Billings, vice president;
Lewis G. Davis, treasurer;
Benjamin M. Parker, secretary;
Warren J. Davis, deputy secretary;
Andrew J. Beck, marshal;
James M. Locke, deputy marshal;
William F. Batten, standard bearer;
Trustees, M. J. Vaughan, John Pender, John H. Slater, Oliver M. Locke, Jos. Pettigrew, Charles H. Downs;
Auditors, John Knowlton, Oliver M. Knight, Jos. R. Curtis.

The reports of the secretary and treasurer show that the affairs of the association are in a flourishing condition, about twelve hundred dollars of the floating debt having been paid off the past year.

THE DARK-LANTERN BUSINESS.

Referring to the "private" session of the board of mayor and aldermen on Tuesday morning, the Times remarks:

Further than that the business related to the Vaughan street matter we cannot say, for when our reporter presented himself at the city building, he was informed that the session was a private one. If the business of the meeting was right and proper, why should its doings be kept from the public? We were, however, put off with the remark that the business would not interest the citizens. That is for ourselves and the citizens to judge. It is useless for the authorities to attempt to keep secret the doings in relation to these suits, as they must sooner or later be made public, and the citizens who pay the taxes are certainly as much interested in the matter as anyone else.

This evening, at the Court street Christian church, Mr. J. E. Lord, the best elocutionist and reader who has appeared in this city for years, will give one of his select entertainments, consisting of humorous, pathetic, patriotic and dialect selections.

A large number of Portsmouth people visited the "Old Mechanics' Fair" in Boston last week. The exhibition will close in two weeks; it is well worth visiting, the collection of paintings alone being well worth the journey to Boston to see. The affair is creditable to Boston, and has drawn thousands of visitors to that city. Special rates of fare will be allowed over the Eastern railroad on Saturday, Nov. 5th, when tickets will be sold at South Berwick, Conway Junction, Eliot, Kittery and Portsmouth for $1.50 each, good to go to Boston on any regular train on Saturday, and to return on any regular train that day or Sunday and Monday.

THE SURGEON'S KNIFE.

Mr. Simeon Tietsell, of Saugerties, N. Y., had been treated for seven years by various physicians for what they called Stricture of the Urethra, without benefit. He finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who found no trouble to be Urinary Calculi or Stones in the bladder. The doctor at once removed the foreign bodies with the knife and then gave his great Blood Specific, "Favorite Remedy," to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was eminently successful, and Mr. Tietsell's recovery was rapid and perfect.

While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all kidney and bladder diseases, it is equally valuable in cases of bilious disorders, constipation of the bowels, and all the class of ills apparently inseparable from the constitutions of women. Try it. Your druggist has it, and its cost is only dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. The Doctor would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine, "Favorite Remedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to office practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery.

DIRECTIONS.
For Catarrh, Hay Fever, Cold in the Head, etc., insert with little finger a particle of the Balm into the nostrils; draw strong breath through the nose. It will be absorbed, cleansing and healing the diseased membrane.
FOR DEAFNESS
Apply a particle into the ear.

ELYS' CREAM BALM
Having gained an enviable local reputation, displacing all other preparations in the vicinity of discovery, is on its merits alone, recognized as a wonderful remedy. A fair trial will convince the most skeptical of its curative powers. It effectually cleanses the nasal passages of Catarrhal virus, causing healthy secretions, allays inflammation and irritation, protects the membranal linings of the head from additional colds, completely heals the sores and restores the sense of taste and smell. Beneficial results are realized by a few applications. A thorough treatment as directed will cure Catarrh. As a household remedy for cold in the head and snuffles it is unequalled. The Balm is easy to use and agreeable. Sold by all druggists 50 cents. A package of 5 ozs. will mail a package. Send for circular with full information.

Naval Affairs.

Advices from Hammerfest, Norway, of Sept. 1[illegible]th, state that the United States steamer Alliance had been there eight days, and had not succeeded in getting any further than just in sight of Cape Verlegenhock. Much ice had been encountered by the fishing schooners to the east of Spitzbergen, and they had found Hope Island surrounded by it. The catch had been very bad. The weather has been very unfavorable, dull, wet and cold, but all the steamer's crew were well.

Secretary Hunt calls the attention of naval officers to the rule against employing influential friends to indorse their applications for assignment to duty, as the secretary is supposed to be the best judge of what duty an officer is entitled to. All applications under such indorsements will not be attended to.

New Hampshire Items.

Charles J. Smith of Manchester, a laborer on the new bridge across the Merrimac at Nashua, fell from the bridge into the river, a distance of thirty feet, on Saturday. In falling he struck a staging plank, which broke three of his ribs and injured him internally.

The train from Alton Bay to Dover, due at the latter place at 5:20 P. M. on Oct. 29th, when at Pike's mills met with an obstruction in the shape of a tie fastened across the track. The engineer did not see the tie until too near to avoid it, there being a curve at that point, and a down grade; so he put on full steam and knocked the tie into bits, the only damage done being to the cow-catcher. Who the villain was that placed the tie there is unknown.

The colored seaman who has for some weeks been at Pest Island, having been taken there from a schooner on account of his having small-pox, left there on Tuesday of this week, having entirely recovered.

Rev. E. M. Grant, late pastor of the Universalist church in this city, preached his farewell sermon on Sunday last, having accepted a call to take charge of a church in Stamford, Conn., for which place he leaves to-day.

The Times says Mr. Charles H. Hayes is buying large quantities of apples in the surrounding towns. Tuesday morning there were at the Concord railroad station twelve carloads, or 1800 barrels. They are No. 1 in quality, the price paid being $2.25 per barrel. They will be stored in this city until ready for shipment to southern ports.

Ground was broken yesterday in Lynn for the Rev. A. A. Waite's new Glad Tidings Tabernacle. The first shovelful was taken out by Elder Waite himself, and members of the Tabernacle set the corner-posts. There were appropriate religious exercises. The building will have a diameter of eighty-one feet, and will cost $4300. Many of the ladies present filled their handkerchiefs with earth from the excavation for the corner-post.—Boston Advertiser, Oct. 27th.

Baldwin, the cashier of the Mechanics' national bank of Newark, N. J., was a model thief; he stole all the bank had, except the building. The actual loss it is believed will reach $2,600,000. Christopher Nugent, of the firm of C. Nugent & Co., large manufacturers of morocco, has been arrested for complicity in the villainy.

—Her mother said she would choke any gentleman who made love to her daughter Nannie (just budding into womanhood.) To which Nan replied: "Mamma, if a gentleman makes love to me, I prefer to choke him myself!"

Don't Die in the House.
Ask druggists for "Rough on Rats." It clears out rats, mice, bed-bugs, roaches, vermin, flies, ants, insects; 15c. per box.

Decline of Men.
Impotence of mind, limb, or vital function, nervous weakness, sexual debility, etc., cured by Wells' Health Renewer. $1. At druggists. Depot at Thacher's.

The Kearsarge arrived at Norfolk, Va., Oct. 29th. She will go in the dry dock there.

From John F. Wyman, Postmaster, South China, Me.
Too much cannot be said of Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam, as it is the best remedy for coughs, colds, etc., that I have ever seen, and to its wonderful effects I owe my recovery. It is well worthy of praise, and I would advise all to use it who are afflicted.

Capt. Joseph Fyffe is detached from command of the receiving ship Franklin, and ordered to command the flag-ship Tennessee.

He Told the Truth!
I was troubled with liver complaint for years, and suffered terribly. Lake, the druggist, advised me to take Sulphur Bitters. I took three bottles and am now a well man.—Manufacturer, Waterbury.

The Trenton is ordered to Brooklyn, to go out of commission.

The Dangers of the Stock Market.
A man may be incredulous enough to risk his money in the fickle mysteries of a uncertain stock market, but when he gets the itching piles, he goes straight for Dr. Swayne's Ointment. Unlike the bills and bears of the stock exchange, who clean you out of hard earned cash, it cures your piles and leaves you the way of keeping the blame to dog and nothing except piles.

OINTMENT
PILES

Symptoms—Moisture, or itching and burning, at first only after scratching, but at last it becomes almost unbearable, especially at night; heat is aggravated by warm water and flannel; bleeding, protruding, or blind piles. As a soothing, cooling and healing cure, SWAYNE'S OINTMENT is superior to any article in the market, sold by druggists, or sent free on receipt of price, 50 cts. Stamps, 25 cts. Address, DR. SWAYNE & SON, Phila., Pa.

Rheumatism
Neuralgia, Sprains,
Pain in the Back and Side.

There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.

This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.

Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, It never fails. If not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.

The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:

Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our secret was to be PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.

Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have persuaded my shipmate and am now able to follow my usual occupation.

O. R. Wadsworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.

E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.

Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never-failing remedy for rheumatism and sciatica.

Mr. Burditt writes:
I never failed to find relief in cases of rheumatism.

Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.

All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

Back Ache
POSITIVELY CURED BY
Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.

Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:

First.
Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts with increased vigor, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.

Second.
Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession.

Third.
Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.

Fourth.
Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.

Fifth.
Because over 1500 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.

Sixth.
Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

An Only Daughter Cured of Consumption.

When death was hourly expected, all remedies having failed, and Dr. H. James was experimenting with the many herbs of Calcutta, he accidentally made a preparation which cured his only child of Consumption. His child is now in this country, and enjoying the best of health. He has proved to the world consumption can be positively and permanently cured. The doctor now gives this recipe free, only a king two three-cent stamps to pay expenses. This herb also cures Night Sweats, Nausea at the Stomach, and will break up a fresh cold in twenty-four hours. Address Crofdock & Co., 1092 Race Street, Philadelphia, naming this paper.

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE BEST AND GREATEST MEDICINE

It will drive the Humor from your system, and make your skin clean and smooth. Those Pimples and Blotches which may your beauty cause by impure blood, and can be removed in a short time, if you are wise and use the great blood purifier,

SULPHUR BITTERS.

Why suffer with Dyspepsia? Why suffer with Headache? Why suffer with Rheumatism? Why rave with that terrible Headache? Why suffer with Kidney Complaint? Why suffer with Liver and Stomach? Why suffer with Fever and Ague? Why suffer with Nervous Prostration? Why suffer with Boils, Blotches and Pimples? Why suffer with Dyspepsia? Why suffer with Rheumatism alleviated in modern times, by the use of Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases. Its introduction was characterized by the necessary withdrawal of a score or more of illusive, quack nostrums, whose evil effects have left living monuments to denounce them. This is exemplified the proverb, necessity is the mother of invention.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

THURSDAY, NOV. 3, 1881.

[Entered at the Post-Office at Portsmouth, N.H. as second-class matter.]

Naval Affairs.

Secretary Hunt has approved the finding of the court in the case of Past Assistant Surgeon Paul Fitzsimmons, charged with scandalous conduct. The sentence was that he be suspended from duty for three months, and reprimanded by the secretary of the navy.

Rear Admiral John C. Howell has been detached from the European station, and placed on waiting orders, and Capt. Francis M. Ramsay from the command of the United States steamer Trenton and placed on waiting orders. Chief Engineer Chas. H. Baker has been ordered to duty at the Boston navy yard, in charge of engineers' stores.

The Saratoga and Portsmouth arrived at Newport, R. I., Oct. 31st, to lay up for the winter.

Capt. Oscar C. Badger is detached from the naval asylum at Philadelphia, and ordered to continue as a member of the examining board.

The United States steamer Alliance, Commander George H. Wadleigh commanding, which for the past three months has been cruising in the Arctic seas, in search of the missing exploring ship Jeannette, arrived at Halifax, N. S., Nov. 1st, on her way to New York, having during her absence neither seen nor heard anything of that vessel.

News and Notes.

The bonds of Baldwin, the wholesale thief of Newark, N. J., are said to be worthless, not having been renewed for fifteen years. The directors of the ruined Mechanics' bank said they allowed Baldwin to practically run the institution, because they considered him a remarkably smart financier. As he stole everything the bank owned, except its building, the cashier may reasonably claim that the directors' estimate of him was correct.

A motion to quash the indictment of the sheriff's posse for killing Mayor Cole of Kokomo, Ind., on Sept. 19th, while in the act of breaking into a flour mill, was made at Kokomo on Oct. 31st, and a nolle prosequi was entered. The posse was indicted for murder in the third degree.

Elizabeth Kress of New York city, sick with malaria, on Monday night drank a lot of kerosene, cut her throat, and then jumped from the roof of her dwelling, which is a five-story building. She is dead.

Michael Shea, of Newport, R. I., was found drowned in Coasters' Harbor, Saturday, Oct. 29th.

A despatch from Vicksburg, Miss., reports an assassination in Starkey county. Several colored men, on their way to a fusion meeting, were fired on from ambush. Perry Thompson was killed, and two others were dangerously wounded; all were inoffensive citizens. It is believed that the assassins intended to shoot prominent colored politians and a candidate on the fusion ticket, but they had already passed.

Col. C. P. Ramsdell, United States marshal at Richmond, Va., was very seriously wounded by a ball on his farm, Oct. 31st. He would have been killed outright but for his daughter, who drove the bull away.

Three masked burglars robbed J. Hutchinson & Co.'s safe in Bramford, Conn., of $500, Monday night, Oct. 31st. They bound and blinfolded Charles B. Hill, a partner, who slept in the store, and made him undo the combination.

Mary Harrington, of Central Falls, R. I., twenty-one years old, was choked to death while at breakfast Nov. 1st.

The steamer Texas, from Liverpool, Eng., for Quebec and Montreal, has on board $80,000 worth of pedigree cattle for Canada.

John Woling has been sent to an insane asylum, having been arrested while trying to force his way into the executive mansion at Washington on the 31st ult. This "crank" was armed with a large revolver, and fancied himself to be the president.

They have had a "blue day" in New Jersey. On Saturday, Oct. 29th, the smoke from the burning swamps, with a heavy fog, made the air so dark in Trenton, Princeton and Jamesburg, that lamps and gas had to be lighted. The night signals on the Pennsylvania railroad were kept lighted, but they could not be seen at a distance of more than twenty yards.

Mrs. Matilda Sprague Sterens died in Boston, Oct. 27th, at the age of eighty-five years. She was the widow of the late Benjamin Stevens, for many years sergeant-at-arms of the general court of Massachusetts. Her father was Samuel Sprague, one of the memorable "Boston tea-party." She was a direct descent (through her mother, Joanna Thayer of Braintree,) of Peregrine White, the first white child born within the precincts of the colony of Massachusetts bay. The late Charles Sprague, the poet, was her brother.

Mr. Editor: In response to the anonymous notice of the milk dealers that the price of milk is to be raised to six cents a quart, let me say that I understand the present price of milk is as high as it ought to be—high enough to pay a fair profit to the producers, and high enough to be quite a burden to consumers. And I understand that any reasonable man might well be ashamed to sign the milkmen's manifesto. We pay the farmers about a dollar a bushel for potatoes, three times that sum for a barrel of apples, and for all other articles a proportionate price. We do not propose to submit to the demand for an increase in the price of milk, especially when extended with brewer's grains. NO SIR.

There was a social dance in Newington town hall on Tuesday evening, Nov. 1st, with Robert Pickering for manager, and the Newington quadrille band for music. There was quite a large attendance of invited guests from Dover point, and other places out of town.

The engine drawing the Pullman train which passed through this city for Boston on Tuesday morning of this week, broke down at the Salisbury end of the bridge at Newburyport. Another engine was procured from Newburyport, and the disabled locomotive and train towed to Boston with but slight delay.

John Peters, a half-breed Indian, has been arrested for the burglary of the house of S. S. Andrews in Biddeford, Me., and proof of his guilt obtained. A trunk full of the goods stolen from Andrews' house was found at the Eastern railroad station in this city. Other articles found in the possession of Peters were recognized as having been stolen from houses in Dover. It is said he stole three watches at the Weirs last summer, and he has been in jail at Bangor, Me. Peters' wife is an Indian woman, who has a daughter sixteen years old by a former husband, and two children by Peters; both these women, and two other females, have been arrested for complicity in the robberies perpetrated by Peters.

There has been considerable talk at Dover of late concerning an additional water supply, and various plans have been proposed. One is to bring water from Willand's pond, three miles north of the city, and in case this fails to be sufficient, to pump water from the river to a reservoir on Garrison hill. The agent of the Cocheco Manufacturing company publishes a letter concerning the latter plan, stating that "this would injure the water power, and the company will maintain all its legal rights." This will probably and this plan, and as the pond alone is insufficient for all purposes, it is doubtful what will be done. An additional supply is necessary, as some parts of the city are in great danger in case of fire.

The killing of Isaac Packard by Arthur Pierce at Conway Junction, South Berwick, Oct. 30th, was due to reckless fooling with "unloaded" fire-arms. The two boys were playing in the yard of the Pierce residence, when Packard produced an unloaded revolver, and chased his chum into the house. Pierce then got his father's shot-gun, which he thought was unloaded, but which contained a heavy charge of buckshot, went up to Packard in the yard, and saying, "I'll fix you," discharged the contents of the gun into his companion's face, killing him almost instantly, and shockingly mangling him.

A. Tarbox, Esq., agent of the Biddeford & Saco Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, visited Eliot on the 1st inst., and summoned Mr. Rowe of Sturgeon creek to appear on the 2d before the municipal court at Biddeford, to answer to a complaint charging him with pulling a horse's tongue out with a piece of cord.

A gentleman residing at Kittery Point on arising Wednesday morning, the 2d inst., counted twenty-seven small boats engaged in fishing. A large school of cod-fish is reported as having struck in, close in shore.

Commander Wadleigh, of the U. S. S. Alliance, which has for some months been in search of the Jeannette, reports to the navy department that the ship Jamestown, lumber laden, dismasted and abandoned, drifted on shore near Cape Reikanes, Iceland, June 26th, having evidently been derelict for a long time, as grass was growing on her decks. The Jamestown, a Kennebunk-built vessel, was abandoned in the Atlantic about a year before she went ashore on the Iceland coast, having lost her rudder on the passage from the British provinces to England.

There are living in Rochester three widows whose united ages are 265 years—Mrs. Nancy Henderson, aged ninety; her sister, Mrs. Judith Clark, aged eighty-six, and their cousin, Mrs. Abigail Henderson, aged eighty-seven. The latter has two sisters—Mrs. Sally Howard of South Newmarket, aged eighty-five, and Mrs. Betsey Smith of Rochester, aged seventy-two. The maiden name of all these ladies was Nutter.

Oiling the Right Spindle.

Frederick McCabe, the ventriloquist, is a great practical joker. Several years ago he was on board a Mississippi river steamboat, and, forming an acquaintance with the engineer, was allowed the freedom of the engine-room. He took a seat in a corner, and pulling his hat down over his eyes appeared lost in reverie. Presently a certain part of the machinery began to squeak. The engineer oiled it, and went about his usual duties. In the course of a few minutes the squeaking was heard again, and the engineer rushed over, oil-can in hand, to lubricate the same spindle. Again he returned to his post, but it was only a few minutes until the same old spindle was squeaking louder than ever. "Great Jupiter!" he yelled, "the thing's bewitched." More oil was administered, but the engineer began to smell a rat. Pretty soon the spindle squeaked again, and slipping up behind McCabe, the engineer squirted a half-pint of oil down the joker's back. "There," said he, "I guess that spindle won't squeak any more!" And it didn't.

—When a bank "goes up" it generally fails to "come down."

—The Burlington Hawkeye states that when a man was butted over a fence by a goat, the man said: "Go to." He did, and he added a heap more which the Hawkeye fails to quote.

—A professor of French in an Albany school recently asked a pupil which was the gender of academy. The unusually bright pupil responded that it depended on whether it was a male or a female academy.

—"You were not riding this afternoon, were you, Cicely, my dear?" inquired her intimate, last evening. "No. Don't you think, my dear little pony has the pink-eye." "Isn't that dreadful? And a darked pony at that. How unbecoming to his complexion!"

—It is something unprecedented in the annals of foreign court etiquette, that three nations, Great Britain, Spain and Belgium should have gone into mourning for the death of President Garfield. "One touch of nature (in life or death) makes the whole world kin."

—Very few people have any idea of the slowness an Austin street car is capable of. Only yesterday a lady with a two-year-old boy got in the car. She paid her own fare, and asked what was the charge for the infant. "No charge, madam. We only charge adults." "Then I might as well pay. He will be grown up before he gets there. I'm going five blocks."—Texas Siftings.

—"Yes," whispered the boy to Mr. Barnum, "I am ready to pay for my ticket, but I want the privilege of going in by crawling under the tent." And Mr. Barnum agreed and ordered the guards not to interfere with the lad, and asked his reasons for it, and the lad explained that he had got over seven dollars bet with boys who had tried to crawl in and failed, that he would succeed in it.

—Mrs. Solomon, of New York, went to a dog doctor to have her canine's teeth extracted. The medicine man told her the dog was too young for that operation, and advised her to buy a $2 bottle of his medicine for it instead. She refused, and was about to depart, when he locked her in on her refusal to pay him $1 for his advice. Becoming frightened she paid the $1, and afterward got a warrant out. He was fined $10, and costs, and was committed in default of $300 bail to keep the peace.

—Two or three gentlemen from Bangor, together with a party from Boston, went out to Lead mountain, near Union river, Me., to hunt for deer. The party had with them a pack of valuable dogs. The hunting of deer with dogs is forbidden by the state law, and its violation so incensed the residents of the vicinity that they all turned out, and shot every dog in the pack. One of the dogs, owned by a Boston gentleman, was valued at $150. It may well be imagined that the Nimrods returned in a very excited state of mind, but there is no redress for them.

Notice to Mariners.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 31st—Notice is given by the lighthouse board that on and after Dec 1st, 1881, a steam whistle will be sounded during thick and foggy weather from Holmes Hole (Westchop) Light Station, western entrance to Vineyard Haven harbor, Mass., giving blasts of three seconds' duration, followed by intervals of twenty-seven seconds.

As Thousands do Testify.

So does Thomas Roberts, Wholesale Grocer, Philadelphia, who says: "The nerve Cocaine allays all irritation of the scalp, and will most effectually remove dandruff and prevent the hair from falling out."

Burnett's Flavoring Extracts.—The superiority of these extracts consists in their perfect purity and great strength. They are warranted free from the poisonous oils and acids which enter into the composition of many factitious fruit flavors.

A COUGH, COLD OR SORE THROAT should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an incurable LUNG DISEASE or CONSUMPTION. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, affording immediate relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the throat troubles which Singers and Public speakers are subject to. For thirty years "Brown's Bronchial Troches" have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. FELLOWS' Compound SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

A REALLY RELIABLE REMEDY FOR WASTING AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

After numerous experiments Mr. Fellows succeeded in producing this combination of Hypophosphites, which has not only restored him to health, but has since been found so successful in the treatment of disease emanating from loss of nerve power, and consequently muscular relaxation, viz:

Aphonia (loss of voice), Anæmia, Chronic Diarrhœa, Dyspepsia, Fever and Ague, Leucorrhœa, Malaria, Neuralgia, Nervous debility, Whooping Cough, Congestion of the Lungs, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Mental Depression, Nervousness.

MALARIA.

Persons living in Malarious districts may protect themselves from attacks of fever by the use of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites. Its effects in toning up the system enables us to ward off contagious disorders, and successfully combat disease.

The soluble phosphites and the other life-sustaining principles composing Fellows' Hypophosphites are so carefully proportioned and so judiciously mingled, that their action upon the nerves, muscles and membranes in imparting vitality, strength and healthy action is generally apparent within twenty four hours, and the good effects experienced are of a permanent character.

Price of Milk.

WE understand the milkmen of the city have come to an agreement among themselves to charge their customers six cents a quart for milk, commencing Nov. 1. They do this in consequence of the increase in the prices of provisions generally and the greater cost of production in the winter season. This is the price in other cities.

THE WEATHER.

U. S. SIGNAL OFFICE,
WASHINGTON, D. C.,
Nov. 3, 1:30 A. M.

Probabilities for New England:—Winds shifting to east and south, with threatening weather and rain, falling barometer and rising followed by lower temperature.

The Thermometer at the CHRONICLE Office, at 4:00 o'clock this morning, registered 50 degrees above zero.

Cloudy.

BOARD OF ISTRUCTION.

The regular meeting of the Board of Instruction was held Wednesday evening, Nov. 2d; present Mayor Sise, Mrs. Knight and Mrs. Wilson, Messrs. Locke, Vaughan, Gardner, Newton, Pender, Knight, Goodrich and May.

A communication from the writing-master, Mr. Montgomery, in relation to an increase of his salary, was received, and it was voted to increase the salary to the sum of $800 per annum. Subsequently, Mr. Goodrich gave notice that he should move a reconsideration of the foregoing vote at the next regular meeting.

Mr. Gardner was authorized to hire a hall for the accommodation of the State Teachers' Association, which is to meet in this city on the 21st, 22d and 23d of December next.

The committee on the examination of teachers were directed to hold a competitive examination of applicants for positions in our public schools, agreeably to the regulations, at the High School building, Dec. 10th.

Voted, That hereafter the presenting of gifts by the pupils to the teachers of our public schools be prohibited.

SUPREME COURT.

WEDNESDAY, Nov. 2d; Smith, J.

Case Batchelder vs. Epping occupied the day. Among the witnesses for the plaintiff were Doctors Wm. G. Perry of Exeter and Josiah C. Eastman of Hampstead, who tended Dr. Batchelder after the injury, as did Dr. Spalding of Epping, who was also present in court.

THE STEAM LAUNDRY.

The steam laundry located on State street, in the Times building, under its present management is taking a prominent place among the business enterprises of the city. When the establishment was opened, many persons predicted that it would, like other laundries previously started in the city, suspend operations after a short time; but this one has now carried on business successfully for nearly a year, with especially good results in the last three months, during which time it has been owned and operated by Mr. Walter H. Page. Although he has not made it all he intends to, it is a most decided improvement on anything of the kind yet heard of in this city. The room, which is large and commodious, is a model of neatness, and is as clean as a liberal supply of soap and water can make it. The machinery with which the work is done is efficient and thorough, and when all Mr. Page's plans are carried out the laundry will be a local convenience which the city could not afford to do without.

AN EARLY MORNING START.

It is nothing for a journalist to be out late o' nights, but it is a great thing to fined one of the profession up—or rather one who gets up—early in the morning. Indeed, getting home at a time which other people would call early morn, is to him simply a season of moderate lateness.

The average man of steady habits who undertakes to travel by the morning "Pullman" train to Boston has a peculiar experience as he "scents the early morning air." He retires with everything in readiness for the morning toilet, and a hopeful regard for the reliability of his alarm clock. After fitful sleep and uncomfortable dreams, he arises before his clock hints that the proper hour has arrived, and in abundant season hies to the Eastern station. He leaves the house cautiously, closing the door quietly after his exit, lest Mrs. Grundy, who lives opposite, should think he was just returning from the quarterly meeting of the fire society at an unusally late hour, and then starts down town. Here and there a belated cat crosses his path; an occasional subdued coughing from a locomotive in the distance, or a short toot from an engine, a feeble premature crow from a far-off henery, and the rumbling of some remote freight train, are all the sounds that greet his ear. He goes down Bridge street, fully determined to write a communication for the CHRONICLE advocating a better sidewalk for that much-travelled thoroughfare, and reaches the station to find the waiting-room locked. He takes refuge in the telegraph office. Here the operator is stretched out at full length on the key board; the last freight train is off, and the Pullman has passed North Berwick twenty minutes late; why should he not seek "tired nature's sweet restorer?"

The train arrived, a short but determined attack is made at the counter of the restaurant, and Lunt calls "all aboard." Our early morning townsman, accustomed to fresh and well-aired cars, enters the train to be greeted with smells to which the bouquet of the north millpond cannot be compared either in strength or variety. The odor of the car, which has been created by persons of all ages and every degree of personal habit, is simply intolerable, and he wishes himself safe at home between the recently-quitted sheets. Here he finds persons of all ages and occupations, piled upon seats in every fantastic shape; children of various sizes, whose morning toilet has not begun, and a frowsy appearance at every turn; across the aisle comes the regular nasal tones of an accomplished snorer, the deep diapason, like the waves at Wallis' sands, seeming to grow higher with every third roll. Every one is selfish, tired, cross and uncomfortable. He seems to be the only fresh, well-gotten-up passenger in the train. He tries to get some comfort, but finds none. He treats himself, as the road skirts the distant marshes, to a sight of the sun rising from his bed, and endeavors to recall when before, if ever, he witnessed this daily performance which has so long been produced with its spectacular splendor, and is so seldom seen by the many. He compares his watch with the time-table, and thinks what he will be likely to order for his breakfast in Boston. He now and then raises a sash to let some of the bad air out and the good air in, but he does not enjoy the ride; yet when at half-past six the train rolls into the station in Boston, having made up all time lost east of Portsmouth, and run to Boston in two hours and five minutes, he thinks exultingly of the progress he has made, and how he has stolen a march on time and accomplished the unexampled feat of rising before four o'clock on a frosty morning, and making the trip to Boston before breakfast.

AROUND HOME.

Please fix that scuttle!

Among the gentlemen in attendance at the supreme court on Wednesday, the 2d inst., was Ex-Gov. Prescott of Epping, who was in the city as a witness for the town of Epping in the Batchelder case.

A letter dated at Jacksonville, Fla., has been received in this city from Mr. George R. Raitt, who in company with Mr. Daniel Webster left Portsmouth not long ago to settle in Florida, provided the pair found things there to suit them. They arrived all right, and found employment at once.

Mr. Benjamin M. Bailey, with a gang of calkers, commenced work on the schooner Cocheco on Wednesday.

Rose Eytinge is booked to appear at Music hall in "Felicia," on the evening of the 10th inst.

Passed Assistant Engineer John A. Tobin, U. S. N., formerly attached to this naval station but for some time past absent in Europe on special duty, arrived in this city on Tuesday evening, the 1st inst.

Men were on Wednesday of this week engaged in moving the buildings of Mrs. Hannah E. Seavey back from the line of the new street. At the same time a number of carpenters were putting in new sills and floor-timbers in Mrs. Seavey's dwelling, the original ones having been found to be entirely rotten.

In addition to the cases already reported in the papers as having arisen from the extension of Vaughan street and the manner in which the extending has been conducted, we learn that four other suits have been commenced by four different parties, a total of about $80,000 being claimed from the city as damages.

The gondolas still find work to do on the river. Three of these ungainly-looking but serviceable crafts were at the north end wharves on Wednesday of this week, two of them loaded with coal for an up-river town, and the third one loading.

One of the aldermen, who agreed with the others to be responsible for the men against whom suit was made, said that he believed that the city should fight Mason until not a brick was left in the city, if need be. Such talk well becomes a dignified alderman.—Times.

The records of the court of enquiry in the case of Capt. Louis E. Fagan, U. S. M. C., lately attached to the marine barracks at this naval station, have been received by the secretary of the navy. The court recommends that there be no further proceedings in the case, which is virtually an exoneration of Capt. Fagan.

There was a free fight in the saloon kept by Thomas Brennan at South Newmarket, on Tuesday, the 1st inst., during which one Jerry Crowley was seriously injured. This same Brennan was before the Portsmouth police court on the 1st, and was fined $50 and costs for keeping liquor for sale.

The Eastern railroad managers have given up all hope of being able to utilize for railroad purposes the water from the artesian well near the station in this city, and the tubing has been taken out and the deep-well pump removed. The well may be of great value as a reservoir for fire-department purposes, though we are not aware that any of the pumping tests applied by the railroad have demonstrated the rapidity of flow into the well, though they have proved that the supply of water is practically inexhaustible when taken from a low level—too low to be of any use to a fire engine; but a few hours' pumping by one of the fire steamers would decide this point, and if the well should prove of value the city could no doubt easily secure the use of it, as the railroad owns a lot of wooden buildings in its immediate vicinity. The railroad's new venture in the water-hunting line, near the powder-house, bids fair to be entirely successful, water of excellent quality and apparently inexhaustible in quantity having been found.

—A coroner's verdict reads thus: "The deceased came to his death by excessive drinking, producing apoplexy in the minds of the jury."

THE SURGEON'S KNIFE.

Mr. Simeon Tietsell, of Sangerties, N. Y., had been treated for seven years by various physicians for what they called Stricture of the Urethra, without benefit. He finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculi or Stones in the Bladder. The doctor at once removed the foreign bodies with the knife and then gave his great Blood Specific, "Favorite Remedy," to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was eminently successful, and Mr. Tietsell's recovery was rapid and perfect.

While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all kidney and bladder diseases, it is equally valuable in cases of bilious disorders, constipation of the bowels, and all the class of ills apparently inseparable from the constitutions of women. Try it. Your druggist has it, and its cost is only dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. The Doctor would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine, "Favorite Remedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to office practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery.

DIRECTIONS.
For Catarrh, Hay Fever, Cold in the Head, etc., Insert with little finger a particle of the Balm into the nostrils; draw strong breaths through the nose. It will be absorbed, cleansing and healing the diseased membrane.
FOR DEAFNESS,
Apply a particle into the ear.

ELYS' CREAM BALM
Having gained an enviable local reputation, displacing all other preparations in the vicinity of discovery, is on its merits alone, recognized as a wonderful remedy. A fair trial will convince the most skeptical of its curative powers. It effectually cleanses the nasal passages of Catarrhal virus, causing healthy secretions, allays inflammation and irritation, protects the membranal linings of the head from additional colds, completely heals the sores and restores the sense of taste and smell. Benefical results are realized by a few applications. A thorough treatment at directed will cure Catarrh. As a household remedy for cold in the head and snuffles it is unequalled. The Balm is easy to use and agreeable. Sold by all druggists at 50 cts. On receipt of 50 cts. will mail a package. Send for circular with full information.

Mrs. Alice F. Beals demands $3,000 of the town of Littleton, damages for injuries sustained by stepping into a hole in a sidewalk on the evening of Oct. 18th.

The Pemigewasset house at Plymouth was damaged to the amount of about $4000 on the 1st inst., by fire.

Some worthless wreth in Exeter recently shot a cow belonging to John Gilman, two pistol bullets being found in the animal's body after her death. George O. Black of Exeter recently lost forty-five hens through poison administered by some person unknown.

It is estimated that in the towns of Newport, Croydon and Grantham $1500 worth of turkeys have been killed by foxes this season.

Miss Mattie Sinclair of Florida, daughter of the Hon. John G. Sinclair, the whilom "democratic war horse" of New Hampshire, has been visiting friends in Bethlehem, Littleton, and vicinity.

In Manchester, Oct. 29th, a young man named Robert R. McGregor was caught by a belt in the Amoskeag machine-shop, and his right arm so badly injured as to necessitate amputation at the shoulder. He is about twenty-five years of age.

Miss Mary Stark, of Dunbarton, N. H., aged forty-one years, died in Bay Ridge, N. Y., Oct. 29th, at the winter residence of her mother. Miss Stark was the great-granddaughter of Gen. John Stark of revolutionary fame, and on her mother's side a great-granddaughter of Robert Morris, who so nobly pledged his large fortune to sustain the American cause when the public credit was at its lowest ebb. Miss Stark had greatly endeared herself to the people of Dunbarton for her many acts of benevolence and kindness; especially will she be missed in the St. John's parish. The little Episcopal church located upon the land of Miss Charlotte Stark is a monument of her generosity and zeal in the Christian cause. Its erection was largely due to her efforts and contributions. The children of the parish have lost a dear friend. For the last fifteen years she has furnished a beautiful Christmas-tree, laden with presents, for the children of the Sabbath school.

George Washington, a negro, was arrested at San Antonio, Tex., charged with rape on a Mexican woman, pleaded guilty, and was sentenced to the penitentiary for ninety-nine years.

There is a Balm in Gilead.
The success which has marked the introduction of Cream Balm, a catarrh remedy, prepared by Ely Bros., Owego, N. Y., is indeed marvelous. Many persons in Pittston and vicinity are using it with most satisfactory results. A lady down town is recovering the sense of smell, which she had not enjoyed for fifteen years, through the use of the Balm. She had given up her case as incurable. Mr. Barber, the druggist, has used it in his family and commends it very highly. In another column a young Tunkhannock lawyer, known to many of our readers, testifies that he was cured of partial deafness. It is certainly a very efficacious remedy.—Pittston, Pa., Gazette, Aug. 15, 1879.
Price 50 cents.

Bridget Murray was fatally burned in Lowell, Mass., Nov. 1st, through the breaking of a kerosene lamp by a drunken man.

Proof Everywhere.
If any invalid or sick person has the least doubt of the power and efficacy of Hop Bitters to cure them, they can find cases exactly like their own in their own neighborhood, with proof positive that they can be easily and permanently cured, at a trifling cost—or ask your druggist or physician.
GREENWICH, Feb. 11th, 1880.
Hop Bitters Co.—Sirs—I was given up by the doctors to die of scrofula consumption. Two bottles of your Bitters cured me. LEROY BREWER.

Samuel Fenimore, an old and well-known citizen of Newburyport, Mass., seventy-nine years years old, was found dead in bed on Saturday, Oct. 29th. He was a relative of James Fenimore Cooper, the novelist.

The Dangers of the Stock Market.
A man may be incredulous enough to risk his money in the fickle mysteries of a mercurial stock market, but when he gets the itching piles, he goes straight for Dr. Swayne's Ointment. Unlike the bulls and bears of the stock exchange, who clean you out of hard earned cash, it returns your money with interest, in the way of allaying the intense itching, and insuring sweet repose.

Rheumatism
Neuralgia, Sprains,
Pain in the Back and Side.
There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.
This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire lest it be death to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.
Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, It never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.
The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:
Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our resort was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.
Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. It has restored my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.
G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.
E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.
Baron Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.
Mr. Burditt writes:
It never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.
Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.
All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

Back Ache
POSITIVELY CURED
BY
Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.
Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:
First.
Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts with increased rubefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.
Second.
Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession.
Third.
Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.
Fourth.
Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.
Fifth.
Because over 2000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.
Sixth.
Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

An Only Daughter Cured of Consumption.
When death was hourly expected, all remedies having failed, and Dr. H. James was experimenting with the many herbs of Calcutta, he accidentally made a preparation which cured his only child of Consumption. His child is now in this country, and enjoying the best of health. He has proved to the world consumption can be positively and permanently cured. The doctor now gives this recipe free, only asking two three-cent stamps to pay expenses. This herb also cures Night Sweats, Nausea at the Stomach, and will break up a fresh cold in twenty-four hours. Address Craddock & Co., 1032 Race Street, Philadelphia, naming this paper.

Daily Chronicle.

Our Citizen Soldiery.

According to the Charleston News and Courier, that great war correspondent and critic Mr. Archibald Forbes has been very much impressed by the apparent soldier-like qualities of the militia of our country, as illustrated by a Connecticut regiment that exhibited itself in the chief city of the Palmetto state. He thought at first that its members talked too much, but when they came on parade he thought a nation that had such militia did not need a standing army, as they would constitute a cheaper and more effective force than any standing army would be. "I have seen," said Forbes, "all the armies in the world, I believe, from the Afghan scalawags to the Russian imperial guards, and I have never seen greater precision and solidity than those men manifested on that dress parade." Praise from such a Briton is praise indeed, and we are glad to see that he has caught the idea that obtains in this country with respect to its defenders. If occasion arises we can put 1,000,000 well disciplined men in the field in a very short time, as has been proved. When occasion does not demand it, it is better that these men should be following the arts of peace. Mr. Forbes is learning.—Boston Post.

He Told the Truth!

I was troubled with liver complaint for years, and suffered terribly. Lake, the druggist, advised me to take Sulphur Bitters. I took three bottles and am now a well man.—Manufacturer, Waterbury.

The Pall Mall Gazette, of London, Eng., says: "There is no truth whatever in the statement that there is a large amount of money in the Bank of England which was deposited to the credit of the confederate government, and is available for the payment of confederate bonds. We believe it does not hold a single penny, and doubt whether there is any such money in any bank in this country. The whole story is a gross fabrication, and fitting product of a speculation that has no substantial foundation."

Rescued from Death.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the city hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half a dollar. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years.

I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with diseased lungs, will be induced to take Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and be convinced that consumption can be cured. I have taken two bottles and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness." Sold by all druggists.

Joseph Sparks, a Kentucky gentleman aged eighty-five years, has just led to the alter Miss Helen Joseph, aged eighteen.

The Results of Necessity.

What the ancients suffered for the want of knowledge in medical science, can only be appreciated by contrasting the vast amount of suffering cured and pain alleviated in modern times, by the use of Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases. Its introduction was characterized by the necessary withdrawal of a score or more of illusive, quack nostrums, whose evil effects have left living monuments to denounce them. Thus is exemplified the proverb, necessity is the mother of invention.

It is estimated that the recent overflow of the Mississippi river caused damages between Keokuk, Ia., and Louisianna, Mo., amounting to $2,930,000. It will take several days yet before business in the river towns will be fully resumed.

Specials from Oshkosh, Wis., say that water from Lake Winnebago is rising constably, and that damge to business there is estimated at $5,000 per day.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

FRIDAY, NOV. 4. 1881.

[Entered at the Post-Office at Portsmouth, N.H. as second-class matter.]

Got Their Deserts.

William B. Adams has a farm in Hinsdale, and has been persecuted by persons who, up to June last, had destroyed a great number of his farming tools, carts, wagons, etc. June 1st his barn was burned. Patience then ceased to be a virtue, and Sheriff Rice of Keene went to Boston and engaged Wiggin and Wood, detectives, to investigate the matter. They went to work, and after some time got sufficient evidence to arrest one Elbridge Blackmar, aged about fifty-five years, his son George, aged twenty-two, and his son Edward, aged twenty-one. They arrested the boys for burning the barn, and the old man for assisting the boys in destroying a good deal of the property. The grand jury in October indicted all three of the Blackmars, and also indicted Henry Adams, a brother of William Adams, as accessory before and after the facts. The case excited a great deal of interest there. William Adams is one of the wealthiest men in Hinsdale, and the trouble arose from the fact that William Adams and his brother Henry had not been friendly for many years, and Henry is alleged to to have encourage the Blackmars to commit the depredations. The trial of the Blackmars began on the 2d inst., and after hearing a part of the testimony for the government the Blackmars all retracted their plea of not guilty, and pleaded guilty. Elbridge was sentenced to one year in the state prison, George to five years, and Edward to three years. Henry Adams' case was continued until the next term, in order to try a civil case now pending against him.

Heavy Damages.

S. C. Maine, a Boston lawyer, recently recovered $6000 from the Portland Steam Packet Co., as damages for personal injuries. On May 3d, 1880, he took passage in Boston for Portland upon the steamer John Brooks, belonging to the defendant company. He occupied a state-room with another person. Soon after retiring to bed for the night a cleet which supported one end of the upper berth gave way, thereby causing the occupant of the upper berth to fall upon the plaintiff, who occupied the lower berth. In the effort to release himself from this position the plaintiff alleged that he received injuries of a permanent character, and he sought to recover damages in the sum of $40,000 therefor. The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $6000. Stillman B. Allen, formerly of Kittery, Me., was counsel for the successful litigant.

Close Sailing.

The ships Hercules and Oakland, which arrived at Boston on the 2d inst., from Iloilo, left that place within an hour of each other, and went up Boston harbor almost side by side. The first eighteen days the two vessels were in sight of one another. The Hercules rounded Cape Good Hope two days ahead, which lead she held to the equator, but the Oakland gained while running down the northeast trades, and caught her rival just as she was entering port. The barque Furness Abbey, Guest master, which arrived at Boston on the 2d inst., passed through Alla straits July 11th, in company with the Oakland.

Punching Coins.

The talk about punched silver coins has started inquiry as to who does the punching, and the singular statement is made by a government detective that nine-tenths of the work is done by Cubans in New York city. A number of coins are clamped together and a hole drilled through the lot, taking away about one twenty-fifth of their weight. The same Cubans also carry on the business of "sweating" gold coins by shaking them in a bag. It is said that by this operation one hundred eagles will in three hours yield $20 in dust without being obviously injured.

News and Notes.

The Honolulu (Sandwich-islands) signal station is in communication with the United States. A meteorological mean will be established on the volcano Kilauenu and a series of observations taken.

A special train over the Pennsylvania road, on which William H. Vanderbilt was the only passenger, was driven between Altoona and Harrisburg at the rate of a mile in forty-seven seconds. Vanderbilt pronounced it the best time on record, and gave $10 to the engineer, and $5 each to the fireman and conductor.

By the burning of the village of Enfield, S. C., Oct. 30th, Senator Massacre C. Butler lost his law office and his entire library.

The reduction in the star route postal service during the month of October aggregates $55,778, making a total, since Postmaster General James began his reductions, of about $1,575,000 per annum.

Wm. H. Gurney, one of the most prominent lawyers in Buffalo, N. Y., committed suicide Nov. 2d, by jumping into the Niagara river. He had been ill a long time, and it is thought the deed was done while temporarily insane.

New Hampshire Items.

The Rochester Courier says John F. Torr of that town has an oak and elm near his house which are probably the largest trees in that county. Ten feet from the ground the elm measures sixteen feet in circumference, and the oak has a stumpage of nearly as many feet; the elm is symmetrical in form, the branches coming nearly to the ground in the form of an umbrella.

The Wallace Brothers of Rochester, in connection with the Page Belting company of Concord, have bought the water power on the Merrimac at Sewall's falls in Concord. It is said to be their purpose to establish an extensive tannery there.

The ship Humboldt, of New York, 1018 tons register, commanded by Capt. B. O. Reynolds of Dover, has been totally lost on Paracel's reef in the China sea, on the passage from China to New York. Several of the crew were saved, among them being Capt. Reynolds.

The breach of promise suit brought against Ezekiel J. M. Hale of New York by Miss Ida Farr of Littleton, daughter of the late Congressman Evarts W. Farr, has been amicably settled, Hale paying the girl $1,000 to relinquish the suit, and forever hold her peace.

Abijah Allen of Littleton extends his thanks through a local newspaper to the parties who stole several bags of apples from his orchard, it being the means of saving his entire stock from freezing, as he picked them earlier than he would have done but for the depredations of the thieves.

The house of Freeman Holmes at Jefferson mills, Lancaster, was burned on the night of Oct. 1st. Loss $700; insurance $400.

The members of the Federal Fire Society enjoyed their semi-annual dinner at the Rockingham house on Thursday.

The Omaha was hauled out on the ways at the navy yard on Thursday.

Opponents of the board of instruction—and there are such—must acknowledge that no more commendable and judicious order was ever made by a school board than that passed at the last meeting of the Portsmouth board, prohibiting the presentation of gifts to teachers by the pupils in the public schools.

Mr. Daniel Littlefield of this city keeps fifteen men constantly employed in lumbering operations on his wood lots in Newmarket and Durham; part of the trees cut down are converted into lumber, the rest being prepared for firewood. He has a portable steam saw-mill to cut up the suitable logs, and since the fall of 1880 has turned out more than a million feet of merchantable lumber, and over five hundred cords of wood.

Mr. Ivory Simpson, of York, eighty-eight years of age, with his wife, who is aged eighty-one, drove into this city a few days ago on business, having finished which they drove home again. Mrs. Simpson manages her dairy herself, taking care of the milk from seven cows, and making about thirty-five pounds of butter a week, in addition to attending to other household duties.

Accessions of books to the number of 330 volumes have been made to the Public Library lately, the donors being Mrs. James T. Fields, Mrs. S. P. Long and Mrs. John Sise.

The Portsmouth shoe factory has been closed for several days, for repairs to machinery.

The trotting mare "Lady Mack," a buggy and harness, and $50 in gold, will be "given away" in a lottery at the Custom House Exchange on Saturday evening.

The schooner Addie & Hattie, of this port, landed at Gloucester, Mass., during the week ending Nov. 3d, 25,000 lbs. of pollock. The schooners Iris and Good Templar have joined the fleet of Portsmouth vessels fishing out of Gloucester, and are reported to be doing well.

Intelligence has been received by Mr. James Card of Newcastle, of the death of one of his sons, Harrison Card, who was lost at sea while mate of the schooner Ella, of Gloucester, Mass., on the voyage from Boston to the West Indies for a load of fruit. Deceased was about forty-one years old, and was long a member of St. John's lodge of masons, of this city.

The annual meeting of the Ladies' Association of Eliot was held at the Congregational restry in that town on Wednesday, the 26th ult. Mrs. John L. Jenks was re-elected president, and Mrs. S. C. Shapleigh secretary. By the treasurer's report the association has paid out for various items connected with the new church, during the year, $824. Two hundred dollars of this was in the bank at the beginning of the year, the balance having been raised since.

We learn that the Commonwealth Insurance Co., of Boston, which has an agency in this city, has paid Mrs. Abbie A. Grant the full sum of her insurance upon the Cape Neddick house, at Cape Neddick, York, (destroyed by fire in April last,) after a thorough investigation of the value of the property consumed. Mrs. Grant has retained a prominent lawyer in Maine, and commenced a suit against the New York Insurance Co., which had an insurance on the personal property; the action is returnable at the January term of the supreme judicial court of Maine, at Alfred.

William H. Neal of Saco, seventy years old, committed suicide Nov. 2d, by hanging. He had been somewhat deranged since the death of his wife, a year ago, but exhibited no alarming condition. After he had eaten his dinner, as he passed through the dining room, he exclaimed "My God, Jane, how can I stand it?" He went directly to the barn, and in less than ten minutes was found dead. He leaves two sisters, and considerable property.

Mr. Samuel R. Gardner is repairing the old Clifton house, so-called, on the corner of Charles and Mast streets. This house is now owned by Mrs. Dodge of Hampton Falls, daughter of the late Dr. Laighton of this city, and is to be put in thorough repair; it is said to be over two hundred years old, and on the inside is finished with fine panel work of a very ancient style, which is to be carefully preserved in the renovation. Mr. Gardner has recently built two houses on Winter street, Exeter, each two and a half stories high—the first large houses erected in that town for several years; the lumber for these buildings was landed here, and taken to Exeter by rail.

On Wednesday evening, Nov. 2d, about seven o'clock, Charles Dudley, of the firm of Dudley Bros., grocers, of Biddeford, having occasion to go to the store found on entering that it had been broken into, and looking about found Frank Lafont of that city concealed under the counter. Calling assistance the fellow was seized and taken to the police station to answer to a charge of breaking and entering.

The dull November days have come, the saddest of the year, when the squealing of the slaughtered pig offends the æsthetic ear.

Then let us eat no pork or beans, but live on bread and butter; then the pretty pig will have no need his dying squeal too utter.

As Thousands do Testify,

So does Thomas Roberts, Wholesale Grocer, Philadelphia, who says: "Bennett's Cocoaine allays all irritation of the scalp, and will most effectually remove dandruff and prevent the hair from falling out."

Burnett's Flavoring Extracts.—The superiority of these extracts consists in their perfect purity and great strength. They are warranted free from the poisonous oils and acids which enter into the composition of many facetious fruit flavors.

A COUGH, COLD OR SORE THROAT should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the throat troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years "Brown's Bronchial Troches" have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. BRIGHTON CATTLE MARKET.

For week ending Wednesday, Nov. 2.

[Reported for the Boston Journal.]

Amount of stock at market—Cattle 2135; Sheep and lambs 5340; Swine 14,310; Veals 66; number of western cattle 1710; eastern cattle 368; milch cows and northern cattle 19.

Prices of Beef Cattle per 100 lbs., live weight—Extra quality $6 62 1-2 to $7 25; first quality $5 75 to $6 37 1-2; second quality $5 37 1-2 to $5 62; third quality $4 37 1-2 to $5 25 1-2; poorest grades of coarse oxen, bulls, etc., $3 12 1-2 to $4 25.

Brighton Hides 9c per lb.
Brighton Tallow 4c per lb.
Country Hides 7 1-2c per lb.
Country Tallow 3c per lb.
Calf-Skins 12 1-2c per lb.
Sheep and Lamb Skins 75c to $1 25 each.

The trade for beef cattle has been slow and prices upon all grades of beef have declined fully 1-2c per lb from those obtained for the same grade of beef one week ago. Cattle cost full as high at the west, but the demand here for shipping cattle has been light, only about 300 head being brought to ship alive per steamers. There were also several hundred head of cattle sold to parties who intend to ship the dressed beef during the present week.

Working Oxen—The demand for working oxen has not been very active of late, although the supply in market has been fair. We note sales of 1 pr, girth 7 ft live weight 3600 lbs, $130; 1 pr, girth 8 ft 2 in, live weight 2700 lbs, $125; 1 pr, girth 8 ft 6 in, live weight 2600 lbs, $105; 1 pr, girth 8 ft 3 in, live weight 2800 lbs, $125; 1 pr, girth 6 ft 10 in, live weight 2600 lbs, $125; 1 pr, girth 7 ft, live weight 3150 lbs, $137 50.

Store Cattle—Yearlings $11 to $17; two year olds $18 to $27; three year olds $25 to $45 per head.

Prices of small cattle depend much upon their value for beef. The trade for store cattle has been light this season.

Milch Cows—Good cows command fair prices, but common grades sell very dull. We note sales of 3 milch cows at $40 each; 1 springer at $40; 2 new milch cows at $60 each; 2 springers at $50 each; 10 milch cows at $30 to $45 each.

Sheep and Lambs—The supply brought into market at present are mostly sent from the Canada and Maine to butchers for slaughter and market at a commission. None offered in the market for sale.

Swine—Fat Hogs—Prices 6 1-2 to 7 1-2c per lb live weight. Store Pigs—Sell slow at 7 to 10c per lb live weight, or from $2 50 to $5 50 per head.

Price of Milk.

WE understand the milkmen of the city have come to an agreement among themselves to charge their customers six cents a quart for milk, commencing Nov. 1. They do this in consequence of the increase in the prices of provisions generally and the greater cost of production in the winter season. This is the price in other cities.

SUPREME COURT.

THURSDAY, Nov. 3d; Smith, J.

Case Bachelder vs. town of Epping, (continued,) occupied the day. The evidence was closed, and the court adjourned to 8:40 o'clock Friday morning; the case will be first argued by W. J. Copeland, Esq., for the town, to be followed by General Gilman Marston for the plaintiff.

POLICE COURT.

THURSDAY, Nov. 4; Batchelder, J.

William Devine and Edward McWhinnie drunks, were fined. The amount assessed against them is immaterial, as neither paid up, and both were sent to the county farm. A third drunkard was convicted, but was allowed to depart on his promise to leave the city at once, and to stay away.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, regular meeting, Thursday evening, Nov. 3d, Mayor Sise in the chair:

The records of last meeting were read and approved.

The records of the dark-lantern seance held in the forenoon on the 1st inst. were also read and approved, just the same as though that seance had really been a legal meeting of the board of mayor and aldermen, and its action had actually bound the city, as the record assumes it did, to indemnify the five aldermen who voted to go on the bond of the defendants in the Mason suits.

The board on motion of Ald. Caswell voted to recede from the vote of Sept. 22d, amending the bill sent up from the common council to raise $5000 to pay a portion of the city debt due Oct. 1st. The bill as passed by the council was then amended in certain details, and sent down for concurrence.

A communication from B. F. & C. E. Russell in relation to the price of inspecting petroleum, was referred to the committee on claims to report.

Alexander Robinson was granted permission to put a gas-light on Islington street, near his dwelling, to be supplied with gas by him.

A communication from Critchley & Whalley, asking exemption from taxation for ten years, for an iron foundry and finishing shop to be located on opposite sides of Hill street, the working capital to be more than $5000, was referred to the committee on finance to report.

Bills amounting to a considerable sum were ordered paid, among them being one of $894 on account of the new street, and bills of several hundred dollars incurred on account of the small-pox case. Ald. Vaughan asked for the total of expenses in the small-pox case, but didn't get it.

The resignation of police officer Wm. Nowell was accepted, the mayor speaking approvingly of his conduct while on the force. About thirty ballots were then taken for a successor to Officer Nowell, without a choice; the candidates being Thomas R. Moore, Samuel Taylor and Richard Davison.

Josiah F. Adams was granted leave to open Washington street to repair a drain.

After some talk, a ballot for supernumerary watchman was taken: John S. Rand had three votes, Thomas Watkins three, James A. Snow two; no choice, and no more balloting.

John Bridge was appointed special police at the Spring market and the pound.

In Common Council, the bill concerning a $5000 loan, as amended in the other board, was laid over for one week.

Adjourned for one week.

SURPRISE PARTY.

About two hundred members of the Middle street church and parish stowed themselves in barges on the evening of the 2d inst., and proceeding to the suburban residence of Hon. Frank Jones, surprised him with a visit of congratulation on his safe return from Europe with restored health. Mr. Jones had received no intimation of the proposed visit, but Mrs. Jones had, and though an entirely unexpected call from even so large a party would not find the extensive mansion short of supplies, the lady had made special preparation for the reception of the visitors. The evening was very pleasantly spent, and the occasion was a source of satisfaction to all who participated,—to none more than to Mr. Jones, to whom such a manifestation of general good will and kindly interest could not fail to be gratifying in the highest degree.

THE WATER SUPPLY.

"The jug of pure water from the spring," says a Boston paper, "is becoming almost as common at city back doors as the can of milk." For months past the large hotels in Boston, and many of the private families that could afford the expense, have been buying water for drinking and domestic uses from outside the city, the extensive and costly water works supplying only a sort of ill-smelling soup, rather than drink which a man of taste would almost rather quaff beer or whiskey.

But Boston is not singular in this matter of an insufficient and impure water water supply. New York has been threatened with a water famine, (now temporarily averted by recent copious rains,) and what water the people did get during several months past was of a quality to make a Portsmouth man discard the "revised edition" and revert to the King James version when seeking for quotations with which to express his feelings on the subject.

The ground in New England has not been what farmers call "full of water" for at least two years; and this year, notwithstanding the large number of "lowery" days, and the many showers, the total rainfall has been much below the average, though the lack of long-continued spells of hot weather during the season prevented vegetation from suffering seriously for lack of moisture. But the water in deep wells has been gradually diminishing in depth, and the supply from shallow wells and springs has been almost constantly getting less, since last spring; occasionally a heavy shower has given the latter a fresh start, but the average for the whole season shows a less than ordinary supply. During all this time, however, the Portsmouth aqueduct, concerning which it has for many years been popular to growl, has furnished its patrons with a sufficiency of water, which unlike that of Boston and New York, has been of most excellent quality; indeed, we are not sure that the water is not even better when the company has to skirmish around to get all that is required, than when there is a superabundance. In view of all the facts, and looking at the condition of many other cities, we are of the opinion that the grounds of complaint against Portsmouth's water supply are not nearly so great as some chronic fault-finders would have us believe.

PISTOL PRACTICE.

Daniel McCarty has been employed in the Bay State brewery at Boston for the past seven years, but for getting drunk and neglecting his work Tuesday night, the 1st inst., he was discharged on Wednesday morning by Mr. True W. Jones, the brewer. McCarty, full of wrath and beer, purchased a revolver, loaded it, and stationed himself near the brewery. Shortly before twelve o'clock William T. Jones, son of Mr. Nathan Jones and nephew of Hon. Frank Jones, recently sent to Boston to learn the brewing business, left the brewery, and seeing McCarty spoke pleasantly to him. After a short absence Jones returned, and on passing McCarty again spoke with him, but had hardly got by when McCarty fired at him, exclaiming, "The President was shot, and I'll shoot all the Joneses out of h—l!" The young man turned in astonishment to look at his assailant, when a second shot was fired, the bullet whizzing past Jones' head in uncomfortable proximity; Mr. Jones thought this was all he wanted, and he proceeded across the street to the brewery with judicious celerity, a third shot being fired as he was entering the door,—the last shot, however, not being fired at Jones, but aimlessly down the street. Officers were sent for, and on their arrival the would-be assassin ran into his house, which was near by, and disposed of his revolver so that the police could not find it. On being arrested he said he knew of no shooting, any more than that he saw some small boys firing percussion caps on the street. He is a big, powerful man, about forty years old, and is known to the Boston police as a hard customer. He has repeatedly beaten his wife, and has often assaulted his fellow workmen for the most trivial causes. Not long ago one Michael Nelson had some words with McCarty, and was lifted bodily by him and thrown into a hot tub of mash, where he would have been scalded to death but for two other workmen who quickly took him out; as it was Nelson was badly injured. The ruffian will now probably be taken care of for a while.

The contractors for the removal of Gangway rock resumed active operations some days ago, and have picked up a sloop-load of pieces which had been blown from the ledge before the U. S. S. Lancaster made herself objectionable by knocking down the band-stand.

A good opportunity is now afforded the public to lay in a stock of firewood for the winter. Mr. Daniel Littlefield, at his wharf on Green street, has a large quantity of Newmarket and Durham wood, which has the reputation of being second to none grown in New Hampshire; he has a large lot of wood of all kinds, facilities for preparing it equal to any in the state, and will sell as cheaply as can be purchased elsewhere. If you are in want of wood, call at No. 13 Green street and inspect his stock and prices.

THE SURGEON'S KNIFE.

Mr. Simeon Tietsell, of Saugerties, N. Y., had been treated for seven years by various physicians for what they called Stricture of the Urethra, without benefit. He finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculi or Stones in the Bladder. The doctor at once removed the foreign bodies with the knife and then gave his great Blood Specific, "Favorite Remedy," to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was eminently successful, and Mr. Tietsell's recovery was rapid and perfect.

While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all kidney and bladder diseases, it is equally valuable in cases of bilious disorders, constipation of the bowels, and all the class of ills apparently inseparable from the constitutions of women. Try it. Your druggist has it, and its cost is only dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. The Doctor would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine, "Favorite Remedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to office practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery.

DIRECTIONS.

For Catarrh, Hay Fever, or Cold in the Head, etc., insert with little finger a particle of the Balm into the nostrils; draw strong breaths through the nose. It will be absorbed, cleansing and healing the diseased membrane.

FOR DEAFNESS, Apply a particle into the ear.

ELYS' CREAM BALM

Having gained an enviable local reputation, displacing all other preparations in the vicinity of Discovery, is on its merits alone, recognized as a wonderful remedy. A fair trial will convince the most skeptical of its curative powers. It effectually cleanses the nasal passages of Catarrhal virus, causing healthy secretions, allays inflammation and irritation, protects the membranal linings of the head from additional colds, completely heals the sores and restores the sense of taste and smell. Beneficial results are realized by a few applications. A thorough treatment as directed will cure Catarrh. As a household remedy for cold in the head and snuffles it is unequaled. The Balm is easy to use and agreeable. Sold by all druggists at 50 cts. On receipt of 50 cts. will mail a package. Send for circular with full information.

JOHN P. SWEETSER,

NO. 46 MARKET ST.

A PLEA FOR MILKMEN.

Editor Chronicle: In your issue of Thursday last appears a singularly unjust article concerning the proposed increase of the price of milk. The first assertion is that five cents per quart is high enough to pay a fair profit to the producers. I don't know what the writer regards as a fair profit, but will reply that the fact is it does not hardly pay a living profit—whether that is fair or unfair I will leave him to say, only adding that I can prove the truth of this statement of mine by facts and figures gleaned from experience.

The next sentence that occurs in the article alluded to contains the opinion that "any reasonable man might well be ashamed to sign the milkmen's manifesto." Now, I know not why the milkmen's advertisement was published in the CHRONICLE without any signatures, and don't think it looks very manly to insert it in that anonymous manner; but why any milkman who is getting five cents for his milk should be ashamed to ask for six cents during the winter months, is as much a puzzle to me as would be that of a laborer who was getting one dollar per day to be ashamed to ask for one dollar and nine-pence. It is stated that one dollar a bushel is paid for potatoes,—insinuating, in the connection in which the statement occurs, that this is an unfair price. Has the the writer any knowledge of the facts concerning the scanty yield of potatoes, the present year? Does he personally know by observation that such a price is unwarranted. Three dollars for a barrel of apples, he regards as too much. Perhaps it is; but in proportion to the crop of this year as compared to last, the price should be at least six times as great as there are not one-sixth as many apples this year as in the year preceding. The correspondent closes his protest by saying that he will not pay the price demanded, especially when the milk is extended by brewer's grains! O, that is the trouble, is it? First, the price was an ample compensation for the the labor involved in producing the milk, and that was the ground of complaint, against a further increase. Now it is the quality of the milk, the latter being "extended by brewers' grains." Please make your specifications and charges explicit enough for us to understand the precise cause of your rushing into print with your protest! Do you know anything about the results of the feeding of brewer's grains to milch cows? Unless you have some knowledge that is superior to ours in this matter, we shall claim that this kind of feed when properly used, (and by properly used I mean, as all milkmen that I have any knowledge of hereabouts use the grains,) improves the milk and fattens the animal feeding upon the grains,—the cry of "swill milk" to the contrary notwithstanding. I am not a milkman, nor do I have any interest in any milkman, save that which belongs to a common human feeling, which feeling prompts me to come to their defence at this time. T. O. E.

Theatre-goers, club-visitors, late supper-takers and patrons of the horse, railroad owl-trains, should all certainly have a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup convenient. Gentlemen, you will need it.

—Deadwood juries are made up of honorable but kind-hearted men. A certain jury couldn't bring their consciences to acquit a murderer, but they agreed to stay out all night and fight over the case, so as to give him time to escape, as he wasn't to be confined in the prison until after conviction.

"There's no mistake that it is a grand remedy for rheumatism," said Mr. Mackenzie Davis, of 1903 Brandywine street, Philadelphia, Pa. "I suffered terribly for three years with inflammatory rheumatism, and St. Jacobs Oil alone cured me, after everything else had utterly failed." It's the way of the Oil.

—A miller in Peru, Indiana, fell asleep in his mill and bent forward till his hair got caught in some machinery and was yanked out. Of course it waked him, and his first bewildered exclamation was, "Durn it, wife, what's the matter now?"

Rheumatism

Neuralgia, Sprains,

Pain in the Back and Side.

There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.

This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.

Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, It never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.

The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:

Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a four dollar bottle my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our recent use to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.

Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.

G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.

E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.

Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.

Mr. Burditt writes:
It never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.

Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
From actual use, I know Your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.

All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

Back Ache

POSITIVELY CURED BY

Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.

Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:

First.
Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts with increased rubefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.

Second.
Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession.

Third.
Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.

Fourth.
Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.

Fifth.
Because over 5000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.

Sixth.
Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

An Only Daughter Cured of Consumption.

When death was hourly expected, all remedies having failed, and Dr. H. James was experimenting with the many herbs of Calcutta, he accidentally made a preparation which cured his only child of Consumption. His child is now in this country, and enjoying the best of health. He has proved to the world consumption can be positively and permanently cured. The doctor now gives this recipe free, only asking two three-cent stamps to pay expenses. This herb also cures Night Sweats, Nausea at the Stomach, and will break up a fresh cold in twenty-four hours. Address Cranstock & Co., 1032 Race Street, Philadelphia, naming this paper.

—Reports from more than one hundred lighthouses have shown that the migrations of birds of one species or another are almost continually going on, although the great migrations occur in the spring and fall. Vast numbers of birds are killed by flying at night against the glass protecting the lights of lighthouses, being, while in migration, attracted by the bright glare of the lamps. No less than six hundred were destroyed in this manner in a single month at one lighthouse.

The Results of Necessity.

What the ancients suffered for the want of knowledge in medical science, can only be appreciated by contrasting the vast amount of suffering cured and pain alleviated in modern times, by the use of Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases. Its introduction was characterized by the necessary withdrawal of a score or more of illusive, quack nostrums, whose evil effects have left living monuments to denounce them. Thus is exemplified the proverb, necessity is the mother of invention.

—Bayard Taylor's venerable parents, Joseph and Rebecca Taylor, live quietly and comfortably at Kennett Square, Pa. They have now lived together as man and wife for sixty-seven years. A short time since Joseph passed his eighty-fifth birthday, and more recently Rebecca reached her eighty-second anniversary, which a number of friends recognized by sending her handsome birthday cake.

Nothing Short of Unmistakable Benefits

Conferred upon tens of thousands of sufferers could originate and maintain the reputation which AYER'S SARSAPARILLA enjoys. It is a compound of the best vegetable alteratives, with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron, — all powerful, blood-making, blood-cleansing and life-sustaining — and is the most effectual of all remedies for scrofulous, mercurial, or blood disorders. Uniformly successful and certain, it produces rapid and complete cures of Scrofula, Sores, Boils, Humors, Pimples, Eruptions, Skin Diseases and all disorders arising from impurity of the blood. By its invigorating effects it always relieves and often cures Liver Complaints, Female Weaknesses and Irregularities, and is a potent renewer of waning vitality. For purifying the blood it has no equal. It tones up the system, restores and preserves the health, and imparts vigor and energy. For forty years it has been in extensive use, and is to-day the most available medicine for the suffering sick.

Ash-Toxic;

A perfected purifyer of the system. In 1-2lb. bottles; 75 cents. For dyspepsia, the many forms of liver complaint, impure and impoverished blood, and functional derangements attendant upon debility. For symptoms indicated by indigestion, loss of appetite, nausea, sick headache, sour stomach, furred tongue, drowsiness, blanched lips, sallow complexion, pain in the side or back, eruptions, depression of spirits, nervous irritability and hysteria, and for building up the system, ash-toxic is unquestionably the most prompt and energetic remedy yet devised.

—Everybody wishes to have a friend, but rarely is particularly anxious to be one himself.

Who is the Prettiest Girl in America? Is a question that would perplex a congress of connoisseurs assembled to nominate the most beautiful. But such an assemblage would not be surprised to learn, that the most charming of their sex, on this side of the Atlantic, enhance the beauty and preserve the soundness of their teeth with Sozodont, since everybody knows, that the ladies prefer it to any and all dentifrices. Let no man say after this, that women lack judgment.

SATURDAY, NOV. 5, 1881.

[Entered at the Post-Office at Portsmouth, N.H. as second-class matter.]

United States Treasurer's Report.

The annual report of United States Treasurer Gilfillan, showing the financial operations of the United States treasury for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1881, has been submitted to the secretary of the treasury. The transactions of the treasurer's office for the year are summarized as follows: The receipts of the government show an increase over those for 1880 from every source. The increase in the receipts from customs is $11,637,611.42; from internal revenue, $11,255,011.95; from sales of public lands, $1,185,356.57; and from miscellaneous sources, $3,270,702.01. The total increase is $27,255,681.59, which, added to the net reduction of $6,930,070.19 in the expenditures, makes an increase in the surplus revenue of $34,185,751.78. The net revenues were $360,782,292.57, and the net expenditures $260,712,887.59. The excess of receipts over payments was $100,069,404.98, of which $90,872,361.05 was expended in the redemption of the public debt. The balance in the treasury increased $48,667,603.93, from $203,791,321.88 at the beginning, to $252,458,925.81 at the end of the fiscal year. The amount expended on account of interest and premium on the public debt ran down from $98,532,895.53 in the fiscal year 1880, to $83,569,989.96, a reduction of $14,982,905.57. The balance standing to the credit of disbursing officers and agents of the United States with the various offices of the treasury, June 30th, 1881, was $24,936,307.88.

The Division of Texas.

Hon. Robert C. Winthrop, in his oration at Yorktown, spoke of "the other states which I dare not attempt to number, but which are destined at no distant period to be evolved from our imperial Texas and territories."

The matter of the division of the state of Texas is frequently adverted to in the prints of the day, and comments made by writers who evidently have no comprehension of the subject upon which they treat. By the treaty of annexation it was agreed that the nation of Texas might be divided into four separate states; but it is now an unpopular idea in that state, where they desire that it shall be the empire state of the Union, as it is in a fair way of becoming.

When quiet ensued after the troublous times of the secession war, the subject of the re-formation of the state was considerably discussed there. There were several names proposed, such as: East Texas, Middle Texas, Lincoln, and West Texas; and that vast and hitherto almost unknown region lying between the Indian Nation and the territory of New Mexico, was proposed to be ceded for a compensation to the general government, under the name of the Territory of Jefferson. This last, like a small portion of the now state of West Virginia, has been denominated the "pan handle." It had been decided however by the United States court that no state or part of a state could be remanded to a territorial condition; so that project was ruined.

There is a great state pride in Texas, as might be supposed from its origin; moreover, in the western portions there are large and prosperous German settlements, which interfere very considerably with all projects of a division. The Germans, as the writer knows by experience, having lived among them by months, are a most desirable set of immigrants. Wherever they settle, they stick, and they make "the desert blossom like the rose." But like all other sets, when they get together they are very clannish. There use (or not many years ago were) whole towns where nothing but the German language was spoken; and they even imagined that they were going to make the German the language of the United States. The schools, the courts, the newspapers were all to be conducted in that tongue. It is impossible for an American or any one speaking the language of Americans to be nominated, or elected to any office of honor or emolument, wherever such large communities exist. The probability that one or more of the proposed new states would be entirely controlled by this clannish element, was a powerful argument against division ten years ago, and no doubt is so now.

After the Texas revolution the poorer, or rather manner, class of the Mexican population left Texas, leaving only a few of the best to become citizens of the United States. The upper classes of the Mexicans would be very valuable members of any community, but the lower classes are very low and degraded. At San Antonio, and to the westward in the state of Texas there is a liability to constant invasions of the Mexicans. For the reasons stated above, it may be easily perceived that the people of Texas are opposed to a division of that state.

VERNON.

News and Notes.

Two of the band of ruffians calling themselves "Red men," who were convicted at Phillipi, W. Va., and sentenced to a year's imprisonment, were taken from the jail early in the morning on the 3d inst. by twelve or fifteen comrades, who forced the jailor, by presenting pistols to his head, to open the door and release their two companions.

The London Standard reproduces a report that counsel has been retained to press the claims of confederate bondholders to the confederate funds alleged to be in the Bank of England.

Matthias, alias "Puck" Jones, has been convicted by a jury at Plymouth, Mass., of brutally outraging Mrs. Lucinda R. Taylor of Abington on the 18th of July last. The jury were out only a few minutes. Jones belongs in Maine, and his previous character was of the worst.

Silas Wilmot, son of Walter Wilmot of Shrewsbury, Vt., a farmer, burned himself to death Oct. 31st, in an old house which had been unoccupied for years. The father and Rodney Burditt, a neighber, saw the old house burning in the early morning, but were too late to put out the fire. Through the smoke, however, they saw a burning body, and when the fire died down found the dead boy's charred remains. Silas had arranged everything carefully for his death, and left a letter of nine pages, saying that he feared that he was growing crazy. He had acted very strangely before he took his life, but his friends suspected nothing.

It is reported that a cable despatch was sent on Monday, Oct. 31st, by the United States government to Gen. Hurlbut, United States minister in Peru, directing him to continue to recognize the government of President Calderon as the legitimate government of Peru.

The London Times of the 3d inst., in its financial article, says: "We are able to state that the Bank of England does not hold a penny available for the payment of confederate bonds. The public should beware of buying bonds intrinsically worthless on the faith of such rumors." Confederate bonds, after a considerable advance, have declined to £1 12s 6d per £100 in the London markets.

As A. H. Gilman, a carpenter, was passing over the Boston, Lowell & Concord railroad bridge, in Lowell, Mass., last Thursday evening, his foot caught in a frog, and he was run over by a train and instantly killed.

The Massachusetts authorities sent a military commission to Richmond, Va., to investigate the charges made against the ninth regiment of disgraceful conduct in that city when on the way to Yorktown. The evidence offered is reported to be extremely damaging to the good name of the regiment.

Oscar Hammond and wife, of Troy, Vt., were divorced at the last term of court in their county. Having reconsidered the matter, they had themselves married over again last week.

The employes of the glass houses at Pittsburg, Pa., after being on a strike for two weeks, returned to work at the old rates on the 3d inst.

New Hampshire Items.

In the supreme court at Lancaster, the jury failed to agree upon a verdict in the case of the State vs. the Grand Trunk railroad, involving the question of liabilities for killing John E. Willis at West Milan station, in January, 1877. The case was tried one year ago with the same result.

John D. Powers, about sixty-five years of age, died at Hanover on Thursday morning last from injuries received by being knocked down and run over by his horse while at work on his farm on the previous Monday.

In the supreme court at Nashua, Nov. 2d, in the case of Charles C. Leach vs. the Nashua & Lowell railway, the jury found the defendants guilty, and assessed the damages at $6,000. The plaintiff was injured on the 19th of June, 1880, by being run over by a train of cars belonging to the defendant company. Mrs. Leach was riding in company with Henry Parkinson, who was killed in the accident, and whose widow recovered by a jury, a few weeks ago, $2,500.

Naval Affairs.

Secretary Hunt left Washington on the 31 inst., on an tour of inspection of the eastern navy yards.

The United States steamers Adams, Alaska and Pensacola were at Callao, Peru, Oct. 12th.

As Thousands do Testify,

So does Thomas Roberts, Wholesale Grocer, Philadelphia, who says: "Burnett's Cocoaine allays all irritation of the scalp, and will most effectually remove dandruff and prevent the hair from falling out."

Burnett's Flavoring Extracts.—The superiority of these extracts consists in their perfect purity and great strength. They are warranted free from the poisonous oils and acids which enter into the composition of many fractious fruit flavors.

POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY, Nov. 4; Batchelder, J.

Michael Hurley, for drunkenness, was fined $3, costs $6.90; paid.

SUPREME COURT.

FRIDAY, Nov. 4th; Smith, J.

The case Batchelder vs. Epping was given to the jury at about one o'clock P. M. At six o'clock the jury came in and asked instructions upon a certain question essential to be decided, and again retired to their room. At half-past seven P. M., under escort of Deputy Sheriff Woodman, the jury repaired to the Kearsarge house for a social cup of tea, and afterwards returned to wrestle with the case.

Case State vs. Robinson, indicted for selling a buggy and harness which he had previously mortgaged to Chas. A. Sheppard in Raymond, was begun; after a jury was empanelled the respondent retracted his plea of not guilty, and pleaded guilty of selling property of the value of $40. The indictment charged the value to be $80. Sentenced to pay a fine of $80, and costs of prosecution. In default of payment, respondent went to jail. Harriman for state; Call for deft.

In case State vs. John Hartnett, indicted for manslaughter, respondent was allowed to go on his own recognizance of $1000—which is an end of the case.

Wm. B. Butterfield of Manchester has informed Sheriff Kent that he will eject Thomas Brennon from the saloon he occupies at Newmarket junction, and will not again permit the building to be used for the purpose of selling liquor; consequently no proceedings will be had against Butterfield.

Jurors not engaged in the Batchelder vs. Epping trial were discharged until Monday.

FELICIA.

On Thursday evening, Nov. 10th, Miss Rose Eytinge will make her appearance at Music hall, for the first time before a Portsmouth audience, as Mme. Dumont in the play of "Felicia," which was such a great success at the Union Square theatre in New York. The following description of the play is from the Brooklyn Times:

The drama is a very strong sensation, and the turning point is one of remarkable force. The plot of "Felicia" describes the effort of a mother who once let a tainted life in Paris to secure her son's happiness by having him married to the woman of his choice. This son, Captain John, knows himself to be an illegitimate child, but does not know that Mme. Dumont, the good countrywoman whom he regards as his aunt, is in reality the celebrated "Felicia," once leader of the demi-monde, and his own mother. This fact is elicited by the meeting with Felicia of M. Cassagnac, one of her old lovers, at the house of M. Mornay, a rural archæologist, and the prying of M. Ferri, a family lawyer who has in hand the contract for the marriage of Captain John and M. Mornay's daughter. The discovery of this painful circumstance leads to the most trying results; it unmasks the good and reformed woman, and brings her old misdeeds before her; it degrades her son, though learning who she is, he proudly owns her; it checks the happy relations that had sprung up between this manly young fellow and the friends and family of his betrothed, and it severs the holy tie that is about to make him and Dolores man and wife. The moral "law" that shuts an erring woman out from human sympathy grants full indulgence to her betrayer, and when the unhappy Felicia sees that her son's life is about to be wrecked and the heart of Dolores broken, she yields up the name of the young captain's father. It proves to be the now dead brother of M. Mornay; and having witnessed the reunion of the lovers, whose consinship is now made known, she gives herself into the hands of the nuns, and the convent bells ring and the organ rolls for her reception as the curtain falls. * * Miss Rose Eytinge's return to the stage of this theatre after a five years' absence was greeted by long salvos of applause, and she acted Felicia with all her former passion and thrilling intensity of feeling. Felicia is undoubtedly one of Miss Eytinge's greatest efforts, and this is saying a great deal: at the close of each act she received enthusiastic recalls.

THE SMALL-POX BILLS.

The bills incurred by the city in consequence of a small-pox case discovered on board a coal-schooner at this port some weeks ago, as approved by the board of mayor and aldermen at the last meeting, and ordered to be paid, were as follows:

Dr. R. C. Grant,	$90.00.
Robert Snillaber,	80.40.
Shepard, services as nurse,	60.00.
Daniel Danielson,	20.00.
John H. Slater, groceries,	23.30.
Floron Barri, wood,	8.50.
Total	$282.20.

Rev. R. T. Polk, of Marlborough, N. H., will preach in the Universalist church to-morrow. The sermon will be appropriate to All Souls' Day.

Rev. W. H. Mitchell will preach in the Advent church.

Rev. John A. Goss will deliver a temperance lecture in the Court street Christian church, Sunday evening, which the Reform Club by special invitation will attend, instead of holding their regular Sunday evening meeting.

Rev. James DeNormandie will preach a sermon on Sunday evening upon "The moral opportunity and obligation of the physician"—the first of a few practical discourses upon the religious aspect of every avocation.

A mission prayer meeting will be held at the Methodist chapel on Daniel street this (Saturday) evening at 7:30 o'clock, to which all are invited.

Mrs. John Malsbenden, a very worthy woman, was suddenly left a widow in very straightened circumstances some months ago, with five young children; the family collectively cannot obtain sufficient employment to "keep the wolf from the door;" Mrs. Malsbenden will not consent to become a burden on the public, and having reasonable cause for believing she can support herself and children at her former home in Manchester, England, at the suggestion of her former pastor, who now resides in that city, and who promises to aid her with work both for herself and children, proposes to return there, provided she can obtain sufficient funds to do so. After disposing of nearly all her scanty household goods, she has realized less than half the amount required to warrant her starting; and in order to meet the emergencies of the case, a subscription paper has been started in her behalf, which the charitably disposed can find at Mr. D. H. Montgomery's store. We appeal to the benevolent for a generous response to this call.

Mr. D. C. Wiggin, landlord of the Dover Point hotel, has been appointed a justice of the peace for Strafford county by the governor and council. This will be very handy for couples from Maine who cross the line to escape the somewhat irksome marriage laws of their own state, and to get the matrimonial knot tied under the more elastic regulations of New Hampshire; they can get good hotel accommodations at the Dover Point house, and the landlord will hitch them up in double harness in the neatest and most expeditious manner. When they desire to be unhitched they will find all the necessary conveniences in Maine, the records showing that the Maine courts serve out divorces with a liberality not equalled even by our New Hampshire tribunals. We expect to see Dover point become as famous as Gretna Green once was.

John A. Rollins of Moultonboro', whose death at the age of ninety-one years was recently noticed, was one of the best-known men in Carroll county. When hostilities began in the war of 1812 he was engaged in school teaching in the town of Lee, Rockingham county, but being enrolled in the militia was drafted to proceed to the defence of Portsmouth. He promptly gave up his school, and rendezvoused with other soldiers at Durham under Captain Vincent Meserve, from which place the command marched to this city. Here he was in the command of Major Edward Long, and was stationed at Fort Washington, on Peirce's island. After his discharge he shipped on board the privateer "Portsmouth," under Captain Thomas Shaw, and served during two cruises off the grand banks and the Newfoundland coast. In later years he was for half a century an earnest and active politician. An original democrat, he published for a time the Red Hill Roarer, and was several times elected a representative to the legislature. Subsequently he became a preacher, not joining any denomination, but working in an energetic yet eccentric manner.

A good opportunity is now afforded the public to lay in a stock of firewood for the winter. Mr. Daniel Littlefield, at his wharf on Green street, has a large quantity of Newmarket and Durham wood, which has the reputation of being second to none grown in New Hampshire; he has a large lot of wood of all kinds, facilities for preparing it equal to any in the state, and will sell as cheaply as can be purchased elsewhere. If you are in want of wood, call at No. 13 Green street and inspect his stock and prices.

DIED.

THE SURGEON'S KNIFE.

Mr. Simeon Tietsell, of Saugerties, N. Y., had been treated for seven years by various physicians for what they called Stricture of the Urethra, without benefit. He finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculi or Stones in the Bladder. The doctor at once removed the foreign bodies with the knife and then gave his great Blood Specific, "Favorite Remedy," to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was eminently successful, and Mr. Tietsell's recovery was rapid and perfect.

While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all kidney and bladder diseases, it is equally valuable in cases of bilious disorders, constipation of the bowels, and all the chae of ills apparently inseparable from the constitutions of women. Try it. Your druggist has it, and its cost is only dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. The Doctor would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine, "Favorite Remedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to office practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery.

Annual Report of the Pension Bureau.

The annual report of the pension bureau has been submitted to the secretary of the treasury. It shows that on the 30th of June, 1881, there were 268,830 pensioners; 28,740 pensioners were added to the roll during the year, and the names of 10,712 were dropped. At the close of the year the annual pension averaged $107, and the aggregate annual value of all pensions was $28,769,967. The total paid for pensions during the year, exclusive of certain arrears in claims allowed prior to Jan. 25th, 1879, was $49,723,147; the difference being accounted for by payment of arrears of pensions.

Whence They Came.

Long before Matthew Arnold lived and wrote, Dean Swift had sung the praises of the "Two noblest things—sweetness and light." It was Swift also, who wrote that "Censure is the tax a man pays to the public for being eminent," and who tells us in his "Tale of a Tub" that "Bread is the staff of life." "Out of mind as soon as out of sight" comes from the sonnets of Lord Brooke, and it was his friend and contemporary, Sir Philip Sidney, who coined the phrase, "My dear, my better half." Humphrey Gifford, a writer of the sixteenth century, has the following:

I cannot say the crow is white,
But needs must call a spade a spade.

Biekerstaff, a playwright as seldom read as he is often quoted, is author of the prudent admonition that "Enough is as good as a feast," and of the indisputable assertion that "One cannot have one's cake and eat it too." From Home's "Douglass" comes the famous speech "My name is Norval," familiar to the readers of Enfield's once celebrated but now forgotten "Speaker;" and in the same play is found the consolatory assurance that "Virtue has its own reward." "The almighty dollar" came to us from Washington Irving; and it was Beaumont and Fletcher who taught us to speak of money as "the sinews of war." "How goes the enemy?" is a question often asked in the "Dramatist" of Reynolds; and "Pray, sir, what is your opinion of things in general?" is one of the "catch words" of that impecunious sponger Jeremy Diddler. From old Chaucer we learn that "alordre wol out," and that it is wise to "Maken virtue of necessitie." It was he, too, who wrote "Yet in our ashen cold is fire yreken," a passage which the poet Gray must, consciously or unconsciously, have had in memory when he penned the well-known line, "E'en in our ashes live their wonted fires." It is Gray also who speaks of "Youth at the prow, and pleasure at the helm;" of "Thoughts that breathe, and words that burn;" who warns us that "Favorites have no friends," and that "Where ignorance is bliss, 'tis folly to be wise." It is the shy recluse Cowper who expresses his opinion that "God made the country, and man made the town," and who sings the praise of "cups that cheer but not inebriate." The light-hearted Gay instructs us that "Life is a jest, and all things show it," and it is a part of his cheerful philosophy that "While there's life there's hope."

Happiness and prosperity are so indissolubly linked with good health, that all those suffering with hoarseness, coughs, colds, etc., should try Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup and be cured. Price 25 cts.

—A bright little seven-year-old girl was visiting the Athenæum recently. When she saw the Venus de Milo, with the large card attached warning visitors not to touch it, she said: "'Hands off!' Humph, anybody can see that."—Pittsfield Journal.

The fever-stricken invalid who may have had his recovery retarded by infantile weakness will rapidly recover under the influence of Fellows' Hypophosphites. The yellow-visaged sufferer from fever and ague can calculate on a speedy and permanent recovery from his disease after all else fails.

—Archbishop Croke, whose action has excited so much interest in Irish politics, is fifty-seven years old. He was educated at the endowed school of Charleville.

During life, to be happy, we must be healthy and protect ourselves from coughs and colds. They are the halters that lead to untimely graves. Adamson's Botanic Balsam cures every time. Price, 35 and 75 cts. Trial size, 10 cts.

—Time's changes: Old school-fellow—"Dear me! why, when you and I were at Eaton, you were a curly-haired boy with a slim figure; and now your hair's slim and your figure curly!"

Rats, mice, ants, flies, vermin, mosquitoes, insects, &c., cleared out by "Rough on Rats." 15c. boxes at druggists.

Brain and Nerve.

Wells' Health Renewer, greatest remedy on earth for impotence, leanness, sexual debility, &c. $1, at druggists. Depot at Thacher's.

—Seven years ago Ben De Bar, the actor, was worth $300,000. To-day his widow is supporting herself by her needle.

A good Baptist clergyman of Bergen, N. Y., a strong temperance man, suffered with kidney trouble, neuralgia, and dizziness almost to blindness, over two years after he was told that Hop Bitters would cure him, because he was afraid of and prejudiced against "Bitters." Since his cure he says none need fear, but trust in Hop Bitters.

The Dangers of the Stock Market.

A man may be incredulous enough to risk his money in the fickle mysteries of a mercurial stock market, but when he gets the itching piles, he goes straight for Dr. Swayne's Ointment. Unlike the bulls and bears of the stock exchange, who clean you out of hard earned cash, it returns your money with interest, in the way of allaying the intense itching, and insuring sweet repose.

Rheumatism
Neuralgia, Sprains,
Pain in the Back and Side.

There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.

This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.

Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, It never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.

The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:

Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our resort was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.

Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.

G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.

E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.

Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.

Mr. Burditt writes:
It never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.

Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.

All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

Back Ache
POSITIVELY CURED
BY
Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.

Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:

First.
Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts with increased rubefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.

Second.
Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession.

Third.
Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.

Fourth.
Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.

Because over 5000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.

Sixth.
Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

An Only Daughter Cured of Consumption.

When death was hourly expected, all remedies having failed, and Dr. H. James was experimenting with the many herbs of Calcutta, he accidentally made a preparation which cured his only child of Consumption. His child is now in this country, and enjoying the best of health. He has proved to the world consumption can be positively and permanently cured. The doctor now gives this recipe free, only asking two three-cent stamps to pay expenses. This herb also cures Night Sweats, Nausea at the Stomach, and will break up a fresh cold in twenty-four hours. Address Cradock & Co., 1038 Race Street, Philadelphia, naming this paper.

TRADE MARK.

HOLMAN'S PAD

ACTS BY ABSORPTION THROUGH THE NERVE FORCES AND THE CIRCULATION.

Dr. Holman's Pad is the Original and Only Genuine Curative Pad, the only remedy that has an honestly-acquired right to use the title-word "Pad" in connection with a treatment for chronic diseases of the Stomach, Liver, Spleen and Malarial Blood Poisoning.

Holman's Pad has such complete control over the most persistent Chronic Diseases of the Stomach and Liver, including Indigestion, all forms of Dyspepsia, Bilious and Sick Headaches, Nervous Prostration and Sleeplessness, as to amply justify the eminent Professor Loomis' high encomium: "It is nearer a Universal Panacea than anything in medicine!"

Beware of Bogus and Imitation Pads. Each Genuine HOLMAN PAD bears the Private Revenue Stamp of the Holman Pad Company, being the above Trade Mark printed in green.

A snow storm prevailed in Plymouth, Lisbon and other places in the interior of the state, Thursday night and Friday. Five inches of snow fell at Lisbon. Mt. Moosilauke, the Franconia ranges and other elevations were white with snow.

Rev. A. J. Quick, pastor of the Congregational church at Rochester for six years past, has accepted a call from the church at Hillsboro Bridge, with a salary of $1,000. His new pastorate commenced last Sunday.

Mrs. Earhart of Marietta, Ohio, hung herself with a towel in her home one day last week, the cause of her act being the conduct of her husband, who some time ago went to Cincinnati with a Miss Hampton, a most accomplished and fascinating young woman, rented rooms, and has been since living with her, to the complete neglect of his wife. Miss Hampton is of high social rank, being the daughter of a weathy citizen of Gallia county, and sister of the prosecuting attorney of that county. Mrs. Earhart wrote to her begging her to give up her control over the husband, and afterward went down on her knees begging the woman to give him up. The dissolute charmer scoffed at her, the husband treated her cruelly, and she went home in utter despair. Matters grew worse, and the wife took her life. Miss Hampton is a fine musician and composer, much of her work having been published. She is the young woman who was arrested at Dayton, Ohio, for forgery, six months ago.

Gen. Joseph Davis, nephew of Jeff Davis, says there is no money in the bank of England to the credit of the confederate government. He quotes Jeff Davis as saying the same thing. Gen. Davis says that at the time of the surrender of Lee there was in the hands of Jacob Thompson, who was in Canada, about $150,000, and probably as much more in the possession of Gov. McRea, the financial agent of the confederacy in England. These were all the funds owned by the confederate government at the time of the surrender.

Quality and efficacy considered, Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup is without exception the best cough preparation in the market. Price 25 cts. a bottle.

A despatch from Berlin says the nihilists have issued threats that they will prevent the czar's coronation unless he grants specified concessions.

He Told the Truth!

The Dangers of the Stock Market.

A man may be incredulous enough to risk his money in the fickle mysteries of a mercurial stock market, but when he gets the itching piles, he goes straight for Dr. Swayne's Ointment. Unlike the bulls and bears of the stock exchange, who clean you out of hard earned cash, it returns your money with interest, in the way of allaying the intense itching, and insuring sweet repose.

A man named Leonard, said to have been 109 years old, was burned to death in his cabin at St. Augustin, near Montreal, Nov. 3d, by his clothes catching fire at a stove.

Rescued from Death.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the city hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half a dollar. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years.

I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with diseased lungs, will be induced to take Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and be convinced that consumption can be cured. I have taken two bottles and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness." Sold by all druggists.

MORE WAR.

Gen. Daniel Mason and his army—the army consisting of one young man—on Saturday moved on the enemy's works, filled up the hole dug for a cess-pool, and piled a quantity of boards over the place where the hole used to be, on the spot from which the mayor's forces some time ago abducted several thousand feet of Mr. Mason's lumber. The army of defence at night retained possession of the disputed territory which they had recaptured, the civic legions not having put in an appearance.

According to the Times of Saturday evening, the civic legions also had another skirmish last week on the line of the new street—the fighting along which promises to last all winter and a good part of next summer. The Times report is that as the mayor and city marshal were reconnoitering, they went as far as the house of Mrs. Hannah E. Seavey, "where they found Mr. George Jackson at work repairing the building which the city is moving back to make room for the street. Mr. Jackson, who is employed by Mrs. Seavey, was ordered to quit work on the building, until Moses Yeaton had finished moving the same. But Mr. Jackson, with pluck resembling that of President Jackson of 1828—1836, bluntly refused to leave the premises. This is another ingredient of the soup which is now being compounded."

The next moves in this conflict are awaited with breathless interest by an anxious public.

ABOUT THE PRICE OF MILK.

Mr. Editor: Allow me to say something in reply to "No Sir," who seems to be ashamed to sign his manifesto, which I am willing to do to any article which I think just and equitable.

If milk can be sold at such a profit for five cents a quart, why is that five hard-working, economical farmers have been obliged to sell their milk routes within the past year, for less than the cows were worth? the reason they give is that they were unable to make a living at the price of milk. Why is it that several more of the dealers are trying to find some one who will buy them out, for the price of the cows—among them one of the oldest dealers in the city, who has been in the business twenty-four years, and who says he never saw the time when it was so hard to keep square on the milk.

One dollar a bushel for potatoes, with less than half a crop, does not leave a very heavy margin for profit to the raisers; three dollars a barrel for apples, with less than one-sixth of a crop, will not buy a great many dry goods and groceries at the advanced rates. Six cents a quart for milk is a small amount, compared to the rise in flour (which we have to buy) from $7 a barrel to $10.—est very unreasonable when we look at the price of corn and meal, which has advanced forty per cent, and which we have to buy in large quantities.

It is all very well—the assertion that five cents is enough for a quart of milk, made by one who never owned a cow or raised a quart of milk in his life; very reasonable for him to complain of the price of milk, from a comfortable bed, while the dealers have to crawl out at from three to four o'clock in the morning, every day in the year, in order to have the grumbler's milk at his door by the time he comes down to breakfast at seven o'clock!

Yes, friend "No Sir," let me on behalf of the milk dealers say we think ourselves entitled to a fair compensation for our labor, and mean to have it, and that a very large majority of the people are willing to pay it, and expect to. As to "brewers' grains," I am ready to discuss the feeding qualities of them as compared with other milk-producing food, at any time; and I do not hesitate to say that no city in New England has better milk provided than Portsmouth.

C. HIRAM HAYES.

The schooner Maud B. Wetherell, Hontvet master, at Summerside, Prince Edward island, from this port, commenced loading with potatoes Nov. 1st, and expected to be ready to sail for a market on the 7th. Mr. N. F. Mathes of this city, who has been at Summerside for some weeks, intended to leave for home on the 9th by the regular passenger transit. Potatoes and oats are now held at such a high figure by the farmers of the island that there is very little inducement for speculators to send vessels there.

The State Sunday School Convention was held at Rochester last week, ending a three days' session on Thursday evening. Rev. J. M. Durrell of Rochester was elected president, and Rev. John A. Goss of Portsmouth one of the vice presidents for the ensuing year.

Saturday evening was made as hideous as possible by the small boy, who was out in great force celebrating "Pork night"—that is what he most frequently terms it—by making the most outrageous noises with tin horns and other instruments of torture. We are glad the 5th of November only comes once a year.

The schooner Cocheco, late of this port but now owned in Portland, Me., was hauled out on the marine railway at Kittery on Saturday. Besides the calking done to this vessel last week by Mr. Benj. M. Bailey and his men, considerable work in the painting line was done upon her by Mr. Levi Bird.

On a complaint made Oct. 24th before County Solicitor Harriman by Lewis P. Nudd of Hampton, William Butler of the same town was arrested in this city on Saturday forenoon last, for an alleged assault upon Nudd at Hampton. The accused was taken before Justice Leavitt at Hampton, pleaded guilty of simple assault, and was fined $5, costs being taxed at $13.35, which he paid. Butler was also required to recognize to keep the peace for one year, and did so.

Life insurance seems conducive to longevity. Thomas Austin Adams, formerly of Portsmouth, was insured by one of the early policies of the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York for five thousand dollars. This sum was paid, after Mr. Adams' death, last year, with $6132 in addition, showing a good investment for the policy holder.

Mr. G. K. Montgomery of Boston sang as tenor in the choir of the Unitarian church on Sunday.

STRAWBERRY BANK LODGE.

The following officers of Strawberry Bank Lodge, I. O. G. T., were installed on Wednesday evening of last week, for the ensuing quarter:

W. C. T., F. F. H. Marden;
W. V. T., Mrs. Annie Plaisted;
W. S., Miss Lizzie Folsom;
W. F. S., Mrs. R. D. Smart;

News and Notes.

There was a destructive gale at Newfoundland on the 1st inst. The ship Michael Ray was wrecked on Cape Anguille, and one man lost. An unknown vessel of 300 tons was wrecked at Laron bay, no one being on board at the time of the wreck. The schooner Helen, from Notre Dame bay for St. Johns, went down with eight men, two women and five children; and four other schooners are missing. The schooner Emilia was wrecked in Mansfield cove, and all hands lost.

Adelina Patti has arrived in New York, accompanied by Nicolini.

George Stinson, who is in jail at New London, Conn., for attempted felonious assault upon Miss Shroder, was tarred and feathered in jail by a party of masked men, who obtained access after midnight on Thursday morning last. After tarring and feathering him they lashed him to the door of his cell, where he was found by the sheriff. None of the maskers are known.

A man named John Nolan was terribly cut by a negro late Friday night in a saloon at Bangor, Me. The wounds were inflicted with a razor, and it is feared, may prove fatal. The criminal escaped, but about midnight the police arrested Charles R. Lewis, a negro who runs on the steamer Katahdin, and Nolan immediately identified him as the man who cut him. Lewis is about twenty-four years old, and denies all knowledge of the affair.

Hon. Hannibal Hamlin, the new minister from the United States to Spain, with his wife, sailed for Europe in the steamship Illinois from Philadelphia on Saturday. Miss Blaine, daughter of Secretary Blaine, sailed in the same vessel.

At Forestville, Chautauqua, N. Y., Nov. 4th, Nellie Record eloped with a young man named Dell Dye. The young lady was to have been married that day to her father's law partner, Warren Hooker, and cards had been issued. All parties moved in the highest circles.

Charles Madden, a divinity student at Heidelberg college, Tiffin, Ohio, shot and killed Miss Phoebe Bernard on the 4th inst. at midnight, on the street. It is said he was madly in love, and she did not reciprocate. He asked her to marry him, and upon her refusal shot her dead. He hid in a lumber yard during the night, but surrendered himself next day. His friends claim he is insane.

At Keokuk, Iowa, about seven o'clock in the evening on the 4th inst., the steamer War Eagle ran into a span of the Keokuk and Hamilton bridge, breaking it into fragments. The steamboat was demolished, and eight persons are known to have been drowned.

There is a possibility that some sensational developments will be made public in relation to the Meservey murder, for which crime Nathan F. Hart was arrested, convicted, and sent to Maine state prison. One John F. Montgomery, now serving sentence for rape, has made certain revelations to the prison officers which they have been investigating. It is thought by outsiders that Montgomery may have committed the murder, or that he knows who did, and that Hart is an innocent man.

Father Breheny, the Roman Catholic pastor at Manayunk, Pa., declared in a sermon that he had never worn a stich of English cloth since he arrived in America, and that, rather than send his relatives a dollar that might go into a landlord's pocket, he would let them die.

The authorities in Biddeford have got the upper hand of the smallpox. A number of deaths have occurred, but a spread of the disease is not now feared.

THE ELDRIDGE BREWING COMPANY'S LAGER.

What Pure Water Does for a Leading Article in the Market.

The bad taste of the water in Boston and other cities, where a short supply has compelled so many to eschew its use, has had a very perceptible effect upon the consumption of lager beer, and as this is one of our leading products, a representative of our paper called upon Hon. Marcellus Eldredge, president of the Eldredge Brewing Co., recently, to see if there were any features in the business which our readers would be interested to ascertain. Mr. Eldredge was found at the company's office in Bow street, busily engaged in looking over the orders for the day, and after writing a few telegraph despatches he turned to our reporter and asked, good naturedly, "Is there anything which you newspaper men do not want to know?" The man with the pencil admitted that he was not good at answering conundrums, but said that in this case he only wanted to escertain if the trade abroad has been informed of a fact, which we at home have long known, that the Portsmouth made lager was the best beer on the market.

"Oh, now you talk like a man of sense!" said the ex-senator. "If you want general information as to what we are putting on the market, and think your readers will be interested in anything concerning our product, I shall be glad to give you a few minutes for the purpose," and the following conversation ensued:

Rep. "I have heard that the bad drinking water in Boston has created a great demand for lager, not only at the best hotels and restaurants, but for family consumption; is that the case?"

Mr. E. "Undoubtedly it is that which to a great extent has increased the consumption; at all events our orders have quite largely exceeded our expectations, and there seems to be no end to the demand."

Rep. "Some of the lager made in distant cities, I am told, is made in part from river water, concerning the purity of which of late there has been much doubt, and this has recently caused an enquiry to be made as to the ingredients of different kinds of lager in the market. Is this the case?"

Mr. E. "I cannot speak positively as to the source of supply of other breweries; though I have visited many establishments of the kind in this country, I am not informed as to the character of their supply of water. It would not become me to underrate the brews of our competitors. I can only speak as to ours. We yield to no one in the care of our brewing; our water is strictly pure, contaminated by no refuse matter, and must of necessity be the best that can be found in the United States for this purpose. Some of the beer brewed from river water is sold for exportation, and perhaps the consumer may never stop to enquire where it is made or from what source comes the supply of water used in producing it."

Rep. "How as to the water used by the Eldredge Brewing Co. for the manufacture of their lager?"

Mr. E. "I presume every person who has cared to be informed in this respect, knows that our lager is made in part from the pure spring water of the Portsmouth Aqueduct Co. This water, unlike that taken from a river near a large city, is of wonderful purity. Coming from springs, it is clear and wholesome at all seasons of the year. It is from this cause, to a no small extent, that we have been able to put upon the market an article of lager containing no impurities derived from sluggish streams in which vegetable and other refuse matter may have been found. To a person accustomed to drinking beer made from water containing impurities, our lager may not have a 'natural taste;' but physicians, dealers and others have long since made the discovery that ours has a better taste, because it has purer ingredients. I do not say this in any boasting sense, but I know that sooner or later our beer would take a high rank in the market among buyers of discrimination. We were in no hurry to push our goods; we knew that when they had been fairly tested our company would have a trade which would be of such a character, if we maintained our standard of excellence, as would almost take care of itself. We have many new applicants all the time for our beer; and in some markets, although perhaps it has not the advantage of a long reputation, there is what we think as much of, a steady demand from permanent buyers."

Rep. "The consumption of lager in families, I am told, has of late largely increased; how is it as to the beer your company makes?"

Mr. E. "Lager beer has to a very great degree taken the place of wines in family use, and especially with ladies. We sell to proprietors of restaurants in large cities, to leading grocers and other concerns that supply for table use. Ladies who are shopping in Boston take lager with their lunch. In large dining rooms ladies not taking lager at lunch would be the exception rather than the rule,—so our agents tell me, as have others who have observed such matters."

Rep. "It has been thought by many persons that a better article of beer can be produced in Germany and other countries besides ours. The Germans are called good judges of beer, I believe. How do the resident Germans like your product?"

Mr. E. "In a leading city where our beer is sold a prominent German dealer told me recently that he had discarded all other kinds of lager save ours. He said his customers spoke of it in the highest terms. To use his own words, 'I wish you understood the German language well enough to be here on some occasion when we have a large number of native Germans in, and could understand them in their praises of what they call this "Yankee beer." They pronounce it better than the imported article.'"

Rep. "How is the difference in the quality of bottled lager accounted for, as we often hear that lager claimed by some leading sellers is not as good as their customers have the right to expect?"

Mr. E. "That is accounted for in this way: Lager should be drawn frequently from the cask, to be used at its best, but a dealer who draws at long intervals, and then bottles the remainder of the beer in his casks, will not have an attractive drink for his customers. Our bottlers here and in Boston draw all at one time from a fresh cask, not permitting it to become stale or flat from earlier drawings; the best bottled lager is only that which has been bottled in this way, and the trade understands this, if the customers do not."

Rep. "I am told that some kinds of lager are sold at wholesale at less prices than your company receive for their beer; why is this?"

Mr. E. "Lager beer brewers, like other competitors, will occasionally run each other, and cut prices. If they do this for any length of time, of course they must do it at a loss if they keep the quality at the same standard, and sooner or later they place an inferior article on the market, and of course have to sell it at lower prices than can or will a concern which has a ready sale for its beer, and will not permit any detoriation of its quality."

Rep. "There are other questions I would like to ask, but I know you are much engaged, and I am obliged for the information you have given me."

Mr. E. "Yes, I am just starting off to be absent a week, but I think you have learned something as to what our company is doing, and if you see fit to tell the public through the columns of your paper that the Eldridge Brewing Company's ale and beer is made from pure spring water, and of only the best and most wholesome ingredients, I shall have been glad of the interview."

At this our reporter quietly folded his note book and came away.

SURPRISE PARTIES.

On Friday evening last Mr. Joshua M. Vaughan and wife were surprised by a visit in their home on State street from a large number of their friends residing in Eliot and this city. The invaders carried with them many handsome and useful gifts, and were hospitably received and entertained; and a very pleasant evening was passed by all, in social intercourse and the interchange of mutual good wishes.

Mr. William Brown, a young man about twenty years old, living in Newington, and a member of Strawberry Bank Lodge, I. O. G. T., of this city, while engaged in mowing with a scythe last summer cut a very ugly gash in one of his legs, from the effects of which wound he has been unable to work since. Recently while limping about the house with the help of a crutch, he lost his balance, his crutch slipping from him, and he fell to the floor, with his wounded leg under him, breaking it above the wound, from which accident he has since been confined to his bed and will be unable to work this winter. On Friday evening a large proportion of the members of Strawberry Bank Lodge cheered him with a visit, and on departing left behind them many little tokens of their sympathy and good will. The occasion was greatly enjoyed by Mr. Brown, and the visiting party returned by moonlight at a reasonably late hour, with the pleasant consciousness that they had not only had a good time, but had aided to lighten for at least a few hours the affliction of a worthy young man.

SUPREME COURT.

SATURDAY, Nov. 5th; Smith, J.

In case Batchelder vs. Epping, the jury agreed shortly after midnight, and brought in a sealed verdict to be opened on Monday forenoon. It was stated about town that the verdict was for $400 for Batchelder's estate, which is more than $800 less than the former verdict. It is understood that there was a compromise, nearly half of the jurors believing there was no defect in the highway for which the town should suffer. Dr. Bachelder having received the amount of the former verdict, gave bonds to refund the amount, if any, by which it might be reduced in review; the result is a substantial victory for the town, which has to pay $400—which is equivalent to recovering back the excess of the former verdict, and also recovers costs. The argument of General Marston has been designated as "the greatest effort of his life," and is regarded by members of the bar who listened to it, as of exceeding ability; but Mr. Copeland is not apt to let a jury get away from him, and his dug-out model of the road probably had an effect in showing that the town is not such an insurer against all sorts of accidents as should in cases like this make it responsible. This ends the Bachelder case, unless the plaintiffs have something by which the case can be transferred to the law term.

Case State vs. Robinson was commenced to be tried, but taken from the jury, and jurors were discharged until Monday.

Judge Smith goes to Exeter next Saturday morning, to hear an equity case.

DIRECTIONS.
For Catarrh, Hay Fever, Cold in the Head, etc., insert with little finger a particle of the Balm into the nostrils; draw strong breaths through the nose. It will be absorbed, cleansing and healing the diseased membrane.
FOR DEAFNESS, Apply a particle into the ear.

ELYS' CREAM BALM
Having gained an enviable local reputation, displacing all other preparations in the vicinity of discovery, is on its merits alone, recognized as a wonderful remedy. A fair trial will convince the most skeptical of its curative powers. It effectually cleanses the nasal passages of Catarrhal virus, causing healthy secretions, allays inflammation and irritation, protects the membranal linings of the head from additional colds, completely heals the sores and restores the sense of taste and smell. Beneficial results are realized by a few applications. A thorough treatment as directed will cure Catarrh. As a household remedy for cold in the head and snuffles it is unequalled. The Balm is easy to use and agreeable. Sold by all druggists at 50 cts. On receipt of 50 cts. will mail a package. Send for circular with full information.

A $6.00 REVOLVER FREE TO YOU.
THE WORLD RENOWNED BLUE JACKET
WITH GOLD PLATED CYLINDER
WEIGHT 7½ OUNCES
THIS CUT IS 2-3 SIZE.
THE BLUE JACKET
is the most elegant & perfect in Construct, as well as the most perfect and beautiful in design and finish. It is made of the very best steel. The barrel and frame is Nickel Silver-plated, with Gold-plated Cylinder, Ivory Stock, and the whole beautifully engraved and enameled, making a beautiful contrast of four different colors. The cut represents only one-third the actual size, and it is impossible to show the beautiful contrast of Gold, Silver, Blue and Ivory. It conveys but a slight idea of the handsome weapon. It is the finest imported brass cartridge. It is the first IVORY HANDLE, ENAMELED AND ENGRAVED REVOLVER ever sold for less than $6.00, and is the most remarkable bargain we ever offered in Revolvers. This Revolver cannot be made today for what we are offering it for, and it will be a long time before we shall be able to offer another such bargain. We have 7,000 only, when these are sold, no more can be had except at another price. THE BLUE JACKET is as well known as any Revolver in the world, and the new Russian Model Hip Pocket exactly like the same, combining you in hand at firmly and expeditiously. It has a finely polished barrel, positive stop-notch holding the cylinder firmly in place, and uses the extra long cartridge. With the BLUE JACKET you can shoot a sparrow or partridge from the tallest tree. We guarantee its shooting qualities, and if you are not perfectly satisfied with it WE WILL REFUND THE MONEY EVERY TIME. We purchased these Revolvers at less than one-fourth their cost, and we wish to extend our trade for the benefit, and at the same time introduce our publication THE HOUSEHOLD GUEST MAGAZINE. If you will send us $2.00, and TEN CENTS EXTRA to pay for postage, we will mail the Magazine one year, and the REVOLVER FREE of all other charges. THE HOUSEHOLD GUEST MAGAZINE contains 32 quarto pages, with handsome Illuminated Engraved Cover, and is filled with choice illustrations from all parts of the world. Stories by the best authors; Poetry; Anecdotes; Sketches; Illustrated Fashion Department; useful information; Statistics; Answers to Correspondents; Humorous Items; The Farmer; Ladies' Items; The Toilet Table; The Garden; Wit, Humor, etc. It is now in its fourth year, has a large circulation, and the regular price for a year's subscription has always been $1.00.
FREE TO YOU. If you will cut this advertisement out, show it to your friends, and get them to join you and send us $14.00, with 70 cents extra in stamps to help pay postage, we will send you the Revolver and Magazine free for your trouble. PLEASE BEAR IN MIND that each one in the club will also get the Revolver and Magazine, and when all amount $14.70 is sent with the club order, we will put in a box of cartridges for each Revolver. This is no joke, but we really do offer the New York Publishers of Merchants. Send money by Registered Letter or Post Office Order at our risk.
THE TARGET illustrated here was made with the BLUE JACKET at 27 yards. Each bullet being put in a hole twice size the Revolver. CUT THIS OUT, IT WILL NOT APPEAR AGAIN.

Naval Affairs.

Lieutenant-Commander C. H. Rockwell and Lieutenant N. J. K. Patch are ordered to duty at the Charlestown navy yard.

Capt. O. C. Badger is detached from the Naval Asylum, Philadelphia, and to continue on duty as member of the examining board.

Passed-Asst. Engineer N. P. Towne is ordered to the Brooklyn navy yard.

The U. S. Training-ship Portsmouth, Commander William B. Hoff commanding, has returned from Yorktown to Newport, R. I.

Lieutenant Kossuth Niles is ordered to instruction in ordnance, at the navy yard at Washington, D. C.

First-Lieutenant F. D. Webster, U. S. M. C., is ordered to duty at the barracks at Brooklyn, N. Y.

First-Lieutenant O. C. Berryman, U. S. M. C., is detached from duty at the marine barracks, at Washington, and ordered to command the marine guard on the Essex, Nov. 10th.

Captain E. P. Meeker, U. S. M. C., is detached from the Shenandoah on the arrival of the Brooklyn on the South Atlantic station, and serves as fleet marine officer until the arrival of Captain Fagan.

The order directing Captain Fagan, U. S. M. C., to the U. S. S. Brooklyn, is revoked, and he is ordered to hold himself in readiness to join that ship on the South Atlantic station in April next.

Ex-Secretary Thompson and Colonel Thomas Y. Field have been sued by Mr. Hooper in Philadelphia, who was an orderly sergeant in the marine corps, on the grounds of illegal arrest. Hooper was tried by court-martial at League Island about ten years ago for irregularities in his accounts. As Colonel Field was in the discharge of an official duty, he will be defended by the U. S. district attorney at Philadelphia. Hooper has been in the habit of loaning money to the marine officers at a small percentage, and has grown rich.

Secretary Hunt has issued an order calling attention to the order of March 17th, 1869, prohibiting applications for duty through persons of influence, with this addendum: "Officers detailed to duty on the Brooklyn and Essex will take especial heed of this regulation."

Many of the naval officers who were present at the Yorktown celebration expressed the opinion that the York river was the best place on the Atlantic coast for a station for the naval training squadron. It would also furnish a much better location for a navy yard than that of the Norfolk navy yard.

Rear Admiral John C. Howell will be retired Nov. 24th by limitation of age, and Commodore John C. Beaumont, commandant of this navy yard, will on the same date be advanced to the rank of rear admiral.

"I was confined to my bed for four months," says Mr. Charles Lowe, 508 East Eighteenth street, New York, "with the rheumatism, and can say that the use of three bottles of St. Jacobs Oil made me a sound man. It is regarded here as the greatest remedy of the age."

Rear-Admiral J. C. Howell is detached from command of the European squadron and placed on waiting orders.

"Rough on Rats."
The thing desired found at last. Ask druggist for Rough on Rats. It clears out rats, mice, roaches, flies, bedbugs; 15 cts. boxes.

Skinny Men.
Wells' Health Renewer. Absolute cure for nervous debility and weakness of the general functions; $1 at druggists. Depot at J. H. Thacher.

Capt. F. M. Ramsey is detached from the command of the Trenton, and placed on waiting orders.

During life, to be happy, we must be healthy and protect ourselves from coughs and colds. They are the halters that lead to untimely graves. Adamson's Botanic Balsam cures every time. Price, 35 and 75 cts. Trial size, 10 cts.

U. S. S. Tallapoosa, Commander Kellogg commanding, left Washington on Nov. 2d, and arrived at Norfolk the next day on her way to the northern yards with freight.

Charles Cosgrove!
Who has not been able to attend to his business for years, was interviewed by our reporter yesterday, and says: For years I was troubled with Bright's disease of the kidneys. The doctors gave me up. Through an eastern friend I obtained a bottle of Saltpeter Bitters. I took five bottles and now am almost well. Keith sells them.—San Francisco Call.

Commodore Francis A. Roe, who has been dangerously sick at his residence in Washington, from congestion of the lungs, will it is hoped by his friends and physicians, be able to combat with the disease and recover.

The Results of Necessity.
What the ancients suffered for the want of knowledge in medical science, can only be appreciated by contrasting the vast amount of suffering cured and pain alleviated in modern times, by the use of Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases. Its introduction was characterized by the necessary withdrawal of a score or more of illusive, quack nostrums, whose evil effects have left living monuments to denounce them. Thus is exemplified the proverb, necessity is the mother of invention.

SWAYNES OINTMENT
AN UNFAILING REMEDY SUCH AS FOR ALL SKIN DISEASES
TETTER, ITCH, SORES, PIMPLES, ERYSIPELAS, RING WORM, BLOTCHES, &c.
THE GREAT CURE FOR ITCHING PILES
Symptoms are moisture, itching, burning, worse at night; scurfy as if pin-worms were crawling about the rectum and private parts often affected. As a pleasant, economical and positive cure, SWAYNE'S OINTMENT is superior to any article in the market. Sold by druggists, or send 50 cts. in 3-ct. Stamps, 3 boxes, $1.25. Address, DR. SWAYNE & SON, Phila., Pa.

Rheumatism
Neuralgia, Sprains,
Pain in the Back and Side.
There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.
This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.
Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, It never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.
The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:
Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our recourse was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.
Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent pains of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.
G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.
E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.
Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never-failing remedy for rheumatism and sciatica.
Mr. Burditt writes:
It never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.
Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.
All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

Back Ache
POSITIVELY CURED
BY
Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.
Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:
First.
Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts with increased subefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.
Second.
Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession.
Third.
Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.
Fourth.
Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.
Fifth.
Because over 5000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.
Sixth.
Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

An Only Daughter Cured of Consumption.
When death was hourly expected, all remedies having failed, and Dr. H. James was experimenting with the many herbs of Calcutta, he accidentally made a preparation which cured his only child of Consumption. His child is now in this country, and enjoying the best of health. He has proved to the world consumption can be positively and permanently cured. The doctor now gives this recipe free, only asking two three-cent stamps to pay expenses. This herb also cures Night Sweats, Nausea at the Stomach, and will break up a fresh cold in twenty-four hours. Address Craddock & Co., 1028 Race Street, Philadelphia, naming this paper.

THE

New Hampshire Gazette!

Established 1756.

The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.

It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

— THE —

NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE

Contains more original matter

Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS

THE N. H. GAZETTE

Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities where is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

Queer Express Packages.

"Odd freight? Well, I should say we have," said D. F. Masters, one of the oldest clerks in the main office of the Adams Express company on Market street, as he twirled himself around on a high stool and faced an inquiring reporter. Mr. Masters talks with great volubility, and as he is in the habit of dropping many small words, his conversation was decidedly jerky. "Yes, we ship a little of everything, from diamonds to Chester White pigs and Limburgher cheese. Remarkable thing about that cheese. Ever smell any? Case burst in the freight-room last spring. Made every one sick. Two Irishmen tried to shovel it up. Smell nearly turned 'em inside out. Got a man, regular out and out eat-a-sandwich-in-a-minute sort of a fellow from Bergmyer's saloon across the way, but he gave out in ten minutes. Only finished it with a box of deodorizer. Phew! They should charge double rates to ship such stuff," and the speaker elevated his nose as though a trace of the diabolical aroma still lingered in his nostrils.

"Two babies have come through this office—one from Chicago for New York, and the other from Washington to this city. The men on the line made a great fuss when the Chicago one was shipped. Telegraph operators all along the route sent dispatches ahead, and crowds of people went to the depots to see the baby. Came all the way in the cars. Had a hammock all rigged up. New idea, you know, and messengers thought it was kind of a joke, but they wouldn't like too much of that kind. Baby's mother died in Chicago; father lived in New York; weighed forty-one pounds, I believe; cost about $2.50 to send it through. Philadelphia baby came along some time after. Both made their trip first-class, and seemed to enjoy things generally. Fed 'em regulation spoon victuals from hotels along the line.

Often have dead folks shipped. Don't know why they send 'em by express, though. Tain't likely any one's going to walk off with a corpse. Yes; a man shipped three short-horned cattle clean through to Nebraska about a month ago. Unless he got them for nothing they must have cost him a power of money when he got them. Just think of a man expressing a whole deer carcass 2,000 or 3,000 miles. About as sensible for a butcher to express a beef through to Camden. Last fall a lunatic sent a 1,200-pound block of cedar from California clear to New York. That's nothing, however, for I see some one sent twenty barrels of mess pork to the Pottstown military camp by express, and the charges amounted to over $100.

A cinnamon bear came through from Nevada by express last January for the zoological garden. Said he was tame when they shipped him. Got loose near Omaha, drove every one out of the car, chawed up half a deer, ripped around among the freight, and had a circus all to himself until he was tied in the corner of the car with a log chain. Oh, yes; they ship lots of mirrors, but the men don't like 'em. Seven years' bad luck to smash a looking-glass, you know. Snakes till you can't rest, but they keep them in boxes. Messengers don't mind 'em. Now you might think eggs are a nice freight, but they ain't. More expressmen grow bald on account of worrying over baskets of eggs than anything I know of," and Mr. Masters turned from the reporter to receive a package of hymn-books consigned to a missionary in the Black Hills.—Philadelphia Times.

Cole's great circus was lately wrecked on its way to Kansas City. After its arrival there, a Kansas City Times' reporter found John Sawbright, its veterinarian, rubbing the injured animals with St. Jacobs Oil. He said it was the best remedy known for injuries to horses, and was so very clean to use.

There is a Balm in Gilead.

The success which has marked the introduction of Cream Balm, a catarrh remedy, prepared by Ely Bros., Owego, N. Y., is indeed marvelous. Many persons in Pittston and vicinity are using it with most satisfactory results. A lady down town is recovering the sense of smell, which she had not enjoyed for fifteen years, through the use of the Balm. She had given up her case as incurable. Mr. Barber, the druggist, has used it in his family and commends it very highly. In another column a young Tunkhannock lawyer, known to many of our readers, testifies that he was cured of partial deafness. It is certainly a very efficacious remedy. — Pittston, Pa., Gazette, Aug. 15, 1879.

Ship Building.

Seven vessels are now under contract to be built at Belfast, Me. Four ships, of nearly 2600 tons each, are on the stocks at Bath, Me., and nearly finished. Eight vessels, some of them quite large, are under contract to be built at Thomaston, Me., next year.

News and Notes.

Great Britian has forty-nine per cent of the tonnage of the world, and actually carries fifty-two per cent of all merchandise. Of the steam tonnage of the world she owns 2,580,000 tons, against 1,530,000 owned by all other nations combined.

A trial is in progress at the patent office in Washington to determine the first inventorship of the telephone, eminent counsel being employed by the various claimants.

Wendell Phillips declines to go to Ireland to speak in the cause of land reform and the league, on account of the state of his health, but expresses warm sympathy with the struggle in Ireland.

The Fall River line of steamers began to run its boats on the winter time on the first day of this week. The boats now leave New York daily at 4:30 o'clock P. M.

Some time ago a melon patch was raided near the Agricultural college at Lansing, Mich., and the matter was settled by one of the raiders. The next night a party of one hundred students compelled the owner to refund the amount, and the faculty has tried in vain to get them to return the money to the melon owner. Wednesday night of last week all the students engaged in a raid, and were promptly suspended.

Two West Point cadets have been sentenced to four months' imprisonment, with other humiliations, for hazing a fellow student.

On Sunday afternoon fire destroyed the Eagle dock in Hoboken, N. J., and two full cargoes of merchandise. The dock was constructed eight years ago, at a cost of $250,000, and was 710 feet in length and eighty feet wide. Several barges and lighters were destroyed, and the steamship Rialto was saved by a tug after her rigging had taken fire.

A great flood occurred in Spanish Honduras during the latter part of October; over two hundred miles of territory were covered, causing a loss of $20,000,000 and over five hundred lives.

The ship New Era, of Boston, from Hong Kong for San Francisco, has been totally lost on the island of Lazon, one of the Phillippines; crew saved. She was of 1147 tons register, and was insured in Boston offices to the amount of $36,000.

Ellen Conway, a widow with two children, was burned to death in Lowell, Mass., Nov. 4th, through her clothes taking fire.

Dennis Madden, eighty-five years old, was killed by falling down stairs while carrying an armful of wood on the 4th inst., at his daughter's home in Boston.

A triple murder occurred at Iowa City on Saturday morning. A man named Stein, a prominent politician in that place, cut his wife's throat, chopped up his mother-in-law, and killed himself by poison. Stein had previously had trouble with his wife, and she left him last summer and commenced a suit for divorce. He subsequently attempted to abduct her, and created great excitement by dragging her to a carriage. Saturday morning he went to the house where his wife resided with her father and mother. He found only his wife and mother-in-law at home. He was far gone with poison, and brutally hacked his wife and mother-in-law until the former died, and he himself fell dead.

The whaling schooner Delia Hodgkins, of New London, Conn., was capsized in a squall on Friday night near Pollock Rip lightship, Nantucket shoals. The crew, fifteen in number, got into a boat, and ten survivors were picked up on Sunday, five men having died from exposure twenty-four hours after the disaster. The schooner was bound in with 170 barrels of oil, from Iceland.

There was a lively riot at Tiffin, Ohio, Sunday night, in which several persons were hurt, caused by an attempt of lynchers to take from jail the divinity student Madden, who murdered Phebe Bernhard on the street because she refused to marry him.

The government examiner reports the steal from the Newark, N. J., bank to be $2,411,000.45. Baldwin might well have left that forty-five cents in the bank.

A United States signal station has been established five miles east of Point Barrow, in the Arctic, under Lieut. Ray.

Col. Watson B. Smith, clerk of the United States circuit court, was found brutally murdered just outside his office door at Omaha, Neb., on Saturday morning. The affair causes considerable excitement, and a great mass meeting was held to held to express the deep horror and to bring the guilty party to justice. Col. Smith was a very highly respected citizen, and leaves an estimable family. He served in the war in a Michigan regiment; he had been clerk of the court fourteen years, and had been chairman of the committee of citizens to enforce the liquor license law, and was very prominent in its aggressive work.

The inventory of the real and personal estate of the late E. M. J. Hale of Haverhill, Mass., shows the value to be $2,068,991.

On one very hot day in Boston during the past summer, it is related that the statue of Samuel Adams which stands on new Washington street was observed, when no one was looking, to reach into its extensive flap pocket and withdraw a handkerchief to wipe the perspiration from its bronzed and heated brow. It must have been a pretty hot day, certainly.

Mackerel are reported to have "struck in" off the Shoals on Sunday night, the fish being very large and fat. The few fishermen who were on the ground had nets, did well. For ten days, previous to Sunday, the sea was so rough at the islands that no trawls could be set. The herring school which ordinarily strikes the Shoals came further in shore this season, making the herring fishery at the islands a comparative failure.

Mr. Jackson say the mayor or marshal did not order him to stop work on Mrs. Seavey's house, but all that was said about the work on the house was said by other parties, and the city authorities had nothing to do with the matter.—Times.

The Washington, (D. C.) Sunday Herald of the 6th inst. says: "On Thursday last the New Hampshire delegates to the 'Woman's National Christian Temperance Union' convention, spent a pleasant evening at the residence of Mrs. Thomas L. Tullock, on Capitol hill. Among others present were Miss Willard, President; Mrs. Buell, Corresponding Secretary; Miss Pugh, Treasurer; Mrs. Senator Blair, Mrs. Willard, Miss Harriet P. Dame and Miss Quint."

A good opportunity is now afforded the public to lay in a stock of firewood for the winter. Mr. Daniel Littlefield, at his wharf on Green street, has a large quantity of Newmarket and Durham wood, which has the reputation of being second to none grown in New Hampshire; he has a large lot of wood of all kinds, facilities for preparing it equal to any in the state, and will sell as cheaply as can be purchased elsewhere. If you are in want of wood, call at No. 13 Green street and inspect his stock and prices.

To the Holders of Certificates of Indebtedness.

The Voting Register of Certificate-Holders is now making up at the Office of the Trustees, No. 23 Court Street, Boston, Mass. The names of parties to whom Certificates were originally delivered have been placed in the Register. Any subsequent purchaser or holder desiring to register may do so on presenting at said office to Mr. Joshua Crane a written statement of his name, address and the denomination and number of each certificate held by him, or, if so required by the Trustees, on producing the certificates held by him or a written order from the last registered holder.

In accordance with regulations fixed by the Trustees the Voting Register will be closed on the seventh day of December, 1881, between which time and the Annual meeting on the second Wednesday of December, 1881, no registration will be made. Per Order of the Directors.

FELLOWS'

Compound Syrup of

HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

A REALLY RELIABLE REMEDY FOR WASTING AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

After numerous experiments Mr. Fellows succeeded in producing this combination of Hypophosphites, which has not only restored him to health, but has since been found so successful in the treatment of disease emanating from loss of nerve power, and consequently muscular relaxation, viz.:

Aphonia (loss of voice), Anæmia, Chronic Diarrhœa, Dyspepsia, Fever and Ague, Leucorrhœa, Malaria, Neuralgia, Nervous debility, Whooping Cough, Congestion of the Lungs, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Mental Depression, Nervousness.

MALARIA.

Persons living in Malarious districts may protect themselves from attacks of fever by the use of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites. Its effects in toning up the system enables us to ward off contagious disorders, and successfully combat disease.

The soluble phosphites and the other life-sustaining principles comprising Fellows' Hypophosphites are so carefully proportioned and so judiciously mingled, that their action upon the nerves, muscles and membranes in imparting vitality, strength and healthy action is generally apparent within twenty four hours, and the good effects experienced are of a permanent character.

BAGGAGE EXPRESS WANTED.

A correspondent complains that whereas "when railroad trains arrived at the Eastern station in this city in broad daylight there appear hackmen and baggage-wagon drivers in crowds, a dozen to each piece of baggage, when the nine o'clock evening train from Boston gets in but one solitary hack is on duty. On Saturday evening last there were over fifty passengers alighted from the Pullman train; not a job wagon in sight, and every tourist had a package or trunk, or something to be carried. Two hacks were pressed into service, but no baggage could be taken from the station save that toted by hand, or carried on these hacks.

On Saturday, a week previous, there was a slight rain at seven o'clock in the evening. A large number of excursion passengers came home at that hour, but the accommodations for the transportation of passengers and baggage were few and insufficient. What we need is a good baggage express at this end of the line, like Batchelder's at the Boston end."

A REPREHENSIBLE ACT.

PORTSMOUTH, Nov. 6th.

Mr. Editor: A word with you, if you have the time. I wish to relate an incident that occurred this morning: As I doubled the post-office, heading for the Parade, I observed a beautiful setter dog seize a piece of raw meat from the right-hand side of the road, give it a shake to free it from dust, and swallow it. "That meat may have been poisoned?" I remarked to a companion beside me in the carriage. "No; it is not the season for poisoning dogs."

Half an hour afterwards, as I watered my horse at the pump on the Lafayette road, a dog ran up, threw himself upon his broadside, stretched all four legs slowly out to their extreme tension, gave two or three convulsive twitches, and was dead. What made the sight distressing was the fact that my daughter and little grandchild witnessed this scene, and still more distressing was the fact that the dying dog was my own, and their great favorite and pet.

Now, Mr. Editor, I do not suppose that poisoned meat was intended for my dog,—and think the poisoner, whoever he be, will regret its misapplication. My object in asking you to be good enough to insert this in your paper is to give him the chance of feeling this regret, and to beg of him when he has an enemy to shoot, not to fire at him in a crowd.

KARL.

SUPREME COURT.

MONDAY, Oct. 7th; Smith, J.

Saturday the Court was engaged in hearing the equity case of the Methodist Episcopal society in Exeter against Peter J. Casey and Alfred A. Robinson. The defendant Casey leased the store in the back basement of the church edifice on Front street, Exeter, and Casey having sub-let to Robinson, co-defendant, for a meat market, (the front store being used for what is designated as the "P. E. A." book-store,) the bill was brought to enjoin the defendants from occupying the premises for the sale of meat, as it was contended that this was in violation of the terms of the written lease, (which provided that no business should be transacted on the premises to the injury of the cause of Christ,) or that the sale of meat on the premises was a nuisance! The hearing, which was at Exeter by consent of parties, attracted a large number of Methodists of that town, and occupied the entire day. About thirty witnesses testified. The case was argued by Eastman for defts. and by J. Warren Towle, Esq., for the society. Decision reserved.

No. 33, John R. Rowell and Sylvester Clifford, of Newton, vs. Samuel S. Chase, of West Newbury, Mass., action for making false representations regarding the credit and standing of certain parties in West Newbury. The plffs. lived in Newton in 1873, and Mr. S. S. Chase came to Mr. Rowell to purchase boards to be used in building a church in West Newbury, Mass., on a credit of six months. Mr. Chase represented that the proposed buyers were good for the amount for which the boards were to be sold. Soon after, the minister and the carpenter came to Rowell's to see the boards; Mr. Chase had previously agreed on the price at $15 per thousand; a part of the price of the boards, amounting to about $145, was not paid, and this suit is brought in consequence of such non-payment. It was contended that the members of the committee of the church were not responsible, and Mr. Rowell could not collect the sum of them; and after vigorous efforts he gave up the attempt, and sought his remedy upon Mr. Chase as responsible on account of his representations, which induced Rowell to give the credit and part with his property. Hon. Greenleaf Clark was foreman of the jury. Eastman for plff.; Stickney, and Frink & Batchelder, for deft.

The defence deny that the committee were unable to pay for the lumber, and maintain that Rowell could have collected his claims of the committee. The evidence was not concluded at the adjournment in the evening, the defence having two more witnesses to examine. A deposition was read, by the town clerk of West Newbury, who shew that he had held the office since March 11th, 1864, having been elected since the expiration of his first official year.

"FELICIA."

Miss Rose Eytinge will present the above named piece on Thursday evening at Music hall. We are told by the management that it met with unrivalled success at the Union Square theatre, and the play is a moral and powerful one. The New York Express says:

Miss Eytinge renders her character, which is a difficult one, in a manner only possible to an artiste of great ability; her acting is full of suppressed feeling and superb dignity; in short, "Felicia" is one of the greatest efforts of one of the greatest actresses now before the public. There is little doubt but that the play will have a long and prosperous run.

AROUND HOME.

In the drawing at the Custom House Exchange, Saturday evening, ticket No. 151 won the trotting horse "Lady Mack;" Thomas McCarty won the baggy, with ticket No. 174, and P. B. Yeaton took the harness, with No. 275. The five ten-dollar prizes were drawn by E. A. Stoddard, E. H. Leslie, H. C. Locke, N. W. Lord and D. Leavitt.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Eastern railroad will be held in Boston on the second Wednesday of December.

Mr. Richard D. Smart, Sr., on Saturday last picked several blossoms from a pear tree in his garden. He does not anticipate much of a crop of fruit from the tree, this season.

Workmen were on Saturday and Monday engaged in putting galvanized wire screens over several of the angles and projecting points on the front of the North church, to discommode the pigeons which delight to roost there, making themselves a nuisance to persons entering or leaving the church, and defacing the building. Somewhat similar screens were put up several years ago, and worked well; but being made of light wire, and not galvanized, they had become worthless through rusting out.

A large box full of choice pears of several varieties arrived at our office on Saturday from Malden, Mass., forwarded by our old friend W. B. Keen, Esq., the extensive carriage manufacturer of that place. We can assure Mr. Keen that the pears were put where they would do the most good.

The Lynn correspondent of the Boston Herald says: "A man named Madison, who has been employed by Rev. Arthur A. Waite for several months past, having charge of the Glad Tidings tent, took the initiatory step on Saturday toward bringing suit against that divine, to recover pay for services rendered. There are many reports circulating about town regarding Mr. Waite, and a large number of his former parishioners have 'gone back' on him, condemning him in the strongest terms." Mr. Waite will get his "Glad Tidings Tabernacle" built in Lynn all the same, at the expense of his worshippers; and it will make an excellent place in which bye-and-by to give, in the interests of true religion, of course, exposes of Spiritualism—"admission twenty-five cents to all parts of the house."

The Grayson Opera Co., which recently presented "The Mascot" at Music hall to the unqualified approbation of a cultivated audience, will give Gilbert & Sullivan's latest comic opera, "Patience," in the same place shortly. The company performed the latter opera in Portland on Friday evening of last week, to a very large and enthusiastic audience.

The fishing schooner Mary Amanda, hailing from a Massachusetts port, sprung a leak on Saturday night at eleven o'clock, while out on a fishing trip, and had to keep her pumps going steadily until half-past ten o'clock Sunday forenoon, at which later hour she hauled in on the ground alongside of Russell & Odion's wharf, to hunt for the leak at low tide. The leak was found to have been caused by the oakum working out of her garboard seams; the trouble was remedied by the crew, and the schooner sailed again on Monday afternoon.

Commodore John C. Beaumont expects to be relieved of the command of the Portsmouth yard on the first day of December, by Commodore Clark H. Wells, who was stationed at the yard as captain several years since. Capt. Jonathan Young is also expecting to be relieved from duty as captain of the yard.

The shore-fishing boats came in on Monday with good fares of cod, cusk and haddock, the total aggregating over 10,000 lbs.

Important.

When you visit or leave New York city, save Baggage Expressage and Carriage Hire, and stop at Grand Union Hotel, opposite Grand Central Depot; 450 rooms, fitted up at a cost of one million dollars, reduced to $1 and upwards per day. Burnetts Flavoring Extracts.—The superiority of these extracts consists in their perfect purity and great strength. They are warranted free from the poisonous oils and acids which enter into the composition of many factitious fruit flavors.

A COUGH, COLD OR SORE THROAT should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the throat troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years "Brown's Bronchial Troches" have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. THE SURGEON'S KNIFE.

Mr. Simeon Tietsell, of Sangerties, N. Y., had been treated for seven years by various physicians for what they called Stricture of the Urethra, without benefit. He finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculi or Stones in the Bladder. The doctor at once removed the foreign bodies with the knife and then gave his great Blood Specific, "Favorite Remedy," to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was eminently successful, and Mr. Tietsell's recovery was rapid and perfect.

While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all kidney and bladder diseases, it is equally valuable in cases of billious disorders, constipation of the bowels, and all the class of ills apparently inseparable from the constitutions of women. Try it. Your druggist has it, and its cost is only dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. The Doctor would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine, "Favorite Remedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to office practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery.

A $6.00 REVOLVER FREE TO YOU.

WEIGHT 7½ OUNCES
THIS CUT IS 2-3 SIZE.
THE BLUE JACKET
is the most elegant Revolver in the world, as well as the most perfect and beautiful in design and finish. It is made of the very best steel. The barrel and frame is Nickel Silver-plated, with Gold-plated Cylinder, Ivory Stock, and the whole beautifully engraved and enameled, making a beautiful contrast of four different colors. The cut represents only one-third the actual size, and as it is impossible to do justice to the artistic contrast of Gold, Silver, Blue and Ivory, it conveys but a slight idea of this handsome weapon. It is strictly a pocket Revolver. It is the IVORY HANDLE, ENAMELED AND ENGRAVED REVOLVER ever sold for less than $6.00, and is the most remarkable bargain we have offered in firearms. This Revolver cannot be made looks for less than what we are offering it for, and it will be a long time before we shall be able to offer another such bargain. We have 5,000 only; when these are sold, we shall be had except at a vastly higher price. THE BLUE JACKET is all well known as any Revolver in the world, and the new Rondas Redef Hip Stock exactly fits the hand, enabling you to hold it firmly and steadily. It has a finger relief barrel, positive top-catch holding the cylinder firmly in place, and uses the extra-long cartridge. With the BLUE JACKET you can shoot a squirrel or partridge from the tallest tree. We guarantee its shooting qualities, and if you are not perfectly satisfied with it THE VERY MONEY EVERY TIME. We purchased these Revolvers at less than manufacturers' cost, and we offer to give all who read this the benefit, and at the same time introduce our publication THE HOUSEHOLD GUEST MAGAZINE. If you will send us $2.00, and THE CENTS EXTRA for postage and packing, we will mail the Magazine one year, and the REVOLVER FREE of all other charges. THE HOUSEHOLD GUEST MAGAZINE contains 20 pages, with hundreds Illustrated Engraved Cover, and is filled with choice Illustrations from all parts of the world. Stories by the best authors; Poetry; Anecdotes; Sketches; Illustrated Fashion Department; Useful Information; Statistics; Answers to Correspondents; Household Notes; The Kitchen; Ladies' Dress; The Toilet Table; The Garden; Wit, Humor, &c. It is now in its fourth year, has a large circulation, and its earlier price for a year's subscription has always been $1.50.

FREE TO YOU. If you will cut this advertisement out, show it to your friends, and get a club of some to join you, and send us $4.00, with 70 cents extra to assume to help pay postage, we will send you the Revolver and Magazine free for your trouble. PLEASE BEAR IN MIND that each one who sends in the club will also get the Revolver and Magazine free. As we are selling the Revolver at almost half its value, we will put in a box of cartridges for each Revolver, as a special inducement, we refer to any New York Publishers or Merchants. Send money by Registered Letter or Post Office Order at our risk.

Address, E. C. RIDEOUT & CO., 10 Barclay Street, N. Y.

THE TARGET illustrated here was made with the BLUE JACKET at 27 yards. Every shot being put in a bullseye size inch diameter. CUT THIS OUT, IT WILL NOT APPEAR AGAIN.

Naval Affairs.

Assistant Paymaster John C. Sullivan ordered to take charge of the United States naval depot at Nagasaki, Japan, per steamer of 19th instant. Passed Assistant Paymaster W. W. Berry has been detached from duty in charge of the United States naval depot at Nagasaki, and ordered to return home and report his arrival.

Lieutenant-Commander J. K. Winn has been ordered to temporary duty as light-house inspector of the seventh district; Lieutenant Sidney H. May to the navy yard at League island, Penn.; Lieutenant C. E. Freeland to duty at the Nautical Almanac office, Washington, D. C.; Lieutenant J. D. Keeler to the training-ship Saratoga; Master George W. Menty and Ensign Lucien Flynn to examination for promotion.

Lieutenant-Commander Charles H. Pendleton has been detached from the Boston navy yard and assigned to duty as executive officer of the Brooklyn.

Medical Inspector John C. Spear has been ordered to duty as a member of the examining board.

Paymaster I. Goodwin Hobbs, U. S. N., attached to the torpedo station at Newport, R. I., is spending a short leave of absence at his home in North Berwick.

New Hampshire Items.

A horse and carriage stolen from Rev. J. D. Waldron of Amesbury, Mass., on Friday evening, Nov. 4th, were found on Sunday at the farm house of William Gunn in Newton, the team having been found deserted on the road, and taken to Mr. Gunn's for shelter.

William W. Niles of New York and Nathaniel Gordon of Concord, have each recently given a scholarship of $1000 to Dartmouth college.

The selectmen of Franconia have voted that the peak west of Mount Garfield, being the first peak north of Mount Lafayette, shall be named the Elizabeth Thompson mountain, in honor of a lady philathopist of New York city.

Albert Ball and C. F. Case of Claremont have been granted a patent for "feeding diamond or rotary drills."

According to the Nashua Telegraph, the Crawford house took $90,000 the past season, $18,000 more than last year. The Fabyan house took $10,000 less. The Mount Washington railway took $31,000, being about $3000 more than was taken last year.

The attempted outrage of Miss Shroder for which George Stinson was tarred and feathered in the jail at New London, Conn., was not the fellow's first offence in that line. Though only twenty years old, he has served a term in jail for assaulting a girl twelve years of age two years ago; and a year previous to that he assaulted another girl, whose father gave him such a terrible beating that the authorities did not prosecute.

Two foreigners in Guildford, Vt., traded horses the other day, and included their wives in the exchange, one giving the other $15 to boot. One of the dealers was afterwards anxious to trade back.

Life is short at most, and our duty is to prolong it. Use, therefore, Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup for coughs, colds, bronchitis, hoarseness, etc. Sold everywhere. Price only 25 cents.

November 24th is the day fixed for the national Thanksgiving.

Living Witnesses.

The hundreds of hearty, and healthy looking men, women and children, that have been rescued from beds of pain sickness and well nigh death by Parker's Ginger Tonic are the best evidences in the world of its sterling merit and worth. You will find such in almost every community.

The New York Herald prophesies that the state will go democratic by from thirty to forty thousand.

Annoyance Avoided.

Gray hairs are honorable but their premature appearance is annoying. Parker's Hair Balsam prevents the annoyance by promptly restoring the youthful color.

The board of managers of the New York produce exchange have voted in favor of the erection of a new exchange, at a cost not exceeding $200,000.

Who is the Prettiest Girl in America? Is a question that would perplex a congress of connoisseurs assembled to nominate the most beautiful. But such an assemblage would not be surprised to learn, that the most charming of their sex, on this side of the Atlantic, enhance the beauty and preserve the soundness of their teeth with Sozodont, since everybody knows, that the ladies prefer it to any and all dentifrices. Let no man say after this, that women lack judgment.

Mayor Latrobe, of Baltimore, Md., has signed an ordinance prohibiting the sale of toy pistols in that city. The large number of deaths by lockjaw last summer prompted the passing of the act.

The Results of Necessity.

What the ancients suffered for the want of knowledge in medical science, can only be appreciated by contrasting the vast amount of suffering cured and pain alleviated in modern times, by the use of Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases. Its introduction was characterized by the necessary withdrawal of a score or more of illusive, quack nostrums, whose evil effects have left living monuments to denounce them. Thus is exemplified the proverb, necessity is the mother of invention.

Rheumatism
Neuralgia, Sprains,
Pain in the Back and Side.
There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.
This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.
Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, it never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.
The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:
Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says: About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our resort was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.
Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London: I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.
G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes: I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.
E. York says: I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.
Barton Seaman says: Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never-failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.
Mr. Burditt writes: It never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.
Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes: From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.
All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

Back Ache
POSITIVELY CURED
BY
Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.
Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:
First.
Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts with increased rubefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.
Second.
Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession.
Third.
Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.
Fourth.
Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.
Fifth.
Because over 5000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.
Sixth.
Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

An Only Daughter Cured of Consumption.
When death was hourly expected, all remedies having failed, and Dr. H. James was experimenting with the many herbs of Calcutta, he accidentally made a preparation which cured his only child of Consumption. His child is now in this country, and enjoying the best of health. He has proved to the world consumption can be positively and permanently cured. The doctor now gives this recipe free, only asking two three-cent stamps to pay expenses. This herb also cures Night Sweats, Nausea

The Manchester Print Works are having the usual shut-down of about a month, to change patterns and styles.

The house of Nelson P. Dow of Seabrook was broken into and ransacked on Sunday afternoon, the 6th inst., and three hundred dollars stolen. The crime was evidently committed by some one well acquainted with Mr. Dow's habits.

Thirty years ago, says the Nation, when John P. Hale was at the height of his political popularity, and a public dinner was given to him in Boston, Mr. Emerson was present and saw Hale for the first time. Studying the face and form of the burly New Hampshire statesman with keen interest, the philosopher said to his next neighbor at table, "See what an average man he is! He looks just like five hundred other men. That is the secret of his power."

Naval Affairs.

The death of Lieut. Comdr. Arthur H. Wright at Key West, from yellow fever, is announced. At the time of his death he was the senior in his grade. He saw considerable service during the latter part of the secession war, and was attached to the steamer Milwaukee when she was blown up by a torpedo, and afterward was on the steamer Osage, which was also blown up by a torpedo.

The U. S. S. Powhatan, while towing the New Hampshire to an anchorage in Block island harbor some time ago, struck on the bar, but came off without much harm, as was supposed. The steamer is in the dock at Boston, and is found to be damaged more than at first thought. Her keel is sprung to such an extent that it has been found necessary to supply her with a new false keel.

The U. S. S. Marion, attached to the South Atlantic squadron, has been ordered to proceed to Hurd's islands in search of the bark Trinity, which vessel sailed from New London in June, 1880, upon a sea-elephant voyage. The Trinity was spoken on her outward voyage at the Cape Verde islands, since which time she has not been heard from, and it is thought that her crew may be on some of the Hurd's islands awaiting relief.

Surgeon Gen. Wales of the navy in his annual report argues that the prevailing diseases in the navy are caused by the wasteful and improper preparation of food, and he recommends a radical change in the present system, including the employment of competent cooks. He points to the good results of the system in use in the army, and will ask that a board of officers be detailed to prepare a plan to carry his recommendation into effect. The health rate of the United States navy is higher than that of any other navy in the world, and the death rate lower.

John H. Noyes, the head of the Oneida community, and one of the men who was relied upon to prove Guiteau's insanity, writes that in his opinion the assassin was as insane as wolves and tigers are—just insane enough to be hung.

The loss by the burning of the Eagle dock at Hoboken, N. J., is estimated at over $1,250,000, of which $1,000,000 or more is on the merchandise which was stored on the piers.

Prevention excels cure every time. Always keep Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup convenient; take it in time and you will be free from coughs, colds, etc. Sold everywhere. Price 25 cents a bottle.

The trade of this country with Mexico for the current year, it is thought, will amount to over $6,000,000, of which one-sixth will be New Orleans' portion. The Democrat of that city is issuing Mexican editions at stated intervals, the design being to develop trade with that country, and make New Orleans its American centre.

One of the gratifying features of the times is that all right-minded physicians gladly use, as an auxiliary, the absorptive treatment—the Holman Pad Co.'s remedies.

There recently died on the line of the Western & Atlantic railroad, near Marietta, Ga., a man in the garb of a tramp who said his name was Stone, and after death papers were found on his person showing that his name was Simon F. Stone and that he was an evangelist of the Methodist Episcopal church of Waterloo, Canada, and was recommended as such by several ministers.

Don't Get Discouraged!

because the doctors say you cannot live. I was troubled with dropsy, and given up to die. But after using Sulphur Bitters for three months, I am well. It is the best medicine for kidney diseases I ever saw.—Mrs. B——, Bridgeport.

It is probable that a dam will soon be built at the head waters of the Mississippi to test the value of the reservoir system in aiding navigation through periods of low water. Congress has appropriated $225,000 for the purpose, and a beginning will soon be made at Lake Winnebigoshish. It is not expected that this one dam can appreciably affect the water of the river, but it will serve as a test of the system.

Captain Jacob Schmidt, of Tompkinsville, Staten Island, New York, suffered with severe rheumatism for many years. He used St. Jacobs Oil with splendid effect, and adopted it as a family medicine.

At Hot Springs, Ark., Tuursday evening last, Col. G. M. Murphy, a leading attorney, shot and mortally wounded George Sadler. Murphy was one of the principal attorneys in the prosecution of Sadler in a recent trial for the murder of Dr. Lyon. It was reported to Murphy that Sadler avowed he would kill him, whereupon Murphy hunted Sadler and found him at the city hall, and shot him four times, once in the back, once in the left breast, once in the left side, and in the stomach.

Rescued from Death.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the city hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half a dollar. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years.

I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with diseased lungs, will be induced to take Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and be convinced that consumption can be cured. I have taken two bottles and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness." Sold by all druggists.

During their recent stay in Jackson, Michigan, the Boston Ideal "Uncle Tom" bloodhounds appeased their hunger by feeding on the trained donkey, whose part was subsequently played by a novice.

The Dangers of the Stock Market.

A man may be incredulous enough to risk his money in the fickle mysteries of a mercurial stock market, but when he gets the itching piles, he goes straight for Dr. Swayne's Ointment. Unlike the bulls and bears of the stock exchange, who clean you out of hard earned cash, it returns your money with interest, in the way of allaying the intense itching, and insuring sweet repose.

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 9, 1881.

[Entered at the Post-Office at Portsmouth, N.H. as second-class matter.]

Election Day.

Elections were held on Tuesday in twelve of the states of the Union. Governors were chosen in Massachusetts, Minnesota, Mississsippi, Virginia and Wisconsin. Other state officers were chosen in Maryland, Nebraska, New York and Pennsylvania. Four vacancies in the forty-seventh Congress were filled in New York; and in Maryland, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Virginia and Wisconsin, constitutional amendments were voted upon. In Colorado county officers were elected, and the question of the permanent location of the state capitol was voted upon. Members of the legislature were elected in Connecticut, Maryland, Massachusetts, Mississippi, New Jersey, New York, Virginia and Wisconsin.

The interest—what there was, which did not appear to be great outside the states in which the elections were held,—centered in New York, Pennsylvania and Virginia, the latter monopolizing the lion's share of attention.

In New York, the democratic state committee claimed the probable election of their state ticket by from 12,000 to 20,000 majority—not a very large margin in a state that throws over a million votes.

The chairman of the democratic state central committee of Pennsylvania claimed that the democrats would carry that state by a plurality of 20,000: also that the democrats would carry forty-two counties, and the republicans but twenty-five. These claims he based on an expected large vote for Wolfe, the bolting republican candidate for state treasurer.

In Virginia the fight has been between the "funders," or Bourbon democrats, and the "readjusters," led by Senator Mahone. Each party claimed the election of their state ticket by 10,000 majority, but it is not likely that both won. The Mahone party made the strongest claims as to carrying the legislature, which will have a United States senator to elect.

National Thanksgiving.

PROCLAMATION BY THE PRESIDENT.

It has long been the pious custom of our people, with the closing of the year, to look back upon the blessings brought to them in the changing course of the seasons, and to return solemn thanks to the all-giving Source from which they flow. And, although, at this period, when the falling leaf admonishes us that the time of our sacred duty is at hand, our nation still lies in the shadow of a great bereavement, and the mourning which has filled our hearts still finds its sorrowful expression toward the God before whom we but lately bowed in grief and supplication, yet the countless benefits which have been showered upon us during the past 12 months call for our fervent gratitude, and make it fitting that we should rejoice with thankfulness that the Lord, in his infinite mercy, has most signally favored our country and our people. Peace without and prosperity within have been vouchsafed to us. No pestilence has visited our shores, the abundant privileges of freedom which our fathers left us in their wisdom are still our increasing heritage, and, if in parts of our vast domain some affliction has visited our brethren in their forest homes, yet even this calamity has been tempered and in a manner sanctified by the generous compassion for the sufferers which has been called forth throughout our land. For all these things it is meet that the voice of the nation should go up to God in devout homage. Wherefore, I, Chester A. Arthur, President of the United States, do recommend that all the people observe Thursday, the 24th day of November instant, as a day of national thanksgiving and prayer, by ceasing, as far as may be, from their secular labors, and meeting in their several places of worship, there to join in ascribing honor and praise to Almighty God, whose goodness has been so manifest in our history and in our lives, and offering earnest prayers that his bounties may continue to us and to our children.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed. Done at the city of Washington, this 4th day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and eighty-one, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and sixth. By the President:

CHESTER A. ARTHUR.

JAMES G. BLAINE, Secretary of State.

News and Notes.

At Camden, N. J., Nov. 7th, Hon. H. L. Bonsall, ex-member of the legislature, and B. L. Bonsall, his son, the publisher and editors of the Post of that city, were assaulted in the street by Charles S. Ridgeway, ex-chairman of the county democratic executive committee. The assault gew out of an article published in the Post.

Despatches from Tucson, Arizona territory, say: "Information has just been received of a fight between hostile Apaches under Chiefs Vay and Dravo, and United States cavalry, in Apache county, in which four bucks were killed and three women and children captured. The Apaches were scattered by the engagement, and are making toward San Carlos agency."

The trial of Mason, the soldier who shot at Guiteau, has been delayed to allow a full examination into his sanity. The military authorities believe him insane.

Martin Goldworthy, in jail at Paris, Logan county, Ark., for murder, escaped on the 6th inst. by leaving his mother in the cell; and wearing a portion of her clothing to disguise him as he passed out.

A commendable movement is on foot to establish in Boston a public coffee house, with all the attractions of a drinking saloon with none of the temptations. The committee in charge of the matter includes Hon. John D. Long, Robert T. Paine, and several of the most prominent clergymen of the city. Such coffee houses are a great success in London.

The Toronto News says it has been left to a Canadian to interpret the Hittite inscriptions which European scholars found unsolvable. Rev. Prof. Campbell of Montreal has discovered that the Hittite and Aztec alphabets are identical, and by applying the latter to the former he has been enabled to read inscriptions belonging to the ninth century before Christ. A mine of historical knowledge is thus opened up, and the study of Aztec questions will shed much light on Old World problems.

Eli W. Roe, the Eliot man who was summoned to Biddeford some days ago to answer to a charge of cruelty to a mare, the said cruelty consisting in tying a cord to the animal's tongue and pulling it out, in order to make her draw, was fined $5 and costs by a justice in Biddeford. Mr. Abijah Tarbox, the Biddeford agent of the Maine anti-cruelty society, visited Eliot to investigate the case, and found Roe's cattle well fed and well kept, and the horse in question fat and sleek. Mr. Roe said the horse was balky, and acknowledged that, at the suggestion of a friend, he did tie a cord around her tongue, hoping to start her in that way, but said she suddenly pulled back, and about an inch and a half of the end of the tongue was cut off.

Mr. Samuel Dixon of Eliot is shipping large quantities of apples from the Eastern railroad station in that town, receiving them from the neighboring districts. The price paid for No. 1's is $2.50 per barrel.

The Ventilating Waterproof shoe company of Kennebunk, with a capacity for forty to sixty cases per day, is now running about 125 hands, reports business rapidly increasing, and will soon be in full operation, with about 400 hands.

Sunday last the wife of Mr. Mark F. Hutchins of Cape Neddick surprised her husband and every one else by presenting her husband with three boys. One was still born, but the other two are alive and have as fair a prospect of becoming president as Chester A. Arthur had, at their age. Mrs. Hutchins is doing well. She was Miss Luella Fitzgerald before her marriage with Mr. Hutchins. Two brothers, George and Albert, boast of twins, but Mark alone has had the courage to risk triplets.—Biddeford Journal.

Cannibal Feasts in Fiji.

Prior to the great change in Fiji caused by Christianity, a feast would have been held of small account which was not graced by abundant human flesh; and if perchance there was no war on hand to provide this delicacy, there was rarely much difficulty in finding victims; a defenceless troop of women from some neighboring village, or a canoe driven ashore by stress of weather, or, failing these, a few insignificant serfs or wives who had lost favor with their lords, supplied the place of home-farm produce. Several peculiarities were observed concerning the bokula, or human flesh. It was considered indigestible unless eaten with certain herbs, which were purposely grown in every village. Moreover, it was the only meat which was preferred rather high, and which must not be handled, from a belief that it would produce skin disease. Therefore it was invariably eaten with a peculiar round wooden fork with four long prongs. Some of the most noted cannibals, who gloried in the multitude of men whom they had eaten, actually kept a record of their number by erecting lines of stones. One of these registers numbers 872! and the Christian son of this ogre declares that his father ate them all himself, allowing no one to share with him. Another member of the same family had registered forty-eight, when his becoming a Christian had put a stop to the amusement, and compelled him to be satisfied with commonplace beef. In fact, one of the excuses urged by Thakombau for so long adhering to cannibalism was that he and his people had no other substitute for English bullamacow. It is, however, twenty years since he abjured the vile custom and accepted Christianity; but many of the islanders kept it up till quite recently.—Good Words.

MEMORIAL RESOLUTIONS.

At a meeting of the sheriff and deputy sheriffs of Rockingham county, held in Scabrook, the following resolutions were passed in memory of the late John N. Brown, who for twenty years was one of the deputy sheriffs of this county.

Whereas, It has pleased the all-wise Ruler of the universe, to remove by death our esteemed brother, John Newell Brown,

Resolved, That while we deplore our loss, we bow our submission to the will of Him "Who doeth all things well;"

Resolved, That in our sorrow for his loss we remember with just pride the many virtues of our deceased friend, his strict integrity, faithful performance of official duties, kindly sympathy and warm-hearted affection for his brother officers, and that we will strive to emulate his virtues and follow his example;

Resolved, That we tender to the bereaved wife and relatives our heartfelt sympathy in this their great affliction; that these resolutions be forwarded to them, as a token of our regard for the memory of their loved and lost one, and that a copy be furnished for publication.

FELLOWS' Compound Syrup of HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

A REALLY RELIABLE REMEDY FOR WASTING AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

After numerous experiments Mr. Fellows succeeded in producing this combination of Hypophosphites, which has not only restored him to health, but has since been found so successful in the treatment of disease originating from loss of nerve power, and consequently muscular relaxation, viz:

Aphonia (loss of voice), Anæmia, Chronic Diarrhœa, Dyspepsia, Fever and Ague, Leucorrhœa, Malaria, Neuralgia, Nervous debility, Whooping Cough, Congestion of the Lungs, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Mental Depression, Nervousness.

MALARIA.

Persons living in Malarious districts may protect themselves from attacks of fever by the use of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites. Its effects in toning up the system enables us to ward off contagious disorders, and successfully combat disease.

The soluble phosphites and the other life-sustaining principles composing Fellows' Hypophosphites are so carefully proportioned and so judiciously mingled, that their action upon the nerves, muscles and membranes in imparting vitality, strength and healthy action is generally apparent within twenty four hours, and the good effects experienced are of a permanent character.

SUPREME COURT.

TUESDAY, Nov. 8th; Smith, J.

In case of State against four young boys, indicted for breaking and entering the store of James R. Yeaton and stealing therefrom, the court stated that in these cases they had sought to know under what home influences these boys lived. In two cases the court has been induced to suspend the sentence, and perhaps it will never be imposed, if efforts to induce these boys to reform are successful. In case of Hehir and Walling, a different state of affairs appears, and the court thought a short sentence would not be salutary. That consideration has weighed with the court in ordering sentence, in the belief that if their conduct at the school should be exemplary the trustees could have them sent home after a proper season of discipline. Wm. Walling and Wm. Hehir were then sentenced to the state prison for two years, with the alternative of going to the Industrial school at Manchester during their minority. The boys will be sent to the latter institution.

Case Rowell and al. vs. Chase occupied the forenoon. The jury found for the plaintiff, assessing damages at $175.74.

Case John C. Lewis and Priscilla Lewis vs. the Eastern Railroad Co. was next in order; action to recover damages by reason of a horse being frightened by blowing off of steam from a locomotive standing near the Vaughan street crossing in Portsmouth, and becoming unmanageable, throwing Mrs. Lewis out of the carriage in which she was riding, in September, 1879. This case was tried last October, and a verdict was returned for the plffs., which was set aside at the law term in December and a new trial ordered. The counsel spent most of the afternoon in attempting a settlement, which was effected at a late hour, the plaintiffs accepting a sum considerably less than was the amount of the original verdict. There were two suits, and it is understood that they are to be entered judgment by agreement for the plaintiff for $100 in one case, and $724 in the other. The verdict rendered in October, 1880, gave plaintiffs $1000 and costs. Harriman and Marston for plff.; John Hatch and Frink for railroad.

The court adjourned to Thursday at nine o'clock A. M.

No. 91, Silas McIntire vs. Geo. W. Anderson and Thos. G. Gile, is assigned for trial on Thursday morning.

AROUND HOME.

Miss Rose Eytinge, the eminent emotional actress, will make her first appearance in this city at Music hall tomorrow evening, in her great character of Mme. Dumont, in "Felicia."

Thanksgiving day is coming, and is considerably nearer than the 4th of July, or even than Christmas. Messrs. Butler & Laighton, of No. 1 Market square, in another column invite attention to their extensive stock of first-class goods suitable for the season. They have won a reputation for dealing in only the best articles, and selling at as reasonable prices as such articles can be sold and enable the dealers to make a fair profit; and their stock is extensive, varied, and constantly replenished. Give them a call.

The farmers in Greenland and Stratham are holding their apples at $3 per barrel for No. 1 fruit. On the Young farm, in Stratham, about 800 barrels were gathered this season, a large part of them being of the first quality.

"Tell-tales," the devices for warning employes upon freight trains of the approach to covered bridges, are being put up along the line of the Concord & Portsmouth railroad.

Among the improvements on Islington street is the beautiful color of a new coat of paint upon the house of F. G. Moses at No. 44, which seems the handsomest of the "æsthetic" colors yet introduced.

The deep well near the Eastern railroad station has been definitely abandoned by the company, as a well; the pump-house was removed on Monday, and the opening of the well planked over and covered with gravel. It is reported that the brick-work of the well is to be brought nearer the surface, and capped with stone, so that the well can be utilized for fire department purposes when needed; and no doubt this report is correct. After the well is capped its value as a reservoir could be easily tested, and without inconveniences to the public or the patrons of the railroad, by letting one of the city fire engines pump from it for a few hours some night, after the last passenger train had passed.

A large quantity of wool, with a very small kittten concealed inside, came into our office on Tuesday. The owner is requested not to call for the same, as we want to keep pussy for a pet.

The last chance to visit the "Old Mechanics's Fair" in Boston at a cheap rate—or indeed at any rate, for it closes this week—will be offered on Friday, when tickets to Boston and back over the Eastern railroad will be sold at the stations in this city, Greenland and North Hampton, at $1.50 each, good to go to Boston by any regular train on that day only, and to return by any regular train that day or Saturday.

Gen. B. F. Butler is reported as intending to endeavor to induce Congress to make an appropriation to pay navy yard employes for the time made in excess of eight hours a day for the last four and a half years. There are thousands of these employes, and as they have been working more than eight hours a day, while the law explicitly fixes a day's work at eight hours, their claim is a just one. Whether the law is a proper one or not, need not be considered; it is the law, and until it is repealed should not be openly disregarded as it has been by every secretary of the navy for years.

Gray squirrels are reported as being more numerous in the neighboring towns this fall than for many years past.

The roads in the surrounding towns are in a shockingly muddy condition.

We have not seen a citron melon in this market this season, and don't know as one has been seen by anybody.

The schooner J. P. Ames, Cookson master, formerly owned at this port, was attached a few days ago at Mattapoissett, Mass., and a keeper put on board. On Monday, the 7th inst., at about six o'clock in the morning, the keeper went up town to get breakfast, when sail was made, the lines cast off, and the schooner scooted out of the harbor. The steam tug Nellie was engaged by the officer, went in search of the schooner, and towed her back into the harbor.

Brethren: There will be a revival meeting held at Bow Mission hall this (Wednesday) evening, at 7:30 o'clock; come one, come all, and "Whosoever will may come." "Verily, verily, I say unto you, the hour is coming and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God; and they that shall hear shall live." St. John V, 25. * *

There are by actual count, at the present time, five hundred and ten hotels, stores and dwelling houses at Old Orchard beach, this count including the Free Baptist camp ground, and taking in the cottages as well as saloons, boarding houses and large hotels, leaving out all those who dwell in tents. All these buildings have been erected within nine years.—Kennebunk Star.

As Thousands do Testify.

So does Thomas Roberts, Wholesale Grocer, Philadelphia, who says: "Burnett's Cocoaine allays all irritation of the scalp, and will most effectually remove dandruff and prevent the hair from falling out."

Burnett's Flavoring Extracts.—The superiority of these extracts consists in their perfect purity and great strength. They are warranted free from the poisonous oils and acids which enter into the composition of many factitious fruit flavors.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle. m,w & s & g n82

DIRECTIONS.
For Catarrh, Hay Fever Cold in the Head, etc., insert with little finger a particle of the Balm into the nostrils; draw strong breaths through the nose. It will be a heavenly cleansing and healing the diseased membrane.
FOR DEAFNESS. Apply a particle into the ear.

ELYS' CREAM BALM
Having gained an enviable local reputation, displacing all other preparations in the vicinity of discovery, is on its merits alone, recognized as a wonderful remedy. A fair trial will convince the most skeptical of its curative powers. It effectually cleanses the nasal passages of Catarrhal virus, causing healthy secretions, allays inflammation and irritation, protects the membranal linings of the head from additional colds, completely heals the sores and restores the sense of taste and smell. Beneficial results are realized by a few applications. A thorough treatment as directed will cure Catarrh. As a household remedy for cold in the head and snuffles it is unequalled. The Balm is easy to use and agreeable. Sold by all druggists at 50 cts. Or receipt of 50 cts. will mail a package. Send for circular with full information.

"A Home Idyl, and other poems;" by John T. Trowbridge, author of "The Vagabond, and other poems." Boston; Houghton, Mifflin & Co.

Mr. Trowbridge's poem of the Vagabond has given him a wide repute. In this collection is one headed "Pleasant street"—

"In Pleasant street,
As the letters read
On the guide-board at the crossing,
Over the street
The branches meet,
Gently swaying and tossing."

We have the oldest-named Pleasant street in the country, and this description is not inapt for our city. Another poem is upon the "Old Man of the Mountain," who at last accounts was "breaking up," despite the poetical prediction of his permanence. We incline to regard "The Old Lobsterman" who tends his pots off Cape Arundel, Kennebunkport, as one of the most natural portrayals of the man and his surroundings that could be produced. We see his boat bobbing up and down in the early morn, and all is true to life save the "ships which go up to the town;" they go from, not to the port, and will not sail up the Mousam since the decline in shipping, even under a poetic license.

Sold at Myers' book-store—and his customers from York county cannot do better than to purchase a copy.

"The Whittier Birthday Book," arranged by Elizabeth S. Owen. Boston; Houghton, Mifflin & Co. With a fine steel portrait of the Quaker poet.

This attactive volume is prepared after the manner of the Longfellow Birthday Book, which had such an extensive sale. The compiler tells us that her aim has been to use the material in such a way as shall meet the poet's approval. The selections have been made with much care, and the little book will be the appropriate holiday present which many will select. Sold by W. G. Myers.

"Warlock o' Glenwarlock; a romance, by George MacDonald;" illustrated; 714 pages. Boston; D. Lothrop & Co.; price $1.75.

Of "books that are books" in the line of fiction which see the light the present season, George MacDonald's new volume, Warlock o' Glenwarlock, claims prominent place. It is the latest and ripest work from the author's pen, strong in purpose, and rich in its varying touches of pathos and humor. No living writer wields so true a pen in writing of Scotch life, or has a keener knowledge of the Scottish people, their peculiarities, prejudices and ways. True to his instincts, Mr. MacDonald has in all his stories dealt with the people among whom he was born and bred, and to whom, by race and sympathy, he belongs. His books have become standards, and next to the novels of Scott, may be considered as more truly representative of Scottish character than any other yet written. In Warlock o' Glenwarlock he traces the fortunes of a young Scotch lad—describes his struggles with the world to gain bread and position, and his final victory.

—President Arthur weighs 215 pounds, and David Davis, 313; total, 530. The government is now on a solid foundation.

They are Liable!

The doctors are all liable to be mistaken, they were in my case. It cost me $200.00, because they said I had heart disease, and then told me I must die. Grandmother said it was liver complaint, and $2.00 worth of Sulphur Bitters cured me.—Jennie P——, Rockport.

—Mr. Halton, now first assistant postmaster general, is a self-made man, having worked up from printer's devil to owner of the Burlington Hawkeye.

During life, to be happy, we must be healthy and protect ourselves from coughs and colds. They are the halters that lead to untimely graves. Adamson's Botanic Balsam cures every time. Price, 35 and 75 cts. Trial size, 10 cts.

—Miss Edith Airlie, of Southbridge, Mass., was a passenger on the Allan steamship Prussian last summer, and Capt. J. G. Stephen, commander of she ship, concluded to make a longer voyage in her company. They were married in Southbridge on Thursday, and will hereafter live in Glasgow.

The Results of Necessity.

What the ancients suffered for the want of knowledge in medical science, can only be appreciated by contrasting the vast amount of suffering cured and pain alleviated in modern times, by the use of Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases. Its introduction was characterized by the necessary withdrawal of a score or more of illusive, quack nostrums, whose evil effects have left living monuments to denounce them. Thus is exemplified the proverb, necessity is the mother of invention.

SWAYNES OINTMENT
AN UNFAILING REMEDY FOR ALL SKIN DISEASES SUCH AS TETTER, ITCH, SORES, PIMPLES, ERYSIPELAS, RING WORM, BLOTCHES, &C.
THE GREAT CURE FOR ITCHING PILES

As a cleanest, economical and positive cure, SWAYNE'S OINTMENT is superior to any article in the market. Sold by druggists, or send 50 cts. in 3-ct. Stamps, 3 oxes, $1.25. Address, DR. SWAYNE & SON, Phila. Pa

Rheumatism
Neuralgia, Sprains,
Pain in the Back and Side.
There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.
This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.
Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, it never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.
The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:
Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says: About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our recent use to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.
Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London: I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave me my case in despair. Tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.
G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes: I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.
E. York says: I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.
Barton Seaman says: Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never-failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.
Mr. Burditt writes: Never failed to give relief in cases of rheumatism.
Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes: From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.
All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

Back Ache
POSITIVELY CURED BY
Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.
Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:
First.
Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts with increased rubefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.
Second.
Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession.
Third.
Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.
Fourth.
Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.
Fifth.
Because over 5000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.
Sixth.
Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

An Only Daughter Cured of Consumption.
When death was hourly expected, all remedies having failed, and Dr. H. James was experimenting with the many herbs of Calcutta, he accidentally made a preparation which cured his only child of Consumption. His child is now in this country and enjoying the best of health. He has proved to the world consumption can be positively and permanently cured. The doctor now gives this recipe free, only asking two three-cent stamps to pay expenses. This herb also cures Night Sweats, Nausea at the Stomach, and will break a fresh cold in twenty-four hours. Address Craddock & Co., 1038 Race Street, Philadelphia, naming this paper.

Fairbank's Rock Cordials are destined to become the popular cordials of the day. One trial will convince the most skeptical of their medicinal qualities. The Rock and Rye is already a household word. The best physicians recommend it. All leading druggists sell it. If you have trouble with your throat or lungs it will cure it. See that you get a bottle—the style is shown in the cut—with our name in full on the label.

THE
New Hampshire Gazette!
Established 1756.
The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.
It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.
—THE—
NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE
Contains more original matter
Than any other paper of its size in the State, the editors working more with their pens than with their scissors.

TO ADVERTISERS
THE N. H. GAZETTE
Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

The Proposed New Navy.

The naval advisory board, which has been in consultation over the subject of reorganizing the navy, has submitted its report to the secretary of the navy. The board found that we have only twenty-one ships of war which are either now efficient or worth repairing. In regard to the need of new ships, the board takes the position that in order to put the navy of the United States upon a proper footing, it is necessary to build at once forty-one ships of various classes, as follows:

Two vessels of 5,300 tons displacement each, which shall be able to steam fifteen knots at sea; six vessels of 4,200 tons displacement, able to steam fourteen knots; thirteen vessels of 3,500 tons, capable of thirteen knots; and twenty gunboats capable of making ten knots, each of 770 tons.

The material recommended for the gunboats is wood. For all the rest the board decides upon a steel keel, covered with wood and sheathed with copper. The idea is to have a navy of swift cruisers, it being thought best to defer for the present the building of ironclads. The construction of this latter class has been so rapidly changing of late that the decision in regard to this class of naval vessels may well be delayed until the navy is provided with ships of a class more needed for ordinary service.

All of the ships the construction of which the board recommends, are to be of a little heavier tonnage, and stronger, than the corresponding class of vessels in any other navy. Their rate of speed is also to be a little faster, and they will all carry guns somewhat heavier than those now used on ships of corresponding grades in the best foreign navies. These ships are all to be fitted for full sailing power, and all will carry coal for full steaming.

It is estimated by the board that the time of constructing this new navy, including the repair and refitting of such as are worth of it those now on hand, will be eight years. The cost is estimated at $51,000,000, and the navy would then consist of sixty-two vessels of all classes.

A minority report was submitted in regard to the six fourteen-knot vessels, recommending that they be constructed with one deck, or without a spar deck. In other matters the board agreed. The report of the board will be submitted to Congress by the secretary of the navy.

Renew your Lease.

There are times in every one's life when energy fails and a miserable feeling comes over them, mistaken for laziness. Danger lurks in these symptoms, as they arise from diseased organs. Parker's Ginger Tonic will restore perfect activity to the stomach, liver and kidneys, purify the blood, and renew your lease of health and comfort.—Advocate.

The Dangers of the Stock Market.

A man may be incredulous enough to risk his money in the fickle mysteries of a mercurial stock market, but when he gets the itching piles, he goes straight for Dr. Swayne's Ointment. Unlike the bulls and bears of the stock exchange, who clean you out of hard earned cash, it returns your money with interest, in the way of allaying the intense itching, and insuring sweet repose.

GREATER FORTUNES HAVE BEEN MADE AND MADE QUICKER IN MINES AND MINING STOCK THAN IN ANY OTHER BUSINESS KNOWN.

MINING AS A BUSINESS.

Mining has been regarded generally by a majority of people as something to be added to another business, a venture to be invested in to take care of itself, or be left to the management of others. The results of mining under the circumstances, and with the means and measures used, are certainly marvelous, and they also indicate what may be accomplished when the best means are secured and put into use. A business that has been but half adopted, and half attended to, which can make the showing that the mining industry of this day can do, in the way of substantial wealth and real value, certainly is worthy of the attention of a good class of practical, energetic men, backed by skill and capital. Mining not only builds and peoples the waste and desert places and adds a real, enduring, indestructible stream of real wealth to the treasury of the nation, but also quickens and vitalizes the forces and powers, and strengthens the foundations of every other business enterprise of the country. Capital is the nation's right arm of power, and bulwark of strength and security in the time of war or peace, and mining furnishes this most directly and most rapidly. This producing force is strengthened by its own growth and development. Let a double yield be gathered from the grain fields of the country and prices fall, but let our mines throw a double portion of their product into the arteries of trade, and values increase in every department of business activity. Mining, true and legitimate, is the creation of enduring wealth, and its success, when developed as a business, will touch and quicken with its vitalizing force the sluggish pulse of every human activity to the remotest bounds of civilization. Where a party of gentlemen possesses themselves of a meritorious mine, employs skilled labor, manages the affairs of the company honestly and economically, as they ought and naturally would a mercantile or banking house, there is no avenue now open for the investment of money where it will be safer, the returns larger, more enduring and permanent, than in mining. Granted there are failures in mining. So there are in banking, merchandizing, and in every other trade, profession or calling, to which men direct their attention and invest their money for gain;—but start right and keep right under the guidance of experienced, level headed honest-hearted, business men, and mining takes a front rank among the best enterprises in which men invest their ability, energy and capital. A glance at a list of dividend-paying mines in the United States, showing the amounts paid to stockholders, will afford the inquirer an approximate idea of the enormous sums of money that have been divided among mine owners, reaching far up into the millions.

Mining is no longer regarded as a speculative element, but as one of the important industries and interests of the country, in which the most cautious and discreet business men of the day place their money for permanent investment. And the large amount of business now being done in mining stocks is an additional evidence of the hold it has on public confidence and men with ready money at command, and the large and regular dividends received is the best proof possible of the wisdom of such investments.

The district this year will give an output of $3,000,000 from half a dozen mines, and $6,000,000 is confidently expected next year from sources already opened.

The Robinson Mine, located at the base of Sheep Mountain, alone is contributing about 700 tons of ore weekly. The editor of the Leadville Mining Index recently visited the mine, and says: "We inspected the sparkling stopes of ore recently opened in the sixth and seventh levels. Breasts of ore, ranging from ten to twenty-five feet in height, and a hundred feet in length each, are disclosed to view, shining like piles of bright silver dollars, into which it must surely soon be converted. The eighth, or lowest level, shows the ore body to be in its full strength yet, and it is doubtful if one-half of the entire resources of the Robinson have been opened by the present exploration and development work, which already shows thousands of tons of ore of high grade."

The stock of the Robinson Mine is now selling at $14.00 per share, and many of the most conservative mining men in the country think it is soon to reach $25.00. The "Robinson" is unquestionably the biggest mine in Colorado to-day.

Another mine has forced itself into prominence within a few weeks, that of the Champion, located in Ten Mile Gulch, below the Robinson. The ore from the new strike in this mine shows wire and ruby silver in great abundance. The character of the mineral is quartz, with galena, the ruby usually being found in the sulphide of lead, and the wire silver in the siliceous portion of the ore. This ore is altogether unlike that of the Robinson. With such mines as these, is it any wonder that claims on Sheep Mountain are eagerly sought after and held in esteem? Those in close proximity to the two already mentioned are considered the most valuable, and those immediately in the 'trend' of the Robinson particularly so. This is the case with the Boston & Sheep Mountain Company's property, which consists of eight claims, namely: the Congo, Hitchcock, Guadalope, Zollars, Little Pearl, Little Maude, Snow-Drift, and Snow-Flake—immediately adjoining the Robinson. The great vein runs directly through the property. To reach it, a shaft has been sunk on the lower end of the Zollars, and development is being rapidly prosecuted—three shafts being employed, and working day and night, under the able management of Superintendent Gowenlock, who has staked his reputation as a mining engineer on the success of the undertaking, and the ultimate 'strike' of the bonanza lode.

"New hoisting machinery has been erected, and the latest reports from the mine confirm the statement that everything is in excellent shape and work progressing satisfactorily.

To set forth more clearly the great value of the property belonging to the Boston & Sheep Mountain Mining Co., we quote from the following papers:

The Boston Daily Advertiser of Oct. 11th says:

"Messrs. Goff, Hastings & Co., 131 Devonshire st., are to be congratulated upon their success in placing the Boston and Sheep Mountain stock upon the market. The treasury stock was placed by them at 75 cents per share, and they feel confident it will soon advance two or three times this price, which is certainly not an unreasonable supposition if the Boston and Sheep Mountain claims are a continuation of the Robinson ore chute."

The Leadville Democrat of Oct. 2d says:

"B. F. Stickley, managing director of the Boston and Sheep Mountain Mining Company, was up at the works in Ten Mile yesterday paying off the men, and returned last evening. The Goff shaft is now down to a depth of ninety-five feet, and work is progressing rapidly. They gain as a rule about a foot to the shift. This property is the immediate extension of the famed Robinson, and the Company expect to strike 'big' in the near future. It is a business combination, and business moves on in a business-like way."

The Boston Daily Advertiser of Oct. 14th says:

"The property of the Boston Sheep

Mountain Company adjoins the famous Robinson Consolidated Mine, the recent discoveries have attracted such general attention among mining men throughout the country. Its officers are men well-known in the East; Its management thus far has been in every way a prudent and able one, and its future is one of assured excellent returns. That an immense strike is near at hand is evidenced by every indication as the development progresses."

The Boston Commercial Bulletin of Oct. 15th says:

"Among the host of new mining investments now upon the Boston market, that of the Boston & Sheep Mountain Mining Company at 'Ten Mile,' promises well. It is being vigorously worked, and is without doubt, a continuation of the celebrated Robinson Mine, which has paid so richly, and soon hopes to share the honors with the Robinson. It is under able and responsible management and the offer for investment is a flattering one."

The Boston Daily Star of Oct. 15th says:

"The reports from the Boston and Sheep Mountain Mining Co. are very flattering. The development of work of the mines is being pushed night and day, with every prospect of soon striking the extension of the rich ore bodies now being worked in the 'Smuggler' and 'Checkmate' claims of the famous 'Robinson Consolidated.' The indications are that the Boston and Sheep Mountain Mining Co. will return to its stockholders handsome returns upon the money invested. Certainly, if enterprise, pluck and judicious expenditure of money will accomplish this object, it is certain to become a fact."

Regarding the Enormous Value of the Robinson Mine, the Leadville Mining Index of Oct. 8th says:

"The Robinson Mining Company, on last Saturday, Oct. 1st, declared its regular monthly dividend of 20 cents per share, and also the customary extra dividend of an equal amount, aggregating $100,000. We should not be surprised to hear of a 75-cent or $1 dividend next month, as the mine is earning immense profits."

The Boston Journal of Oct. 14th says:

"The Boston and Sheep Mountain Mining Company, capital $2,000,000, with 200,000 shares at $10, is full paid and non-assessable. This mine is located immediately adjoining the famous Robinson Consolidated Mines and partly on same ore chute. Work is being pushed night and day with expectations of soon striking extensions of the very rich ore bodies of the 'Smuggler' and 'Checkmate' claims of the Robinson Consolidated. The officers and directors are among the prominent Boston and Colorado business men, and the investment seems to be one worthy of consideration."

The Robinson (Col) Tribune says:

"This property is being developed by three eight-hour shifts, and the work is concentrated on the Goff Shaft, directly on the trend of the Robinson ore chute, and not to exceed 45 feet from the Smuggler end line. The superintendent of this company has a reputation second to none in the district as a practical and conservative manager, and we accord with his judgment in locating his present workings. The prospective value of the property is beyond cavil, the discovery of ore being one of those assured propositions in mining that depth will demonstrate."

The Boston and Sheep Mountain Mining Co. owns eight full claims immediately adjoining the famous Robinson Consolidated Mines, a large portion being located on the same ore chute.

The development work of this property is being pushed night and day with the expectation of soon striking the extensions of the immensely rich ore bodies now being worked in the "Smuggler" and the "Checkmate" claims of the Robinson Consolidated.

In order to purchase heavier hoisting Machinery, new Engines and Boilers, with a raising capacity of forty or fifty tons per day, the Company will dispose of 20,000 shares of its Treasury Stock at 10 per cent of its par value, i. e., $10 Shares at $1 per Share, and there is no reason why this stock in the course of a year should not be selling at par. The Robinson Mine is developing into the largest producing Silver Mine in the world, and is daily growing richer in the extent of its ore bodies, which are now running straight into the claims owned by the Boston and Sheep Mountain Mining Company, which makes the stock, at present prices, the best speculative stock on the market. An investment, with such excellent chances of large appreciation in value, is seldom offered here. The way to make money in Mining Stocks is to buy Treasury Stock at bed rock price—such as the Boston and Sheep Mountain Mining Company are now offering. Our readers should investigate this enterprise at once, and address their orders to Messrs. GOFF, HASTINGS & CO., Bankers and Brokers, 131 Devonshire street, Boston.

Regarding an interview with a party of gentlemen recently from Colorado, the Boston Daily Star, of the 24 inst., says:

A party of gentlemen, largely interested in Colorado mines, have just returned from the West, where they have been on a tour of inspection. Learning that they visited the Ten Mile District, our reporter called upon them for any information which would be of interest to the readers of the Star. He was informed that the main object of their visit to "Ten Mile" was to examine the famous Robinson Mine, in which they owned considerable stock. After this was completed they made a general tour of inspection of Sheep Mountain, finding many of the mines in good condition, well worked with night and day shifts, and with splendid prospects of large bodies of mineral. The richest mineral which these gentlemen found, came from the new "Champion Tunnel" which was commenced about a year ago, down low in Ten Mile Gulch, and run directly under, or through the Robinson claims, striking the side lines of the "Ten Mile," "Checkmate" and "Smuggler," at a point a little above the end lines of these claims, i. e., the end lines extending into the property owned by the Boston and Sheep Mountain Mining Company. The ore in this mine is different from the Robinson ore. It is a combination of ruby and wire silver, and is found in great abundance, the ore is considered far richer than anything found in Summit county.

The claims owned by the Boston and Sheep Mountain Company, and located—eight in number—adjoining the Robinson claims—i. e., that portion which is in pay mineral, viz.: The "Smuggler" and "Checkmate." All the ore extracted from the Robinson claims, have come from these two claims.

There is no question in the minds of miners on Sheep Mountain, but that the Boston and Sheep Mountain claims are located over the same bodies of ore found in the Smuggler and Checkmate.

Many other claims are being worked in this vicinity, and all look well. Farther up the mountain the "Wheel of Fortune" was visited and is considered a good mine. Several adjoining claims are looking well, and taking out good mineral. While there a strike was made in the "Minnie" which was considered a rich find, and created considerable excitement among mining men."

As a whole, the Ten Mile Consolidated Mining District is rapidly taking rank as one of the richest mining camps in Colorado.

The Elections.

In the elections of the 8th inst., according to the despatches up to the evening of the 9th, the republicans carried Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Minnesota, Connecticut, New Jersey, Nebraska and Colorado. The plurality in Massachusetts, for governor, is over 42,000; and Boston was carried by the republicans, by 2000 majority. The readjusters probably carried Virginia. Mississippi and Maryland went democratic, and the democrats elected their state ticket in New York, the legislature being in doubt. Wisconsin is also in doubt. In Brooklyn, N. Y., the corrupt McLaughlin ring was defeated, Seth Low, the republican candidate, defeating McLaughlin's man James Howell by 4500.

News and Notes.

Raphael Semmes, of "Alabama" fame, was married a few days since to Miss Marion Adams of Louisville, Ky.

The counsel of the former Newton (Mass.) national bank has received from the government $260,000, and the government confesses its indebtedness for $111,000 more, which will probably be provided for at the next session of Congress. This is the sequel of the Boston sub-treasury defalcation of 1867, when Julius F. Hartwell, then cashier of the sub-treasury, and Edward Carter, a young broker and also a director in the Newton bank, "borrowed" the funds and securities of the bank in order to aid in covering up a steal of over a million of dollars by Hartwell from the sub-treasury, the result being the ruin of the bank, which was wound up and paid a trifling dividend. After seven years of letigation, the courts last January decided that the $371,000 belonged to the bank and not to the government.

Austin, Texas, on the 7th inst., elected A. Taylor, republican, as mayor of the city, by 150 majority over the democratic candidate.

On Monday night, the 7th inst., a Chinese missionary student at Marietta college, Ohio, named Ah Kim, committed suicide because a servant girl with whom he was in love refused his suit.

John Shea and Frank Fone escaped from jail at St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 7th, and that night were discovered committing a burglary. They were discovered by the police, when one of them shot Policeman Doran dead. They were subsequently captured.

A three-story brick tenement on Grand street, New York, fell in ruins on the 9th inst., without any warning to the inmates. Two women, a boy and a girl were taken out dead in a few hours, and one or two others fatally wounded. More bodies were supposed to be under the wreck.

The Biddeford Times man says: "We are improving in morals." Glad to hear it, brother; keep on—keep on!

Kennebunk and Boston parties have purchased the Theodore Cole farm in Wells, a little northeast of the site of the former Island Ledge house, and propose to open it up for seaside building lots, and to themselves erect thereon a number of cottages. It is said the Boston & Maine railroad will build a spur track from their main line down to Wells beach, so as to reach this new purchase.

The schooner Edward H. Furber of Boston was on Wednesday of this week lying at one of the wharves near the Spring market, loading with apples for Baltimore, shipped by C. Hiram Hayes of this city and Samuel Dixon of Eliot, Me. The apples shipped by Mr. Hayes arrive by rail from the interior of the state, while Mr. Dixon's are brought into the city by ox-teams. The schooner is reported to receive fifteen cents per barrel as freight.

The small pussy-cat with the large coat of wool, which came into our office on Tuesday evening of this week, and which we wanted to keep for a pet, did not remain long in our possession. Thinking that possibly pussy might be hungry, we sent a messenger to Marden's eating house after beef; the proprietor of that establishment had just lost a "concat" sent him the day before from Belfast, Me., and thinking that for anybody to first hook his cat and then send to him for beef to feed her with was too, too utterly much, he came in and bagged off our new pet. At first we thought of having a physical argument over the ownership of the kitten, but on reflecting that while we only weigh 200 our visitor tips the scales at 250, we concluded not to make any fuss, and quietly submitted to the inevitable.

On Tuesday afternoon of this week the residents at the north end of Market street were considerably amused by a dispute between two men—a big man and a little one—who occupied a team bound over the bridge, and supposed to be from York or Wells, as a large clam-box filled the kinder part of the wagon. The bystanders made out that the horse belonged to the little man, while the wagon and harness were the property of the big man; and when near the railroad crossing the little man jumped out, unharnessed the horse, leaving the wagon, harness, and the big man in the street, and proceeded to tow the animal home by the forelock, the old horse going along as quietly as a tame sheep. But the big man recognized the fact that he could not tow his share of the joint team along so easily, so pursuing his irate chum he overtook him at the toll-gate, made things all right by handing over $1.50, and the horse was towed back to the abandoned wagon, once more harnessed in, and the now reconciled pair drove on their way rejoicing.

Mrs. Hannah E. Seavey's house was on Wednesday of this week moved back to the line of the new street, by the city's workmen. Men were also engaged in digging post holes along the water side of the street, for the erection of a fence to prevent teams from going overboard when the horses become frightened by the engines at the railroad crossing, and run away. If the city had only taken the cess-pool which Mr. Mason filled up, and cut it up into post-holes, considerable expense might have been saved.

The steamer Mystic is to have her pilot house enlarged and improved, and ornamented with a big eagle carved out of wood.

Major F. Melcher, editor of the Charleston (S. C.) Deutsche Zeitung, writes: "One of my pressmen, Mr. J. M. Wheaton, was cured of a severe case of rheumatism by the use of St. Jacobs Oil, after other remedies had failed. He speaks very highly of it, and I think such a preparation is deserving of the highest praise that can be given it."

Commodore Walker, chief of the bureau of navigation, made his first official visit to the Boston navy yard in that capacity on the 8th inst.

AROUND HOME.

At Music hall, this evening, Rose Eytinge and her dramatic company will appear in "Felicia," with Miss Eytinge in the title role. The play, an adaptation from the French, is said to be very strongly constructed, with numerous striking situations, and it had an extended run in New York. Miss Eytinge is one of the most eminent emotional actresses on the American stage, and has hitherto played exclusively in the large cities, having never appeared so far east as this city before. Tickets can be purchased at Preston's.

The schooner Flora Temple, Glenn master, on Tuesday of this week brought in 7,000 lbs. of fish, and the Young Selim, Philbrook master, brought in 6,000 lbs., the fares consisting of cod, haddock, cusk and hake.

Messrs. Howell C. Russell and George Leach left this city at 10:30 o'clock on Tuesday forenoon, the 8th inst., on a smelt-catching trip to Seavey's creek, and returned at night with a bushel and a half of the little fishes, all taken with rods.

The Grayson Opera company, which so delighted our people a few nights ago, play to-night in Bangor, Me., and in Augusta on Saturday. Monday next they play in Lewiston, and on Tuesday return to this city and sing "Patience," the new "æsthetic" opera by Gilbert & Sullivan; after which they will perform in Concord, Keene, Manchester, and the principal towns in Vermont, before returning to Boston to re-appear for a lengthy engagement. They will have a large house here, as they certainly deserve.

Mr. A. Shaw Waldron, of Christian Shore, during the past summer raised on less than half an acre of land forty bushels of potatoes, with asparagus, corn, beans and peas enough for his own use during their season, and beets, turnips and cabbages sufficient for his winter supply. Not bad for barren New England, in an unfavorable season.

The counsel for the owner of tug Clara Batemen has withdrawn the appeal from the recent finding of the jury in the case of Urch vs. Nickerson, Rand and others, for damages to the second Newcastle bridge owing to the collision with it of a schooner in tow, and a check for $501 has been drawn in full settlement of the case.

Mr. Thomas Neil has purchased a cottage at Tamworth Iron Works for a summer residence.

Charles F. Berry and Winthrop Reynolds of Barrington were arrested in this city on Tuesday, the 8th inst., by the marshal and Assistant Marshal Cole, for stealing about two dozen hens from the poultry yard of a Mr. Ham of Dover, on the previous night, and after killing and cleaning the same, bringing them to this city and selling them. The city marshal of Dover took the alleged thieves to that city on Tuesday evening.

The schooner Northern Star was towed out on the 9th inst., on her way to "Lunging" island, Isles of Shoals, to bring in the proceeds of the fall fishing by the gang stationed there. We are informed that the party has met with very fair success, the catch having been quite large.

The schooner Albert Woodbury, Capt. Levi Downs, arrived at this port at noon on the 9th inst., after an absence of six weeks, and will fit at once for winter fishing. She has done well in the few months since she commenced business, having stocked about $6,000, and paid her owners forty per cent. She carries a crew of twelve men, who last month made $75 each; the same crew will go winter fishing in her, with the exception of one or two boys who will remain on shore to attend school. She lost her seine on Saturday night, the 5th inst.; it was picked up by C. H. Kimball of Beverly, Mass., who was paid $40 salvage.

The store of Mr. Henry Leveen, on Market square, is to be extensively remodelled and modernized by Messrs. Littlefield and A. B. Trefethen, work to commence in about three weeks. In the meantime Mr. Leveen will sell off his stock of clothing, cloths and furnishing goods at prices to astonish buyers.

Information was lodged with the police on the 9th inst. of the absence from the marine barracks at the navy yard, for eight or nine days previous, of a marine named Conroy, who was last seen, so far as is known, in this city and in an intoxicated condition. It is not thought that he deserted.

Mr. C. S. Duncan, for some time past engineer of the steamer James Sampson, has given up that position in order to take charge of the boat, in place of Capt. Lowry, who retires. Mr. Charles Swain is to have charge of the steamer's engine.

The gondola Edgar Weston, loaded with coal for Newmarket, was at Sise's wharf on Wednesday.

A buoy painted with red and black horizontal stripes has been placed to mark the location of Fiske rock, Narragansett bay. This buoy is in fifteen feet of water on the North side of Fiske rock, 392 yards northeast by north from the spindle on Halfway rock, and about three-fourths of a mile from the south end of Prudence island. The bearings from this buoy are as follows: North point of Conanicut island, northwest 1-2 west; north end of Dyers island, northeast by east 1-2 east.

A COUGH, COLD OR SORE THROAT should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the throat troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years "Brown's Bronchial Troches" have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. THE SURGEON'S KNIFE.

Mr. Simeon Tietsell, of Singerlies, N. Y., had been treated for seven years by various physicians for what they called Stricture of the Urethra, without benefit. He finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculi or Stones in the Bladder. The doctor at once removed the foreign bodies with the knife and then gave his great Blood Specific, "Favorite Remedy," to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was eminently successful, and Mr. Tietsell's recovery was rapid and perfect.

While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all kidney and bladder diseases, it is equally valuable in cases of billious disorders, constipation of the bowels, and all the class of ills apparently inscrutable from the constitutions of women. Try it. Your druggist has it, and its cost is only dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. The Doctor would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine, "Favorite Remedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to office practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery.

Franklin's Great-Grandson.

Dr. Benjamin Franklin Bache, U. S. N., a great-grandson of Benjamin Franklin, and an officer in the United States navy for nearly sixty years, died at his residence in Brooklyn, N. Y., Nov. 2d, after an illness of two weeks. Dr. Bache was born in Monticello, Virginia, Feb. 7th, 1801, and was in his 81st year at the time of his death.

He was a grandson of Richard Bache, a Philadelphia merchant of high standing, and Sarah Franklin Bache, the only daughter of Benjamin Franklin. His grandfather came to this country from England at an early age, and, espousing the patriot cause in the war of the revolution, gave his heart and soul to the principles advocated by the struggling colonists in the heroic contest for their rights. Mr. Bache was finally appointed postmaster general of the United States, which position he filled with credit and honor from 1776 to 1782. Dr. Bache's grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Franklin Bache, rendered great service in 1780, when thousands of men in the American army were insufficiently clad, by supervising the labors of over 2,000 women, providing clothing for the troops.

Dr. Bache graduated from Princeton college at the age of eighteen years, and from the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania in 1828, or four years later. He entered the United States navy as assistant surgeon in 1824, and in 1828 was promoted to the rank of surgeon. He was fleet surgeon from 1838 to 1841 of the Mediterranean squadron; in charge of the naval asylum at Philadelphia from 1845 to 1847; fleet surgeon of the Brazilian squadron from 1848 to 1850; at the naval hospital, New York, from 1850 to 1854; and the director of the laboratory at the Brooklyn navy yard from 1855 to 1872. He was retired Feb. 1st, 1863, and in 1871 was appointed medical director with the relative rank of commodore. It was while engaged in the laboratory of the Brooklyn navy yard in 1861, at the outbreak of the civil war, that his great knowledge as a chemist, and his unquestionable honor, made him a friend indeed in the time of his country's need. Discovering that the supplies and drugs then being furnished to the government were poor in quality and deficient in weight, he undertook to reorganize the whole department. He met with the most determined opposition. Taking the samples that were furnished by contractors he analyzed them with those actually delivered, and finding in many cases that they were not as had been represented, he marked them "condemned," and thus saved the United States millions of dollars. Dr. Bache, personally, was one of the most remarkable men of his time. There was hardly a subject with which he was unfamiliar, and as a student, chemist, a traveller and an observer, he was received in social circles everywhere with the most profound consideration. In appearance he bore a strong resemblance to his distinguished ancestor, and his profile was almost the counterpart of that shown in the best pictures of Benjamin Franklin. He leaves a widow and three married daughters, the wives of Drs. Bates and Bogert and Capt. Charles L. Huntington, all of the United States navy.

Many people afflicted with phthisis pulmonalis (consumption) use Dr. Ball's Cough Syrup with very great benefit and relief. Price 25 cents a bottle.

You are sick; well, there is just one remedy that will cure you beyond a possibility of doubt. If it's liver or kidney trouble, consumption, dyspepsia, debility, Wells' Health Renewer is your hope. One dollar. Druggists. Depot Thacher's.

—"This apple is pretty well worn out," said a five-year-old, as she finished eating and was about to throw away the core.

Living Witnesses.

The hundreds of hearty, and healthy looking men, women and children, that have been rescued from beds of pain sickness and well nigh death by Parker's Ginger Tonic are the best evidences in the world of its sterling merit and worth. You will find such in almost every community.

—"What were the worst results of the civil war?" cried the orator. "Widows," shouted Jones, who married one.

Annoyance Avoided.

Gray hairs are honorable but their premature appearance is annoying. Parker's Hair Balsam prevents the annoyance by promptly restoring the youthful color.

—An advertisement says: "Wanted—A young man to be partly out-door and partly behind the counter." What will be the result when the door slams?

The Results of Necessity.

What the ancients suffered for the want of knowledge in medical science, can only be appreciated by contrasting the vast amount of suffering cured and pain alleviated in modern times, by the use of Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases. Its introduction was characterized by the necessary withdrawal of a score or more of illusive, quack nostrums, whose evil effects have left living monuments to denounce them. Thus is exemplified the proverb, necessity is the mother of invention.

SWAYNES OINTMENT
AN UNFAILING REMEDY FOR ALL SKIN DISEASES SUCH AS TETTER, ITCH, SORES, PIMPLES, ERYSIPELAS, RING WORM, BLOTCHES, &c.
THE GREAT CURE FOR ITCHING PILES
Symptoms are moisture, itching, like a small stick, sometimes very painful when scratching, blood on the rectum; the private parts are often affected. As a pleasant, economical and positive cure, SWAYNE'S OINTMENT is superior to any article in the market. Sold by druggists, or send 50 cts. in 3-ct. Stamps, 3 boxes, $1.25. Address, DR. SWAYNE & SON, Phila. Pa.

Rheumatism
Neuralgia, Sprains,
Pain in the Back and Side.
There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.
This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.
Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, it never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.
The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:
Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our resort was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.
Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.
G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.
E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.
Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never-failing remedy for rheumatism and bowel complaints.
Mr. Burditt writes:
It never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.
Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.
All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

Back Ache
POSITIVELY CURED BY
Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.
Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:
First.
Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts with increased rubefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.
Second.
Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession.
Third.
Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.
Fourth.
Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.
Fifth.
Because over 6000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.
Sixth.
Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

An Only Daughter Cured of Consumption.
When death was hourly expected, all remedies having failed, and Dr. H. James was experimenting with the many herbs of Calcutta, he accidentally made a preparation which cured his only child of Consumption. His child is now in this country, and enjoying the best of health. He has proved to the world consumption can be positively and permanently cured. The doctor now gives this recipe free, only asking two three-cent stamps to pay expenses. This herb also cures Night Sweats, Nausea at the stomach, and will break up a fresh cold in twenty-four hours. Address Craddock & Co., 1024 Race Street, Philadelphia, naming this paper.

THE
New Hampshire Gazette!
Established 1756.
The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.
It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire News; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

TO ADVERTISERS
THE N. H. GAZETTE
Presents an excellent opportunity for a weekly invitation to customers, at a reasonable rate, and all those who desire to reach patrons in Rockingham and York counties will find it an economical medium. THE GAZETTE is in many instances the only paper taken by families, and it is read to a large extent in localities whence is derived much of the trade of Portsmouth, a fact which our merchants should not fail to bear in mind.

The Virginia Duel.

The proposed duel between Senator Mahone and Jubal Early did not come off, for reasons that have not been made public. It is well known that Mahone is the thinnest man in Virginia. We do not allude to his politics, or his ability, in speaking of his being thin, but to his frame. He does not make a shadow. He could hide behind a wire fence. Gen. Early, after challenging Mahone, went to practicing at a piece of white wire clothes line, hung to the limb of a tree, but he could not hit it, and he felt that all the advantage would be on Mr. Mahone's side, so he asked Mahone to do the only thing in his power that would make the thing even, and that was to eat a quantity of dried apples the day before the duel, in order to swell his stomach out so a gentleman could stand some show of hitting him. Gen. Early pledged himself, on the honor of a Virginia gentleman, that he would not shoot at Mahone's stomach, but would aim at it, and then make a line shot either above or below. Mahone replied that while he appreciated the advantage he had over his opponent, and was willing to do anything reasonable to make the thing even, he could not consistently eat dried apples, as they would certainly kill him. He was willing to take his chances on his opponent's bullets, because statistics showed that dueling was the most healthy business a man could engage in, and he pointed to the number of duelists that were now living at a ripe old age, who fought hundreds of duels and never received a scratch or scratched an opponent; but on the other hand he would produce proof to show that many people had been injured, if not killed, by an over-indulgence in dried apples. Mr. Mahone said he thought it was late in the day for him to produce any proof as to his own bravery, but in the face of the fact that he would be pointed at as one who had not sand, he should have to decline to eat dried apples in order to make himself a target. Gen. Early said he appreciated the delicacy of his honorable and high-toned opponent, and respected his feelings, and would not insist upon the dried apple act, but that he would go into training to reduce himself in flesh to the size of Mahone, and hoped that the affair might be declared off until he could diet himself. He said he should at once begin a course of treatment to reduce his flesh, by boarding at a summer-resort that he had heard of, where the desired effect might be produced. So the duel is postponed for the present. Both Mahone and Early are high-toned gentlemen, and they will do nothing rash.—Peck's Sun.

There is a Balm in Gilead.

The success which has marked the introduction of Cream Balm, a catarrh remedy, prepared by Ely Bros., Owego, N. Y., is indeed marvelous. Many persons in Pittston and vicinity are using it with most satisfactory results. A lady down town is recovering the sense of smell, which she had not enjoyed for fifteen years, through the use of the Balm. She had given up her case as incurable. Mr. Barber, the druggist, has used it in his family and commends it very highly. In another column a young Tunkhannock lawyer, known to many of our readers, testifies that he was cured of partial deafness. It is certainly a very efficacious remedy.—Pittston, Pa., Gazette, Aug. 15, 1879.

—"My brethen," said a western clergyman, "the preaching of the gospel to some is like pouring water over a sponge—it soaks in and stays. To others it is like the wind blowing through a chicken-coop. My experience of this congregation is that it contains more chicken-coops than sponges."

The chief clerk of the Imperial hotel, Steubenville, Ohio, Mr. John M. Hoogland, heartily indorses St. Jacobs Oil. By applying it to his throat he relieved himself of severe pain and was cured of a chronic sore throat that nothing could relieve.

—"There," said Miss Dashie, as she sealed a letter addressed to her lover, "that isn't very bright, but it will do for him. Lovers are all alike. If you only write to them, they don't care a snap what you say."

Mr. Patterson Meant What he Said.

I hereby testify that my boy, ten years of age, was taken sick with typhoid fever, followed by congestion of the lungs. Dr. Dyer, an eminent physician of this place, stated that he thought the boy would run down with quick consumption. A Mr. Patterson told me that Coe's Cough Balsam was curing similar cases, and advised us to purchase it. When I carried it home, my wife laughed at me, but I knew that Mr. Patterson meant just what he said, and I determined to try it. Two bottles effectually cured him, so that now he is as tough and healthy as anybody.
LYMAN DORMAN.
Huntington, Conn., Aug. 29, 1866.

—He was a nice and a very new young man, and his employer took kindly to him on the first day in the factory, asking him to help in "checking off" and "calling back" the sizes of certain goods. All went well until the youth in finishing up a string of numbers, called out: "Fifty-five, eleven, forty-fo'—keno!" A great solemn hush fell over the rest of the clerks as the old man called the blushing lad up to the desk and desired an explanation, and the misguided youth put his foot in deeper by stammering out that it was only the "force of habit" made him say it. The old gentleman eyed him calmly for a moment and then, laying down seventy-five cents for his day's wages, said, "Boy, 'rake the pot' and go and renounce your sins."

Easily Proven.

It is easily proven that malarial fevers, constipation, torpidity of the liver and kidneys, general debility, nervousness, and neuralgic ailments yield readily to the great disease conqueror, Hop Bitters. It repairs the ravages of disease by converting the food into rich blood, and it gives new life and vigor to the aged and infirm always.

The Dangers of the Stock Market.

A man may be incredulous enough to risk his money in the fickle mysteries of a mercurial stock market, but when he gets the itching piles, he goes straight for Dr. Swayne's Ointment. Unlike the bulls and bears of the stock exchange, who clean you out of hard earned cash, it returns your money with interest, in the way of allaying the intense itching, and insuring sweet repose.

The Elections.

In New York the republicans have elected their state ticket by a majority of 10,000 to 12,000, with the exception of Husted, for state treasurer, who was defeated by a small majority. The republicans concede the senate to the democrats by a majority of two, and the assembly by a majority of two or three.

Cameron, the readjuster candidate for governor of Virginia, is undoubtedly elected, and the Mahone party have also carried the legislature, insuring a liberal successor to Johnston, the present Bourbon United States senator.

News and Notes.

Adelina Patti gave a concert in Steinway hall, New York, to a fair-sized and very fashionable audience, on the evening of the 9th inst. She was well received, as was her companion Nicolini.

Mrs. Sarah Mosely died in Madison, Ind., Nov. 9th, at the age of 111 years. Her oldest daughter, a Mrs. Renfrew, is eighty-seven years old.

The New York Tribune says: "Reports that Clara Louise Kellogg would be married have been frequent in the past; the most recent one however seems to have a much better foundation than any of its predecessors. It is reasonably certain that Miss Kellogg has betrothed herself to a Mr. Whitney of Philadelphia, and that she will be married some time after the expiration of her present concert engagement, which will be in March, 1882. Mr. Whitney is a man of wealth, who is living on his means, being out of all business, and he is about forty years old. Miss Kellogg met him on shipboard as she was returning from her last visit to Europe."

The effort will be made to see if the directors of the Newark (N. J.) national bank are not legally liable for losses to depositors by the defalcation of Cashier Baldwin, which appears to have happened by the criminal negligence of those whose duty it was to take care of the funds of the bank.

Elisha Phillips, the oldest convict in the Maine state prison at Thomaston, died Nov. 9th, being then upwards of ninety-two years of age. He has a wife and children in Boston. He had passed over thirty-seven years of his life in prison. He was noted as being the man who played a joke on the warden of the Massachusetts state prison. He told a story about having a large sum of money buried in that state, and the warden took him out to dig for the money. After working a while Phillips asked for rest, when the officer got in the hole to dig, and Phillips, kicking sand in his eyes, ran away.

It is announced by the Portland, Me., Argus that within a few weeks the famous Barron tragedy will again be brought afresh to the public mind. The suit of the Dexter savings bank against the Barron estate is to be renewed at the January term of the supreme court for the Piscataquis county, and auditors will be appointed to make a thorough systematic examination of the accounts.

The "star-route ring" men were on the 10th inst. discharged from custody by order of Judge Cox, of the District of Columbia.

A race was sailed off New York on the 9th inst. for the celebrated "America's cup," between the Canadian yacht Atalanta and the New York yacht Mischief, the latter winning by 28 1-2 minutes. The New York yacht Gracie sailed over the course, and beat both the contestants, leading the Mischief by six minutes and seventeen seconds.

James R. Montrose shot and killed William Sardonax, at Fieldville, Monroe township, N. J., on the night of the 8th inst., while quarrelling over the result of the election. Montrose escaped.

Philip E. Sullivan, aged twenty-three years, one of the young robbers of the Iron Mountain train, died in prison at Little Rock, Ark., on Tuesday, the 8th inst. He was sent to the penitentiary under a seventy years' sentence, and died of heart sickness.

Naval Affairs.

Commander A. P. Cook, Surgeon Michael Bradley, and Pay Inspector C. H. Eldredge, have been ordered to examination for promotion.

Secretary Hunt made his first official visit to the Boston navy yard on the 9th inst., and received the customary honors.

New Hampshire Items.

A meeting of the governor and council was held on the 9th inst., but no business of public interest was transacted beyond issuing a proclamation appointing Thursday, Nov. 24th, as a day of Thanksgiving.

The Episcopal convention at Concord on the 8th inst. elected the following officers: Rev. H. A. Cott, Rev. L. Sears, Rev. D. C. Roberts, Hon. W. L. Foster, Hon. A. R. Hatch, Horace A. Brown, standing committee; secretary, H. A. Brown; registrar, Rev. L. Waterman; treasurer, George Alcott. Nine deputies were elected to the general convention, seven trustees of the Episcopal church of the state, eight trustees of Holderness school, three trustees of the Episcopal fund, eleven on the board of diocesan missions, two trustees of the general theological seminary, three examining chaplains, and a treasurer of the fund for the relief of aged and infirm clergy and of widows and orphans of clergymen.

Capt. Charles B. Gafney, of the law firm of Worcester & Gafney of Rochester, had a troublesome bullet removed from his left leg on the 8th inst., at Portland, Me. He received the bullet in the battle of Cold Harbor, Va.

A petition is circulating in Seabrook to have the widow of John N. Brown, the recently deceased postmaster of the village, appointed to succeed him in the office.

D. K. White., agent of the N. H. S. P. C. A., in addition to a large number of arrests for general cruelty during the past month, broke up a cock-fight which was advertised to take place in the city of Manchester.

A little Dover boy named Asha Baxter a day or two ago found a wallet containing forty dollars, which he at once took to his parents. The wallet was subsequently identified as one lost by William Jones about a year ago, at the time of the fire in the Nute house at Dover, having been in the pocket of a pair of pantaloons carried out during the fire. Mr. Jones was so overjoyed at recovering his long-lost treasure that he at once presented the Baxter boy with ten cents.

James E. Hayes, of Farmington, recently killed four coons in Wakefield with a club, and he was not hunting for coons either.

A Seabrook man who has repeatedly had his fences stolen by fire-wood thieves, has recently put up a fence of white (poison) sumac, a wood which poisons nearly every person who approaches it, and is especially virulent when burned.

Owing to the prevalence of smallpox in Biddeford and the consequent interruption of schools, the committee closed all the public schools on the 9th inst. Over 3,000 persons have been vaccinated since the first case was reported. There have been fifteen cases of the disease, six of which have proved fatal.

The Eastern railroad has been petitioned by parties interested to stop one train each way on Saturday at the "State line bridge" in Seabrook, to accommodate the residents of South Seabrook, seven hundred in number, who now have to go two miles to Salisbury station, or an equal distance to the Seabrook station. Besides its accommodating South Seabrook, the dwellers in the Walton road and Methodist church neighborhoods of Seabrook, and Salisbury Plains, Mass., would find such an arrangement of trains a great convenience.

Daniel G. Rollins, Esq., who was elected to the office of surrogate in New York city on Tuesday, the 8th inst., is a son of the late Daniel G. Rollins of Great Falls, (a native of this city,) and a brother of Hon. E. Ashton Rollins, ex-speaker of the New Hampshire house of representatives, and now president of the Centennial national bank of Philadelphia, Pa. Mr. Rollins has shown marked ability as a lawyer in the office of district attorney in New York city, the duties of which are more arduous than those of any similar position in the country.

Winthrop Reynolds and Charles F. Berry of Barrington, the alleged chicken thieves arrested in this city on the 8th inst., were arraigned in Dover on the 9th, and held in $600 each to answer at the February term of the supreme court for Strafford county, both going to jail in default of sureties. The principal witnesses against the fellows were Asst. Marshal Franklin Cole of this city, who assisted in their arrest and drove their team to Dover, and Marshal Entwistle, both of whom testified that Berry confessed to them that he and Reynolds stole the chickens from Mrs. Ephraim Ham of Dover. Berry refused to testify on the stand, but Reynolds on being sworn said that he went to York on Sunday, the 6th inst., in company with Berry. They returned to Dover Monday evening; Reynolds was so drunk he did not know when or how he got home; he remembered passing by the residence of Mrs. Ham on the night when the chickens were stolen; went to Portsmouth next day, and sold chickens; did not know where the chickens came from; he didn't raise them. Berry and Reynolds have been for some time engaged in peddling fish about the country, buying their stock in Portsmouth.

FELLOWS' Compound SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

A REALLY RELIABLE REMEDY FOR WASTING AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

After numerous experiments Mr. Fellows succeeded in producing this combination of Hypo phosphites, which has not only restored him to health, but has since been found so successful in the treatment of disease emanating from loss of nerve power, and consequently muscular relaxation, viz:

Aphonia (loss of voice),	Neuralgia,
Anæmia,	Nervous debility,
Chronic Diarrhœa,	Whooping Cough,
Dyspepsia,	Congestion of the Lungs,
Fever and Ague,	Palpitation of the Heart,
Leucorrhœa,	Melancholy,
Malaria,	Mental Depression,
	Nervousness.

MALARIA.

Persons living in Malarious districts may protect themselves from attacks of fever by the use of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites. Its effects in toning up the system enables us to warn off contagious diseases, and successfully combat disease.

The soluble phosphites and the other life-sustaining principles composing Fellows' Hypophosphites are so carefully proportioned and so judiciously mingled, that their action upon the nerves, muscles and membranes in imparting vitality, strength and healthy action is generally apparent within twenty four hours, and the good effects experienced are of a permanent character.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, regular meeting, Thursday evening, Nov. 10th, Mayor Sise in the chair:

The records of last meeting were read and approved.

Bills of the fire department were presented to the amount of $198.76, and ordered to be paid.

The city clerk gave notice that the appropriation for street lights was exhausted.

Application was received from several persons to have leave to encumber streets, for purpose of laying drains.

Mrs. John Norton asked permission to remove trees on State street. Referred.

Joseph H. Thacher asked permission to relay sidewalk on Vaughan street. Referred.

Bill of Walter C. Harriman for services to the city, was referred to committee on claims.

Committee on the street light on Middle street, reported favorable. Accepted and adopted.

The city solicitor appeared before the board and stated that the claim of the Raynes estate would be brought up next day before the court; also that Mr. Hatch was sick and he (Mr. Hatch) asked that the new street be called "Vaughan street," as it was anciently known, and also asked that Mrs. Wilson's house be moved back in a line with Mrs. Seavey's. Ald. Martin suggested that it would be proper to move Mrs. Wilson's house back the same as Mrs. Seavey's was.

Adjourned for one week.

SUPREME COURT.

THURSDAY, Nov. 3d; Smith, J.

Silas McIntire of Manchester, vs. Geo. W. Anderson of Barrington, and Thomas G. Gile of Raymond. Action of trover involving the title to a lot of boards. Moses Palmer of Candia was appointed foreman of the jury. In the winter of 1873—74 Mr. McIntire bought a timber lot in Nottingham, and cut off the timber and hauled it to a saw mill; and the pine boards, 300,000 feet, were then hauled to and piled compactly on a piece of ground, the whole space in the lot of land, as it was claimed, being occupied by the boards of the plaintiff. It was also claimed that the boards were recognizable from other lumber by particular marks in the wood. One pile, the man who hauled off the boards was forbidden to take off by one of the defendants, and the defendants claimed the boards as theirs and subsequently took them away; and this suit is brought to recover damages therefor, the defendants of course claiming the property as theirs. The case was given to the jury in the evening. Frink & Batchelder for plff.; Copeland & Edgerly for defts.

THE GRAYSON OPERA TROUPE.

To those who were fortunate enough to be present at the rendering of "The Mascot" by the Grayson Opera troupe on the evening of the first instant, at Music hall, there need be but a reminder that this company is again to appear in this city, in "Patience."

The audience in the former appearance of this excellent company, though not large, was of a character capable of judging of the merits of the troupe, and as "The Mascot" was being given, generous applause was rendered. Rarely have we seen so liberal demonstrations, bestowed with such discriminating judgment, as were witnessed at Music hall on that evening. The audience were delighted; the singers seem to feel that their efforts were appreciated, and they were at their best. To say that a Portsmouth audience is cold and unsympathising is simply libellous. On the occasion referred to the audience rose to a pitch of enthusiasm which will be likely, in its remembrance, to ensure the Grayson troupe a generous reception on the 15th inst.

EASTERN RAILROAD REPORT.

The annual report of the Eastern railroad company for the year ending Sept. 30th, 1881, has just been filed with the railroad commissioners of Massachusetts. From it the following facts and figures are taken: The gross earnings for the year were $3,094,273.74 against $2,905,056.11 for 1880, an increase of $189,217.63. The statement for the year ending Sept. 30th, 1880, was as follows:

Receipts from passengers	$1,524,732.44
Express, extra baggage and mails	116,250.30
Freight	1,198,977.07
Miscellaneous	65,095.30
Gross earnings,	$2,905,056.11
Operating expenses and taxes	$1,820,128.17
Interest	871,684.86
Rent of leased lines	226,259.50
Total expenses,	$2,718,072.55
Balance for the year,	$186,983.56

For the year ending Sept. 30th, 1881, the following figures are given:

From local passengers	$1,407,060.68
Foreign passengers	203,369.70
Express	69,292.14
Extra baggage	3,153.19
Mails	48,884.64
Total passenger department	$1,732,351.15
From local freight	$1,030,278.81
Foreign freight	278,169.37
Total freight department	$1,308,448.08
Rents for use of road	$ 9,300.06
Miscellaneous earnings	13,035.10
Income from property	41,239.35
Gross earnings from all sources,	$3,094,273.74
Operating expenses, including taxes,	$1,969,672.87
Net earnings,	$1,124,600.87
Interest accrued	$ 664,358.92
Rent of leased lines	218,330.00
Balance for the year,	$241,711.95

The total train mileage was 2,367,488, an increase of 18,508 over the previous year; 1,453,226 season-ticket holders were carried, and 5,624,706 local (including season) passengers. The local freight tonnage was 903,205, against 823,429 last year, and the foreign 220,856, against 198,510, making the total 1,124,061 tons, or an increase of 102,062 tons. The passenger cars ran 5,295,487 miles, and the freight cars 12,444,238 miles. The statement in the aggregate is the best ever shown, and must be gratifying to the stockholders.

NOTICE--POISON.

PORTSMOUTH, Nov. 10th, 1881.
CHAPTER 176, SEC. 5, Gen. Laws of New Hampshire.

If any person shall expose poison for the purpose of destroying any animals, except rats or other vermin in his own buildings, or on his potato crops, he shall be punished by a fine of fifty dollars for every such offense, or by imprisonment not exceeding six months, or both.

The above statute will be strictly enforced. THOMAS ENTWISTLE, City Marshal.

Considerable interest has been excited in the minds of persons who have passed through the "new Vaughan street," or by its opening on Elm street, as to why the street at that end was laid out in such a wondrous manner that the sidewalk is in one place at least fifteen feet wide! The reason for this unique laying-out is obvious; whenever the railroad shall direct the city to discontinue Elm street as a highway, the turn into the new street from Christian Shore, or from the new street into the highway leading to Christian Shore, will be much more satisfactory than if the new street had been laid out at right angles to the other.

John Hennessey, a man about thirty years old, while at work on Thursday afternoon last assisting in discharging the coal, schooner Richard S. Leaming at the Concord railroad wharf, fell from the stage to the deck, a distance of about fifteen feet, and sustained serious if not fatal injuries. He was tending one hatch of the schooner, and the accident occurred through the end of the fall slipping off the drum of the hoisting engine.

The contractors' sloop went in to John Neal's wharf, Kittery, on the 10th inst., with a cargo of stone from Gangway rock, to be used by Mr. Neal in building his new wharf—her last load for this year. The tide-breakers were taken off the "band-stand" on the 10th, and stored on Stover's wharf, Kittery, where the rest of the gear will be placed to wait for the arrival of spring. The contract is for the removal of 500 cubic yards of stone, and of this amount 180 yards have been taken out; and but the smashing of things by the U. S. S. Lancaster at the time she carried away the government mooring buoy off the navy yard, 250 yards would have been taken out before the close of work this fall. A new steam drill, weighing 1860 lbs., was received by the contractors on the 10th from Worcester, Mass., to take the place of the one lost by the Lancaster accident, but it will not be used until spring.

As the season advances the up-river coal supply is being pushed forward; on Thursday last a tug towed five large and deeply-laden gondolas up the river at one time. Messrs. Cummings, the extensive shoe manufacturers of South Berwick, Me., have built a large coal shed beside the track of the Portsmouth, Gt. Falls & Conway railroad, where they can store coal as needed for their factory, etc.

The navy yard ferry steamer Emerald has resumed her trips between the yard and this city.

Important.

When you visit or leave New York city, save Baggage Expressage and Carriage Hire, and stop at Grand Union Hotel, opposite Grand Central Depot; 650 rooms, fitted up at a cost of one million dollars, reduced to $1 and upwards per day. European plan. Elevator. Restaurant supplied with the best. Horse cars, stages and elevated railroad to all depots. Families can live better for less money at the Grand Union Hotel than at any other first-class hotel in the city. tap15,82

THE SURGEON'S KNIFE.

Mr. Simeon Tietsell, of Saugerties, N. Y., had been treated for seven years by various physicians for what they called Stricture of the Urethra, without benefit. He finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculi or Stones in the Bladder. The doctor at once removed the foreign bodies with the knife and then gave his great Blood Specific, "Favorite Remedy," to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was eminently successful, and Mr. Tietsell's recovery was rapid and perfect.

While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all kidney and bladder diseases, it is equally valuable in cases of bilious disorders, constipation of the bowels, and all the class of ills apparently inseparable from the constitutions of women. Try it. Your druggist has it, and its cost is only dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. The Doctor would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine, "Favorite Remedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to office practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery.

A $6.00 REVOLVER FREE TO YOU.

WEIGHT 7½ OUNCES
THIS CUT IS 2-3 SIZE.
THE BLUE JACKET
is the most elegant Revolver in the world, as well as the most perfect and beautiful in design and finish. It is made of the very best steel. The barrel and frame is Nickel Silver-plated, with Gold-plated Cylinder, Ivory Stock, and the whole beautifully engraved and enameled, making a beautiful contrast of four different colors. The cut represents only two-thirds the actual size, and as it is impossible to show the beautiful contrast of Gold, Silver, Blue and Ivory, it conveys but a slight idea of this handsome weapon. It is simply marvellous how we can do it in the first IVORY HANDLE, ENAMELED AND ENGRAVED REVOLVER ever sold for less than $6.00, and it is the most remarkable bargain we ever offered for sale. This Revolver cannot be made to-day for twice what we are offering it for, and it will be a long time before we shall be able to offer another such bargain. We have 5,000 only, when these are sold, no more can be had except at regular prices. THE BLUE JACKET is as well known as any Revolver in the world, and the new Smokless Rebel Rifle not excepted. Its the best, reliable, and most handy to hold in front and rear sights. It has a finely rifled barrel, perfect in proportion, holding the cylinder firmly in place, and uses the extra-long cartridge. With the BLUE JACKET you can shoot a squirrel or partridge in any the tallest tree. We guarantee its shooting qualities, and if you are not perfectly satisfied with it we will REFUND THE MONEY EVERY TIME. We purchased these Revolvers at less than one-fourth their value, and can afford to give away one with every subscription to the HOUSEHOLD GUEST MAGAZINE, at the same time introduce our published at $1.50 per year. If you will send us $2.00, and TEN CENTS EXTRA to help pay postage, we will send the Magazine one year, and the REVOLVER FREE. THE HOUSEHOLD GUEST MAGAZINE is a large 32 page quarto, with handsome illustrated Engraved Cover, and is filled with choice Illustrations from the best of stories by the best authors. Poetry, Anecdotes, Sketches, Illustrated Fashion Department; useful information; Statistics; Answers to Correspondents; Household Notes; The Kitchen; Ladies' Home; The Toilet Table; The Garden; Wit, Humor, &c. It is now in its fourth year, has a large circulation, and its success has been phenomenal. Our subscription has always been $1.50.

FREE TO YOU. If you will cut this advertisement out, show it to your friends, and get a club of some to join you, and send us $12.00, with 70 cents extra to help pay postage, we will send you the Revolver and Magazine free for your trouble. PLEASE BEAR IN MIND that each one in the club will also get the Revolver and Magazine, and when full amount $12.70 is sent with the club-order, we will put in a box of varnished for each Revolver. As to our reliability, we refer to any New York Publishers or Merchants. Send money by Registered Letter or Post Office Order at our risk.

174,000,000,000 holes or cells are in the lungs, which would cover a surface thirty times greater than the human body.

Advices from the island of Anticosti, gulf of St. Lawrence, all tend to confirm the rumored famine predicted. Not long since the high winds and the absence of rain and bait almost totally destroyed the fishing season, and now the great majority of the inhabitants have nothing but a few potatoes to subsist upon.

Miss Mamie Johnson of Gardiner, Me., has signed an agreement to sing in twenty concerts in Massachusetts cities. Miss Johnson is said to possess a fine contralto voice.

The old state house at Austin, Texas, was burned on the 9th inst., with the state library, worth $40,000, and historical paintings worth $20,000. Total loss $200,000.

A clear head and quick action must be possessed for steady and successful effort; but who could have such while suffering from cold? Use Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup and procure immediate relief.

—St. Louis will not be beaten by Chicago. No sooner had Chicago telegraphed that her horses had pinkeye than St. Louis telegraphed that something like pinkeye had broken out among her cows.

ASHBURNHAM, Mass., Jan. 14, 1880.
I have been very sick over two years. They all gave me up as past cure. I tried the most skillful physicians, but they did not reach the worst part. The lungs and heart would fill up every night and distress me, and my throat was very bad. I told my children I never should die in peace until I had tried Hop Bitters. I have taken two bottles. They have helped me very much indeed, I am now well. There was a lot of sick folks here who have seen how they helped me, and they used them and are cured, and feel as thankful as I do that there is so valuable a medicine made.

—Native to stranger: "We always have an east wind in Galveston." "But I see the wind right now is from the west." "Oh, that's the east wind coming back, you know." "Ah!"

They are Liable!
The doctors are all liable to be mistaken, they were in my case. It cost me $200.00, because they said I had heart disease, and then told me I must die. Grandmother said it was liver complaint, and $2.00 worth of Sulphur Bitters cured me.—Jennie P——, Rockport.

—It was a little embarrassing for one of the gentlemen who appeared at Yorktown as "a French guest," to have somebody address him in French and be unable to understand.

The Results of Necessity.
What the ancients suffered for the want of knowledge in medical science, can only be appreciated by contrasting the vast amount of suffering cured and pain alleviated in modern times, by the use of Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases. Its introduction was characterized by the necessary withdrawal of a score or more of illusive, quack nostrums, whose evil effects have left living monuments to denounce them. Thus is exemplified the proverb, necessity is the mother of invention.

Rheumatism
Neuralgia, Sprains,
Pain in the Back and Side.
There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.
This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.
Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, it never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.
The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:
Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our resort was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.
Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.
G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.
E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.
Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.
Mr. Burditt writes:
It never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.
Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.
All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

Back Ache
POSITIVELY CURED BY
Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.
Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:
First.
Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts with increased rubefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.
Second.
Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession.
Third.
Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.
Fourth.
Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.
Fifth.
Because over 5000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.
Sixth.
Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

An Only Daughter Cured of Consumption.
When death was hourly expected, all remedies having failed, and Dr. H. James was experimentally with the many herbs of India, he accidentally made a preparation which cured his only child of Consumption. His child is now in this country, and enjoying the best of health. He has proved to the world consumption can be positively and permanently cured. The doctor now gives this recipe free, only asking two three-cent stamps to pay expenses. This herb also cures Night Sweats, Nausea at the Stomach, and will break up a fresh cold in twenty-four hours. Address Cradduck & Co., 1032 Race Street, Philadelphia, naming this paper.

THE
New Hampshire Gazette!
Established 1756.
The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.
It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at the port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

Testimonials.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally, employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

The Concord Monitor says: "We understand that Gov. Bell has written an official letter to Atty. Gen. Tappan adverse to the contract of Aug. 19th, and directing him to see that the laws of the state are vindicated." The contract referred to is that between the Boston & Lowell and the Concord railroads.

Tin Cans.

Who can assign bounds to the demand for tinned or canned oysters from Baltimore, lobsters from Maine, salmon from Alaska, peaches from Florida and Maryland? One petroleum firm in the city of New York is said to cut up 600 boxes (thirty tons) of tin plate daily. No less than 1,000,000 boxes are already absorbed yearly by the United States, more than three-fold the consumption of the continent of Europe, of which quantity a full tenth goes to pack sardines at Nantes. Australian meat craves an ever-increasing supply, while British biscuits, mustard and gunpowder range in bright canisters all over the world. The home consumption is variously estimated at between 500,000 and 750,000 boxes per annum; but the returns to the government have not been ample and unreserved enough for any accurate figures to be laid down. —Saturday Review.

Ash-Tonic;

A perfected purifyer of the system. In 1-2lb. bottles; 75 cents. For dyspepsia, the many forms of liver complaint, impure and impoverished blood, and functional derangements attendant upon debility. For symptons indicated by indigestion, loss of appetite, nausea, sick headache, sour stomach, furred tongue, drowsiness, blanched lips, sallow complexion, pain in the side or back, eruptions, depression of spirits, nervous irritability and hysteria, and for building up the system, ash-tonic is unquestionably the most prompt and energetic remedy yet devised.

Julius Stark, charged with robbing the mails at San Antonio, Tex., was sentenced on Wednesday to ten years' imprisonment, and Wm. Petty, for the same offence, to imprisonment for life.

Renew your Lease.

There are times in every one's life when energy fails and a miserable feeling comes over them, mistaken for laziness. Danger lurks in these symptoms, as they arise from diseased organs. Parker's Ginger Tonic will restore perfect activity to the stomach, liver and kidneys, purify the blood, and renew your lease of health and comfort.—Advocate.

Easily Proven.

It is easily proven that malarial fevers, constipation, torpidity of the liver and kidneys, general debility, nervousness, and neuralgic ailments yield readily to the great disease conquerer, Hop Bitters. It repairs the ravages of disease by converting the food into rich blood, and it gives new life and vigor to the aged and infirm always.

The troubles at the Michigan State Agricultural college are not yet ended. It is reported that twenty-five students have been suspended by the faculty, and two expelled.

Various Causes—

Advancing years, care, sickness, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition—all operate to turn the hair gray, and either of them inclines it to shed prematurely. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR will restore faded or gray, light or red hair to a rich brown or deep black, as may be desired. It softens and cleanses the scalp, giving it a healthy action. It removes and cures dandruff and humors. By its use falling hair is checked, and a new growth will be produced in all cases where the follicles are not destroyed or the glands decayed. Its effects are beautifully shown on brashy, weak, or sickly hair, on which a few applications will produce the gloss and freshness of youth. Harmless and sure in its results, it is incomparable as a dressing, and is especially valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR is colorless; contains neither oil nor dye; and will not soil or color white cambric; yet it lasts long on the hair, and keeps it fresh and vigorous, imparting an agreeable perfume.

For sale by all druggists.

The treasurer of the Central Vermont railroad will not receive punched or mutilated gold or silver coins, and station agents and conductors will of course no longer accept such coins.

The Dangers of the Stock Market.

A man may be incredulous enough to risk his money in the fickle mysteries of a mercurial stock market, but when he gets the itching piles, he goes straight for Dr. Swayne's Ointment. Unlike the bulls and bears of the stock exchange, who clean you out of hard earned cash, it returns your money with interest, in the way of allaying the intense itching, and insuring sweet repose.

"I was very severely burned about the right leg several years ago," says Mr. R. R. Calyer, 123 Erie street, Jersey City, N. J., "and the spot always remained tender. A short time ago I wounded the old spot, and it refused to heal. I applied St. Jacobs Oil, half a bottle of which cured the injured limb."

The Slavophil section of the Russian press expresses great apprehension at the prospect of an alliance of Germany, Austria and Italy. It considers that such a condition will destroy the peace of Europe. In spite of the declaration of the peaceful, defensive character of the triple alliance, it must be a menace at the starting point of a policy of aggression and a precursor of war.

Living Witnesses.

The hundreds of hearty, and healthy looking men, women and children, that have been rescued from beds of pain sickness and well nigh death by Parker's Ginger Tonic are the best evidences in the world of its sterling merit and worth. You will find such in almost every community.

Arthur Lefroy, found guilty of the murder of Mr. Gold in a car on the Brighton & London railway last summer, has been sentenced to be hung Nov. 29th.

Annoyance Avoided.

Gray hairs are honorable but their premature appearance is annoying. Parker's Hair Balsam prevents the annoyance by promptly restoring the youthful color.

The Elections.

The majority for Cameron, the readjuster candidate for governor of Virginia, is from 10,000 to 12,000; the democrats concede his election by 6,000, and estimate the legislature to stand as follows: Senate, democrats seventeen, readjusters twenty; house, democrats forty-two, readjusters fifty-five, doubtful three. This would give the readjusters nineteen majority on joint ballot, without counting the three doubtful votes. There are two colored members in the senate and eleven in the house.

The republican majority in Minnesota is between 35,000 and 40,000.

In Wisconsin the entire republican state ticket is elected, by pluralities of from 7,000 to 10,000, and the legislature on joint ballot will stand eighty-seven republicans to forty-six democrats.

The defeat of Astor for Congress in New York leaves the republicans with one less than a majority in the national house of representatives, and the greenbackers will hold the balance of power. Judge Kelley of Pennsylvania is talked of as the possible speaker of the house.

News and Notes.

One negro and several white men were killed in an election disturbance at Marion, Miss., Nov. 8th, and several other persons were killed later in the day by a sheriff's posse. It is said the first shooting was done wholly by negroes.

The second race for the America's cup, between the Canadian yacht Atalanta and the New York yacht Mischief, was won by the latter. The Atalanta was fully five miles astern of the Mischief and Gracie at the end. The third race of the series will not be sailed, the Mischief having already won two, destroying the Atalanta's chance of success.

Kansas Nebraska Bill was married Nov. 7th, at Saybrook, Conn. Mr. Bill was born in the time of the Kansas-Nebraska excitement, about 1853 or 1854, when the Kansas-Nebraska bill was everywhere discussed, and his father, Hon. James A. Bill of Lyme, Conn., named him Kansas Nebraska.

F. D. Hazen, a trusted clerk of Wells, Richardson & Co., wholesale druggists at Burlington, Vt., died last summer. It has just been discovered that he robbed the firm of merchandise to the value of several thousand dollars. A part of the goods have been recovered.

Sixteen thousand barrels of apples have been bought in the Champlain valley in Vermont within the past few weeks, at prices ranging from $2 to $3 per barrel. The parties are now receiving and forwarding them to the Boston market. They anticipate a "corner" in apples.

Chief Justice Pierpoint of the Vermont supreme court is gradually sinking from exhaustion of his vital powers. Though his mental faculties seem undimmed, it is not probable he will ever again appear on the bench. His associates on the bench recently sent him a deputation to convey to him their respect and sympathy in his decline.

Advices received in London from Cape Coast Castle, Africa, dated Oct. 16th, state that information has been received there that the king of Ashantee has killed 200 young girls for the purpose of using their blood for mixing mortar for the repair of one of the state buildings. The report of the massacre was received from a refugee, who was to have been one of the victims. It receives some confirmation also in the fact that such wholesale massacres are known to be a custom with the king.

The son of a leading citizen of Valley Falls, R. I., is so generous to his youthful companions that a short time since he gave nearly all of the family garden vegetables away to them, and they carried them home, unknown to the boy's parents.

An unknown burglar being caught in a house on Thirty-second street, New York, on the 9th inst., jumped from the window forty feet to the sidewalk and was fatally injured, captured and taken to the hospital.

Defalcations amounting to $10,000,000 have been uncovered in the treasury department of Cuba, by the discovery of stolen tax documents. This sum represents about ten years' ground rent on real estate belonging to the government.

A merchant at Kirkwall, Orkney islands, writes under date of Oct. 20th to a gentleman in Washington, D. C.: "What an awful tragedy was the death of your good President. With melancholy feelings we received the first telegram which informed us that he had been shot, and later the one announcing his death. On the day he was buried there was gloom over our town. The mariners in port had their colors hoisted at half-mast on their vessels, and private individuals had the same on the flag-poles in their gardens. The old Cathedral bells of St. Magnus gave forth their mournful tones, reminding us that one beloved had passed away. We have had a very backward season. Rain has kept the crops far behind, and our harvest that should have been gathered into the yard, some of it is uncut, and most of it out in the fields. Several of the farmers have lost considerable by the heavy gales of wind shaking the grain off the stalks, but we hope they will now secure what is left. You will observe from reading the papers the great loss of life off the Scotch coast, particularly among the fishermen, during the heavy gale of last week, which overtook the fleet on the fishing grounds, and the loss is mourned by many widows and fatherless children."

Advices from Sydney, N. S. W., of October 6th, say the British corvette "Wolverine" visited the island of New Guinea in August, landed a force, and punished the inhabitants of the village of Kalo for murdering mission teachers. After a short fight the head chief was killed, and the natives yielded. The chief's house was destroyed. The commodore afterward addressed the natives, warning them against committing any further outrages.

The week commencing Nov. 13th and ending on the 19th is set apart as a week of prayer for young men, and young men's Christian associations, throughout the world. Topic for Sunday, 13th, "Lifted up to save." Numbers 21, 4th to 9th; John 3d, 14th to 18th; John 12th, 32d.

About two hundred persons went to Boston from this city by the Eastern railroad, Friday, on the cheap excursion rates.

The new "elastic starch" can now be procured in this city at Charles E. Laighton & Son's store on Pleasant street,—where also about everything else in the grocery line, and of the best quality, can be found.

The Nick Roberts Colossal Clown Minstrels will give an entertainment at Music hall on Wednesday evening next. The N. Y. Dramatic News says "the performance is very pleasing, and consists of an amusing mixture of pantomime, farce, acrobatic display, and the variety features of a regular minstrel show."

Under the head of "Kittery" the Biddeford Journal says: "Among the new mining companies recently organized in this state are the 'O. K. Gold Mining Company' with a capital of $500,000, and the 'Shoo Fly Mining and Smelting Company,' with a capital of $100,000. Both of these companies were organized in this town, the former October 22d, and the other October 25th."

Rev. Mr. Peabody and wife of Stratham were surprised on Monday night of this week by over a hundred of their parishioners, led by Samuel P. Chase, Esq., who presented an elegant dining and tea set of seventy-five pieces, the occasion being the twentieth anniversary of their marriage. John N. Thompson, Esq., made the presentation. Accompanying the China ware was a purse of money.

The Portsmouth contributors to Elder Waite's "Glad Tidings" tent may be interested in knowing that "the lot of land on Brookline street in Lynn, Mass., owned by Rev. Arthur A. Waite, has been attached by a sheriff. The clergyman purchased the land for $2700, and it is mortgaged to William P. Sargent for $2200. An examination shows that the attached real estate stands in the name of Waite, although purchased to erect a 'tabernacle' with funds subscribed to the society by members thereof, and outsiders. By his own statements he collected nearly $2000, now claiming he has but $400 left. The lumber, he says, is "ordered. Members of the society say they do not believe it. There is no indication that he has spent a dollar for the alleged 'tabernacle.'"

—They asked him if he was the best man at the wedding. "No," he said; "I don't know as I was the best, but I was as good as any of 'em!"

A New Story About Gen. Grant.

It has just leaked out that while Gen. Grant was travelling in Asia he expressed a desire to get a shot at a lion. Not wishing to expose him to any danger, the natives secured a stuffed lion and set it up in the jungle, and then took the illustrious traveller out for a hunt. When the beast was sighted the General was all excitement, and crawling up to a favorable position, began to blaze away at the animal with no perceptible effect. After firing about twenty shots he began to get mad, and taking of his coat he settled down for a regular siege. Fearing his wrath when he discovered the sell, the attendants endeavored to induce him to give up the attempt to kill the beast, telling him that it bore a charmed life and he could not possibly injure it. He told them to go to thunder; that he was after blood and was going to have it. After a vain fusilade of half an hour he rose to his feet, gnashing his teeth with rage, threw his suspenders off his shoulders, rolled up his sleeves and grabbed his rifle by the barrel so he could use it as a club. The attendants again begged him to desist, but he politely, though forcibly, told them that he would have that cuss or leave his honored remains strewn promiscuously all through that jungle, and with a wild cry of "I'll fight it out on this lion if it takes all summer!" he rushed upon the beast and with one well directed blow laid it over on its side. Then he chased the native attendants for six miles; but being better acquainted with the country, they got away from him in safety.

An Experiment.

A prominent citizen sauntered up to a policeman on Austin avenue, and told him that he thought the police ought to pick up the rocks in the streets, and pile them up, during their leisure hours, instead of loafing, so that people driving out in buggies would not be bumped about so much.

The policeman got mad, and said if the prominent citizen would only ride out when he was sober, he would not run against so many boulders. The prominent citizen thought over the proposition, and then remarked: "I never thought of that before. I'll be blamed if I don't try it, just to see what it is like."

Who says prohibition is not gaining ground every day.—Texas Siftings.

FELLOWS'

Compound Syrup of

HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

A REALLY RELIABLE REMEDY FOR WASTING AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

After numerous experiments Mr. Fellows succeeded in producing this combination of Hypophosphites, which has not only restored him to health, but has since been found so successful in the treatment of disease emanating from loss of nerve power, and consequently muscular relaxation, viz:

Aphonia (loss of voice),	Neuralgia,
Anæmia,	Nervous debility,
Chronic Diarrhœa,	Whooping Cough,
Dyspepsia,	Congestion of the Lungs,
Fever and Ague,	Palpitation of the Heart,
Leucorrhœa,	Melancholy,
Malaria,	Mental Depression,
	Nervousness.

MALARIA.

Persons living in Malarious districts may protect themselves from attacks of fever by the use of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites. Its effects in toning up the system enables us to ward off contagious disorders, and successfully combat disease.

The soluble phosphites and the other life-sustaining principles composing Fellows' Hypophosphites are so carefully proportioned and so judiciously mingled, that their action upon the nerves, muscles and membranes in imparting vitality, strength and healthy action is generally apparent within twenty four hours, and the good effects experienced are of a permanent character.

SUPREME COURT.

FRIDAY, Nov. 11th; Smith J.

In case McIntire vs. Anderson and Gile, a verdict was returned on Friday morning, for the plaintiff in the sum of $42.28. The defendants filed a motion to limit the plaintiff's costs.

Joel Wilson, executor of Lydia Wilson, vs. Charles Roberts. Bill in equity. Miss L. Wilson died at North Hampton in August last, and left a will drawn in 1875, making the plaintiff executor. Previous to her death, in December, 1880, Miss Wilson gave Roberts a bank book with certain directions as to drawing the money and giving it to some of her dependent relatives. Roberts paid out $300 in pursuance of these direction, and eight months afterwards, at the death of Miss Wilson, had $877.95 undisposed of. The executor claimed to administer upon this, and the defendant claimed that he was entitled to distribute it as trustee to those to whom in his opinion it should be given. Decision reserved. William H. Hackett for plaintiff; Rodney Lund of Boston for defendant.

Case No. 5 on the sessions docket, William H. Rollins, trustee of the Raynes estate, appellant, vs. the city of Portsmouth. This was an appeal from the award of the county commissioners allowing $800 as damages for the taking of land in the Raynes' ship yard for the extension of Short street to Elm street. The jury went to view the premises, shortly after the case was opened. The evidence, which mostly related to the value of the estate, was not concluded at the adjournment of the court in the evening. James W. Emery and Wm. H. Rollins for the appellant; Albert R. Hatch and Wallace Hackett, city solicitor, for the city.

POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY, Nov. 11; Batchelder, J.

Robert Harrington and Simeon Pickering, two drunks, were before the court, and both were fined.

VISIT OF THE SECRETARY OF THE NAVY.

Secretary Hunt arrived in Portsmouth on Friday and at once proceeded to the navy yard, where he was met by Commodore Beaumont and other officers, and escorted about the yard; visiting the various ships, ship-houses and other objects of interest, including Seavey's island. The yard fire department was brought out for his inspection; and shortly after, not to be behind in such matters, an actual fire occurred on Seavey's island, one of the houses being consumed. The secretary seemed much gratified at the capacity of the navy yard for work, and was evidently surprised to see such facilities for the judicious expenditure of funds if the appropriations permitted it. He left the yard shortly after four o'clock, and took the 5:20 train over the Eastern railroad for Boston. He will leave Boston Saturday evening for New York.

THE GRAYSON OPERA TROUPE.

The Grayson Opera Co. will have a large audience at Music hall next Tuesday evening, when they will sing "Patience" the "æsthetic" comic opera. This company is one of the most meritorious organizations that has visited us for many months; all who attended their performance of "The Mascot" will go to "Patience," and will advise their friends to go too. An early call for choice seats is advisable.

FIRE ON SEAVEY'S ISLAND.

The building on the eastern end of Seavey's island, formerly called the "Tom Abrams place," and known as the small-pox hospital since the island was attached to the navy yard, though no case of small-pox has ever been sent there, was destroyed by fire and water on Friday afternoon, having taken fire in the attic from a defective chimney. The house has recently been occupied by Augustus Strider, coxswain of the commodore's launch at the navy yard, no other family living near. Only a woman and little child were in the house when the fire broke out, but Hon. T. E. O. Marvin, who was sailing his yacht "Julia" to Newcastle to haul her up for the winter, saw the smoke, and beaching the boat hastened to the house, and succeeded in saving a number of articles from the upper stories, including bedding, the contents of bureau drawers, a large and costly bible, etc. Other help arriving, the lower floor was cleared of everything, even to the stove and pipe; but Mr. Strider's loss is considerable, as all the heavy furniture on the upper floors was burned.

CHANGE IN TIME-TABLE.

The steamer Fearless, plying between this city and Kittery Point via Newcastle, has made a change in her time-table, and until further notice will make three round trips each day, as follows: Leave Portsmouth at eleven o'clock A. M., and 2:30 and 4:15 P. M.; leave Kittery Point at nine o'clock A. M., and one and 3:15 P. M.

REPORT OF THE SEAMEN'S HOME.

The Seaman's Home, having been renovated, re-opened Nov. 12th under the charge of Mrs. Wingate and her son, Mr. Woodbury N. Wingate, who have had experience in this line of business.

Our old harbor cannot be said to lack commercial life, when we learn, through the courtesy of government officials, that eighty-six steamers, five barques, six brigs, 606 coasting vessels and 513 fishing vessels, making a total of 1216, have come into port during the last year, with a tonage of 181,297, and employing 9454 seaman; of these 5082 were engaged in the fishing business. In addition to these, many government vessels have been at the navy yard.

On looking back six years, to the first year of the Seaman's Home, we find on record 781 vessels with a tonage of 95,437, carrying 4819 seamen, which shows a marked increase in business.

The number of meals served during our first year was 14,286, mainly among seaman; for over six years, over 74,000, averaging more than 1000 meals a month.

In years past coasting captains sometimes complained of the want of safe anchorage for their crews. The Home removes this cause of complaint, and we cordially invite their co-operation and patronage. More than this, we ask them to find it out at No. 8 State street. The new managers feel that their interests are one with the seaman, and will extend a cordial welcome to all. The society congratulates its friends upon a new condition of things. Our home and pleasant reading room have put on a cheerful air. Books and magazines to replenish the library would be very acceptable, and thanks are returned to those who remember us in this respect. H. C. KNIGHT, Sec.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

Rev. J. Hill will preach at the Advent church on Sunday.

Rev. J. Herbert Yeoman will preach at the Pearl street church Sunday afternoon, on "What society owes to young men," and in the evening on "Naaman the Syrian,"—latter discourse illustrated.

A union meeting will be held at Bow Mission hall on Sunday afternoon at four o'clock.

Rev. James DeNormandie will preach on Sunday evening on "The moral opportunity and obligation of the lawyer."

SUMMER HOTELS BURNED.

There was a big fire at Old Orchard beach on Friday morning. It broke out about midnight, in a cottage back of the Lawrence house, and before it was subdued destroyed the Lawrence, Blanchard, Aldine, St. Cloud, Belmont and Fiske houses, and several smaller buildings. The fire was gotten under control at about two o'clock, at the Fiske house, fire engines from Saco and Biddeford having arrived. Very little was saved from the Lawrence and Blanchard houses, which were the first burned. The best furniture from the lower story of the St. Cloud, and the lower and second stories of the Aldine, was gotten out; and the Belmont and Fiske houses were pretty well cleared. The goods saved were badly damaged in the handling. The total loss is estimated at $125,000, on which there was between $60,000 and $70,000 insurance. All the hotels burned were of good size, and a number of cottages were also destroyed. The fire was incendiary.

A revival meeting will be held at Bow Mission hall this (Saturday) evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The schooner Mary Willey, Williams master, which arrived on Friday from Bangor, brought the timber for the new house to be built by Messrs. Anderson & Junkins on the Dr. Brewster lot on Islington street, for Mr. Charles E. Walker.

Lon Green, the Water street grocer, and Tom Goodwin, the Water street sportsman, went on a nutting and hunting expedition Thursday. The boys say they returned home with twelve walnuts and a bushel and a half of squirrels.—Times.

NOTICE--POISON.

PORTSMOUTH, Nov. 10th, 1881.
CHAPTER 176, SEC. 5, Gen. Laws of New Hampshire.

THE CENTURY MAGAZINE.

(SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY)

— FOR —

The Coming Year!

With the November number began the new series under the title of THE CENTURY MAGAZINE, which will be, in fact, a new, enlarged and improved "SCRIBNER." The page is somewhat longer and wider, admitting pictures of a larger size, and increasing the reading matter about Fourteen Additional Pages.

The following is a summary of the leading features of the new series for the year:

A NEW NOVEL BY MRS. BURNET (author of "That Lass o' Lowrie's, etc.), entitled "Through One Administration," a story of Washington life.

STUDIES OF THE LOUISIANA CREOLES. By Geo. W. Cable, author of "The Grandissimes," etc. A series of illustrated papers, on the traditions and romance of Creole life in Louisiana.

A NEW NOVEL BY W. D. HOWELLS (author of "A Chance Acquaintance," etc.), dealing with characteristic features of American life.

ANCIENT AND MODERN SCULPTURE. A "History of Ancient Sculpture," by Mrs. Lucy M. Mitchell, to contain the finest of engravings yet published of the masterpieces of sculpture. There will also be papers on "Living English Sculptors," and on the "Younger Sculptors of America," fully illustrated.

THE OPERA IN NEW YORK, by Richard Grant White. A popular and valuable series, to be illustrated with wonderful completeness and beauty.

ARCHITECTURE AND DECORATION IN AMERICA will be treated in a way to interest both householder and housewife: with many practical as well as beautiful illustrations from recent designs.

REPRESENTATIVE MEN AND WOMEN OF THE 19th CENTURY. Biographical sketches, accompanied by portraits, of George Eliot, Robert Browning, Rev. Frederick W. Robertson (by the late Dean Stanley) Matthew Arnold, Christini Rossetti, and Cardinal Newman, and of the younger American authors, Wm. D. Howells, Henry James, Jr., and Geo. W. Cable.

SCENES OF THACKERAY'S, HAWTHORNE'S, and GEORGE ELIOT'S NOVELS, succeeding the illustrated series on the scenes of Dickens's novels.

THE REFORM OF THE CIVIL SERVICE. Arrangements have been made for a series of able papers on this pressing political question.

POETRY AND POETS IN AMERICA. There will be studies of Longfellow, Whitier, Emerson, Lowell, and others, by E. C. Stedman.

STORIES, SKETCHES AND ESSAYS may be expected from Charles Dudley Warner, W. D. Howells, "Mark Twain," Edward Eggles on, Henry James, Jr., John Muir, Miss Gordon Cumming, "H. H.," George W. Cable, Joel Chandler Harris, A. C. Redwood, F. D. Millet, Noah Brooks, Frank R. Stockton, Constance F. Woolson, H. H. Boyesen, Albert Stickney, Washington Gladden, John Burroughs, Parke Goodwin, Tommaso Salvini, Henry King, Ernest Ingersoll, E. L. Godkin, E. R. Warbourne, and many others.

One or two papers on "The Adventures of the Tile Club," and an original Life of Berwick, the engraver, by Austin Dobson, are among other features to be later announced.

THE EDITORIAL DEPARTMENTS throughout will be usually complete, and "The World's Work" will be considerably enlarged.

The price of The Century Magazine will remain at $4 a year (35 cts. a number). The portrait (size 21x27) of the late Dr. Holland, issued just before his death, photographed from a life size drawing by Wyatt Eaton, will possess a new interest to the readers of this magazine. It is offered at $5 retail, or together with the Century Magazine for $6.50. Subscriptions are taken on by the publishers, and by booksellers and newsdealers everywhere.

THE SURGEON'S KNIFE.
Wonderful Surgical Operation--Removal of Urinary Stones from the Bladder--Successful.
Mr. Simeon Tietsell, of Saugerties, N. Y., had been treated for seven years by various physicians for what they called Stricture of the Urethra, without benefit. He finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculi or Stones in the Bladder. The doctor at once removed the foreign bodies with the knife and then gave his great Blood Specific "Favorite Remedy," to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was eminently successful, and Mr. Tietsell's recovery was rapid and perfect.
While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all kidney and bladder diseases, it is equally valuable in cases of bilious disorders, constipation of the bowels, and all the class of ills apparently incurable from the constitutions of women. Try it. Your druggist has it, and its cost is only dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N.Y. The Doctor would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine, "Favorite Remedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to office practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery.

A $6.00 REVOLVER FREE TO YOU.
WEIGHT 7½ OUNCES
THIS CUT IS 2-3 SIZE.
THE BLUE JACKET
is the most elegant Revolver in the world, as well as the most perfect and beautiful in design and finish. It is made of the very best steel. The barrel and frame is Nickel Silver-plated with Gold-plated Cylinder, ivory stock, and the whole artistically engraved and enameled, making a beautiful contrast of four different colors. The cut represents only one-third the actual size, and an inspection of it will give the best idea of the contrast of Gold, Silver, Blue and Ivory. It cannot but give a slight idea of this handsome weapon. It is about 7½ ounces in weight, and is 9 inches long. The IVORY HANDLE, ENAMELED AND ENGRAVED REVOLVER ever sold for less than $6.00, and to the most remarkable bargain we ever offered in firearms. This Revolver cannot be made to sell for twice what we are offering it for, and it will be a long time before we shall be able to offer another such bargain. We have 1,000 only, when these are sold, no more can be had except at regular prices. THE BLUE JACKET is as well known as any Revolver in the world, and the new Enoch Rodd Hip Shot exactly the same model, combining power, hold it firmly and shoot easily. It has a finely rifled barrel, and a simple safety catch holding the cylinder firmly in place, and uses the extra-long cartridge. With the BLUE JACKET you can shoot a squirrel or partridge from the tallest tree. We guarantee its shooting qualities, and if you are not perfectly satisfied with it WE WILL REFUND THE MONEY EVERY TIME. We purchased these Revolvers at less than manufacturers' cost, and we offer to give one free to any party who will take the trouble to secure three subscribers to our publication, THE HOUSEHOLD GUEST MAGAZINE. 32 pp. 4to. and will send a Revolver and the Magazine one year, and the REVOLVER FREE of all other charges. THE HOUSEHOLD GUEST MAGAZINE contains 32 quarto pages, with handsome Illustrated Engraved Cover, and is filled with choice Illustrations from all parts of the world. Stories by the best authors; Poetry; Anecdotes; Sketches; Illustrated Fashion Plates; Useful Information; Receipts; Recreations; Puzzles; Miscellaneous Reading; Sunshine; The Kitchen; Ladies' Home; The Toilet Table; The Garden; Wit, Humor, &c. It is now in its fourth year, has a large circulation, and the subscription for a single year is only 50 cts. and we always mean $1.50.
FREE TO YOU. If you will cut this advertisement out, show it to your friends, and get a club of seven to join you, and send us $4.40, with 70 cents extra to cover in part the postage, we will send you the Revolver and Magazine free for your trouble. PLEASE BEAR IN MIND that each one in the club will also get the Revolver and Magazine, and when all subscribed, the club order, we will put in a box of cartridges for each Revolver. As to responsibility, we refer to any New York Publishers or Merchants. Send money by Registered Letter or Post Office Order at our risk.

Books, Magazines, Etc.

"Country By-Ways:" by Sarah Orne Jewett. Boston; Houghton, Mifflin & Company.

This volume has some of the recently-appearing magazine sketches of the gifted lady who lives up the river. As we read her River Driftwood, for instance, we are carried back to the days when our commercial importance was felt throughout the world, when the writer's grandfather lived in Portsmouth and her father first saw light here, when the olden ships came and went, when the ancestors of the authoress owned the "Berwick" and "Pactolus," both built at South Berwick about a half century since, and the "Olive and Eliza," built in '25 and named for the wives of Ferguson & Jewett, her owners. Miss Jewett reminds us of the time when the region around Berwick cut off its timber and sent it sawed to our wharves to be shipped to the West Indies in exchange for rum, and it was not till after the towns about the head of the river had thus disposed of their lumber and finished drinking the rum it had purchased, that they began to thrive. How the reminder of the packet-skipper upon the Piscataqua brings recollections of Moses Varney.—who forty years ago named his packet for Gen. W. H. Harrison.—and the early navigators of long reach. One would suppose that Miss Jewett might have lived in their times, when Quamphegan grew rich and respectable from its commercial investments. There is much to enjoy in all Miss Jewett's writings, and in Country By-Ways there is something which must be felt to be appreciated, although we of the manor born recognize it at once. The volume is affectionately dedicated to that excellent son of Portsmouth, Dr. T. H. Jewett, whom every one liked, and whose cheerful and kindly greeting as he went upon his professional labors seemed to be half the patient he was visiting required to enable him to recover health and spirits. All of Miss Jewett's books are eagerly read in Portsmouth and vicinity, and this one doubtless, like "Deephaven," "Old Friends and New," etc., will be eagerly called for by her appreciative readers.

—What the editor said to the burglar: "What do you want here?" Said the burglar, gruffly: "Money!" "Hold on a minute," quoth the editor, "and I will help you; I've been looking for money myself for ten years, but perhaps two of us may have better luck."

ASHBURNHAM, Mass., Jan. 14, 1880.
I have been very sick over two years. They all gave me up as past cure. I tried the most skillful physicians, but they did not reach the worst part. The lungs and heart would fill up every night and distress me, and my throat was very bad. I told my children I never should die in peace until I had tried Hop Bitters. I have taken two bottles. They have helped me very much indeed, I am now well. There was a lot of sick folks here who have seen how they helped me, and they used them and are cured, and feel as thankful as I do that there is so valuable a medicine made.

The Sea of Oblivion
would long since have swallowed up Sozodont in common with so many forgotten tooth pastes and dentifrices, did the experience of a whole nation prove that it possesses signal advantages. It thoroughly cleans the teeth, dissolving and removing their impurities; it revives their fading whiteness and strengthens their relaxing hold upon their sockets; it renders colorless, ulcerated gums hard and healthy; and besides neutralizing an unsavory breath, invests it with its own fragrance.

A large seizure of sheep was made at Vanceboro, Me., Nov. 7th, by custom house officers. The sheep were about 600 in number, and were being shipped by the provincial owners from the British provinces to the states by rail. The seizure was made on the claim of undervaluation.

The Results of Necessity.
What the ancients suffered for the want of knowledge in medical science, can only be appreciated by contrasting the vast amount of suffering cured and pain alleviated in modern times, by the use of Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases. Its introduction was characterized by the necessary withdrawal of a score or more of illusive, quack nostrums, whose evil effects have left living monuments to denounce them. Thus is exemplified the proverb, necessity is the mother of invention.

Rheumatism
Neuralgia, Sprains,
Pain in the Back and Side.
There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.
This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.
Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, it never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.
The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:
Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our resort was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.
Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.
G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.
E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.
Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never-failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.
Mr. Burditt writes:
It never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.
Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
Know scores who know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.
All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

Back Ache
POSITIVELY CURED BY
Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.
Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:
First.
Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts with increased rubefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.
Second.
Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession.
Third.
Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.
Fourth.
Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.
Fifth.
Because over 5000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.
Sixth.
Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

An Only Daughter Cured of Consumption.
When death was hourly expected, all remedies having failed, and Dr. H. James was experimenting with the many herbs of Calcutta, he accidentally made a separation which cured his only child of Consumption. His child is now in this country, and enjoying the best of health. He has proved to the world no pretension can be positively and permanently cured. The doctor now gives this recipe free, only asking two three-cent stamps to pay expenses. This herb also cures Night Sweats, Nausea at the Stomach, and will break up a fresh cold in twenty-four hours. Address Dr. Coddock & Co., 1032 Race Street, Philadelphia, naming this paper.

THE
New Hampshire Gazette!
Established 1756.
The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.
It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or officered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in the "old home by the sea," it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

Naval Affairs.

The U. S. S. Trenton went out of commission Nov. 11th. The Brooklyn went into commission the same day.

The orders of Capt. L. E. Fagan as fleet marine officer of the South Atlantic squadron have been revoked, and he will not go out in the U. S. S. Brooklyn.

Last week's Army and Navy Journal has the following: "We understand that the naval advisory board stood ten to four. The minority report is signed by Chief Engineer Benj. F. Isherwood, Constructors John Lenthall, Theo. D. Wilson, and Philip Hitchborn. In view of the importance of united action, it is hoped that they may be pursuaded to withdraw their minority report, and that the secretary will reconvene the board for this purpose."

The Alliance, Commander Wadleigh commanding, arrived at New York on the 10th inst., from Hamerfest, Norway, and the adjacent northern seas, whither she went to search for the Jeannette. The Alliance reached a point within 590 geographical miles of the north pole, having been 540 miles north of the latitude in which the Hansa, of the German north pole expedition of 1869, was lost; sixty-five miles beyond the latitude in which Tyson's party left the Polaris in 1873; and forty-five miles north of the spot where, in 1874, Weyprecht and Payer abandoned the Tegethoff of the Austrian expedition.

The National Republican of Washington, D. C., says: "The corvette Juniata, third rate, which was rebuilt on the Delaware, and is now at the Brooklyn navy-yard, will be taken out of the dry dock some time next month, and will be put into commission as soon thereafter as a crew can be obtained, and it is conjectured at present that she will be sent to the South Atlantic squadron to relieve the Marion. The latter vessel, it will be recollected, was infected with yellow fever in 1879 at Montevideo, Uruguay, almost as soon as she arrived on that station, and the ship has never yet been able to get rid of the germs. The Marion, if relieved, will be sent to Portsmouth, stripped, and left to freeze out, as the Lancaster was left for five years after her return from the Brazil station."

Capt. L. E. Fagan, U. S. M. C., has been ordered to the marine barracks at Norfolk, Va.

The retirement of Rear Admiral C. R. P. Rodgers causes the following promotions: Commodore C. H. Cooper to be a rear admiral; Capt. Oscar C. Badger to be a commodore; Commander Robert L. Phythian to be a captain; and a corresponding advance of one number in the lower grades.

New Hampshire Items.

Roscoe Patch, of Wentworth, has been sent to state prison for four years and six months, for stealing cattle.

An ore crusher weighing six tons was on the 8th drawn to the Granite State mine, on Surry mountain. Two engines and other machinery are already in position. A mine has been opened half a mile north of the Granite State, which is being quietly but energetically worked, through the private enterprise of a Boston gentleman.

A singular spinal disease is raging among the cattle in Contoocook, and many horses there have the pinkeye.

Fifty thousand boxes are made at J. M. Reed's box shops, at Keene and at Westport, each month. The whole business is to be moved to Keene.

Robert H. Love, a young lad of thirteen years, broke his arm just above the wrist while playing on school grounds of the grammar district in Claremont, on Friday last.

Rev. James DeBuchananne, pastor of the Belknap church in Dover, recently resigned the pastorate. Since his resignation a searching investigation has been made by a committee of the church into certain charges prejudicial to his moral character, resulting in his endorsement in the strongest manner as being a pure-minded Christian gentleman. Mr. DeBuchananne has filed a libel for divorce from his wife, Caroline S. DeBuchananne.

They are Liable!

The doctors are all liable to be mistaken, they were in my case. It cost me $200.00, because they said I had heart disease, and then told me I must die. Grandmother said it was liver complaint and $2.00 worth of Sulphur Bitters cured me.—Jennie P——, Rockport.

At Welmington, Del., on Saturday, the 12th inst., a four year old son of John Fox was killed by a bull dog belonging to John Doran. The dog broke its chain, caught the boy by the throat, and horribly mangled him.

H. C. Dern, editor of the Altoona (Pa.) Tribune, has used St. Jacobs Oil in his family for burns, bruises, etc., and heartily recommends it as a family remedy.

Mail Agent Madden is under arrest at Des Moines, Ia., for stealing over 800 letters.

Why suffer from that cough when Adamson's Botanic Balsam will speedily and surely cure you? Children like it. Sold by all druggists and dealers at 35 cts. Trial size, 10 cts.

Mr. John Braham, leader of the orchestra at the Boston Museum, has been arranging the music for Miss Fannie Davenport's production of "Macbeth" in Philadelphia next week, when the popular actress will essay the role of Lady Macbeth for the first time.

"Rough on Rats."

The thing desired found at last. Ask druggist for Rough on Rats. It clears out rats, mice, roaches, flies, bedbugs; 15 cts. boxes.

Skinny Men.

Wells' Health Renewer. Absolute cure for nervous debility and weakness of the general functions; $1 at druggists. Depot at J. H. Thacher.

On Saturday evening, the 12th inst., a skiff ferry boat in which were nineteen persons, was swamped while crossing the river at Troy, N. Y., and eight persons were drowned, and three are missing.

There is a Balm in Gilead.

The success which has marked the introduction of Cream Balm, a catarrh remedy, prepared by Ely Bros., Owego, N. Y., is indeed marvelous. Many persons in Pittston and vicinity are using it with most satisfactory results. A lady down town is recovering the sense of smell, which she had not enjoyed for fifteen years, through the use of the Balm. She had given up her case as incurable. Mr. Barber, the druggist, has used it in his family and commends it very highly. In another column a young Tunkhannock lawyer, known to many of our readers, testifies that he was cured of partial deafness. It is certainly a very efficacious remedy.—Pittston, Pa., Gazette, Aug. 15, 1879.
Price 50 cents.

The secretary of the treasury on Saturday, the 12th inst., accepted the proposal of Pusey & Jones of Welmington, Del., for the construction of a new vessel for the revenue marine service at the contract price of $73,750. The vessel is to be of iron, and completed by the end of May, 1882.

The Dangers of the Stock Market.

A man may be incredulous enough to risk his money in the fickle mysteries of a mercurial stock market, but when he gets the itching piles, he goes straight for Dr. Swayne's Ointment. Unlike the bulls and bears of the stock exchange, who clean you out of hard earned cash, it returns your money with interest, in the way of allaying the intense itching, and insuring sweet repose.

News and Notes.

Guiteau's trial commences in Washington to-day. Colonel Corkhill, Judge Porter of New York, and Mr. Davidge of the District of Columbia, will act as prosecuting counsel.

Harry Genet, the once famous democratic politician of New York city, last week finished his term of imprisonment for complicity in the Tammany-Tweed crimes, and was released. He was escorted to his home by a large number of friends. He claims that he was innocent of crime.

Felix Munshour, for the murder of his cousin, James T. Wetzel, near Emmitsburg, on the 5th of August, 1879, was hanged at Frederick, Md., Friday.

Capt. J. K. Kidd, postmaster at Kidd Ridge, Osage county, Mo., was arrested Friday, charged with collecting illegal fees for issuing pensions. He was committed to jail in default of $2,000 bail.

Henry Jenkins was hanged at Fayetteville, W. Va., Friday, for the murder of Winfield Saunders at Nuttalsburg in May last, the supposed motive being robbery. Both were miners, and worked together. Twenty thousand spectators witnessed the execution.

Henry and James K. Miller were in court at Philadelphia, on Saturday, the 12th inst., for manufacturing counterfeit silver coin in the mountains of Lebanon county. James was held, and Henry was discharged.

The disease known as pink-eye, now prevailing among horses nearly all over the country, threatens to prove as epidemic in character as the epizootic of nine years ago, and equally as disastrous in its consequences. Since it first appeared in Baltimore, some six weeks ago, it has steadily increased, and, although many horses have by skillful and humane treatment recovered, no less than 200 have died.

Joseph Wilson, who was well known in war times as a lieutenant on the rebel cruiser Alabama, was killed on a railroad near Tallahassee, Florida, a few days ago.

A terrific explosion, which shook the foundations of the town of Aurora, Ind., occurred last Thursday night, caused by the blowing up of a still in Goff's distillery. The building took fire. William Fowler, who was sleeping in the building, was killed. Loss, $10,000.

Lou Morris, a prostitute, died at the City hospital in Louisville, Ky., Wednesday morning of last week, very suddenly. The doctors suspected foul play, and attempted to hold a post mortem examination, but were prevented by about thirty women, who drove them from the hospital. The coroner and a squad of policemen ejected the women by force and held a post mortem, which developed the fact that the woman had been beaten to death. No clue to the murder.

In Hartford, Conn., Nov. 10th, as Miss Lydia Bailey, aged eighty-six years, was kindling a fire her clothes caught from the flames and she was burned to death. She lived with her nephew, Rev. J. B. Gregg, who with his wife was absent from the house at the time.

At Housatonic, Mass., Nov. 10th, during a heavy gale, an old freight house was blown down, killing Theodore Morris and severely injuring another man.

Thos. Hacking, of Fall River, Mass., reported that $240 was stolen from his bureau on Friday afternoon. The police investigated, and searched two girls who had been visiting at his house. In a few moments Hacking's wife fell dead, and shortly afterward the money was found concealed under the bed. It is supposed that Mrs. Hacking had taken the money, and feared arrest for stealing it.

Manager Rogers of the St. Louis & San Francisco railroad has been advised that the upper house of the Council of the Choctaw Indian Nation Thursday passed the bill granting right of way through the nation to that road, and that it was approved by the chief of the nation.

Mrs. Myra Kingsbury has just been ordained in the Universalist church at Shoshasquin, Pa. She has had charge of a church in Vermont for more than a year.

Bishop Wiley tells the Methodist clergy of Cincinnati that they must not kiss women promiscuously. "For it is a dangerous business."

President Chapin, of Belfast college, Wisconsin, an ardent temperance man, says that the organization of a prohibition party in that state can only result in injury to the cause of temperance.

The loss by brush fires in the province of Ontario, during the past season, is estimated at ten to fifteen millions.

American cheese is in demand in England this season. An English paper remarks: "American cheese is coming into the market in great quantities, from 30,000 to 40,000 cheeses have been landed in Glasgow every week during the last two months. Every lot is picked up as soon as it arrives, the quality being considered fine."

Capt. Kennedy, of the White Star line steamer Germanic, has been fined £10 for carrying into dock at Liverpool, Eng., three cases of cartridges shipped at New York in spite of the prohibition, and not indicated on the bill of lading.

The British flying squadron, carrying two English princes, the sons of the prince of Wales, has arrived at Yokohama from Australia. They are in Tokio, as the guests of the Japanese government. The programme of festivities in their honor extends over seven days, and includes two banquets with the mikado.

The Boston & Northern Telephone Co. has twenty-eight subscribers in this city, and fifty-eight in Dover; and in the Exeter division, which embraces Exeter, Epping, Newmarket and South Newmarket, there are thirty-eight subscribers. Connection can also be made with all the principal cities and towns of New Hampshire and Massachusetts, including nearly fifty central telephone stations.

The Congregational church at Greenland was re-dedicated Wednesday afternoon of last week, in the presence of a large congregation. Rev. W. A. McGinley of this city preached the dedicatory sermon. The church was built in 1756, and has recently been remodelled. Rev. Edward Robie, D. D., has been the pastor over thirty years.

J. O. Davis and William Nowell, of Newmarket, went to Nottingham on a gunning excursion one day last week, and brought back fifty-three large and fat grey squirrels, two rabbits and a partridge. The editor of the Newmarket Advertiser vouches for this, as he saw the game.

The schooner Cocheco came off the marine railway at Kittery on Friday last, having had her bottom thoroughly inspected. She is now in first-class condition in all respects, and will at once be put into business by her Portland owners.

Rev. Edward A. Rand, of South Boston, has declined the call to the rectorship of Christ's church, Hyde Park, Mass., which was recently and unanimously renewed by the vestry of that parish.

Paymaster L. Goodwin Hobbs, who has been on a visit to his friends in North Berwick, Me., has returned to his duties at the Torpedo station, Newport, R. I.

Extensive repairs are being made on the Scotland and Sewall's bridge in York, turning all the travel in that section over Rice's bridge.

Capt. Melvin Dixon of Eliot recently bagged twenty-five grey squirrels in one day's shooting on Raitt's hill in that town.

George H. Simpson of the Scotland district, York, has two yoke of six-years-old cattle, one yoke weighing 3700 lbs. and the other yoke 3200. He is fattening them for the market.

A course of dances is to be started in Eliot about the 1st of December, the assemblies to be held in Nason hall.

An exhibition by the pupils of school district number one, at York village, Friday evening of last week, was attended by 400 persons. The exercises consisted of singing, declamations, dialogues, etc., and the affair was much enjoyed by the spectators. The exhibition was led by William Simpson, seventeen years old, son of Putnam Simpson, the teacher of the school taking no part in the management.

York county has paid to seven of her deputy sheriffs $893.25 for extra service in enforcing the liquor law since last April. Over $500 of this amount went to the three deputies in Biddeford and Saco, and they presented bills for a considerably larger amount which the commissioners declined to pay. The efforts of these officers to suppress the sale of intoxicating liquors have not been blessed with any very great degree of success. Not a single dollar has found its way into the county treasury as a result of their labors while over $500 have been drawn out. Two of the other four deputies who presented bills have as a result of their work brought into the county treasury over a thousand dollars in fines. It would be well for the county if we had more such faithful officers.—Biddeford Journal.

Will the Coming Woman Smoke?

In all probability "the higher education of women" will bring about one result which its advocates have never tho't of. Girl-graduates, overworked and crammed, will take to the solace of smoking. The women who are pushing their way in the professions will discover the need of it. When women begin to work they will smoke also. Gradually the cigarette will be entirely associated with the bluestocking instead of the Anonyma and her imitators. It will be useless to protest or condemn. The use of tobacco was prohibited in Russia—the knout threatened for the first offence, death for the second—yet Russian ladies are the greatest of smokers. Pope Urban VIII issued a bull against it, and our King James fought vigorously against its introduction here. In the east the priests and sultans declared smoking to be a sin against their holy religion, and yet the Turk is seldom seen without a pipe. Even the edict of society will not alarm the new generation of clever women. The actress smokes in her dressing room because she is exhausted; the authors, the artists (and we have one or two women now who can paint) will smoke in their studios for the same reason. When sensible men go to see them, they will light up together and have sociable talk. Let us console ourselves with the fact that a pretty woman who smokes because she likes it looks well. Doubtless there will come a day when Worth will always add to his dresses a dainty little tobacco pouch or cigarette-pocket. And we may be sure, when fashion has once got a word to say in its favor, smoking will no longer be improper.—London World.

—A woman who dressed herself in men's clothes and went into the army during the war, so that she could be with her husband, and who was wounded in the service, has just received $600 in pension arrears at St. Louis.

—She was tall, thin, with false curls and a sour visage. Beside her sat her husband—a little, meek, demure-looking man, who seemed incapable of boldness of speech or action. Presently a guest at the other end of the table bawled out at the top of his voice: "Waiter! fetch the vinegar cruet." Then the demure-looking little man turned to her and said: "Dovey, somebody wants you."

FELLOWS' Compound SYRUP OF HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

A REALLY RELIABLE REMEDY FOR WASTING AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

After numerous experiments Mr. Fellows succeeded in producing this combination of Hypophosphites, which has not only restored him to health, but has since been found so successful in the treatment of disease emanating from loss of nerve power, and consequently muscular relaxation, viz:

Aphonia (loss of voice), Anæmia, Chronic Diarrhœa, Dyspepsia, Fever and Ague, Leucorrhœa, Malaria, Neuralgia, Nervous Debility, Whooping Cough, Congestion of the Lungs, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Mental Depression, Nervousness.

MALARIA.

Persons living in Malarious districts may protect themselves from attacks of fever by the use of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites. Its effects in toning up the system enables us to ward off contagious disorders, and successfully combat diseases.

The soluble phosphites and the other life-sustaining principles composing Fellows' Hypophosphites are so carefully proportioned and so judiciously mingled, that their action upon the nerves, muscles and membranes in imparting vitality, strength and healthy action is generally apparent within twenty four hours, and the good effects experienced are of a permanent character.

A regular meeting of the directors of the New Hampshire Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals was held on the 7th inst.

A vote of thanks was tendered to Mrs. E. B. Goodall for her efforts in conducting the successful concert lately given under her direction.

The report of the agent in Manchester was read, and the details of a case of cruelty in Plymouth were given, in which a horse was whipped to death. It was voted that prosecution be immediately begun in this case.

The president made a report for the delegates in attendance at the recent meeting in Boston of the American Humane Association, and also of his investigation of a case of cruelty to a horse in Eliot, Me., whose tongue had been pulled out. A letter from the president of the Maine society in reference to this case was then read. The president reported investigation by him of other cases, at Exeter and elsewhere, and made report of action for the relief of sundry animals in this city.

A committee was appointed to prepare the annual pamphlet of the society.

Mrs. Pickering reported a gift of $50 to the permanent fund.

The directors elected Miss Hope Goodwin a director, and Mrs. B. B. Tobey a life member of the society.

A vote of thanks for a gift of money was passed to Mrs. Admiral Murray of Washington, D. C.

The following is a summary of work done since the last monthly report:

Two prosecutions have been settled by payment of fines and costs; 150 cases of cruelty to horses have been investigated, and twelve cases of cruelty to other animals; two dog-fights and one cock-fight have been stopped; and four horses, unfit for work, have been killed.

SUPREME COURT.

SATURDAY, Nov. 12th; Smith, J.

In case Rollins, appellant, vs. the city of Portsmouth, the closing arguments were made by City Solicitor Wallace Hackett on behalf of the city, and by James W. Emery, Esq., for the trustee of the Raynes estate. The case was given to the jury shortly before one o'clock in the afternoon, and a sealed verdict was returned; the finding of the jury will be announced at the coming in of the court Monday morning.

A HIGH COMPLIMENT.

The Pacific Mail steamer Acapulco, Capt. Shackford, is one of the most "ship-shape" vessels sailing out of the port. Kept in admirable order throughout, she looks like a man-of-war alow and aloft. Her captain takes especial pains with his life-boat and raft drills, and all of his life-saving appliances are in the most perfect order, while the crew are drilled regularly and very thoroughly. To a "sailor-man" a visit to this steamer is a real treat, for no matter where he may turn he sees evidences of a remarkable good disciplinarian and a superior shipmaster.—Nautical Gazette.

Capt. Shackford is a Portsmouth boy, and we may add to the above well deserved compliment that he is a gentleman, in the full sense of that term. We well remember him as a school-mate of ours in Master Harris' school thirty years ago, where he was regarded as a prince of good fellows, as well as a remarkably bright scholar. He has well earned the responsible position that he has achieved, and the Pacific Mail Steamship company is fortunate in securing the services of one who is literally a master of his business.

A LABORER DEMANDS HIS HIRE.

The Lynn (Mass.) Reporter of last week says:

Rev. A. A. Waite notified counsel for Mr. Madison, Tuesday, that, after consideration, he would not pay the bill of the latter amounting to $108, alleged to be due for services rendered. Rev. Mr Waite said he would go into court to protest against the payment of the bill, as he did not contract with the man to perform the labor alleged. Mr. Madison says he was regularly employed by Mr. Waite, and that the latter has paid him $60 out of the $168 which he has earned while in his employ. Several members of the society of Mr. Waite waited upon him for the purpose of paying the bill, but they did not carry it out.

Mr. Madison's claim we believe is for services as janitor of the "Glad Tidings" tent. A young man who filled the same position when the tent was first pitched, in this city, and who travelled with the tent for several months after Mr. Waite left Portsmouth for other fields of usefulness, on his return home told a tale very similar to Madison's, and has ever since been very much "down on" the reverend gentleman, though at first one of his most devoted worshippers.

To-morrow evening, at Music hall, one of the most amusing and pleasing comic operas produced of late years will be presented by one of the very best companies—the Grayson Opera Co. "Patience" has had a great run in the large cities, and we expect to see a big audience to-morrow evening.

Mr. N. F. Matches arrived home on Friday from Summerside, Prince Edward island, where he had spent several weeks.

Of the Nick Roberts combination, which is to appear at Music hall on Wednesday evening, the Brooklyn Eagle of Oct. 6th says:

The Nick Roberts' Colossal Clown Minstrels, European Specialities Combination and French Pantomime Troupe are playing a most successful engagement at the theatre. Long before the curtain rises, every night, the box office is closed and large numbers of people turned away, unable to obtain admission. This season, Mr. Roberts has introduced a number of new features which constitute a great improvement. The white minstrel performers, including the band, are neatly arranged in a pyramid, four rows high, in the first part, all of them dressed in clown costume. The Onofri Brothers (four) introduce their French locomotive; the famous Clipper Quartette and Frank Clifton on the double horizontal bars, are heartily encored.

Mr. Samuel Adams and wife arrived home on Saturday evening from Minneapolis, Minn., where they have been several months on a visit to their son, Mr. Joseph E. Adams, and his family. The many friends of the younger gentlemen will be pleased to learn that his health, which was seriously impaired when he left this city for the west, has very greatly improved.

Hon. Frank Jones arrived home on Sunday morning from a ten days' visit to the Canadian grain markets.

Spiller's "Rooms To Let" company will play in this city on the 28th inst.

Capt. R. B. Bradford, U. S. N., has greatly improved the front of his residence on Court street by substituting a granite curb for a discarded fence.

A government engineer was on Saturday engaged in surveying Gangway rock, in order that the contractors for its removal, who have ceased work for this year, may receive credit for the amount of stone already taken out.

The Pullman Palace Car Co.'s sleeping coach "Spartacus," running through this city over the Eastern and Maine Central railway line, has been refitted at an expense of $10,000.

There was a light fall of snow, enough to whiten the ground for a short time, Saturday forenoon; in the afternoon there was a good fall of rain.

It was reported on Saturday evening that the jury in the case Rollins, trustee of the Raynes estate, vs. the city of Portsmouth, awarded the estate $1000.

More wood was brought into this city on Saturday, over the Greenland road and from across the river, than in any one day previous this fall. Large quantities of bark are being hauled to Goodrich's tanyard from York and neighboring towns; the York county people also bring a great amount of lumber to Mason's steam mill in this city to be planed, and seem to fully appreciate the advantage of being able to haul their boards home again, all planed, the same day they bring them in.

The secretary of war has notified Collector A. F. Howard, of this port, of the approval of the application of the treasury department for the establishing of a life-saving station at Jerry's point, Newcastle.

Samuel Leveen, son of Mr. Henry Leveen of this city, left Portsmouth two years and three months ago, having an engagement with Bernheimer, Son & Co., of No. 333 Broadway, New York, said to be the heaviest importers of silk and velvet in the country. Mr. Leveen's pay at first was $4.50 per month; after four months' service his salary was raised to $10 per month, and in six months to $20; and he is now engaged as salesman at a salary of $2000 per year. The late head salesman of the firm, who recently retired after long service, had $5000 a year; but as Mr. Leveen is only twenty years old, he thinks $2000 a year pretty fair for the present.

The post-office at Newington, which was discontinued some weeks ago, has been re-established, and Miss Mary J. DeRochemont appointed to take charge.

NOTICE--POISON.

PORTSMOUTH, Nov. 10th, 1881.
CHAPTER 176, SEC. 5, Gen. Laws of New Hampshire.

If any person shall expose poison for the purpose of destroying any animals, except rats or other vermin in his own buildings, or on his potato crops, he shall be punished by a fine of fifty dollars for every such offense, or by imprisonment not exceeding six months, or both.

The above statute will be strictly enforced.

Clown MinstrelS!

FRENCH PANTOMIME TROUPE and EUROPEAN SPECIALTY CO.

THREE separate entertainments combined in one. Silver Cornet Band and Opera Orchestra. The most amazing presentation of gorgeous novelty ever seen on the American Stage. White Clown Faces in the Minstrel First Part, Three rows high. Everything New, Original, Novel, Grand and Immense. A Downright Revelation in Minstrel and Pantomime History. A gigantic enterprise conceived and carried to triumphant completion solely by the one and only Nick Roberts. Nothing old, stale, or frayed, but a bewildering succession of magnificent novelties, striking witticisms, startling acrobatic and gymnastic specialities, with grand variety olio. New pantomime tricks beyond anything hitherto attempted. Notwithstanding the monster proportions of this entertainment, and the marvelous character of the attractions, no rise in prices will be made. Box sheet open 5 days in advance. Look out for Grand Street Parade. No imitation, but origination, without limitation. Prices as usual.

"The Children's Magazine of America."

This illustrated magazine for young folks has now attained a circulation larger, probably, than that of any other monthly magazine of its class. It has been called "a marvel of perfection, both as regards its literary excellence and its artistic merit." It was the first to give to boys and girls the very best illustrations that could be had, and has earned the name of

"The Children's Art Magazine."

The greatest living writers of Europe and America are among its

DISTINGUISHED CONTRIBUTORS.

What England Says of It.

London Daily News: "We wish we could point out its equal in our own periodical literature."

The Spectator: "It is the best of all children's magazines."

Literary World: "There is no magazine for the young that can be said to equal it."

Brilliant Features!

OF THE COMING YEAR.

The ninth volume, which begins with the November, 1881, number, will contain a new

SERIAL STORY,

By MRS. MARY MAPES DODGE, editor of St. Nicholas, author of "Hans Brinker, or the Silver Skates," etc., etc. A second serial story, full of lively incident,

"The Hoosier School-Boy,"

By EDWARD EGGLESTON, author of "The Hoosier Schoolmaster," etc. A single article of universal interest,

"How Children Should Learn Music,"

By RICHARD WAGNER, the eminent composer. Two other serials, one dealing with campaign life in the late war, and the other with Girl and Boy Life in the 18th century. Plays for Home and School, Embroidery for Girls, Amateur Newspapers, Illustrated Practical and Descriptive Papers, Articles on Sports, and the "Treasure-box of Literature will be among the features of this great volume. An immense edition will be printed of the

THE CENTURY MAGAZINE.

(SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY)

— FOR —

The Coming Year!

With the November number began the new series under the title of THE CENTURY MAGAZINE, which will be, in fact, a new, enlarged and improved "SCRIBNER." The page is somewhat longer and wider, admitting pictures of a larger size, and increasing the reading matter about Fourteen Additional Pages.

The following is a summary of the leading features of the new series for the year:

A NEW NOVEL BY MRS. BURNET (author of "That Lass o' Lowrie's, etc.), entitled "Through One Administration," a story of Washington life.

STUDIES OF THE LOUISIANA CREOLES. By Geo. W. Cable, author of "The Grandissimes," etc. A series of illustrated papers, on the traditions and romance of Creole life in Louisiana.

A NEW NOVEL BY W. D. HOWELLS (author of "A Chance Acquaintance," etc.), dealing with characteristic features of American life.

ANCIENT AND MODERN SCULPTURE. A "History of Ancient Sculpture," by Mrs. Lucy M. Mitchell, to contain the finest series of engravings yet published of the masterpieces of sculpture. There will also be papers on "Living English Sculptors," and on the "Younger Sculptors of America," fully illustrated.

THE OPERA IN NEW YORK, by Richard Grant White. A popular and valuable series, to be illustrated with wonderful compactness and beauty.

ARCHITECTURE AND DECORATION IN AMERICA will be treated in a way to interest both householder and housewife: with many practical as well as beautiful illustrations from recent designs.

REPRESENTATIVE MEN AND WOMEN OF THE 19th CENTURY. Biographical sketches, accompanied by portraits, of George Eliot, Robert Browning, Rev. Frederick W. Robertson (by the late Dean Stanley) Matthew Arnold, Christini Rossetti, and Cardinal Newman, and of the younger American authors, Wm. D. Howells, Henry James, Jr., and Geo. W. Cable.

SCENES OF THACKERAY'S, HAWTHORNE'S, and GEORGE ELIOT'S NOVELS, succeeding the illustrated series on the scenes of Dickens's novels.

THE REFORM OF THE CIVIL SERVICE. Arrangements have been made for a series of able papers on this pressing political question.

POETRY AND POETS IN AMERICA. There will be studies of Longfellow, Whittier, Emerson, Lowell, and others, by E. C. Stedman.

STORIES, SKETCHES AND ESSAYS may be expected from Charles Dudley Warner, W. D. Howells, "Mark Twain," Edward Eggles on, Henry James, Jr., John Muir, Miss Gordon Cummings, "H. H.," George W. Cable, Joel Chandler Harris, A. C. Redwood, F. D. Millet, Noah Brooks, Frank R. Stockton, Constance F. Woolson, H. H. Boyesen, Albert Rhodes, Wm. O. Washington Gladden, John Burroughs, Parke Goodwin, Tommaso Salvini, Henry King, Ernest Ingersoll, E. L. Godkin, E. S. Washburne, and many others.

One or two papers on "The Adventures of the Tile Club," and an original Life of Kirchwick, the engraver, by Austin Dobson, are among other features to be later announced.

THE EDITORIAL DEPARTMENTS throughout will be usually complete, and "The World's Work" will be considerably enlarged.

The price of The Century Magazine will remain at $4 a year (35 cts. a number). The portrait (size 21x27) of the late Dr. Holland, issued just before his death, photographed from a life size drawing by Wyatt Eaton, will possess a new interest to the readers of this magazine. It is offered at $5 retail, or together with the Century Magazine for $6.50. Subscriptions are taken by the publishers, and by booksellers and newsdealers everywhere.

THE SURGEON'S KNIFE.

Mr. Simeon Tietsell, of Saugerties, N. Y., had been treated for seven years by various physicians for what they called Stricture of the Urethra, without benefit. He finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculi or Stones in the Bladder. The doctor at once removed the foreign bodies with the knife and then gave his great Blood Specific, "Favorite Remedy," to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was entirely successful, and Mr. Tietsell's recovery was rapid and perfect.

While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all kidney and bladder diseases, it is equally valuable in cases of bilious disorders, constipation of the bowels, and all the cases of ills apparently inseparable from the constitutions of women. Try it. Your druggist has it, and its cost is only dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. The Doctor would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine, "Favorite Remedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to office practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery.

Books, Magazines, Etc.

"Home Ballads: by Bayard Taylor." Boston; Houghton, Mifflin & Co.

The contents are the Quaker Widow, the Holly Tree, John Reid, Jane Reid, and the Old Pennsylvania Farmer. The engravings in this beautiful work have been made by W. B. Colason and G. E. L. Andrews of Boston, W. J. Linton of New Haven, Henry Gray and E. Heinman of New York, from the ideals of artists like F. S. Church and others. It is one of the most elegantly-produced volumes that has been sent from the Riverside Press for many a day, and its illustrations so faithfully portray the poet's description that we linger over it as if we were enjoying the scent of the pure air amid the farm scenes of which the "home ballads" are sung.

"Around the Hub:" a boy's book about Boston, by S. Adams Drake, author of Old Landmarks of Boston, Nooks and Corners of the New England Coast, etc. Boston; Roberts Brothers; price $2.00, (illustrated.)

This is intended as a captivating history of early Boston, an account of its first inhabitants, the "Boston tea-party," Bunker hill, and the stirring times of 1776. Mr. Drake knows all about the once famous places in Boston, and tells the youth of to-day where the scenes of the revolutionary struggle were enacted; and not only the youth may pleasantly and profitably read his work, but the adult can find much of interest in its pages. Alas! how the old landmarks disappear,—and yet we are likely to save the Old South, the Old State House, and Christ's Church, while since our day the Hancock house, the Brattle Street Church, and the "Old Cocked Hat" in Dock square, have given place to modern structures. New England owes it to Mr. Drake that his book shall be well circulated; as it has so much of historic interest it ought to be read and remembered, as the new generation of New Englanders succeed in the places where patriotic men lived a century since.

—Gibraltar, according to the current report, is about to be sold to Spain. While we do not place implicit confidence in the truth of the story, yet the fact that it is prevalent in English diplomatic circles, and published in the leading newspapers without instant editorial contradiction, denotes that the possibility of such action is by no means so remote or absurd as was once supposed. The cession of that great stronghold would mean that England, as a great colonizing power, had ceased to exist, and that the granting of autonomy to India and the Australian colonies were events of the near future. It would also mean that England was about to put forth greater efforts to strengthen its dominion on the west as well as the east side of St. George's Channel, and that henceforth on its wise laws and progressive political system would rest its commanding influence among European commonwealths.—Kingston Freeman.

The greatest anxiety is experienced lest there should be a flaw in the title to property; yet a flaw in the title of health —a cough or cold—is disregarded. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup removes all such at once.

At Blue Mound, Ill., on Friday, the 12th inst., James T. Ward and Dr. Roswell W. Shaw, aged about sixty, quarrelled, and the difficulty ended in Ward shooting Shaw, killing him almost instantly. Ward is at liberty. Dr. Shaw was a practicing physician at Macon, Ill.,

Don't Get Discouraged!
because the doctors say you cannot live. I was troubled with dropsy, and given up to die. But after using Sulphur Bitters for three months, I am well. It is the best medicine for kidney diseases I ever saw.—Mrs. B——, Bridgeport.

Frank White of New York and George Holden of England made final arrangements on Saturday, the 12th inst., for their fight on Wednesday next for $5000 and the feather weight championship of America. The battle is to be at Long Point, where Heenan and Morrisey fought.

Mr. Patterson Meant What he Said.

I hereby testify that my boy, ten years of age, was taken sick with typhoid fever, followed by congestion of the lungs. Dr. Dyer, an eminent physician of this place, stated that he thought the boy would run down with quick consumption. A Mr. Patterson told me that Coe's Cough Balsam was curing similar cases, and advised us to purchase it. When I carried it home, my wife laughed at me, but I knew that Mr. Patterson meant just what he said, and I determined to try it. Two bottles effectually cured him, so that now he is as tough and healthy as anybody.
LYMAN DORMAN.
Huntington, Conn., Aug. 29, 1866.

John Dobler of Chicago and Charles Rowell of England met on Saturday, the 12th inst., and deposited the preliminary stake of $500 each for a twenty-six-hour walking match to take place in Chicago Nov. 25th. The match will be a go-as-you-please, for $1000 a side and gate money, after deducting expenses.

The Results of Necessity.

What the ancients suffered for the want of knowledge in medical science, can only be appreciated by contrasting the vast amount of suffering cured and pain alleviated in modern times, by the use of Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases. Its introduction was characterized by the necessary withdrawal of a score or more of illusive, quack nostrums, whose evil effects have left living monuments to denounce them. Thus is exemplified the proverb, necessity is the mother of invention.

Rheumatism
Neuralgia, Sprains,
Pain in the Back and Side.
There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.
This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.
Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, it never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.
The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:
Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our resort was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.
Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have resumed my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.
G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of Your PAIN KILLER.
E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.
Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a sure failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.
Mr. Burdilt writes:
It never fails to prevent relief in cases of rheumatism.
Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.
All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

POSITIVELY CURED
BY
Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.
Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:
First.
Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the recently discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts with increased rubefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.
Second.
Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession.
Third.
Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.
Fourth.
Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.
Fifth.
Because over 5000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.
Sixth.
Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

A $6.00 REVOLVER FREE TO YOU.
THE WORLD RENOWNED BLUE JACKET IVORY HANDLE WITH GOLD PLATED CYLINDER
ENGRAVED AND ENAMELED
WEIGHT 7½ OUNCES.
THIS CUT IS 2-3 SIZE.
THE BLUE JACKET
is the most elegant Revolver in the world, as well as the most perfect and beautiful in design and finish. It is made of the very best steel. The barrel and frame is Nickel Silver-plated, with Gold-plated Cylinder, Ivory Stock, and the whole beautifully engraved and enameled, making a beautiful contrast of four different colors. The cut represents exactly the Revolver in natural size, and as it appears before being fitted out of Gold, Silver, Blue and Ivory, it conveys but a slight idea of this handsome Revolver. It is strictly business and convenient. It is fitted with IVORY HANDLE, ENAMELED AND ENGRAVED REVOLVER ever sold for less than $6.00, and is the most remarkable bargain we ever offered our readers. This Revolver cannot be made to order for twice what we are offering it for, and it will be a long time before we shall be able to offer another such bargain. We have 1,000 only; when these are sold, no more can be had except at regular price. THE BLUE JACKET is as well known as any Revolver in the world, and the new Rankin Gold Rip Hook Cartridge for the small, enabling peaks look it firmly and steadily. Hence it is the ideal home and office Revolver. With the BLUE JACKET you can shoot a quarter of an inch from the tallest tree. We guarantee this Revolver, and if you are not perfectly satisfied with it WE WILL GIVE YOU MONEY EVERY TIME. We purchased these Revolvers at less than sixty-cents-on-the-dollar, and we can afford to give them away at the same time introduce our publication, THE HOUSEHOLD GUEST MAGAZINE.
THE HOUSEHOLD GUEST MAGAZINE is a 32-page, 48-column, 12-page illustrated Monthly, and is filled with choice illustrations, original stories, and the best of everything for the family. Stories by the best authors; Poetry; Anecdotes; Sketches; Household Receipts; Fashion Department; Art of Dressing; Patterns; Answers to Correspondents; Household Notes; The Kitchen; Ladies' Items; The Toilet Table; The Garden; Wit, Humor, etc., etc. It is up to the front rank in every respect, and its regular subscription has always been $1.50.
FREE TO YOU, if you will cut this advertisement out, show it to your friends, and get a club of seven to join you, and send us $4.00, with 70 cents extra to cover postage, we will send you the Revolver and Magazine free for your trouble. PLEASE BEAR IN MIND that each one in the club will also get the Revolver and Magazine, and when the club is made up with the club order, we will retain a lot of certificates for each Revolver. As to our reliability, we refer to any New York Publishers or Merchants. Send money by Registered Letter or Post Office Order at our risk.

THE
New Hampshire Gazette!
Established 1756.
The Gazette is published every Thursday and sent to Subscribers at the low price of $1.50 per year, paid in advance, or $2 at the end of the year.
It contains full accounts of all of importance that transpires in Portsmouth and its vicinity, and a condensed summary of news, foreign and domestic; editorials upon current topics; New Hampshire items; carefully prepared marine news, containing reports of vessels owned at this port, or offered by men from Portsmouth or its neighborhood; and is just the paper for residents desiring to be posted on all that takes place at home, while to those living in the vicinity of Portsmouth, or to former residents who retain their interest in this old home by the sea, it is the best means of keeping informed of what transpires in this city.

Advice to Lovers.

During courtship, lovers refuse to judge each other's faults justly; they delude themselves with the idea that everything wrong will be righted after marriage. For instance, a young man who is engaged finds his affianced very jealous. Whenever they meet other ladies in society, she treats him with great coolness. This chills his ardor; but he thinks, "After we are married, she will change in this particular." And he marries her to become wretched.

As a general proposition, it may be laid down that a person will not change essentially after marriage. A belief that they would has been the cause of countless unhappy marriages. They will be just about the same after as before, and, if anything, a little more likely to give way to strong natural proclivities, or peculiarities of temper.

If you would not marry a young woman, provided you believed she would continue to be as she is now without any marked change in her disposition, then you do a very perilous thing to marry her at all. The same rule, on the other hand, applies to the young men. Many and many a young girl has made shipwreck of her happiness for life by marrying a young man in the confidence that after marriage she would wield such an influence over him as to reform his wild habits. She finds her influence diminished rather than increased, after they are married, and disappointment, disagreement, and misery necessarily follow. Marry no one with whom, without any change of character, you are not satisfied.

Duck Culture.

It is often thought a bother to raise ducks; but, where they can conveniently be kept, any of the improved breeds will pay well by marketing them early, inasmuch as this class of poultry is in very good demand in early cold weather and until after New Year.

It is both economical and sensible to raise ducks. A great deal of the coarse vegetable food used in a family, with some small potatoes and a little grain, is all that will be required to keep a small flock in thrift the year through. Ducklings mature early in their lives. One would not feel the time passing before they were ready for market. For this reason they are profitable. At five or six months old they will, with ordinary care, dress ten or twelve pounds per pair, and give, besides, a nice lot of feathers, which can be sold at a fair price or be used to increase the family stock of beds and pillows.

Ducks are easily kept from the shell; after they have passed the critical period, like chicks and poults, are industrious foragers and thrive rapidly. Their keen appetite, capacious craws, and strong digestive organs enable them to assimilate any kind of coarse or refuse food. They are at home in the stubble-field, gleaning what the reaper left behind; will turn into a pasture and be contented on grass; and they are happy in a pond or brook or marsh diving in the mud, searching for animal, fish or insect food, larvæ and vegetation. They do not require an expensive domicile for their use. Being generous feeders they grow right along when once they get a start, and their predisposition to mature early is one of the best recommendations in favor of the general cultivation of ducks for table or market.—Practical Farmer.

Renew your Lease.

There are times in every one's life when energy fails and a miserable feeling comes over them, mistaken for laziness. Danger lurks in these symptoms, as they arise from diseased organs. Parker's Ginger Tonic will restore perfect activity to the stomach, liver and kidneys, purify the blood, and renew your lease of health and comfort.—Advocate.

Society Belles.

On account of its remarkably delicate and lasting fragrance society belles are loud in their praises of Floreston Cologne.

—A Syracuse maiden has promised to marry five different men. The papers refer to her as "a promising society belle."

C. O. Woodbury, Esq., of Milford, Mass., states that the application of St. Jacobs Oil cured a valuable span of white horses of a severe lameness, induced by straining the veins. This led to a personal use, and we now declare it the best—the very best—in the market. Mr. W. is with a vast majority.

Ash-Tonic;

A perfected purifyer of the system. In 1-2lb. bottles; 75 cents. For dyspepsia, the many forms of liver complaint, impure and impoverished blood, and functional derangements attendant upon debility. For symptons indicated by indigestion, loss of appetite, nausea, sick headache, sour stomach, furred tongue, drowsiness, blanched lips, sallow complexion, pain in the side or back, eruptions, depression of spirits, nervous irritability and hysteria, and for building up the system, ash-tonic is unquestionably the most prompt and energetic remedy yet devised.

—"Six Girls" is the title of the latest novel. It is expected that a sequel entitled "Our Broken Gate" will be issued soon.

ASHBURNHAM, Mass., Jan. 14, 1880.
I have been very sick over two years. They all gave me up as past cure. I tried the most skillful physicians, but they did not reach the worst part. The lungs and heart would fill up every night and distress me, and my throat was very bad. I told my children I never should die in peace until I had tried Hop Bitters. I have taken two bottles. They have helped me very much indeed, I am now well. There was a lot of sick folks here who have seen how they helped me, and they used them and are cured, and feel as thankful as I do that there is so valuable a medicine made.

The Sea of Oblivion

would long since have swallowed up Sozodont in common with so many forgotten tooth pastes and dentifrices, did the experience of a whole nation prove, that it possesses signal advantages. It thoroughly cleans the teeth, dissolving and removing their impurities; it revives their fading whiteness and strengthens their relaxing hold upon their sockets; it renders colorless, ulcerated gums hard and healthy; and besides neutralizing an unsavory breath, invests it with its own fragrance.

The Dangers of the Stock Market.

A man may be incredulous enough to risk his money in the fickle mysteries of a mercurial stock market, but when he gets the itching piles, he goes straight for Dr. Swayne's Ointment. Unlike the bulls and bears of the stock exchange, who clean you out of hard earned cash, it returns your money with interest, in the way of allaying the intense itching, and insuring sweet repose.

Guiteau's Trial.

When court was opened, Monday morning, and Guiteau brought in, Leigh Robinson, Mr. Scoville's associate in the defence, asked the government for more time, and made a strong plea; but Mr. Scoville and Guiteau both opposed the request, and Judge Cox ordered the trial to proceed.

Five jurors were secured up to one o'clock P. M., at which time the panel was exhausted, and the court adjourned.

During the session of the court Guiteau was extremely demonstrative; insisted on reading a long speech, and when stopped by the court, attempted to give it to a reporter; had several squabbles with his counsel, and conducted himself like a genuine "crank."

There was no great crush for places in the court room, but the 400 chairs were filled with a rather rough-looking set of young men, among whom were a half dozen women. The reporters' table is near the prisoner's station, and the newspaper men sincerely hope that if any pistol-bearing "crank" attempts to assassinate the assassin he will not do any wild shooting.

News and Notes.

The Massachusetts Paper company of Springfield, Mass., has failed, with liabilities of $300,000.

Mary Frances Booth, wife of Edwin Booth, died in New York on Sunday.

William Robinson of Ripley, Me., was fatally poisoned Friday night, by drinking rum which had been mixed with aconite for horse medicine. A couple of other men were made very sick, but their lives were saved.

The town of Lexington, Somerset county, Me., has 350 inhabitants, only eighty polls, and $12,000 indebtedness. The town is now supporting nearly sixty paupers, and one family has cost the town since 1833 the sum of $42,000. Another has cost for their support $11,-000.

At Winooski, Vt., Friday night, Oliver Lovely of Milton was knocked down and robbed of $20, his watch and a package of dry goods. Joseph Garrow and Edward Arnell, two of the robbers, were arrested, and the police are on the track of the third.

Mrs. George Peterson and George H. Patterson of Boston, who eloped from that city Oct. 6th, leaving behind their legal partners, were arrested in Fall River, Mass., on the 12th inst.

The schooner Carlingford and the steamer Brunswick ran into and sank each other on Lake Erie, Nov. 12th, and four men were drowned. Loss $150,000.

Ten boilers blew up in the salt works below East Saginaw, Mich., Nov. 13th, and four firemen were killed.

J. W. Young, at No. 12 Hanover street, has a job lot of men's and boy's calf and kid boots, cheap for cash. He also repairs all kinds of foot-wear, and warrants his work.

Some of the fishermen at Rockland, Me., are now engaged in trapping flounders for the New York market. The traps are made of net-work, stretched on hoops, and a fish-way, something like those constructed for weirs. The fish strike the guide, and follow it up and into the trap. It requires a large amount of gear to start with; the fish are worth from $3 to $4 per barrel in New York.

The wife of Bartholomew Cotter, of East Cambridge, Mass., while attempting to kindle a fire with kerosene on Friday, had her clothes catch fire, and before the flames could be extinguished was horribly burned about the face and body, past all recovery. She was holding one of her children in her arms, and the child also received such severe burns that it cannot live.

Reports from Kansas City, Mo., say that the Santa Fe trains were last week delayed by a snow storm for nearly thirty-six hours. It has been snowing hard in western Kansas, Colorado and New Mexico. From Larkin west to Pueblo are six to eight inches, while from Lajunta west there are from eighteen to twenty inches. The cuts were full, and a strong wind was drifting it badly. This is the heaviest snow storm in New Mexico and Colorado that the Santa Fe railroad ever encountered.

New Hampshire Items.

The Nashua Telegraph says there is no truth whatever in the allegation of the Boston Traveller that Senator Hale of Maine has "served notice" on the New Hampshire congressional delegation that they must surrender either the Boston naval office or the pension agency. The Maine delegation, at Mr. Milliken's request, have endorsed his application for the naval office, but they have not attempted any intimidation, and will not.

In the letter which Gov. Bell has written to Attorney General Tappan in relation to the contract recently entered into between the Concord and the Boston & Lowell railroads, he states that although it is in his opinion a contract which requires the approval of himself and council, yet able lawyers hold a different opinion. He further expresses the wish that the attorney general shall watch the proceedings in the case already pending in the supreme court, with a view of learning the opinion of the court at as early a day as possible; and if in the opinion of the attorney general the case is collusive and not likely to be prosecuted in good faith, that the attorney general shall institute proper proceedings to test the validity of the contract.

Some time ago a young woman named Norah Berry, an operative in one of the Dover mills, was taken very suddenly and violently ill; she shortly recovered her general health, but found herself deprived of the power of speech, from some cause which the doctors could not explain. Last Friday night her speech suddenly returned, and she can now talk as well as ever.

The wife of Alderman Maynard of Manchester was thrown from a carriage a few days ago, and her wrist broken.

A man chopping in New Hampton recently had a leg broken by a falling tree, and was obliged to crawl half a mile to reach aid cutting his way through a fence with a jackknife.

Mrs. Abbie A. Brown, widow of the late postmaster of Seabrook, has been appointed to succeed him.

SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT IN YORK.

YORK, ME., Nov. 12th.

Mr. George N. Johnson of New Hampton, N. H., closed his third successful term of school in this town last night with an exhibition of the first order. The hall was crowded, and everything passed off well. The scholars presented their teacher with an elegant edition of Whittier's Poems, and a gold pen and pencil case.

The first on the programme was a prayer by Rev. D. B. Sewall. Then followed a piece of music by the school. "The shadow on the blind," by Florence Varrell, was well read. A declamation, "Bingen on the Rhine," by Joseph N. Webber, received deserved applause. Then came a recitation, "Beware of that trap, boys," by Bernice E. Bridges; one by Etta L. Grant, "Live for something;" and "Our dead President," by Ruthie Putnam; all in fine manner, and worthy of the applause they received. Miss Lottie W. Stevens sang "Scotch Lassie Jean," and then John Dennett, Jr., gave a fine rendering of "Barbara Freitchie." Alice E. Grant followed with a recitation, "Lament for the red man;" "The New New Testament" was laid "on the upper shelf" by Miss Edith A. Lucas in fine style; and Emma J. Nowell recited the "Angels of Buena Vista" with peculiar pathos and force. The song, "God bless the little woman," by Misses Susie Thompson and Florence Varrell, was loudly applauded. "The country aunt's visit to the city" was well represented; Fannie Baker acted the part of Aunt Peabody so well that she almost seemed the veritable venerable maiden herself. Carrie E. Staples recited "A little bit of my experience," and the quarette sang "The golden wedding," the solo being well rendered by Elmer E. Staples. Mary F. Caswell's reading, "Prayer and potatoes," Elmer Staples' declamation, "Voices of the dead," and Lottie Stevens' reading of the "Legend of the organ builder," were all excellent. "The widow of Glencoe" was admirably recited by Miss Fannie Baker, and then followed "The hypochondriac" a dialogue by Willard Simpson, Albert M. Bragdon, Perley Putnam, Elmer Staples and Garrison Baker, all of whom sustained their parts well. "The sweet by-and-bye" was sung by the school, and Ruthie Putnam appeared in the "Good-night" tableau, attired for bed, to kiss her hand to the audience. The fact that everything passed off so well makes the scholars proud of their first effort, and calls out hearty congratulations from everyone.

Mr. Johnson continues in charge of the school next term, to the general satisfaction. S.

America's Monster Canon.

The big gun, warranted to throw a shot a dozen miles, which was partly cast in Reading recently, is regarded by Pennsylvanians with the pride begotten of the expectation that it will "work a revolution in gunnery." The gun will be twenty-five feet long and have a bore six inches in diameter, its charge of powder being reckoned at 130 pounds and its shot at 130 pounds. The chief peculiarity of its construction is the placing of pockets along the bore, in each of which a charge of powder is to be exploded at the proper time after the ignition of the main charge at the base of the gun. The theory of the inventor is that of "the gradual accumulation of velocity or power by a succession of charges of powder behind the projectile as it passes along the bore of the gun. The inertia of the shot is first overcome by a moderate charge of coarse-grained, slow-burning powder, and then repeated charges of burning powder are applied in succession until a greatly increased velocity "is attained." He expects to pierce a plate of solid iron two feet thick. He is either a genius and the producer of a great gun, or a fool who has melted up some 55,000 pounds of metal to prove himself one.

Heart Wounds.

It is generally supposed that wounds of the heart kill immediately, but a correspondent has sent to us a stag's heart with the left auricle practically annihilated and the upper half of the left ventricle torn completely through by a bullet, so that three fingers can be readily passed through the wound into the cavity. Notwithstanding the extent of the injury, "the stag ran about sixty yards, the first ten yards up hill." The fact is that wounds of the heart are but seldom necessarily fatal, if ever so. We know of no case of absolute instantaneous death from a wound of the heart, in any part or however extensive.

The experience on the battle-field corresponds with that of the sportsman, as given in the letter of our correspondent, who "never saw a deer shot through the heart that did not run some distance." Wounds of the apex kill comparatively slowly, in from one hour upwards; and in one case mentioned by John Bell, in which the apex was completely severed from the rest of the organ by a sword-cut, the man lived twelve hours. Indeed, out of twenty-nine collected cases of injury to the heart, only two were fatal within forty-eight hours, and in the others death resulted in periods varying from four to twenty-eight days.

Recovery may take place even when the wound is extensive, for a bullet has been found imbedded in the substance of the heart after a lapse of six years from the date of the injury, the patient having died from a disease of another organ in no way connected with the lesion. Some little time elapses before the blood wholly escapes from or fails to enter the cavities, and the walls continue to contract and propel some of it into the vessels for a much longer period than is thought to be the case.—London Lancet.

—The devil has one redeeming trait; he never gives a boarder a cold room.

—A bridge over a stream in Missouri bears the legend: "Drive over as fast as you want to, and be durned!" Everybody, therefore, drives at a walk.

—The editor of a Virginia paper was asked by a stranger if it was possible that little town kept up four newspapers; and the reply was, "No, it takes four newspapers to keep up the town."

—A fashionable journal says that white vulture feathers are used on opera hats. The vulture bill is kept by the milliner, who subsequently presents it to the husband of the woman wearing the hat.

FELLOWS'

Compound Syrup of

HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

A REALLY RELIABLE REMEDY FOR WASTING AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

After numerous experiments Mr. Fellows succeeded in producing this combination of Hypophosphites, which has not only restored him to health, but has since been found so successful in the treatment of disease emanating from loss of nerve power, and consequently muscular relaxation, viz:

Aphonia (loss of voice), Anæmia, Chronic Diarrhœa, Dyspepsia, Fever and Ague, Leucorrhœa, Malaria, Neuralgia, Nervous debility, Whooping Cough, Congestion of the Lungs, Palpitation of the Heart, Melancholy, Mental Depression, Nervousness.

MALARIA.

Persons living in Malarious districts may protect themselves from attacks of fever by the use of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites. Its effects in toning up the system enables us to ward off contagious disorders, and successfully combat disease.

The soluble phosphites and the other life-sustaining principles compoding Fellows' Hypophosphites are so carefully proportioned and so judiciously mingled, that their action upon the nerves, muscles and membranes in imparting vitality, strength and healthy action is generally apparent within twenty four hours, and the good effects experienced are of a permanent character.

SUPREME COURT.

MONDAY, Nov. 14th; Smith J.

In Rollins, trustee of Raynes estate, vs. city of Portsmouth, the verdict was announced of $1000 for the estate. The award of the county commissioners was $800.

The other cases marked for trial were then disposed of by being continued or otherwise, and the jurymen were discharged at eleven o'clock A. M.

The court spent the remainder of the day in the call of the dockets. Judge Smith will remain in town for a day or two, to close the undisposed-of business of the term.

If you enjoy excellent music, vocal and instrumental, and good acting, go to Music hall this evening and listen to the Grayson Opera Co. as they sing "Patience," the new "æsthetic" opera.

Postmaster Peirce has received from the department of state at Washington a letter informing him that the department has been notified by Stephen A. Hurlbut, United States minister to Peru, that Thomas H. Parker died in Lima, Peru, on the 2d of October last, leaving no papers nor visible property. According to the records of the navy department, deceased was a native of Portsmouth, and shipped as a seaman on board the U. S. S. Omaha at Valparaiso, Chili, Sept. 23d, 1873, and was discharged at his own request on the 11th of April, 1874, at Callao, Peru. He is described in the navy records as having "fair complexion, blue eyes and dark brown hair," and as being five feet four and one-half inches in height. His age, when he shipped in 1873, was given as being twenty-nine years, but Minister Hurlbut supposed him to be about fifty years old at the time of his death.

The twenty or more persons, on foot or in teams, who were on Monday forenoon about eleven o'clock detained for some minutes at the Vaughan street crossing by a freight train which was stopped so as to block the way, were imperatively convinced of the need of another new street somewhere, and two more lines of track from the crossing to the Creek to accommodate the freight business.

The Portsmouth Shoe Co. on Friday received from one firm of dealers an order for 250 cases of shoes—15,000 pairs. This company's factory did not shut down some days ago to repair and alter machinery, as was reported; it was the Rockingham Shoe Co.'s factory at the Creek.

Mr. John Hodgdon and wife will leave the city this morning for an extended trip through the southern and south-western states. Mr. Hodgdon has a brother who is a planter near Vicksburg, Miss., and will spend several weeks in that congenial clime.

A lady of this city, one of the excursionists to Boston last Friday, had her pocket picked of $15, while on her way down Washington street to the Eastern railroad station in that city in the evening; fortunately her return ticket was not in her pocketbook, and she was enabled to return home without the assistance of friends. Moral: spend all your money as soon as you get in Boston.

A pretty little cottage on Hancock street has been disfigured for several weeks past by a swinging sign bearing the words "Ale, wine and cigars." The matter coming to the notice of the owner of the premises, the obnoxious tenant was on Monday notified to vacate.

The "band-stand" was removed from over Gangway rock, Monday forenoon, and towed to Kittery by the steamer Mystic. It has been stored on Stover's wharf, with the rest of the gear used in the removal of the rock.

A meeting of the citizens of Newmarket was held last Friday night for the purpose of organizing a stock company for the manufacture of carriages in that town. A committee was chosen to draw up the necessary papers, and solicit subscriptions for stock. Land for the location and material for the foundation will be contributed by J. & C. P. Young.

The trustees of Faith Home wish to publicly acknowledge a donation of twenty dollars, received from Mr. C. S. Franklin of this city.

The dissatisfaction among the Lynn people at the management of the fund subscribed for Elder Waite's tabernacle, has called out from him the following card:

To the Public: I desire to state that different persons have given me money to assist me to build a tabernacle, and that each donor has received a receipt from me for the amount given. The amount so generously given has reached about $500. I have earned and put in about $1200. That my tabernacle project is not a fizzle or a fraud, and that each person who desires to bring me the receipt that I gave them for their donation can have its face value instantly. That I see no hinderance to the successful completion of my original project, if I practice what I preach. ARTHUR A. WAITE.

TOWING A BALKY HORSE.

Mr. Editor: A case mentioned in the last report of the N. H. S. P. C. A. is so strikingly illustrative of the ignorant barbarity which still exists, in spite of our boasted civilization, that the details may interest your readers, and be given in proof that the humane work for which societies for the prevention of cruelty to animals were organized in this country, is not yet accomplished.

An Eliot, Me., man, the owner of a farm and brick-yard, engaged in hauling bricks to the railroad station in that town, became angry with his horse because the animal for some cause—probably from mismanagement on the part of the driver, or an ill-fitting harness—would not haul his cart. The usual brutal expedients were resorted to, but the more the horse was beaten the more his resolute obstinacy increased, and it seemed to the people attracted to the scene that the stubborn creature would die on the spot rather than yield to the persuasive arguments of the cudgel.

At last, at the suggestion of a person even more cruel than himself, the owner of the horse adopted a plan for the stupidity and cool-blooded cruelty of which the cannibal king of Ashantee, who recently slaughtered two hundred girls for the sake of their blood to temper mortar with, ought to grant him a medal. The foolish man procured a piece of cod-line and tied it to the creature's tongue, and exerted his strength upon the line, thinking to pull the horse along in that manner. The exquisite torture of the tightening cord around such a sensitive organ caused the horse to draw violently backward, the strong man pulled vigorously in the opposite direction, and as might have been anticipated the poor creature's tongue was pulled out, lacerated and bleeding. The torn portion of the tongue was cut off close to the frenum, and it was several days before the raw and swollen stump that remained could be gotten back to its former place within the jaws of the abused horse.

About a week after the occurrence the society heard a rumor of the case, and an officer was sent immediately to investigate. His report was in accordance with the above-described facts. As the New Hampshire S. P. C. A. has no jurisdiction in Maine, information was at once sent to Mr. Thomas Quinby, president of the Biddeford & Saco S. P. C. A., who promptly sent an agent to Eliot to summon the offender to appear before the Biddeford municipal court, where he pleaded guilty and was fined accordingly.

The fact that the abused horse was lately owned by a gentleman high in official position in this city, and was used in the delivery of coal to many families in Portsmouth, makes this a case of peculiar interest to our citizens, as so many of them knew the horse by sight. The gentleman who owned the horse here was surprised and justly indignant when he heard of the abuse his once valued servant had been subjected to by the new owner. X. Z.

—It may be said that a country newspaper's subscription bills are cool but they are not collected.

—"How seldom it is," said a philosophical old lady, "that the 'flower of a family' does anything toward providing the daily bread!"

—"The mill will never grind with the water that is past," maybe, but the hand-organ grinds right along with the airs that are past a couple of hundred years.

NOTICE--POISON.

PORTSMOUTH, Nov. 10th, 1881.
CHAPTER 176, SEC. 5, Gen. Laws of New Hampshire.

If any person shall expose poison for the purpose of destroying any animals, except rats or other vermin in his own buildings, or on his potato crops, he shall be punished by a fine of fifty dollars for every such offense, or by imprisonment not exceeding six months, or both.

The above statute will be strictly enforced. THOMAS ENTWISTLE, City Marshal.

"The Children's Magazine of America."

This illustrated magazine for young folks has now attained a circulation larger, probably, than that of any other monthly magazine of its class. It has been called "a marvel of perfection, both as regards its literary excellence and its artistic merit." It was the first to give to boys and girls the very best illustrations that could be had, and has earned the name of

"The Children's Art Magazine."

The greatest living writers of Europe and America are among its

DISTINGUISHED CONTRIBUTORS.

Charles Dudley Warner, Henry W. Longfellow, John G. Whittier, H. H. Boyesen, Saxe Holm, Bret Harte, Gail Hamilton, Thomas Hughes, Harriet Prescott Spofford, Donald G. Mitchell, Louisa M. Alcott, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, Washington Gladden, George MacDonald, The Goodale Sisters, John Hay, Clarence Cook, Alfred Tennyson, Rossiter Johnson, Susan Coolidge, Edward Eggleston, Prof. R. A. Proctor, Christina G. Rossetti, Mrs. A. D. T. Whitney, Frances Hodgson Burnett, Celia Thaxter, Marion Harland, Lucy Larcom, Noah Brooks, Mrs. Oliphant, T. B. Aldrich, T. W. Higginson, Author of "Alice in Wonderland," and hundreds of others.

What England Says of It.

London Daily News: "We wish we could point out its equal in our own periodical literature."

The Spectator: "It is the best of all children's magazines."

Literary World: "There is no magazine for the young that can be said to equal it."

Brilliant Features!

THE SURGEON'S KNIFE.
Wonderful Surgical Operation--Removal of Urinary Stones from the Bladder--Successful.
Mr. Simeon Tietsell, of Saugerties, N. Y., had been treated for seven years by various physicians for what they called Stricture of the Urethra, without benefit. He finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculi or Stones in the Bladder. The doctor at once removed the foreign bodies with the knife and then gave his great Blood Specific, "Favorite Remedy," to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was eminently successful, and Mr. Tietsell's recovery was rapid and perfect.
While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all kidney and bladder disorders, constipation of the bowels, and all the class of ills apparently inseparable from the constitutions of women. Try it. Your druggist has it, and its cost is only dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. The Doctor would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine, "Favorite Remedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to office practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery.

IVORY HANDLE WITH GOLD PLATED CYLINDER
ENGRAVED ENAMELED
WEIGHT 7½ OUNCES.
THIS CUT IS 2-3 SIZE.
THE BLUE JACKET
In the most elegant Revolver in the world, as well as the most perfect and beautiful in design and finish.
It is made of the very best stock. The barrel and frame is Nickel Silver-plated, with Gold-Plated Cylinder, Ivory Stock, and the whole beautifully engraved and enameled, making a beautiful contrast of four different colors. The cut is from a photo taken only two inches the actual size, and as it is impossible to show the beautiful contrast of light Silver, Gold, Ivory and Black, we have had a cut made of this Revolver just of light Silver and Gold, which shows the finish and form very well. It is greatly beautiful beyond description. It is the first ever offered in this country, and ever since it was introduced it has been sold for less than $6.00, and in the most remarkable bargain we ever offered in firearms. This Revolver cannot be made to-day for twice what we are offering it for, and we do not know how long we shall be able to offer it at such a price. We have it on only when there are sold, no more can be had except at regular prices. THE BLUE JACKET is as well known among Sporting Men as any Revolver in the world, and the new Bonton Model by far excels any of the many imitations. It is finely and steadily. It has a finely rifled barrel, positive stop-action for holding the cylinder firmly in place, and not the cutting away of the cylinder as in other makes. We guarantee its shooting qualities, and if you are about a sportsman or marksman you will be pleased with your bargain. We guarantee its shooting qualities, and if you are not perfectly satisfied with it WE WILL REFUND THE MONEY EVERY TIME. We present this Revolver at the same time introduces our publication THE HOUSEHOLD GUEST MAGAZINE. If you will send us $3.00, and TEN CENTS EXTRA, for postage, we will mail the Magazine one year, and the REVOLVER FREE of all other charges. THE HOUSEHOLD GUEST MAGAZINE contains 32 pages, with handsome illustrated Engraved Cover, and is filled with choice illustrations from all parts of the world. Stories by the best authors; Poetry; Anecdotes; Sketches; Illustrated Fashions (from all parts of the world. Stories by the best authors); Poetry; Anecdotes; Sketches; Illustrated Fashions (from all parts of the world); Agriculture; Horticulture; Gardening; Jokes; Household Notes; The Kitchen; Ladies' Notes; The Toilet Table; The Garden; Wit, Humor, &c. It is new in its fourth year, has a large circulation, and the very low price for a yearly subscription has always been $1.50.
FREE TO YOU. If you will cut this advertisement out, show it to your friends, and get a club of seven to join you, and send us $14.00, with 70 cents extra to remit to your kind friends, we will send you the Revolver and Magazine free for your trouble. PLEASE BEAR IN MIND that each one in the club will also get the Revolver and Magazine, and when just amount $14.70 is sent with the club order, we will put in a box of cartridges for each Revolver. As to our reliability, we refer to any New York Publishers or Merchants. Send money by Registered Letter or Post Office Order at our risk.

J. S. JAMES.

A Low-Sick Clergyman.

A comical matter has just been made known in Montreal by some legal proceedings. An old retired major of the British army had four daughters who moved in good society in that city. They all entered into correspondence with a retired clergyman of London, whose mind was feeble, but who had an income of $15,000. The letters became sentimental, all round, and at length the man proposed marriage. But which of the four should he take? He had never seen any of them, and it was arranged that each should send a photograph to guide him in his choice. Now, the oldest was a widow at forty-five, and therefore the younger and prettier ones were astounded when the decision was promptly announced that their sister was to be the bride. The truth was that she had employed an artist to remove the hard lines and otherwise beautify the picture. But this trick did not help her. When she went to London and presented herself to the clergyman, he could see no likeness between her and the fraudulent portrait, and refused to marry her. He gave her $5000, however, and she went home. But she does not consider that sum a sufficient compensation, and has sued for damages.

The Mississippi and Tributaries.

A pamphlet on the Mississippi river and its tributaries gives the following statement of the mileage of the navigable portion of each of the following named rivers above its mouth: Missouri, 3,129; Mississippi, 2,191; Ohio, 1,021; Red, 986; Arkansas, 884; White, 779; Tennessee, 885; Cumberland 900; Yellowstone, 474; Ouachita, 383; Wabash, 365; Allegheny, 325; Osage, 363; Minnesota, 585; Sunflower, 271; Illinois, 270; Yazoo, 226; Black (Ark.,) 112; Green, 200; St. Francis, 180; Tallahatchie, 175; Wisconsin, 160; Deer Creek, 116; Tensas, 119; Monongahela, 210; Kentucky, 105; Bartholomew, 100; Kanawha, 94; Muskingum, 94; Chippewa, 90; Iowa, 80; Big Hatchie, 75; St. Croix, 65; Rock, 65; Black (La.,) 61; Macon, 60; Bœuf, 53; Big Horn, 50; Clinton, 50; Little Red, 49; Big Cypress and Lake, 44; Big Black, 35; Dauchitte, 33. Total number of rivers, 33; total number of miles of navigation at present, 15,710.

—The farmer who "ran rapidly through his property" wore a red shirt, and had his brindle bull behind him.

—On account of the dry, hot summer, the failure of the American corn crop is going to have a distructive effect upon the vintage of heavy wines in the south of France.

—"Tll arrest you if you don't keep quiet," said a policeman to a Little Rock man. "I'll bet you $100 you don't." The policeman nabbed him and took him to the lockup. "Always the way," he said, as the policeman locked the door; "never won a bet in my life."

—Mr. Allan, an English gentleman, who combines the writing of verse with the making of marine engines, has finished a poem of five thousand lines, entitled "A Life Pursuit," in which he embodies an account of his blockade running, and imprisonment at Washington during our late civil war.

—Mother (to her daughter, just seven years old)—"What makes you look so sad, Carrie?" Carrie (looking at her baby brother, three months old)—"I was just thinking that in about ten years from now, when I shall be entertaining company and having beaux, that brother of mine will just be old enough to bother the life out of me."

When the season for making presents comes, make some sufferer of your acquaintance a present of a bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup and note the benefit it will do him and the thanks you will receive.

—A Kentucky paper recently stated that a prominent citizen was "greatly troubled with insomnia." After the editor got out of the hospital, he decided to never again use anything but plain language in writing of his fellow townsmen.

Living Witnesses.

The hundreds of hearty, and healthy looking men, women and children, that have been rescued from beds of pain, sickness and well nigh death by Parker's Ginger Tonic are the best evidences in the world of its sterling merit and worth. You will find such in almost every community.

—A small boy testified in a justice's court that an affray took place on a Sunday. "How do you know it was Sunday?" "Because that day I had to go to the back door of the saloon to get beer instead of the front door."

Annoyance Avoided.

Gray hairs are honorable but their premature appearance is annoying. Parker's Hair Balsam prevents the annoyance by promptly restoring the youthful color.

—A man who has been running an account with a merchant told him the other day that he would not be able to pay him anything this fall, but, by way of consolation, assured him that he "didn't intend to quit trading with him."

Easily Proven.

It is easily proven that malarial fevers, constipation, torpidity of the liver and kidneys, general debility, nervousness, and neuralgic ailments yield readily to the great disease conqueror, Hop Bitters. It repairs the ravages of disease by converting the food into rich blood, and it gives new life and vigor to the aged and infirm always.

—A clergyman at Bellows Falls, Vt., recently announced before his sermon an intention of marriage, and then upset the gravity of his audience by stating as his text, "In the resurrection, therefore, when they shall rise, whose wife shall she be?"

The Results of Necessity.

What the ancients suffered for the want of knowledge in medical science, can only be appreciated by contrasting the vast amount of suffering cured and pain alleviated in modern times, by the use of Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases. Its introduction was characterized by the necessary withdrawal of a score or more of illusive, quack nostrums, whose evil effects have left living monuments to denounce them. Thus is exemplified the proverb, necessity is the mother of invention.

SWAYNES OINTMENT
SWAYNES OINTMENT. AN UNFAILING REMEDY FOR ALL SKIN DISEASES SUCH AS TETTER, ITCH, SORES, PIMPLES, ERYSIPELAS, RING WORM, BLOTCHES &c.

An elegant, economical and positive cure. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT is superior to any article in the market, sold by druggists, or send 50 cts. in 3-ct. Stamps. 3 boxes, $1.25. Address, DR. SWAYNE & SON, Phila., Pa.

Rheumatism
Neuralgia, Sprains,
Pain in the Back and Side.
There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.
This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.
Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, it never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.
The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:
Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our recent visit to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.
Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.
G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.
E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.
Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a sovereign remedy for rheumatism and bruises.
Mr. Burditt writes:
It never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.
Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.
All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

Back Ache
POSITIVELY CURED BY
Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.
Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:
First.
Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts when increased rubefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.
Second.
Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession.
Third.
Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.
Fourth.
Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.
Fifth.
Because over 5000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.
Sixth.
Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

An Only Daughter Cured of Consumption.
When death was hourly expected, all remedies having failed, and Dr. H. James was experimenting with the many herbs of Calcutta, he accidentally made a preparation which cured his only child of Consumption. His child is now in this country, and enjoying the best of health. He has proved to the world consumption can be positively and permanently cured. The doctor now gives this recipe free, only a-king two three-cent stamps to pay expenses. This herb also cures Night Sweats, Nausea at the Stomach, and all break up a fresh cold in twenty-four hours. Books, Magazines, Etc.

"The firm of Roberts Brothers, Boston, is a myth," says the Publisher's Weekly, and adds that "nobody knows the 'Brothers,'" but that almost everybody does know the working partner of the house, Mr. Thomas Niles, who was for sixteen years with Messrs. Ticknor, Reed & Fields, and afterwards a partner in Whittemore, Niles & Hall. He has a very plain and moderate sized publication place,—a single room over Estes & Lauriat's book-store. Here he receives many distinguished authors. The Weekly says: "He was the first American publisher, or almost the first, to import English editions which it could not pay to reprint. His skilful handling of books has made the reputation of several American authors. No publisher knows how to advertise so well, or likes better to have his books thoroughly cut up by the critics, especially if the book is one as to which the critical public opinion is divided. He introduced Jean Ingelow, Philip Gilbert Hamerton, Edwin Arnold and 'Ecce Homo,' to American readers, and has as choice a catalogue as any Boston publisher. He is also said to be generous to a fault in dealing with authors. He hides himself to the public under the name of Roberts Brothers, a person of that name being understood to be a silent partner, but whoever discovers him in his proper personality finds a genial and entertaining gentleman."

"The Evolutionist at Large; by Grant Allen." J. Fitzgerald & Co., No. 143 4th avenue, New York. Price fifteen cents.

If the habit of novel reading is ever to be abated, that end will only be attained by bringing within the reach of all classes of readers, especially the young, books which, while marked by all the graces of style that attract us in works of fiction, at the same time possess the higher merit of being instructive. The series of natural history studies to which Mr. Grant Allen gives the above not very descriptive title, is characterized no less by poetic insight and sympathy with nature than by scientific precision. The book is published as No. 26 of the Humboldt Library of Science, and is for sale by booksellers generally.

"The United Service" for November has, as usual, a list of contents of special interest to both arms of the national service, and far from uninteresting to the general reader. Among the articles are a paper on "The Yorktown campaign of September—October, 1781," by J. Watt De Peyster; "A reminiscence of the U. S. S. Mississippi," by Medical Director Shippen; the conclusion of "The artillery of Russia;" a continuation of "Three years on the blockade;" "The hypercritical lieutenant," and others. L. R. Hamersly & Co., Philadelphia, publishers; $5 per year; single number, fifty cents.

On the 13th inst., at Sterling, Conn., a man named Daison, who was to have been arrested next day on a charge of having set fire to a neighbor's barn, seated himself in a chair in presence of his wife and two children, put the muzzle of a gun to his head, and blew his brains out.

Discoloration of the teeth, unhealthiness of the gums, and a breath which causes repugnance, are complet ly remedied by this incomparable beautifier and antiseptic of the teeth, which is as pleasant to taste and smell as it is reliable in its action.

The house of an old man named Anson Vail, five miles from Hillsboro, Mo., was burned Saturday night, and on Sunday morning it was discovered that the old man perished in the flames. From the fact that he was supposed to have considerable money in his possession it is believed that he was robbed, murdered, and the house fired to conceal the crime.

Rescued from Death.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the city hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half a dollar. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years.

I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with diseased lungs, will be induced to take Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and be convinced that consumption can be cured. I have taken two bottles and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness." Sold by all druggists.

The Dangers of the Stock Market.

A man may be incredulous enough to risk his money in the fickle mysteries of a mercurial stock market, but when he gets the itching piles, he goes straight for Dr. Swayne's Ointment. Unlike the bulls and bears of the stock exchange, who clean you out of hard earned cash, it returns your money with interest, in the way of allaying the intense itching, and insuring sweet repose.

Guiteau's Trial.

Hon. E. B. Smith of New York, ex-assistant attorney general, was on Monday appointed assistant counsel for the government in the prosecution of Guiteau.

The trial continued on Tuesday, the court coming in at ten A. M., taking a recess from 12.30 to one o'clock P. M., and adjourning at three, which will be the court hours during the continuance of the trial.

An additional lot of jurymen, seventy-five in number, having been drawn between the adjournment on Monday and the coming in of the court on Tuesday, the selection of jurors to serve on this case was proceeded with.

Shortly after noon the panel of seventy-five talesmen was exhausted and another panel of seventy-five was ordered to be summoned. The ninth and last juror who was obtained was a colored man named Wormley, being the first colored man accepted by the defence. There was some difficulty found in maintaining order among the crowd of spectators who were present. There were no manifestations of ill will against the prisoner, except now and then a disposition to applaud the expression occasionally made by those being examined for jury duty, that they were of the decided opinion that the assassin ought to be hanged, but the applause was in every instance promptly checked by the deputy marshals.

The Editor vs. the Mechanics.

The Times of Saturday evening, in an editorial commenting on the selection of the officers comprising the Naval Advisory Board, makes personal allusion derogatory to the ability of Naval Constructors Wilson and Hichborn. It says:

A few months ago it was announced with much flourish of trumpets, that a great "Naval Board" had been organized at Washington, which was to suggest methods and make plans for the renovation of the navy, which would astonish the world. A short time afterwards it was announced, through the same channels, that a sub-committee of this wonderful board, consisting of Naval Constructors Wilson and Hichborn, had convened at this navy yard, where it proceeded to employ some six or eight naval draughtsmen for two or three months, when with its plans and specifications matured, this sub-committee reassembled with the full board at Washington, to make its final report to the secretary of the navy.

It further suggests that the secretary of the navy "was singularly unfortunate in the make-up of this 'Naval Board,'" and continues:

Was he misled purposely? It would be interesting to know what means were employed to induce him to make such a selection, when it is well known that there are on the list of naval constructors in the service those who, in addition to their theoretical knowledge of naval architecture, are practical shipbuilders, and were so for many years before entering the naval service, and are intimately acquainted with ship-building in all its phases and forms, both in the merchant marine and in the navy. Had the board been made up of this class, instead of those of little or no experience, the result would probably have been different. Barring one conspicuous name, the board as constituted and organized could hardly be expected to result in anything but an abortion.

The animus for the personal attack on Constructors Wilson and Hichborn, and on no other members of the board, is hard to discover, for it is well known that both of these gentlemen are abundantly able to cope with anything appertaining to their duties as constructors, either theoretically or practically. It is well known that they both served an apprenticeship at ship-building in their younger days, and since have studied hard to make themselves conversant with every detail needed either in the merchant marine or naval service; and it is well known that at the time Mr. Hichborn was appointed as constructor he had passed a very successful competitive examination, and was highly complimented by the members of the examining board and the secretary. Mr. Hichborn was for several years attached to this naval station, and received nothing but commendation as to his abilities as a thorough mechanic.

By the official reports, Messrs. Hichborn and Wilson are sustained in their decision by such eminent authority as Chief Engineer Isherwood and Constructor Lenthall, both of whom have been at the head of their respective departments for years,—and it may not be too much to assume that, with the great amount of experience these gentlemen have had, their judgment as to naval matters is worth something—perhaps as much as that of the editor of a country newspaper.

Mr. Wilson has the reputation of being a hard working and cautious man, and before he makes a decision studies well his points as to their advisability. He has made several important improvements in vessels, which have been adopted by the government and are now in use. We predict for these gentlemen a brilliant future as mechanics, and although they may differ in opinion in some material points from the rest of the board, we have no doubt that they acted conscientiously, and as they thought for the best interests of the navy.

News and Notes.

Ex-Secretary Windom and Ex-Attorney General MacVeagh on the 14th inst. turned over their respective departments to their successors, Judge Folger entering upon his duties as secretary of the treasury, and Solicitor General Phillips becoming acting attorney general.

The house and barn of O. S. Hicks, at White River Junction, Vt., were burned Nov. 14th, with most of their contents. Mr. Hicks and family were away from home, and this fact induced the belief that the fire was caused by an incendiary to cover up theft. Suspicion fell upon a Frenchman named Peter Levine, and on searching his premises many articles, which were identified as property stolen from Hicks' premises, were found in Levine's house. The thieving incendiary is under arrest.

The schooner Amos Walker and the brig Jeremiah were in collision off Minot's ledge light, on the evening of the 12th inst., and the schooner was sunk, the brig being abandoned. All hands reached the shore, and the brig was picked up by the fishing schooner Pearl Nelson, and towed into Provincetown. The sunken schooner is about four miles outside of Boston light, in an east-southeast direction, in the track of coasters, with her topmasts out of water.

At Richmond, Ark., Robert Hines has been arrested, charged with the murder of a fourteen-year-old boy in Brown county, Texas, ten years ago. While his trial was] in progress in Texas Hines made his escape and went to Arkansas, settling near Richmond. Being of pleasant address he soon made friends, and was regarded as a good citizen. He wooed and won a beautiful girl, and was very prosperous. His arrest on the charge of murder fell on the community like a thunder bolt, and his wife has been driven insane by the shock.

An organized attempt was made on Friday morning, the 12th inst., to burn the town of Woodstock, N. B. The torch was applied in two places. Woodstock has so often suffered from fires that the buildings are well covered by insurance.

Alice C. Jackson, twenty-eight years old, of Fall River, Mass., has been committed to the Taunton insane asylum. She went to that city from Maine a year ago, with a man named Nolan, and the two lived as man and wife. A few weeks ago Mrs. Nolan No. 1 appeared, and her husband went off with her. The Jackson girl has since given birth, prematurely, to a child, and become insane.

Saturday morning an old man named Hiram Cowles was found dead on the street at East Saginaw, Mich., his body being horribly mutilated. He drew from the bank on Thursday $1,500, but no money was found on his person. A notorious character named Jack Ryan has been arrested on suspicion. The pocket book of the murdered man was found on the person of Ryan, and he had tried to pawn his overcoat.

Theodore McGurk, who confessed while in the Erie, Pa., hospital to having murdered a man named Meade at White's dental depot in that city in 1865, was convicted of manslaughter at Philadelphia, Saturday, and sentenced to twelve years solitary confinement. He protested his innocence. This is the second trial, the first having resulted in a verdict of murder in the first degree.

The captain and thirty-eight men of the passengers and crew of the Dutch steamer, Konig der Nederland, which recently foundered in the Indian ocean, have landed at Aden. They were picked up at the Soloman's islands. The search for the remainder of the missing continues.

Naval Affairs.

The U. S. S. Ranger arrived at Acapulco on the 12th inst., and sailed the same day for Cape St. Lucas, in obedience to telegraph orders, to afford protection to the United States vice-consul at that place, who had been threatened with personal violence.

The following board of officers has been ordered to convene at the navy department for the examination of such candidates for promotion in the line as may be brought before it; Rear Admirals J. L. Worden, Charles H. Patterson, and John C. Howell, with Mr. J. C. Dulin as recorder. Also a board for the examination of pay officers for promotion, consisting of Pay Inspector Frank C. Crosby and Paymaster James Hoy.

Admiral Porter reports to the navy department regarding the recent inspection of the United States steamer Trenton, that he considers her the best specimen of a ship of war thus he has seen for some years, so far as her good order is concerned, and that her commanding officer, Capt. F. M. Ramsey, deserves recognition from the department for the fine condition of the ship. The admiral recommends a change in her battery, to put her on a footing with war vessels of her class of other nations.

The Steamship Great Eastern.

The Nautical Gazette says there are parties in New York "who are seriously contemplating the purchase of the 'Great Eastern,' with a view of altering her very materially, such as razing her so that she will draw much less water, and at the same time reduce her carrying capacity, which is considered to be too great for the present requirements of profitable trade. It is contemplated, should she be purchased, to remove all her present motive power and substitute for it a pair of compound engines, driving in its stead twin screws, which would give her an average speed of from ten to twelve knots per hour. She would be fitted as a general freighter and particularly as a cattle boat, for which she would be well adapted in her changed dimensions. It is believed that her outer bottom is in good condition, while her interior, and above the water-line, is in first-class order. The main question upon which her purchase hinges is as to whether she can be brought under an American register, so that she can fly the American flag. This question will be submitted to the treasury department in a few days; the would-be purchasers believing that the change of register can be wrought, especially as the character of the vessel is to be entirely changed. In this particular we are not so sanguine as some of the proposed purchasers are. She is a 'white elephant' in Great Britain, and would be here, unless changed as we have indicated."

A Virginia Post-office Abolished.

James A. Golder having (on the recommendation of Senator Mahone) been appointed postmaster, last August, for the small office at Shakleffords, Va., has returned his commission to the department with a statement that on account of his being a readjuster the property holders of Shakleffords have combined to prevent his securing accommodations for the postoffice; that he has therefore been unable either to rent a suitable room or to get a suitable site upon which to build, and that consequently he feels obliged to resign the appointment. Assistant Postmaster General Hatton, in view of this reported state of affairs, on the 14th inst. issued an order discontinuing the postoffice, and directing its papers and business to be transferred to West Point, Va., the nearest office in the neighboring county.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle. m w s & s 4w 482

A Dispute About a Lottery Ticket.

A special despatch from Helena, Ark., says: "Night before last (Oct. 24,) an attempt was made to assassinate Simon Silverman while on his way to this city. Five shots were fired at him from behind a tree, with no other effect but frighten the horse ridden by Silverman which threw his rider without hurting him. The cause of this attempt on Silverman's life is the legal dispute now before the New Orleans courts about the ownership of the lottery ticket which won the $15,000 prize in the Louisiana State Lottery, Silverman claiming it to be his, and a Mrs. Clark claiming that it had been purloined from her. The ticket was taken from him at the muzzle of the pistol, and he has instituted suit for the money. It is supposed that the attempt on his life was made to keep him from prosecuting the suit.—New Orleans Picayune, October 19th.

TRADE MARK. Seminal Pastille

An entirely New and positively effective Remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Seminal Emissions and Impotency by the only true way, viz., Direct Application to the principal Seat of the Disease. The use of this remedy is attended with no pain or inconvenience, and does not interfere with the ordinary pursuits of life. The mode of treatment has stood the test in very severe cases, and is now a household word in families in no sense about this preparation. Practical experience has led to the positive conclusion that it will do all that is claimed for it. It is recommended by the Medical Profession, and is a valued remedy for many of the most severe forms of sexual weakness and nervous debility. The Remedy is put up in neat boxes, of convenient size, containing about 1 month's treatment, and sent by mail, or express, when in every respect, $2. No. 2 (enough for three months, for chronic cases) $5. No. 3 (enough for six months, for the worst cases of long standing) $10. Full directions for using accompany each box. Full description of the disease, its causes and effects, with testimonials, and a valuable Medical Treatise, which will enlighten the reader on the subject of self-cure, and the dangers of quacks, sent free to any address on receipt of two stamps. SUPREME COURT.

TUESDAY, Nov. 15th; Smith, J.

In case Trustees of the Methodist Episcopal Church in Exeter vs. Casey and Robinson, the court has announced a decision dissolving the temporary injunction, and disallowing the injunction prayed for in the complainant's bill. Towle for society; Eastman for defts.

In case Matilda Perry of Deerfield vs. Geo. W. Goodrich of Nottingham, action to recover damages for an alleged libel charging plaintiff with inflicting a severe chastisement upon a child, and published as a communication in the Newmarket Advertiser, and which the defendant seeks to justify by his plea, the action was in order for trial this week. The defendant appeared with a large number of witnesses, prepared to try the case, but the plaintiff's counsel declined to try for the reason of the alleged sickness of his client, and the case was stricken from the jury list. Bartlett and Frink for the plaintiff; Marston (Sulloway with him) for the deft.

The court was engaged in hearing equity cases in chambers.

THE GRAYSON OPERA TROUPE.

As was expected, the audience which greeted this company on Tuesday evening, when the comic opera of "Patience" was presented, was a large and cultivated one, able to appreciate and enjoy the excellent music furnished by the company. A superior entertainment was looked for, and none were disappointed; the many good things offered were acknowledged by liberal applause, the intervals between the laughs were brief, and there were a number of persistent encores. If any company more deserving of patronage than this one comes here this season, our music lovers will have a rich treat indeed.

PORTSMOUTH BREWING COMPANY.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Portsmouth Brewing company, held Nov. 15th, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, Arthur Harris of New York city;

Vice President, W. H. Palmer, Portsmouth;

Directors, Arthur Harris, New York; Timothy Twigg, Chas. Mullin, Portland, Me.; John Conlon, George Scott, W. H. Palmer, Wm. C. Robinson, Portsmouth;

Treasurer, John Conlon;

Clerk, Wm. C. Robinson.

An exchange says that Nick Roberts has always had the reputation of managing first class companies, and for this reason, much is expected of the Clown Minstrel and Humpty Dumpty combination which will be at Music hall this evening. The Humpty Dumpty part will not be long, but what there is of it will be of the best. The clown minstrels are well received wherever they appear.

The drama "Lazare, or a life's mistake," will be presented in the Franklin theatre on Thanksgiving eve, Nov. 23d, by the Kaufman Dramatic Co., which the Albany (N. Y.) Journal says "is one of the best-balanced companies we have heard for some time." On Thanksgiving day there will be a grand walking match in Franklin hall, the particulars of which will be announced later.

The Litta Grand Concert Co. will give an entertainment in Music hall on the evening of Thanksgiving day, Nov. 24th.

Miss Selma Borg, the talented Finnish lady whose lectures here last season were so much enjoyed by those who heard them, is to deliver her new lecture, on Russia, in this city next week. In view of the general interest recent events have excited in all matters relative to that country, this lady's experience and thorough familiarity with all matters relating to Russia ought to insure her a large audience. Due announcement will be made of the place and date of the lecture.

J. C. Myers, a veteran theatrical manager, who will he remembered by many of our readers as having been in this city a few years since with Dollie Bidwell in "East Lynne," died a few days ago in Connecticut.

The Times of Tuesday evening says: "Parties were in town to-day, in consultation with Portsmouth capitalists at the mayor's office, looking toward the establishment of rolling mills in this city. The parties propose to commence working the Franconia Iron Works, and have their rolling mills here. We understand that another meeting of these gentlemen and citizens is to be held at the Rockingham house this evening."

The schooner Mary J. Adams, of this port, Fitzgerald master, arrived at Vineyard Haven on Sunday from St. John, N. B., bound to Newcastle, Del. She had met with rough weather, and lost part of her deckload.

The city marshal's office has been connected with the telephone exchange, and will be with the city teamster's quarters under the court house. At night, when the exchange closes, a general connection will be made with the marshal's office, so that in case of fire it can be reported to the officers and the teamsters called, without delay.

Commodore John C. Beaumont having gone to Washington to pass his examination for promotion to the grade of rear admiral, Capt. Young is acting commandant of this navy yard.

Civil Engineer Henry S. Craven is absent from the navy yard on a week's leave.

The navy yard ferry steamer Emerald is again hauled up at the yard, in order to have her regular annual overhauling completed, it not having been finished at the time of the visit of Secretary Hunt, for the accommodation of whom the boat was floated sooner than she otherwise would have been. The steam launch is running in her place.

The Army and Navy Register says: "The secretary of the navy some time ago offered the command of the Portsmouth, N. H., navy yard to Commodore C. H. Wells, who will probably be detailed to that duty when Commodore Beaumont is promoted to the grade of rear-admiral."

Addison G. Roland, of Cape Neddick, had his left thigh broken by the falling upon him of a heavy stone, while assisting in unloading a vessel at a wharf in Boston on Monday. He was taken to the city hospital.

A barn in Kennebunk, owned by the Ocean national bank, and occupied as a store-house by the Mousam Manufacturing company, was burned on the night of the 13th inst. Loss $1500; no insurance.

A building in Biddeford, occupied on the lower floor by Tracey Hewes as a harness shop, and in the second story by a photograph saloon and law office, was damaged to the extent of $800 on building and contents, Sunday night, by fire and water. Insured.

New Hampshire Items.

Burgess Y. Davis' barn, wagon and cow, and about ten tons of hay, were burned in Plymouth, Friday night.

The new steam bobbin mill at East Campton, owned by M. C. Cole, caught fire from the engine on Friday night, and was totally destroyed. The fire also communicated to the house and barn adjoining, and all were destroyed, with the greater part of their contents. The estimated loss is $2500; insurance $500.

—A fashionable journal says that white vulture feathers are used on opera hats. The vulture bill is kept by the milliner, who subsequently presents it to the husband of the woman wearing the hat.

Clown Minstrels!

FRENCH PANTOMIME TROUPE and EUROPEAN SPECIALTY CO.

THREE separate entertainments combined in one. Silver Cornet Band and Opera Orchestra. The most amazing presentation of gorgeous novelty ever seen on the American Stage. White Clown Faces in the Minstrel First Part, Three rows high. Everything New, Original, Novel, Grand and Immense. A Downright Revelation in Minstrel and Pantomime History. A gigantic enterprise conceived and carried to triumphant completion solely by the only Nick Roberts. Nothing old, stale, or frayed, but a bewildering succession of magnificent novelties, striking witticisms, startling acrobatic and gymnastic specialties, with grand variety olio. New pantomime tricks beyond anything hitherto attempted. Notwithstanding the monster proportions of this entertainment, and the marvelous character of the attractions, no rise in prices will be made. Box sheet open 5 days in advance. Look out for Grand Street Parade. No Imitation, but original, without limitation. Prices as usual.

To the Ladies.

HAVING decided to suspend my business (Dress-making) until next Spring, I have purchased the exclusive agency for Dr. Lincyan's

Cleansing and Renovating

FLUID, for renovating Silks, Ribbons, Lace, Velvets, Kid Gloves; and for removing grease and soil; also renovating Garments, Carpets, Furniture, etc.; by this Fluid the NICEST LACES can be cleansed without injury, or losing the dressing; Grease Spots or Machine Oil can be removed from the most delicate shades of silk or wool goods without changing the shade; and it leaves no outline where applied. I shall keep it on hand constantly and shall be pleased to show any lady who may favor me with a call, what it will do, at my residence.

THE SURGEON'S KNIFE.

Mr. Simeon Tietsell, of Saugerties, N. Y., had been treated for seven years by various physicians for what they called Stricture of the Urethra, without benefit. He finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculi or Stones in the Bladder. The doctor at once removed the foreign bodies with the knife and then gave his great Blood Specific, "Favorite Remedy," to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was eminently successful, and Mr. Tietsell's recovery was rapid and perfect.

While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all kidney and bladder diseases, it is equally valuable in cases of bilious disorders, constipation of the bowels, and all the class of ills apparently inseparable from the constitutions of women. Try it. Your druggist has it, and the cost is only dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. The Doctor would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine, "Favorite Remedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to office practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery.

"Reports of Patent Causes decided in the Circuit Courts of the United States since Jan. 1, 1874: by Herbert A. Banning and Henry Arden, of the New York bar;" Vol. 1. New York; L. K. Strouse & Co., publishers, No. 95 Nassau street; price $10.00 per volume.

These reports will contain the decisions of the Circuit Courts in patent cases from Jan. 1, 1874, (up to which time such decisions were reported in Fishers' Patent Cases,) and the reports will appear from time to time as cases are reported sufficiently in number to make a new volume.

To any one not familiar with the subject the number of patents issued weekly seems incredible. Already the United States Patent office has reached its 250,000 in the number of its letters patent. The enlarged use of patented articles, and the consequent increased litigation arising from the relative claims of inventors and manufacturers, has established a branch of law the practice of which has in a great degree been adopted by specialists, the general practitioner not including to devote the labor and research required of him, to be able to master a single case.

But the more frequent occasion for knowledge has compelled lawyers resident in localities where manufacturers live, and at distances from large legal centres, to become to some extent familiar with the general principles which govern in patent cases, and with the decision of the courts regarding questions so frequently arising in industrial communities. The reports enable the general practitioner to ascertain from the opinions of the judges of each circuit in the United States the decisions upon all important patent questions. The collation and editing of these opinions, derived from so many sources, is a work demanding no small degree of responsibility. The subject of the legal controversies is oftentimes of immense consequence, and the result in cases is obtained in most instances only after expensive and exhaustive litigation. In very many cases reported in this volume are decisions upon claims similar to those made by the same party plaintiff upon individuals and corporations in this state. The number of patent causes before the Circuit Court of the New Hampshire district was never greater than it is to-day, and the lawyer who wishes to retain the business of his clients in every particular must be, to some degree at least, familiar with patent law, or the most remunerative and perhaps important service of his clients may go from his office, perhaps never to return.

"Banning and Arden's Patent Cases" makes a volume of seven hundred pages, including a well-arranged index and table of cases cited, and to the lawyer who seeks to be informed in this branch of the law, the demands of which upon him are likely to increase with practice, it would seem that this work must be indispensable.

Sold by law-book sellers generally.

They are Liable!

The doctors are all liable to be mistaken, they were in my case. It cost me $200.00, because they said I had heart disease, and then told me I must die. Grandmother said it was liver complaint and $2.00 worth of Sulphur Bitters cured me.—Jennie P——, Rockport.

Lieut. Comdr. Richard P. Leary has been ordered to the Vandalia as executive officer.

The Results of Necessity.

What the ancients suffered for the want of knowledge in medical science, can only be appreciated by contrasting the vast amount of suffering cured and pain alleviated in modern times, by the use of Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases. Its introduction was characterized by the necessary withdrawal of a score or more of illusive, quack nostrums, whose evil effects have left living monuments to denounce them. Thus is exemplified the proverb, necessity is the mother of invention.

Symptoms are moisture, like perspiration, very troublesome at night; seems as if pin-worms were crawling about the rectum; intense itching when first affected. An elegant, economical and positive cure. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT is superior to any article in the market. Sold by druggists, or send 60 cts. in 2-c. Stamps 3 boxes, $1.25. Address, Dr. SWAYNE & Son, Phila., Pa.

Rheumatism
Neuralgia, Sprains,
Pain in the Back and Side.
There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.
This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.
Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, It never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.
The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:
Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our recent visit to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.
Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent cramps of the stomach. The doctor at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.
G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.
E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.
Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never-failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.
Mr. Burditt writes:
It never fails to relieve in cases of rheumatism.
Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.
All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

Back Ache
POSITIVELY CURED BY
Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.
Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:
First.
Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable condiment, which acts with increased rubefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.
Second.
Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession.
Third.
Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.
Fourth.
Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.
Fifth.
Because over 2000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.
Sixth.
Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

Actual and Appraised Values.

The Concord Monitor not long ago published a table, which suggests, to say the least, some gross inequalities in the appraisement of property for purposes of taxation in this state. The table is the fruit of a good deal of work and expense by the railroad corporations, which claimed that their property was assessed much higher in proportion to its actual value than other property in the towns through which their lines run. In order to show this they obtained from the registers of deeds an account of all the sales of real estate in New Hampshire, from April 1st, 1880, to August 1st, 1881, including the price paid for each piece. They then went to the town and city books and found what the same property was appraised by the assessors and selectmen in April, 1881.

During the period named, sixteen months, there were 10,318 conveyances recorded in the state; but a large share of these were quit claims, gift deeds, exchanges and others, in which the real value did not appear; many others were of property which was not taxed separately; but when these had all been weeded out there remained 3,482 deeds that gave the actual market value of property as agreed upon by the buyer and seller, with which the appraised value upon which taxes were assessed last April can be compared. The result in Rockingham county is as follows, the first column of figures giving the amount of the sales; the second, the selectmen's or assessors' appraisal of the same property; and the third, the per cent of the appraisal to the actual value:

Towns	Am't of sales.	Valuation.	Per cent.
Atkinson	$ 7,352	$ 6,650	85.5

Sandown	300	300	60.
Seabrook	3,000	2,548	75.7
South Hampton	3,760	2,830	75.
South Newmarket	4,920	2,413	48.8
Stratham	8,350	3,250	67.
Windham	13,862	10,740	77.4

Of course the sales represented are not a fair representation of the value of property in a growing town or city, as compared with the appraisal; but, as a whole, we have no doubt the showing made is substantially correct; that is, that in some towns real estate is appraised at its full actual value, and in others at not more than half such value,—that is, the price at which the holder would be willing to sell and a buyer to give. The average per cent in the whole state appears from the Monitor table to be seventy-seven, which is probably high enough, as property would not bring more than that at a forced sale; but there is neither sense nor justice in taxing property at its full value in some towns, and at half its value in others.

Mr. G. M. Sharp, Camp Hill, Pa., says that St. Jacobs Oil is indispensable for all rheumatic complaints; in fact, it has given the highest satisfaction to all who have used it.

A severe shock of earthquake was felt at noon on the 15th inst. in the city of San Francisco. The oscillations were from north to south. A heavy rain storm prevailed at the time of the shock. It was severe enough to upset a pile of sacked wheat at the railroad depot, and caused great excitement.

Renew your Lease.

There are times in every one's life when energy fails and a miserable feeling comes over them, mistaken for laziness. Danger lurks in these symptoms, as they arise from diseased organs. Parker's Ginger Tonic will restore perfect activity to the stomach, liver and kidneys, purify the blood, and renew your lease of health and comfort.—Advocate.

Guiteau's Trial.

The jury in Guiteau's case was completed on Wednesday, the 16th inst., at 12:37 o'clock P. M., and a recess was then taken. On resuming the jury was sworn in a body, and an adjournment was then taken to next day.

The jury consists of the following members, all of whom have sworn that their minds are free from bias that they cannot bring to an impartial verdict on the evidence: John P. Hoffman, restaurant keeper; Frederick W. Brandenburg, cigar maker; Charles G. Stewart, flour and feed dealer; Henry J. Bright, retired from business; Thomas H. Langley, grocer; Michael Sheridan, occupation not specified; Samuel F. Hobbs; plasterer; G. W. Gates, merchant, Ralph Wormley, a colored man, plasterer; Wm. H. Brawner, a grocer; Thomas Heinlein, iron worker; and Joseph Prather, commission merchant.

The Railroad Consolidation Matter.

The following is Gov. Bell's letter to Attorney General Tappan, concerning the consolidation of the Boston & Lowell and Concord railroads:

MY DEAR SIR: Your opinion agrees with my own respecting the illegality of the action of the Concord railroad corporation under its contract of Aug. 19, 1881, with the Boston and Lowell railroad corporations which never received the signature of the governor and council; but it is not to be forgotten that a different opinion is maintained by lawyers of standing, and I learn that the chief justice of this state, upon hearing of the question, did not see fit to decide it at once; yet holding the opinion which I do, I think it my official duty to see that the question is passed upon by our high legal tribunal in order that the law, if it has been violated, may be vindicated. A suit is now pending in the supreme court in which, I understand, the precise question under consideration is involved, and may be expected to be determined at as early a day as any proceeding instituted on the part of the state could be. I desire you, therefore, to watch the progress of that suit with the view to learn the opinion of the court as soon as it shall be pronounced. Should it appear to you, however, that the suit is collusive or in any way fails to promise a speedy decision of the question, I direct you forthwith to commence proper proceedings in behalf of the state against the Concord railroad corporation, so that the question of the legality of its action with reference to the contract aforesaid, may be settled by the court at the earliest day possible. It is my determination that the laws of the state, so far as their enforcement depends upon me, shall be respected and obeyed alike by all, whether corporation or individual.

Yours, truly yours,

CHARLES H. BELL.

News and Notes.

The committee to inquire into the charges of misconduct by members of the Ninth Massachusetts regiment while on their way to Yorktown, Va., has reported. The committee finds a portion of the troops did behave most scandalously in Richmond, Va., but there was no real ground of complaint in other places. As to the conduct of the regiment on the commission could not discern.

The Newburyport Herald of the 16th inst. says some of the vessels fishing out of that port have discarded the fishing tackle and are now using the dredge. Some of them will great success, especially those equipped with steam pots. Some of the vessels have made a few days' trips, and had their hold full at each time. The dredge is a square of the engineer corps of the army.

Election returns now in from nearly all the counties in Nebraska show that the democrats have elected their ticket in several counties. The farmers' alliance carried three and elected its ticket in five, and one or more officers in several other counties. There was large vote polled, and the contest was very close. Nearly all the counties reported, chiefly of the interior of the state.

At Jacksonville, Fla., Nov. 15th, E. M. Thompson, a lawyer, by mistake took a dose of carbolic acid. Antidotes proved useless and he expired shortly.

Gov. Long of Massachusetts has notified Col. Strachan, of the ninth regiment, that unless the charges of misconduct in Richmond and within thirty days reported to the adjutant general of the state, the entire regiment will be held strictly responsible.

The steamer Bohemia, which arrived at Boston on the 15th inst. from Hamburg, brought 160 of the persecuted Jews, who were the first that emigrated from Russia to South Dakota the last summer. They have been dissatisfied in this country by the Alliance Israelitaverselle, whose home office is in Paris, with branches throughout Europe and in 1804. The 1500 principally agriculturalists, strong, hardy men, and their objective points are Louisiana and Texas. The steamer Silesia comes next with 250 more on board, and it is said that 5,000 will follow during the winter.

The British steamer Howards, bound from Sydney, C. B., to Portland, Me., with 2,000 tons of soft coal, and the brigantine Emma, bound from Philadelphia for Halifax with 223 tons of hard coal, hit each other off Sambro on the night of the 14th inst., and both sank. The crews took to their boats, and were picked up next day.

The Richmond (Va.) Dispatch, a "funder" paper, having stated that the readjuster party is composed of 30,000 whites and 80,000 negroes, the Richmond Whig rejoins that the heaviest readjuster vote and largest gains were in white and democratic sections, while the funders' largest gains were made in the counties where the colored voters predominate. The color line is fading out.

Some time since Jesse Baldwin, a very wealthy but eccentric citizen, who lives near Youngstown, Ohio, took $17,000 in bonds to the treasury department in Washington and demanded gold for them. He carried the money home and deposited it in a safe under his bedway, with other large sums in gold. On the morning of the 15th inst. five burglars entered the house, blew open the safe, and carried off some $30,000 or $40,000 in gold. They also stole Baldwin's two horses and carriage, and fled. Baldwin's son-in-law pursued them, and a running fire resulted. Nobody was wounded, and the robbers escaped with the plunder.

Ex-Gov. Scott of South Carolina has been for years a respected resident of Napoleon, in the state of Ohio. Last Christmas morning he went in search of a drunken son, who had passed the night in the company of one Drury. This man tried to prevent the governor from going up stairs to a room where he believed his son was; a dispute, possibly a scuffle, followed, and Drury was shot dead. Gov. Scott declared that the shooting was accidental. He was indicted, and a jury has just acquitted him, to the satisfaction of his Ohio neighbors.

President Arthur will carry out the Garfield policy in one respect. The new furniture and carpets purchased for the White House are the same selected by Mrs. Garfield at New York, a few weeks before her husband was shot.

A fiendish case of attempted murder was revealed in Philadelphia on the 13th inst., by the arrest of three colored persons named Martha Conaway, Lizzie Frazer and Henry Sheppard. About three weeks ago a respectable young man by the name of Hipes became intoxicated, and was taking them to their home, when they induced him to take a drink which contained a strong drug, they conveyed him to a third-story room, stripped him, and, after removing the lid of the stove, in order that their victim might be smothered with the coal gas, locked the door and decamped with their booty. Hipes lay unconscious for two days, and then managed to reach the street, in such a condition that his life was at first despaired of. The fiends were tracked to their dens, and arrested.

Mrs. Marie Mason, wife of Lowell Mason, and a frequent contributor to the magazines, died at her home in Montrose, Mass., last week.

John Merriman, ex-state treasurer and president of the National Agricultural society, died in Baltimore Nov. 16th, aged fifty-seven.

Lady Brassey has been formally decorated as an emissary of King Kalakaua with the order of "Kapiolani."

Mrs. [illegible] died at Portsmouth Nov. 13th inst. Her [illegible] was [illegible] years old.

Notices were posted in the mills at Manchester on the 12th inst., announcing an increase of wages for the employes, simultaneously to take effect on the November payment, which occurs on the first next month. The amount of the increase is not stated, but it is understood it applies generally to the mill hands, and will assist most those who receive the lowest.

The graduating exercises of the Dartmouth medical college were held on the evening of the 15th inst. In the course of a meeting of the alumni of Dartmouth college, resident in Boston, will soon be held, to consider the matter of celebrating the approaching anniversary of the birthday of Daniel Webster, one year from next January.

Hon. Albert Palmer, the democratic candidate of Boston, is a native of Candia, where he was brought up on a farm. He commenced teaching school at the age of fifteen years, for the purpose of earning money with which to fit himself for college. By teaching six months in the fall of each year he paid his way through the Phillips Exeter and Hanover, and subsequently through Dartmouth college, graduating second in his class in 1838, with the highest honors, except the valedictory of the college, but did not accept the position. He was a teacher in the Boston Latin school from 1864 to 1866. Fifteen years ago he settled in Roxbury, Mass., where he has since lived, being engaged in the ice business as a member of the company known as the Jamaica Pond Ice company. He has been several times elected to the legislature of Massachusetts by the democrats.

THE SUN FOR 1882.

Next year THE SUN will make its fifteenth annual revolution under the present management, shining alike on the just and unjust, the honest and dishonest, the high and low, the generous and selfish, the industrious and idle, the wise and foolish, the prosperous and unhappy, the healthy and sick, the living and the dead. THE SUN's beam is for man and woman and woman kind of every sort; but its genial warmth is for the good, while it pours but discomfort for the blinking rays of the perfidiously wicked. THE SUN shines for all.

THE SUN of 1882 was a newspaper of a new kind when it first rose upon the world. It is still the superlative world's superlative of upright journalism. It undertook to report in a fresh, succinct, and readable form all the news of the world, omitting no event of human interest, and condensing upon its pages with the furthest of space the results of days. The success of this experiment was the success of THE SUN. It effected a permanent change in the style of American news. Hard prose is hopelessly dead. No man or woman in this country in the dozen years past has been modest enough to write a long newspaper leader. The ready, easy, flowing, incisive style of THE SUN, which was at first ridiculed and hated by the dull, has been adopted by the best writers of the seven days' wonder. It has proved the best style for business or pleasure, for the counting house or the drawing room, for the man of letters or the man of the world. It is the style of THE SUN.

THE SUN is a newspaper. It is not a religious journal, nor a political journal, nor a literary journal, nor a scientific journal, nor a commercial journal, nor a philanthropic journal, nor a sporting journal, nor a journal devoted to any one class of men, women, or children. It is a newspaper, and it tries to be the best newspaper in the world. It is the newspaper for those who like a newspaper that is not afraid of the truth, that is not the property of any party, sect, or clique, that is not afraid to print the news of the day, that has no axe to grind except the public good, that is not the property of any man or men, but belongs to the people of the United States, that is not afraid to fight the battles of the people against any form of fraud or wrong, that is not afraid to expose humbug, shams, and impostors of all kinds, that is not afraid to laugh at the follies and absurdities of the day, that is not afraid to be honest in the service of truth and humanity and to expose the lies of knaves and impostors, that is not afraid to be generous to the poor and powerless against the rich and powerful, that is not afraid to be the friend of the industrious millions against the idle thousands who live upon the labor of others, that is not afraid to be the friend of the honest men who are willing to work for an honest living against the knaves who are willing to live by knavery, that is not afraid to be the friend of the poor against the rich when the rich are robbing the poor by means of the law, that is not afraid to be the friend of the rich when the rich are robbed by the law, that is not afraid to be the friend of the man who is down when it is the interest of everybody else to keep him down, that is not afraid to be the friend of the man who is up when it is the interest of the men who are down to pull him down, that is not afraid to be the friend of the man who is down when it is the interest of the man who is up to keep him down, that is not afraid to be the friend of the man who is up when it is the interest of the man who is

SUPREME COURT.

WEDNESDAY, Nov. 16th; Smith, J.

Daniel Marcy, administrator of the estate of Joseph Amazeen, vs. Mary E. Brooks, John E. Amazeen and Florence A. Morse. This is a suit in equity to determine the ownership of some deposits in the Portsmouth savings bank. The book for the larger sum, it is alleged by one party to suit, was in the name of Mary E. Amazeen, a daughter of the deceased, and was by her delivered to her father in his lifetime to be taken to the bank to have the interest placed thereon, and was in the possession of the father at the time of his death, but was claimed by her, while the other children claim that it should be taken as a part of the estate, and the proceeds distributed accordingly. There are two other books, one in the name of John E. Amazeen and the other in the name of Florence; one is for about $100 and the other for $40; but the persons named in these books are willing that all the sums should go into the hands of the administrator for distribution, including the sum of $758.29 deposited in the name of Mary E. Amazeen, now Mrs. Brooks. Hearing finished; decision reserved. Frink for Marcy; Batchelder for Mrs. Brooks; Page for the other two heirs.

POLICE COURT.

Harper's Magazine for December is now ready for delivery to subscribers, or for sale, by Moses Brothers and W. G. Myers. The contents are unusually rich and varied, and the illustrations numerous and of special beauty. The sixty-fourth volume of this popular magazine commences with this number.

A correspondent informs us that "Portsmouth, with a population of 9000 inhabitants, has one hundred and nineteen places where liquor is sold. Dover, with 12,000 inhabitants, has sixty-six places."

We learn that Mr. George L. Hersey, a young man of his late age, is an applicant for the vacant position on the police force. Mr. Hersey is the father of five boys, all voters, and all republicans.

Skin's California Minstrels, which organization will appear at Music hall on Saturday evening, played in Athol, Mass., Oct. 19th, and the Chronicle of that place next day said: "Few minstrel shows, or in fact any travelling troupe, ever fulfil what they promise in their large display bills and advertisements, in the thorough manner as did M. T. Skin's California Minstrels. It certainly was the best show that has visited Athol. All the artists acted perfectly, and the whole programme carried out so proficiently, that it would be hard to designate any particular one as better than the rest."

Joseph Perkins of Methuen, Mass., was accidentally thrown partially under a passing train at the freight yard of the Eastern railroad company in Salem on Tuesday of this week, and sustained serious and probably fatal injuries, his left arm being crushed nearly the entire length. He was taken immediately to the Salem hospital. Were it was found necessary to amputate the arm at the socket. Mr. Perkins is married, thirty-one years of age, and went to work for the Eastern railroad company on the day that he was injured.

Mr. Wright Bardeley of Biddeford was in Boston on Monday, the 14th instant, in behalf of the Pepperell Manufacturing company, to take charge of a party of twenty-four English and Scotch weavers who came over in the Sarmatian, having been engaged by the Biddeford and Pepperell mentioned. Mr. Bardeley left Boston for Biddeford with the immigrants on Wednesday morning.

THE SURGEON'S KNIFE.

Mr. Simeon Tietsell, of Saugerties, N. Y., had been troubed for seven years by various physicians for what they called Stricture of the Urethra, without benefit. He finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculi or Stones in the Bladder. The doctor at once removed the foreign bodies with the knife and then gave his great Blood Specific, "Favorite Remedy," to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was eminently successful, and Mr. Tietsell's recovery was rapid and perfect.

While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all kidney and bladder diseases, it is equally valuable in cases of bilious disorders, constipation of the bowels, and all the class of ills apparently inexplicable from the constitutions of women. Try it. Your druggist has it, and its cost is only dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. The Doctor would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine, "Favorite Remedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to office practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery.

The "Code."

Though the white gentlemen of Virginia can meet on the field of honer and blaze away at each other for half an hour with no other damage than the wasting of ammunition and the possible wounding of a calf in some neighboring field, yet the colored gentlemen of the glorious state have not yet learned how to protect their "honah, sah," without risk. At Norfolk, Va., a short time ago, John Jasper and James Casey, colored, had a political dispute. In a spirit of fun the disputants decided to settle their differences after the fashion of white Virginia politicians, and an affair of honor, intended as a mock one, was settled upon. The seconds were chosen and double-barrelled shotguns selected as weapons. The combatants went to the field, the paces were marked off, and the duellists took their places. At the command, both men fired. To the suprise of all engaged in the affair, Jasper fell to the ground. An investigation developed a severe wound in the body of the fallen man, from which the blood was flowing freely. Jasper was cared for, but the wound resulted fatally. It seems that, in loading Casey's gun, either accidentally or intentionally some small bird shot had been put in the charge, which was intended by the mock duellists only to have been composed of powder.

A Model Village.

The peculiar real estate venture at Wayne, thirteen miles from Philadelphia, will bring together a population of 3,000 in another year. The company bought 640 acres for $250,000, and spent $100,000 in landscape gardening, $50,000 for a water supply, and enough in drainage to swell the total investment to $500,000. The building lots are an acre each, and the purchaser is bound to select one out of twenty striking designs for a residence, costing $2,000 to $8000. Picturesqueness is further provided for by fixing the exact spot on which the house shall stand, and locating the trees to suit the landscape. A first payment of a third part of the cost of the land and improvements is is all that is required, the rest remaining on mortgage on easy terms. There will be no bar-rooms.

It is understood that an additional case of embezzlement amounting to $40,000 has been found against Capt. Howgate, late disbursing officer of the signal service, and that the matter will be laid before the grand jury at the first opportunity. This will make five indictments, aggregating $160,000, against Capt. Howgate.

Col. J. Howard Welles, the would-be blackmailer of Jay Gould, was during the war a captain and commissary of subsistance, and was for a long time in charge of the purchasing depot in Baltimore. After he was mustered out it was found that he had stolen between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000, by means of fraudulent and altered vouchers, but he was then out of the country and could not be reached. He spelled his name "Wells" when in Baltimore.

The human voice in its sweetness and purity is deliciously musical; with throat affection and coughs it loses all attractions. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup restores it when failing through coughs, colds, etc.

Several shocks of earthquake occurred in the canton of Vaud, Switzerland, last week.

ASHBURNHAM, Mass., Jan. 14, 1880.
I have been very sick over two years. They all gave me up as past cure. I tried the most skillful physicians, but they did not reach the worst part. The lungs and heart would fill up every night and distress me, and my throat was very bad. I told my children I never should die in peace until I had tried Hop Bitters. I have taken two bottles. They have helped me very much indeed, I am now well. There was a lot of sick folks here who have seen how they helped me, and they used them and are cured, and feel as thankful as I do that there is so valuable a medicine made. MRS. JULIA G. CUSHING.

The prospect of a speedy conclusion of an Anglo-French commercial treaty is regarded as most encouraging.

Living Witnesses.

The hundreds of hearty, and healthy looking men, women and children, that have been rescued from beds of pain sickness and well nigh death by Parker's Ginger Tonic are the best evidences in the world of its sterling merit and worth. You will find such in almost every community.

A despatch from Durban, South Africa, says the Zulu chief Oham recently defeated the Maqui Lisino tribe, and massacred the entire tribe, 1,500 in number.

Annoyance Avoided.

Gray hairs are honorable but their premature appearance is annoying. Parker's Hair Balsam prevents the annoyance by promptly restoring the youthful color.

In Springfield, Mass., Nov. 15th, James Morrissey, sixteen years old, was fatally shot with a pistol in the hands of Fred. Markham, also aged sixteen, who "didn't know it was loaded," and pointed it at his friend "in fun."

The Results of Necessity.

What the ancients suffered for the want of knowledge in medical science, can only be appreciated by contrasting the vast amount of suffering cured and pain alleviated in modern times, by the use of Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases. Its introduction was characterized by the necessary withdrawal of a score or more of illusive, quack nostrums, whose evil effects have left living monuments to denounce them. Thus is exemplified the proverb, necessity is the mother of invention.

Rheumatism
Neuralgia, Sprains,
Pain in the Back and Side.
There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.
This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.
Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, it never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.
The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:
Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says: About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our recent was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.
Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London: I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.
G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes: I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.
E. York says: I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.
Barton Seaman says: Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.
Mr. Burditt writes: It never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.
Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes: From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.
All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

Back Ache
POSITIVELY CURED BY
Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.
Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:
First.
Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts with increased rubefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.
Second.
Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession.
Third.
Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.
Fourth.
Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.
Fifth.
Because over 5000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.
Sixth.
Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

An Only Daughter Cured of Consumption.
When death was hourly expected, all remedies having failed, and Dr. H. James was experimenting with the many herbs of Yakutia, he accidentally made a preparation which cured his only child of Consumption. His child is now in this country, and enjoying the best of health. He has proved to the world consumption can be positively and permanently cured. The doctor now gives this recipe free, only a long two three-cent stamps to pay expenses. This herb also cures Night Sweats, Nausea at the Stomach, and will break up a fresh cold in twenty-four hours. Address Crad. dock & Co., 1092 Race Street, Philadelphia, naming this paper.

Patent Libel Suit.

Walter Aiken of Franklin has brought a suit for libel against Wm. H. Abel & Co., of Laconia, manufacturers of the Abel knitting machine, which, owing to previous patent litigation between the parties, will be of interest to all hosiery manufacturers in the country. It is stated that four or five years ago both Mr. Aiken and Abel & Co. commenced the manufacture of knitting machines, under different patents. Mr. Abel made claim that the Aiken machines were infringements of his patents, and notified hosiery manufacturers that he should prosecute them for using the same. Two years ago Abel & Co. brought suit against Lawrence & Co., of Ipswich Mills, Mass., in the United States court, for using Aiken machines. Mr. Aiken made answer to the suit, showing that Abel's patents were invalid, and the suit was dismissed by Judge Nelson for want of prosecution. Notwithstanding the result of this suit, Abel & Co. have still claimed the Aiken machines to be an infringement of their patent rights, and so continually warned hosiery manufacturers and threatened them with prosecution for using the Aiken machine. Mr. Aiken alleges still further that Abel & Co. have injured his business by decrying his machines and by false accusations against his character, and for the purpose of making public his rights under his patents and vindicating his reputation, brings this suit against Abel & Co. The writ has been served upon Abel & Co., and all their machinery, etc. placed under attachment.

Simplified--"One Stew."

A finnicky, fussy, round little man stepped up the first waiter in a new oyster saloon on sixth avenue, New York, and said:

"Have you got any really nice, fresh, good oysters?"

"Yes, sir."

"Not too fat, you know—but not thin either. I want them just exactly right, and I want them perfectly fresh."

"How will you have them—half shell?"

"Stop a moment," said the little man; "If you have got just the right kind in just the right condition, please take half a pint of small ones (not too small, you know,) and strain the juice off them carefully, leaving just a little juice on them; put them in a pan which has been scoured and dried, and then add a little butter (good, pure butter,) and a little milk—(not New York milk, but real country cow's milk) and then place the pan over a coal fire, and be careful and keep the pan in motion so as not to let the oysters or the milk burn; add a little juice if you choose, and then watch the pan closely so that the exact moment it comes to a boil you can whip it off. At the same time have a deep dish warming near at hand, and when you see the first sign of boiling, empty the pan into the dish. Do you think you can remember that?"

"One stew!" the waiter called out.

—What is the worst thing about riches? Not having any.

—In 1779, the British peerage contained twenty-one dukes, and in 1879 precisely the same number.

—Statistics go to show that suicides are more frequent in hot weather than during a lower temperature.

inclose pearly teeth, and exhale fragrance when opened. If this double charm were wanting, they would lack their main attraction and probably remain unkissed. Sozodont will secure it. Discoloration of the teeth, unhealthiness of the gums, and a breath which causes repugnance, are completely remedied by this incomparable beautifier and antiseptic of the teeth, which is as pleasant to taste and smell as it is reliable in its action.

—A girl at Anderson, Ky., desired a new hat trimmed profusely with bright-colored feathers, according to the ruling fashion, but had no money to buy them. A brilliant-hued rooster came her way, and she killed him, plucked his feathers, and adorned the hat exactly to her liking. But the owner of the fowl had her arrested, and she wore the hat in court instead of in church, as she had intended.

Rescued from Death.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the city hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half a dollar. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years.

I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with diseased lungs, will be induced to take Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and be convinced that consumption can be cured. I have taken two bottles and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness." Sold by all druggists.

—Old Mr. Tripp of Deerfield, Michigan, has been arrested for shooting thieves who were stealing his fruit. As he is in his 85th year, it is considered outrageous that he should not have known that fruit in the United States belongs to everybody except the man on whose property it grows, and whose time and labor have been spent in raising it.

The Dangers of the Stock Market.

A man may be incredulous enough to risk his money in the fickle mysteries of a mercurial stock market, but when he gets the itching piles, he goes straight for Dr. Swayne's Ointment. Unlike the bulls and bears of the stock exchange, who clean you out of hard earned cash, it returns your money with interest, in the way of allaying the intense itching, and insuring sweet repose.

A COUGH, COLD OR SORE THROAT should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the throat troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years "Brown's Bronchial Troches" have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction. Guiteau's Trial.

On Thursday Col. Corkhill opened the case for the government, and Secretary Blaine appeared as the first witness, telling the story of the shooting. He was followed by the Venezuelan minister, Mrs. Parke, the janitress at the railroad station, and Mr. Parke, the ticket agent. The witnesses were cross-examined by Mr. Scoville.

News and Notes.

George Gunton, the labor reform editor of Fall River, Mass., sues the Sun of that city for defamation of character, asking for $20,000 damages. The Sun offers to prove its charges.

The faculty of Williams college has emphatically "sat on" the base ball league. President Carter tells the athletes that he has seen the evil workings of the league at Yale, and wants to deprive the Williams boys of its burden.

Matthew Bassett, aged twenty, and a woman some six or seven years older, who has been living with him as his wife, were arrested in Lynn, Mass., on the 16th inst. The woman is the wife of Conrad Myerhaver, of Tarrytown, N. Y., and the culprits ran away from that town about a month ago, Mrs. Myerhaver stealing from her husband everything she could lay her hands on.

A woman was knocked down in the very centre of Fall River, Mass., Nov. 11th, and robbed of a purse containing $87, which she carried in her hand.

Sydney Dillon, one of Jay Gould's partners, is about to build in New York what it is said will be the costliest and most ornate private residence on this continent. It will cover thirteen full city lots, four of which will be on Fifth avenue.

A terrible affair came to light in Portland, Me., recently. A man in Center street had a hiding place for his liquor, which was found by some boys who had been in the habit of stealing it. The man prepared some poison, and the boys drank it. One named Hurley died in terrible agony, and two more, Burke and Curran, are dangerously ill. It is thought the latter will die.

A Bradford, Mass., school girl travelling on the Boston & Maine road recently, refused to have her ticket punched until the conductor provided her with a seat. The conductor finally got a gentleman to give up his seat, which the young lady accepted, saying to the conductor: "There; now you can punch your old ticket if you want to."

Orin Carleton, son of I. C. Carleton of Methuen, Mass., was killed by the explosion of an Illinois Central locomotive upon which he was employed as fireman. Young Carleton was a graduate of the Methuen high school.

By the will of Charles H. Northam, late of Hartford, Conn., Trinity college receives $125,000, Hartford hospital $50,000, Christ Episcopal church $10,000, and Hartford Library association $5,000; $30,000 are given to erect a chapel at Cedar Hill cemetery. The remainder of the estate, about $600,000, is divided between the heirs.

A San Francisco report says there is an unpleasant unanimity among the recently arrived whaling captains at that port, that they neither expect to see nor hear anything of the Jeannette or her crew again.

The name of J. F. Wager, of Sedalia, Mo., is to be added to the list of locomotive engineers who have deliberately given their lives to save others. His train, heavily loaded with passengers, was crossing the Osage river, on the Missouri Pacific road, when the engine left the track and finally broke through the bridge, to be buried in the water. The fireman jumped off and escaped, but Wager stayed to put on the air-brakes and reverse the engine, and thus saved the train and lost his own life.

Holden and White were arrested in Erie, Pa., on the 16th, to await a requisition from Gov. Foster of Ohio.

A London despatch of the 16th inst. says: "An explosion, supposed to have been of dynamite, occurred yesterday on board the Glasgow steamer Severn, from Bristol to Glasgow. The Severn was towed to Kingston harbor. A portion of her decks was blown away. Nine persons were killed, and many wounded. Four were taken to the hospital." A despatch from Dublin says forty-three persons were badly injured by the explosion on board the Severn, and that four were conveyed to the hospital in a dying condition.

NOTICE--POISON.

PORTSMOUTH, Nov. 10th, 1881.
CHAPTER 176, SEC. 5, Gen. Laws of New Hampshire.

If any person shall expose poison for the purpose of destroying any animals, except rats or other vermin in his own buildings, or on his potato crops, he shall be punished by a fine of fifty dollars for every such offense, or by imprisonment not exceeding six months, or both.

The above statute will be strictly enforced. THOMAS ENTWISTLE, City Marshal.

Dr. Horace Bacon, of Biddeford, a physician of fifty years active practice, referring to the prevalence of smallpox in that city, stated to the editor of the Lowell (Mass.) Times that in his opinion more rigid laws should be enacted and enforced in the matter of vaccination. He would have every person, before he was admitted to suffrage, before his children could be admitted to the public schools, even before he could obtain employment, show proof that himself and each member of his family had been vaccinated. The doctor believes that in this way the danger of the spread of the disease would be averted, and not only many lives saved, but that cities would be saved the great injury to business caused by a smallpox scare.

FREEMAN. In Newfield, Me., Oct. 27th, Willis Freeman, aged 21 years and 9 months, son of Rev. Benjamin and Susan Freeman.

There is no need of a eulogy on Willis' character, among those who knew him. He was all that was manly and noble in his intercourse with the world, kind, gentle and generous with his associates and intimate friends; "esteeming others better than himself," he acted on the rule of the Apostle, "be kindly affectioned one to another, with brotherly love, in honor preferring one another." As a Christian he was conscientious in the discharge of every duty, and was careful to have a conscience void of offence toward God and man. His highest ambition was not only to glorify God by a faithful obedience to the divine precepts in His written word, but to be a glad messenger to others of God's willingness and power to save. His anxiety, and hard study to prepare himself for the work of a Christian minister, no doubt hastened his end. His fellow students at Kent's Hill, and his associates everywhere, will miss a warm friend, and a true-hearted brother in Christ; his parents, a noble, obedient and affectionate son, whose pleasant smile and gentle voice made home a happy place. Willis now knows all about that mansion in his Father's house, of which he was trying to speak as he passed away from earth, and entered through the gate into the heavenly city.

Our loved one has gone, our darling has fled,
And hopes that we cherished are withered and dead;
The Angel of death laid his hand on our boy,
And called him from earth to heavenly joy.
In humble submission, dear Sacrifice, we bow,
Accepting by faith this promise, that now
All things together shall work for the good
Of those who lovingly trust in the Lord. L.

CAN CONSUMPTION BE CURED?

Some interesting Letters from the people,

Which Should be Read by those Afflicted,

Dr. Schenck gives the evidence on which he bases his assertion that

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED.

Clear and explicit statements from well-known persons which should convince the most skeptical.

For other Certificates of Cures, send for Dr. Schenck's Book on Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia. It gives a full description of these diseases in their various forms, also, valuable information in regard to the diet and clothing of the sick; how and when exercise should be taken, &c. This book is the result of many years of experience in the treatment of Lung Diseases, and should be read, not only by the afflicted, but by those who, from hereditary taint of other cause, suppose themselves liable to any affection of the throat or lungs.

From Mr. Harley P. Hopkins, of Providence, R. I. He is Cured of Consumption by Dr. Schenck's Medicines, after being given up to die by some of the best physicians of the city.

DR. J. H. SCHENCK:

Dear Sir—I have been cured of what three of the best physicians of this city told me was Consumption of the lungs, by the use of your medicines. I was first attacked with the disease in October, 1880, and although I was from that time continually under the care of a physician, I grew worse and worse until at last I was confined to my bed. I can hardly say that I was first attacked with the disease in 1880, for my lungs had been weak for many years previous to this, and I would quite often have severe pain in my breast if I took the least cold or exerted myself too much in any way. I grew worse, my cough became very bad; I had night sweats so severe that my bed through the night would be as wet as though water had been thrown over me. I was continually raising blood and large quantities of offensive matter from my lungs, and at last had all the well-known symptoms of Consumption in its last stages.

At the request of my family, my physician called in two other doctors of this city, and they after an examination agreed that my case was hopeless. They informed my wife that I had better be told that I could not live, as my time would be very short for arranging worldly affairs. They also said that no medicine would be of any use to me. The next day my friend, Mr. H. I. Leith, hearing of my condition, sent me a bottle of your Pulmonic Syrup, thinking it might relieve my cough, and make my expectoration easier. I began using it, never even hoping that it would cure me, but finding great relief from its use; when the first bottle was gone I sent and got more; so I continued it until I had used seven or eight bottles. All this time I was in bed and was so weak that I had to be fitted. This was not a difficult thing to do, however, as I only weighed about 90 pounds. As I have said, I commenced the use of the medicine with no thought of its curing me, but after taking the eight bottles I would sometimes feel a little hungry, a thing I had not before done for many months. I omitted to mention that after taking four or five bottles of the Pulmonic Syrup, I also began taking the Seaweed Tonic, and I also took some of the Mandrake Pills.

It is needless for me to give you an account of all my feelings during my recovery. Of course it was slow, but it was also sure. I gradually gained strength, the character of what I raised from my lungs was changed, not being so offensive, and at last I was able to get up and walk about my room. From this time my recovery was rapid. I gained flesh fast and soon went out doors, and now, I am entirely well, a wonder to all my acquaintances who saw me when I was so low.

I weigh 160 pounds, appetite good, and I can truly say that I never felt better in my life. I consider your medicines as wonderful in their effects. They have saved my life and I feel so thankful to you that I am anxious that all who are suffering with lung troubles should know how good they are. Of course, I can give better account of my case in talking of it than in writing and if any who read this are interested, they are welcome to call on me at my residence. Yours Truly,

HARLEY P. HOPKINS,
No. 2 Howell St., Providence, R. I.

MR. HARLEY P. HOPKINS, who writes the foregoing letter to Dr. Schenck of Philadelphia, is an old resident of Providence. I have known him well for the last fifteen years, and I can state the facts that all he has written in regard to his sickness and recovery is strictly true. He was considered a consumptive in the last stages of the disease by his physicians and friends, and I believe that his recovery is entirely due to the use of Dr. Schenck's Medicines.

From Jules H. Royall, Esq., of Providence, R. I.

DR. J. H. SCHENCK & SON, Philadelphia:

Dear Sirs—About four years ago I over-heated myself at my work, (blacksmithing,) and while perspiring freely, exposed myself to a draught which gave me a heavy cold. I was soon so sick that I had to give up work and employ a physician. He told me that my cold was on my lungs, and gave me medicine which gave me temporary relief. I was soon down again, however, and this time suffered more than at first. Being told by a friend that your medicines were good at lung disease, I concluded to use them.

At this time I had severe pains in my breast, back and sides, a violent cough, terrible sweats at night, and also many times in the day time, if I was asleep. I raised very frequently a large quantity of yellow matter at a time; and judging from all my symptoms, my friends believed me to be in the last stages of Consumption. They did not believe that I could live a week. My weight was only 115 pounds. Soon after beginning to use the medicines, I commenced to improve in every way, but the more marked improvement was in my gain of flesh, as within two months I gained 25 pounds, I was at last well, and have continued in good health without ever feeling any weakness of the lungs ever since. Have worked steadily at my trade all this time.

I believe that I owe my life to the use of your medicines. Those afflicted are invited to call and see me at any time.

Yours Truly,

June 21st, 1881. JULES M. ROYALL,

Consumptoin Permanently Cured.

DR. SCHENCK: CONVERSVILLE, IND., January 21st, 1881.

Dear Sir—In 1866 I took a heavy cold, which quickly fastened on my lungs. I became unable to do anything. I was confined to my bed. My case went on from bad to worse, and developed rapidly into Consumption. At the time of the draft during the war, the examining physician rejected me as being unfit for service, and of my family present, I had given myself to die, when John S. Benson, (formerly living near this city, now living in Indianapolis, recommended me to use Schenck's Remedies, as he had done in his own case and had been cured thereby. I did as he advised me, which proved to be my salvation. I procured some of your "Pulmonic Syrup," "Seaweed Tonic," and "Mandrake Pills." I commenced to use them, and found them to benefit me from the start. I continued to use your medicines faithfully, and in six months time I was entirely cured, my lungs becoming as strong as ever; and your medicines did the work.

Yours Respectfully,
SANDFORD CALDWELL.

I wish to add that since that time—twenty years ago—I have had no return of my trouble. The cure was a perfect and lasting one.

S. CALDWELL.

I know of the above case and can certify to the truth of the foregoing.

From Akron, Ohio—Consumption Cure

Dear Sir—Having been asked by many in regard to your medicines, and the benefit I had received from them, I have concluded to give you an account of my case. In the Winter of 1879 I was pronounced an incurable Consumptive by every physician in this place, as well as several in Cleveland. I had all the symptoms—cough, night sweats, great debility and loss of flesh. I was reduced in weight from one hundred and fifty pounds to eighty pounds. I had given up hope of recovery, when I was told by Mr. James Scanlan that he had used your medicines with good effect, and he advised me to give them a trial, although I do not think he believed they would cure me, for I was so sick at this time that no one thought that I would ever get well. I thought, however, that they might give me temporary relief, and with this object I commenced to use your Pulmonic Syrup. I had not taken it two days before I felt great relief, especially in the severity of my cough. I then took the Mandrake Pills and Seaweed Tonic, and in two weeks my appetite came back, and I began to gain strength. I took your medicines for about three months. I was too sick to do any kind of work for two years. Your medicines made a perfect cure, and I have been in good health ever since. I do not know that I can say more than this, unless it be that I believe your medicines to be good, and that they will do all that you say they will do.

Yours Very Truly,
J. A. REILLY.

From Mr. John G. Nothacker, of Shelby, Ohio.

DR. J. H. SCHENCK Philadelphia:

Dear Sir—In May, 1879, I caught a heavy cold, which gradually settled on my lungs, causing great difficulty and pain in breathing. I could not rest at night, being kept awake by coughing. The loss of sleep and appetite at last reduced me very much—from 160 pounds, my usual weight when in health, to 89 pounds. I took the prescriptions of physicians, but they did me no good. One day, while looking at the Cleveland Leader, I read a notice that your medicines had cured many cases that were at least as bad as mine, and so concluded to use them. They were rather slow in their action at first, but after I had used them for a couple of weeks, I saw that I was getting better; my appetite improved, the pain and difficulty in breathing was relieved, and after using eight bottles I felt that I was restored to perfect health. I soon recovered my former weight, and I have been quite well ever since. I am satisfied that I owe my recovery entirely to your Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills.

Truly Yours,
JOHN G. NOTHACKER.

With C. H. Asken, Shelby, Richmond Co., Ohio. Feb. 21st, 1881.

From Mr. Robert W. Jones, of London, Ohio.

DR. SCHENCK LONDON, OHIO, October 9th, 1880.

Dear Sir—About four years ago I was taken sick with what my physicians told me was Consumption of the Lungs. I had a bad cough, and was reduced very much in my weight. At different times I had seven physicians of this place and also one from Bloomburg, attending me, and although they all thought they could help me, I grew worse very fast under their treatment. I was compelled to give up all business for over two years, and no one believed, nor did I myself believe, that I would ever get well. One day I happened to call at Mr. Adam Smith's Drug Store in this place, and picked up one of your pamphlets. In reading the certificates of cures, I found one case so nearly like my own that I at once concluded to give your medicines a trial. I bought the Seaweed Tonic, Pulmonic Syrup and Mandrake Pills, and began their use according to the printed directions, and I can truly say, that from the first I saw a marked improvement in all my symptoms. This encouraged me to continue their use until I was entirely well. I have had good health since my recovery, and I believe your medicines saved my life. I know of several other persons in this city that have been cured by your remedies.

Yours Truly,
ROBERT W. JONES.

Guard the System Against

MALARIA

By Using

DR. SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS,

The Great Vegetable Substitute for Mercury.

They will cure Chills and Fever.
They will cure Diarrhœa.
They will cure obstinate Constipation, leaving the Stomach and bowels in a healthy condition.

They will cure Liver Complaint, that great forerunner of Consumption.

DR. SCHENCK'S

MANDRAKE PILLS

Do not produce sickness at the Stomach, nausea or griping. On the contrary, they are so mild and agreeable in their action that a person suffering with a sick headache, sour stomach, or pain in the bowels, is speedily relieved of these distressing symptoms. They act directly on the liver, the organ which, when in a healthy condition, purifies the blood for the whole body.

They are a perfect preparation of that great and well-known remedy, Mandrake or Podophyllin, a remedy that has displaced the use of mercury as well as many other poisonous drugs, in the practice of every intelligent physician.

Prof. John King, of the College of Medicine, of Cincinnati, says: "In Constipation it acts upon the bowels without disposing them to subsequent costiveness. In Chronic Liver Complaint there is not its equal in the whole range of medicines, being more decisively useful than any mineral agents, alone. Its power to give healthy action, increasing the flow of bile, and keeping of those actions longer than any other agent with which we are acquainted." (See American Dispensatory, page 790.)

In all cases of Liver Complaint or Dyspepsia, when there is great weakness or debility, Dr. Schenck's Seaweed Tonic should be used in connection with these Pills.

DR. SCHENCK'S MEDICINES,

MANDRAKE PILLS,
SEAWEED TONIC,
and PULMONIC SYRUP

Are sold by all Druggists, and full directions for their use are printed on the wrappers of every package.

SUPREME COURT.

THURSDAY, Nov. 17th; Smith, J.

In the forenoon there was a final call of the undisposed-of cases upon the various dockets.

Case A. W. Dudley vs. Lucia Cotton of Exeter, was tried by the court. Action was brought for services of the plaintiff as a surveyor of land at Brentwood. Defence was that the bill was paid to J. W. Towle, who it was shown was the defendant's and not the plaintiff's attorney. Verdict for $19.50, and interest. Marston and Eastman for plaintiff; Wiggin and Fuller for deft.

The court was engaged during the afternoon in hearing a matter between parties in Exeter.

The members of the bar held a meeting in the afternoon to consider certain proposed changes in the fee bill. Geo. E. Hodgdon, Esq., presided, and Wallace Hackett, Esq., served as secretary.

At half-past four o'clock the previous proclamation was made, and shortly after the court was adjourned without day, the venerable clerk folded his papers, the judge left for the Rockingham, the lawyers retreated in good order from the scenes of their recent conflicts, and the October term passed into history.

Judge Smith has been quite busily engaged since the commencement of the term, on the 18th of October. In every case submitted to a jury, an agreement has been reached. The trial of cases by referees, and the falling off from the usual number of new entries, will make the docket for the January term much smaller than for many years.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, regular meeting, Thursday evening, Nov. 17th, Mayor Sise in the chair:

The records of last meeting were read and approved.

The Eastern railroad asked permission to open Creek street, for purpose of laying water pipe. Granted.

J. Wesley Rand, who occupies a building on Pleasant street belonging to the city, asked to have the same painted and whitewashed. Referred to committee on city lands and buildings.

The mayor informed the board that a quantity of old fire apparatus was stored in the state arsenal on South street, and advised that the same be disposed of. Referred to committee on fire department.

Ald. Vaughan, to whom was referred the request of Mrs. John Norton to have the tree in front of her residence removed, stated that he had consulted with the lady and she had consented to let the tree remain if it was trimmed and the roots cut off. Report accepted and adopted.

Voted that the city treasurer be authorized to pay the award in the case Rollins, trustee of the Raynes estate, against the city, when the claim is presented and properly vouched for.

Adjourned for two weeks.

Miss Selma Borg's lecture on Russia, which has been previously noticed, will be given at Miss Morgan's school on Monday evening, Nov. 21st, at eight o'clock. Tickets at Myers' bookstore.

Skiff's California Minstrels played to a rousing house at Breed hall last night, regardless of the stormy weather. Good music and first-class singing are the two leading features of their performances. That jolly quartette, Gibbs, Atkinson, Ward and Fox, in their repartee and drolleries, never fail to convulse an audience. The celebrated California Quartette in their popular selections were repeatedly applauded and encored. The airs were all charmingly sung, the jokes were pleasing, and the special acting was unusually fine. The clog dancing of Fox and Ward, as well as the bone solo of Atkinson, were immense. If good music, side-splitting humor and popular songs makes a perfect bouquet of minstrelsy, the public need look no further. —Norwich Bulletin, Nov. 7th.

At Music hall to-morrow evening. Ticket's at Preston's; popular prices.

The schooner Maud B. Wetherell, Hontvet master, arrived on Thursday afternoon of this week from Summerside, Prince Edward's Island, with 4200 bushels of potatoes bound to Baltimore.

The schooner Golden Gate, Amee master, is to load dry fish from the wharf of C. Morris Tredick, for Boston.

Messrs. E. F. Sise & Co. have employed the dredging machine which has been used in deepening the channel of the Exeter river during the past summer, to dig out the dock at their coal wharf at the foot of Deer street.

The schooner John Lenthall, of Exeter, was towed to Lyman's wharf on Thursday last, to be loaded with apples by C. Hiram Hayes.

Andrew Garland was picked out of the mud in Puddle dock by the police at about two o'clock last Thursday morning, and carried to his home, he having tumbled off a wharf; not being in a condition to extricate himself, he would have been drowned by the rising tide had his cries not been heard.

A horse attached to a heavy farm wagon ran away from in front of the Spring market on the 16th inst., and after passing through Bow and Daniel streets and across Market square, brought up in front of Rice's saloon, where he broke down a hitching post and barber's pole. The wagon was not much hurt, but the harness was somewhat broken.

The entertainment at Music hall on Wednesday evening of this week, by the Nick Roberts combination, was very good of its kind, considerable of the "business" being new and decidedly amusing. The audience, however, was a small one.

Through bills of lading from this city to New York, and from New York to this city, are now issued by the Metropolitan Steamship Co. of New York, and the South Shore Steamship Co., of which latter company R. B. Beaumont is the Portsmouth agent.

The directors' car of the Eastern Railroad Co. went to Portland last Thursday afternoon, to be used in conveying the railroad commissioners of Maine over the line of the Portland, Saco & Portsmouth railroad on Friday.

Several car-loads of telegraph poles from the line of the Grand Trunk railway, for the new Mutual Union Telegraph Co., were unladen at the Eastern railroad station in this city on Thursday last.

Books, Magazines, Etc.

"The American Newspaper," an essay read before the Social Science Association at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Sept. 6th, 1881; by Charles Dudley Warner.

Mr. Warner's essay, which was given last September, as reported in the New York Tribune was read by newspaper men, of course, the next morning after its delivery. It is now issued in neat and compact form by James R. Osgood & Co., of Boston, and is valuable reading for every one, as it gives the ideas of a man of practical common sense, with the ability to say what he desires to proclaim in a compact and attractive manner. There is a sensible suggestion as to advertisers, which if adopted would be of service alike to newspapers and their advertising patrons, and that is the hint that "advertisements should be shorter, printed with less display, and more numerous." Few people know how to write the simplest advertisement, well, and we have sometimes thought that our at-present-trans-Atlantic friend Niles, of Boston, might inaugurate a school for instruction in this art, in which he is an adept. The book is of pocket size, and is well worthy the perusal of every one, as it is by no means a technical work, but one full of matters of general interest.

"The Children's Book: a collection of the best and most famous stories and poems in the English language," chosen by Horace E. Scudder; with a colored frontispiece by Rosina Emmett, and other illustrations. Boston; published by Houghton, Mifflin & Co.; price five dollars.

This book has nearly four hundred and fifty pages of the best standard stories and poems, making a perfect library of entertaining matter, sufficient to keep the youthful reader full of enjoyment during the entire winter. It has a book of fables, well illustrated; book of wonder; of popular tales, like Cinderilla; stories in verse; tales from the Arabian Nights' Entertainment; a book of ballads; familiar stories; the voyage to Lilliput; travels of Baron Munchausen; the book of poetry, and the book of ancient stories. The collection seems complete. It is full of interest, while illustrations abound. It is the great work of the season, and the boy or girl who would not only be satisfied but enamored of this book, must indeed be hard to please. To the fond parent or rich uncle who seeks to do the handsome thing in the way of a Christmas present, there is nothing which will bring more grateful recognition than the seasonable purchase of "The Children's Book." It can be had through W. G. Myers, in Congress block.

Mr. Elihu Vedder, the well-known American artist, lately returned from Rome, has been working since last summer upon a permanent cover for the "Century Magazine." The new cover, which is just completed, is to consist not of one design but really of five—four of them for the different seasons of the year. Surrounding each are appropriate emblems for every month in the year, and in each will appear an emblematical female figure of great dignity. The midwinter cover will, perhaps, be the most striking of all, as in the background is seen the aurora borealis. The general color of the paper of the present cover will be preserved, while the ink will be of a somewhat deeper tint, and the general massing of the letters will also be retained; otherwise, the design is entirely fresh and original.

FOR DEAFNESS, Apply a particle into the ear.

ELYS' CREAM BALM
Having gained an enviable local reputation, displacing all other preparations in the vicinity of discovery, is on its merits alone, recognized as a wonderful remedy. A fair trial will convince the most skeptical of its curative powers. It effectually cleanses the nasal passages of Catarrhal virus, causing healthy secretions, allays inflammation and irritation, protects the membranal linings of the head from additional colds, completely heals the sores and restores the sense of smell and hearing. Beneficial results are realized by a few applications. A thorough treatment is directed will cure Catarrh. As a household remedy for cold in the head and snuffles it is unequalled. The Balm is easy to use and agreeable. Sold by all druggists at 50 cts. On receipt of 50 cts. will mail a package. Send for circular with full information.

ELYS' CREAM BALM CO., Owego, N. Y.

For sale by the Portsmouth druggists, and by wholesale druggists generally.

THE SURGEON'S KNIFE.

Mr. Simeon Tietsell, of Saugerties, N. Y., had been treated for seven years by various physicians for what they called Stricture of the Urethra, without benefit. He finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculi or Stones in the Bladder. The Doctor at once resorted to the foreign bodies with the knife and then gave his great Blood Specific, "Favorite Remedy," to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was eminently successful, and Mr. Tietsell's recovery was rapid and perfect.

While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all kidney and bladder diseases, it is equally valuable in cases of billious disorders, constipation of the bowels, and all the chronic ills apparently inseparable from the constitutions of women. Try it. Your druggist has it, and its cost is only dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. The Doctor would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine, "Favorite Remedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to office practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery.

Twenty-five boys from the Industrial school were taken to a temperance concert in the Manchester opera house, on the evening of the 16th inst., in charge of two keepers. On their way to the institution, after the concert was over, five of them escaped.

The Cocheco Manufacturing company will pay a dividend of five per cent Dec. 1st.

Dr. C. K. Kelley, a prominent physician of Plymouth, who broke one of his legs about four years ago, recently broke the same leg by slipping on the piazza of a store.

We learn from Washington that there is a fair prospect that Chief Justice Doe may be nominated for associate justice of the Supreme court of the United States. From the comments we hear, we guess that would be an easier thing to do than to find a proper man to succeed Chief Justice Doe in the Supreme court of New Hampshire. "Where is the man?" is the question that everybody asks. It is no wonder that our people are not anxious to make the sacrifice.—Nashua Telegraph.

A young lady who graduated from our high school last July is teaching school up in New Hampshire. A bashful young gentleman visited the school the other day, and was asked by the teacher to say a few words to the pupils. This was his speech: "Scholars, I hope you will always love your school and your teacher as much as I do." Tableau, giggling boys and girls and a blushing schoolma'am.—Lawrence American.

The governor of Michigan is credited with a very commendable act. He has removed Spencer B. Russell, mayor of Mount Clemens, for letting a contract to a firm of which he was a member, in violation of the statute. Served him right.

—A Meriden, Conn., mother has given birth to a baby with nine teeth, according to the statement of phy-icians.

—Just before dying, at Altamont, Ill., a woman confessed the entirely unsuspected murder of her first husband.

The greatest effects have sometimes the smallest cause. Life is constantly sacrificed by neglect of coughs and colds, when a 25 cent bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup would save the sufferer.

—A fast man can lower his record more surely than any horse that ever travelled.

Terrible Loss of Life.
Millions of rats, mice, cats, bed-bugs, roaches, lose their lives by collision with "Rough on Rats." Sold by druggists, 15cts.

Catarrh of the Bladder.
Stinging, smarting, irritation of the urinary passages, diseased discharges, cured by Buchupaiba. Druggists. Depot at Thacher's.

—A Philadelphia woman committed suicide because she couldn't get a husband. Some people never know when they are in luck.

They are Liable!
The doctors are all liable to be mistaken, they were in my case. It cost me $200.00, because they said I had heart disease, and then told me I must die. Grandmother said it was liver complaint and $2.00 worth of Sulphur Bitters cured me.—Jennie P——, Rockport.

—A newspaper correspondent was mistaken by a prominent man for a Brooklyn preacher the other day. This should teach correspondents not to be flirting with every woman they meet.—Boston Post.

The Results of Necessity.
What the ancients suffered for the want of knowledge in medical science, can only be appreciated by contrasting the vast amount of suffering cured and pain alleviated in modern times, by the use of Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases. Its introduction was characterized by the necessary withdrawal of a score or more of illusive, quack nostrums, whose evil effects have left living monuments to denounce them. Thus is exemplified the proverb, necessity is the mother of invention.

SWAYNES
AN UNFAILING REMEDY SUCH AS TETTER, ITCH, SORES, ERYSIPELAS, BLOTCHES, FOR ALL SKIN DISEASES, PIMPLES, RING WORM, &c.
OINTMENT
ITCHING PILES
Symptoms—Moisture, like the sweat of a horse, worst at night; seems as if pin-worms were crawling about the rectum; the private parts are often affected. As a cleanser, soothing and positive cure, SWAYNE'S OINTMENT is superior to any article in the market. Sold by druggists, or send 50 cts. in 3-ct. Stamps. 3 boxes, $1.25. Address, DR. Rheumatism
Neuralgia, Sprains,
Pain in the Back and Side.
There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.
This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.
Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, it never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.
The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:
Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our resort was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.
Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.
G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.
E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.
Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never-failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.
Mr. Burditt writes:
It never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.
Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.
All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

Back Ache
POSITIVELY CURED BY
Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.
Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:
First.
Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts with increased rubefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.
Second.
Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession.
Third.
Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.
Fourth.
Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.
Fifth.
Because over 5000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.
Sixth.
Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

Daily Chronicle.

A Weak Husband's Punishment.

A well known actress of New York city married a man of no particular account. Indeed, he is dull, a fellow with a knowledge of no particular business whereby he might at least earn his board and store clothes. As a matter of surmise, it is questionable whether since his marriage he has ever earned enough to pay for his whiskey. No manual or mental labor has ever caused a rise in the capillary substance which finds a scanty vegetation upon the summit of his cranium, or caused the exudation from his brow of enough perspiration to dampen a corn on the foot of a mosquito.

A visitor finds the lady in a cosy sitting room, the windows of which overlook the house yard. Glancing out of the windows the visitor found a revelation. That husband was sawing wood. Absolutely working! It was a hard-wood stick, too—a knotty-looking bit of shellbark hickory that his knee held to the buck, while his arms slowly rasped the saw through the slivers.

The visitor looked at the lady. She smiled at his expression of astonishment.

"You think it strange? That is his punishment. Do you comprehend?"

The visitor did not. The idea of her husband sawing wood, voluntarily, as a penance for some dire transgression of the rules and regulations of his own household, was an additional revelation.

"Oh, you do not know what a good fellow he'll be for the next three months. It's the first time since last April that he has given me trouble. He came home as drunk as a lord last night. This morning I gave him a piece of my mind and his punishment, which was to saw four times through each of twenty sticks of that cord wood. And he had to do it, or accept the other alternative."

"What was that?"

"Not to have a cent of spending money from me for the next three months. Once, about six months ago, while I was playing an engagement in Boston, he drew my salary, or rather the treasurer handed it to him to give me. When I saw him again he had spent more than half of it, and he was terribly used up. What'd I do? When he came back home I made him shovel two tons of coal into the cellar, take up the dining room carpet, whitewash the kitchen and yard fence, and do without pocket money for a month after. But he's a good fellow, and sometimes—yes," she added, thoughtfully—"sometimes I fancy I love him dearly."

—Colored people own four times as great an acreage in the southern states now, as they did ten years ago.

Otis Hathaway, Esq., 13 Rock street, Fall River, Mass., had a very bad attack of rheumatism, which racked him sorely. Finally he could scarcely move. St. Jacobs Oil was tried, and proved to be the only remedy that did any good. Two weeks' use of it rendered him as chipper and as active as ever.

Registered letters containing $400,000 worth of diamonds were stolen from the Hatton Garden post-office in London just at dark on the 17th inst. The thieves turned off the gas at the meter, made a rush in the dark, and escaped with the mailbags in the confusion.

Renew your Lease.

There are times in every one's life when energy fails and a miserable feeling comes over them, mistaken for laziness. Danger lurks in these symptoms, as they arise from diseased organs. Parker's Ginger Tonic will restore perfect activity to the stomach, liver and kidneys, purify the blood, and renew your lease of health and comfort.—Advocate.

ASHBURNHAM, Mass., Jan. 14, 1880.
I have been very sick over two years. They all gave me up as past cure. I tried the most skillful physicians, but they did not reach the worst part. The lungs and heart would fill up every night and distress me, and my throat was very bad. I told my children I never should die in peace until I had tried Hop Bitters. I have taken two bottles. They have helped me very much indeed, I am now well. There was a lot of sick folks here who have seen how they helped me, and they used them and are cured, and feel as thankful as I do that there is so valuable a medicine made.

The Dangers of the Stock Market.

A man may be incredulous enough to risk his money in the fickle mysteries of a mercurial stock market, but when he gets the itching piles, he goes straight for Dr. Swayne's Ointment. Unlike the bulls and bears of the stock exchange, who clean you out of hard earned cash, it returns your money with interest, in the way of allaying the intense itching, and insuring sweet repose.

By Universal Accord,

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS are the best of all purgatives for family use. They are the product of long, laborious, and successful chemical investigation, and their extensive use, by physicians in their practice, and by all civilized nations, proves them the best and most effectual purgative Pill that medical science can devise. Being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use, and being sugar-coated, they are pleasant to take. In intrinsic value and curative powers no other Pills can be compared with them; and every person, knowing their virtues, will employ them, when needed. They keep the system in perfect order, and maintain in healthy action the whole machinery of life. Mild, searching and effectual, they are especially adapted to the needs of the digestive apparatus, derangements of which they prevent and cure, if timely taken. They are the best and safest physic to employ for children and weakened constitutions, where a mild but effectual cathartic is required.

For sale by all druggists.

Lieut. Francis Winslow is ordered to special duty on the fish commission.

Ash-Tonic;

A perfected purifyer of the system. In 1-2lb. bottles; 75 cents. For dyspepsia, the many forms of liver complaint, impure and impoverished blood, and functional derangements attendant upon debility. For symptons indicated by indigestion, loss of appetite, nausea, sick headache, sour stomach, furred tongue, drowsiness, blanched lips, sallow complexion, pain in the side or back, eruptions, depression of spirits, nervous irritability and hysteria, and for building up the system, ash-tonic is unquestionably the most prompt and energetic remedy yet devised.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

SATURDAY, NOV. 19, 1881.

[Entered at the Post-Office at Portsmouth, N.H. as second-class matter.]

A Metropolitan Disease.

Just at this season of the year there seem to be two singular developments—one in the animal and the other in the human frame, in New York.

The horses, especially those used for teaming in Gotham, are stricken with a disease which has become epidemic, and is having a run through Manhattan island.

The other trouble attacks man—only a class, however. It is known as "enlargement of check." Its presence is marked by an apparent over-estimate by the patient of his own consequence, while its development is marked by a patronizing manner extended towards his fellow men. At this time of the year, the scourge becomes more general in its attacks. Its effects are seen upon the publishers of religious and secular newspapers.

We saw a painful case of this recently. A nominally religious newspaper, which has been considered a good medium for advertising mining stocks, etc., proposed to allow our daily paper—the price of which is twice that of the full rate of the weekly pious journal—"to be placed on its exchange list" if the Chronicle & Gazette Co. would advertise that paper to an extent for which we should charge regular patrons $8.50. We hesitated in our opinion as to whether this was "especial insanity" or "check," but a diagnosis of the proposition inclines us to the belief that the latter is the cause of such impudence.

The "metropolitan" proprietors of journals, magazines, horse-doctor publications, remote railway lines to the great west, and the many other species of the genus "beat" which desire advertising in papers whose circulation is of value as a medium of communication, are constant in their attempts to dicker for advertising to be paid for in their wares. We have now several religious journals on our exchange; we can suit ourselves to almost every kind of denominational reading,—and yet we hear from the composing-room, at times, voices in the air

"Full of strange oaths"—

And we do not require any addition to this goody-good grade of exchanges. We have a general supply of "horse literature" from the best authors upon that animal, and we have no time to go west. We are so much crowded that we cannot find room for that class of advertising, even if we were like some of our newspaper friends, inclined to be imposed upon. We believe that a paper should be paid for its advertising in very hard cash, just as our merchants and other patrons, who sell their goods or furnish whatever they offer in our columns, should be in like manner paid; and the person who asks up to wrong our patrons as well as ourselves, by advertising for nothing or next to nothing, comes to the wrong establishment. There may be papers which are so unsophisticated or ingenuous as to be sold in this direction, but they are not published at this office.

Guiteau's Trial.

The trial continued on Friday without special incident. The details of the shooting in the railroad station, and the arrest of the assassin, were testified to by a number of witnesses.

News and Notes.

The Pacific national bank of Boston suspended payments on the 18th inst., at noon. What condition its affairs are in was not made public.

The superintendent of the census reports the population of the United States, as finally determined, to be 50,155,783.

Prof. Swift, of the Warner observatory at Rochester, N. Y., at eleven o'clock on the night of the 16th inst. discovered another comet—the seventh one seen this year—in the northern sky. It is thought this may be the comet of 1812.

H. V. Redfield, the well-known Washington correspondent, died in that city Nov. 17th, of consumption.

Two New York capitalists, Haynes and Sanger, have gone into bankruptcy—debts, $150,600, actual assets, $72,900. Haynes makes oath that his entire individual assets consist of a pair of sleeve buttons nominally worth $1, but really worth fifty cents, and a scarf-pin of the nominal value of seventy-five cents, and really worth ten cents; total, sixty cents. Sanger swears that his sole assets consist of a gold watch worth $125, but which is of the actual worth of $50.

On the 15th inst. George Parsons, of Gloucester, Mass., an insane man, went to Salt island, where he procured a leaky dory, pushed off in the bay, without rowlocks, and floated out to sea on the ebb tide. His father, who follows fishing, returned late in the afternoon, and missing his son rowed around until late in the evening, when he found the dory sunk off Salt island about a mile from the place of starting, with the young man on one of the seats, with his head just above the water. He was rescued, although nearly perished, and is now suffering from a severe attack of pneumonia, caused by his terrible experience.

A young pig and thirty-five chickens were stolen from a Dover farmer on the night of the 15th inst. He followed some wheel tracks next morning to the residence of a man who lived about a mile distant, and charged him with the theft; the accused person confessed the crime, and "compromised" the affair by the payment of $10. The thief's meat came high, but he should have been sent to state prison.

Philadelphia merchants who use large quantities of postage stamps suffer from the petty peculations of their employes, who steal the stamps and sell them. They have proposed to Postmaster-General James that purchasers of $500 worth of stamps in one lot be allowed to have them perforated with initials or other distinguishing marks, in order that they may be traced if stolen, and to protect their employes from temptation.

The Cape Ann Advertiser says "the net codfishermen have commenced operations for the winter, and are meeting with good success. Several good hauls have been made. The pollock are causing some damage to the nets, whose mesh is not of the right size to take these fish. The smaller pollock pass through, while the larger ones are caught, and tear the nets badly in their efforts to escape. Some pollock weighing as high as twenty-one and a half pounds have been taken in the nets." The Newburyport Herald reports some of the vessels fishing out of that port to be doing fairly with cod-nets.

The Cuticura Remedies.

Some Facts Regarding Them—Who Makes Them and what is thought of them by the Drug Trade—Interview of a Times Reporter with Peter Van Schaack, Esq.

[From the Chicago Times.]

To enable the Times to furnish its readers with some reliable information regarding the Cuticura remedies, which are now attracting so much public attention, a reporter called yesterday upon Mr. Peter Van Schaak, of Van Schaak, Stevenson & Co., wholesale and retail druggists, corner Lake and Dearborn streets, when the following facts were elicited:

R.—Will you oblige the readers of the Times by answering a few questions regarding the Cuticura remedies?

Mr. Van S.—Certainly; fire away.

R.—Do they sell well.

Mr. Van S.—The sale of the Cuticura, Cuticura Resolvent, and Cuticura Soap have been unprecedented.

R.—What reasons do you give for so large a sale?

Mr. Van S.—I give four reasons. First, they are original and revolutionary in their composition and mode of treatment. Second, they undoubtedly possess great curative properties. Third, there are thousands upon thousands of sick and suffering who have tried and found wanting the usual remedies and modes of treatment, and who are ready to welcome a really great and successful medicine. Fourth, the price of them is within the reach of every invalid.

R.—Are your large sales of these medicines through your agents?

Mr. Van S.—No; they are legitimate mail orders. We employ no travellers on the road—are fundamentally opposed to that way of selling goods—the retailer has to stand such expenses, and such staple goods as these require no one to force them off.

R.—Do you class them as patent medicines?

Mr. Van S.—I do not. They are proprietary only so far as their names are concerned, these being held as trade-marks.

R.—Can you tell us something about this firm?

Mr. Van S.—Weeks & Potter are importers, wholesale druggists and chemists, and for twenty-five years have been the foremost house in the trade in New England.

R.—It is popularly supposed that advertising will sell most anything, regardless of merit. Is it true?

Mr. Van S.—No. A remedy falsely claiming to possess virtues of which it is in fact destitute, will surely fail. No reputable firm—and druggists are the most competent judges—would think of risking fame and fortune on any medicine unless it had, under the most trying circumstances, proved itself to possess extraordinary medicinal value. The expense attending the introduction of such remedies is enormous. A fortune must be spent before any return can be expected. If, after a wide distribution, they are found to possess the virtues claimed for them, those who have been cured will recommend them one to another, and thus make them remunerative. When a man backs his statements with his own money, you may generally rely upon them. This Weeks & Potter are doing.

R.—Have they ever before prepared medicines for popular use?

Mr. Van S.—I believe not. They are, like ourselves, agents for a great many, but we think these are the first that they prepare themselves. It is but once in a lifetime that a discovery is made of a remedy that such a firm as Weeks & Potter are willing to stake reputation and fortune on.

R.—Are their prospects flattering, or otherwise?

Mr. Van S.—Very flattering. As I said before, the remedies undoubtedly possess great merit. And besides, they treat blood and skin diseases according to a new and thoroughly rational plan, that must take a firm hold on the confidence of those who suffer from chronic diseases of the blood, skin and scalp.

Important.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

Rev. F. L. Baker will preach in the Advent church on Sunday, at the usual hours.

Rev. Benton Smith of Waltham, Mass., will preach in the Universalist church.

THE ALUMNI REUNION.

The sixth reunion of the High School Alumni Association will be held on Friday evening, Nov. 25th, at 7:30 o'clock. The literary exercises will take place at Franklin theatre, consisting of a short address by Rev. Edward A. Rand of Hyde Park, Mass., one of the vice-presidents and founders of the association, a reading by W. Russell Foster, Esq., singing by Miss Edith Wendell, accompanied by Harlow's orchestra, and an original poem by Mr. Emil C. Pfeiffer. At the close of the literary exercises a reception and dance will be held in Franklin dance hall. Certificates of membership may be obtained by any former member of the high school who has not joined the association, on payment of one dollar to Geo. E. Hodgdon, Esq., or C. A. Hazlett.

Members can obtain two tickets each to the dance hall and four tickets each to the theatre, by calling at the office of W. Russell Foster, over the Portsmouth savings bank, on Wednesday between ten and twelve o'clock A. M., and three to five P. M.; on Thanksgiving day between nine o'clock and 10:30 A. M.; and on Friday between three and five o'clock P. M. Members must call for their tickets, as no one will be admitted to the halls without the proper tickets.

Skiff's California Minstrels will appear at Music hall this evening. Of this entertainment the Spencer (Mass.) Sun of Oct. 7th says:

The first part was given by twenty-two performers, the beautiful singing of the quartette, and fine instrumental music of the orchestra, eliciting frequent and hearty applause, while the witticisms of Gibbs and Ward—bones and tambo—kept the audience up to the laughing point almost constantly. In the olio there was not a single dull feature, from the overture of the orchestra to the closing farce of "Our Boyhood Days." The oddities of Wally Gibbs, particularly his pathetic ballads, won for him repeated encores, and established him as a favorite whom the boys will be pleased to see again. The double clog of Fox and Ward was also loudly re-demanded, until those accommodating gentlemen could do no more than simply walk upon the stage and acknowledge the compliment paid them.

To-morrow (Sunday) evening a grand sacred concert will be given in Franklin theatre by the DeMont Concert Co.,—a very strong combination, as will be seen by reference to the advertisement in another column. As reserved seats are placed at the very low price of 35cts. each, and admission at 25cts., the theatre will probably be filled. That an excellent concert will be given there can be no doubt.

Hon. Ossian Ray, representative in Congress from the third district, was in town on Friday, on some business connected with the United States circuit court. He left for Portland, Me., by the Pullman train in the evening.

We learn that Samuel Dodge, Esq., agent of La Confiance Insurance company of Paris, has handed to Mrs. Stephen E. Grant of York his draft upon the general agents of the company in New York, for the full amount claimed by her upon her buildings and furniture, destroyed at Cape Neddick in April last. The general agents of the company, upon being informed as to the facts in the case, at once gave orders to have the loss settled. Mrs. Grant sustained quite a loss above the sum insured. The Commonwealth Insurance company of Boston, also represented by Mr. Dodge, promptly paid the amount insured by them, some time since.

The first of a series of fellowship meetings of neighboring churches, was held at the Congregational church in Rye on the 15th inst.. Similar meetings are to be held with the Congregational churches in Portsmouth, Greenland, Stratham, North Hampton and Hampton.

It is the intention of Mr. Keen, the owner of the ferry steamer Fearless, to run his boat between this city and Kittery Point during the winter months. It will certainly be an accommodation to the Kittery people to have a sure conveyance to this city at all times, and will be a benefit to our local traders; and we hope the boat will be so well patronized that Mr. Keen may be able to continue the steamer on the route.

Among the recent transfers of real estate in this county are the following: McLaurin F. Pickering of Cambridge, Mass., to Herbert S. DeRochemont of Newington, land in Greenland for $275; J. T. Brown to John A. Dow, land in Hampton for $100; F. E. Jewell to Joseph Bean, land in Epping for $87.50; A. L. Mellows to Esther J. Wheeler, land and buildings in Newmarket for $700; Oliver Berry to O. B. Fund, land in Stratham for $80; Harvey L. Jones of Ogdensburg, N. Y., to Huldah B. Jones, land in South Newmarket for $123; Mary A. Marston, executrix of Levi Marston, to Mary E. Hobbs, land in North Hampton for $900.

Hon. F. Jones is to have his brewery, office and residence connected by telephone.

The Eastern railroad car works at Salem, Mass., are to be enlarged by the addition of a brick building, in which a new boiler and engine will be placed. It is said that the company propose to build more than a dozen passenger cars, and several hundred box and platform cars, at the Salem works this winter.

A neat and substantial post and rail fence has been put up by the city on the water side of the Vaughan street extension, to prevent the public from tumbling into the dock and then coming down on the city for damages. The fence is three rails high, and is capped: and when painted it will be quite an ornamental affair.

The schooner T. B. Garland, the latest-built vessel of the Dover Navigation Co.'s fleet, arrived at this port on Friday from a coal port with about 500 tons of black diamonds for a Dover firm. She was towed by the tugs Ann and Clara Batemen to Portsmouth bridge, where she will lighten before proceeding up the river.

Mission meeting at Bow Mission hall every Wednesday and Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock. All are invited to attend.

The November number of the "Granite Monthly" contains a sketch of Aaron S. Marshall, by the editor. The best contribution is the eulogistic address upon the late William H. Y. Hackett, originally read before the Historical society by Rev. James DeNormandie of this city. The sketch is noted for its comprehensive and appreciative style, and is a noble tribute from a pastor to the memory of one of his most steadfast friends. "My wife's æsthetic soul," by Miss Lucia Moses, is a well-drawn and easily-recognized picture of a present prediliction, and is all the more interesting from having been written by a lady from a gentleman's standpoint.

The "Church Mirror," of Boston, which as its name indicates is a religious publication, in its premium list includes three styles of revolvers! From some unaccountable reason bowie knives and pocket whiskey-flasks appear to have been omitted from the list.

The fiftieth birthday of Conductor Jacob Johnson, of the Eastern railroad, was celebrated by a large party of his friends by a supper, singing and dancing, at Fraternity hall, Newburyport, on Thursday evening, the 17th inst. Mr. Johnson knew nothing of the intentions of his friends, and was taken completely by surprise. A special train from Boston arrived in Newburyport at nine o'clock, with about thirty employes of the railroad, among them being Master of Transportation D. W. Sanborn, Station Master Hatch, of Boston, the clerk of transportation, travelling engineer, twelve conductors and three engineers, and others, all being accompanied by their wives. After the supper, before dancing was resumed, Mr. Johnson was presented with an elegant French clock by the employes of the road, and with a beautifully-bound copy of the "Gallery of Great Composers," containing a series of engravings on steel from oil paintings by Carl Jager, by the members of the Old South choir. Conductor Johnson was born in Durham, and has been in the employ of the Eastern railroad for thirty-two years, most of the time as conductor.

The house and outbuilding of James Owen, in Biddeford, were burned on the evening of the 17th inst., with $230 in money, a horse and two pigs. Loss $1500; insurance $600. The house of James McCarrity, near by, was damaged to the amount of $400; insured.

THE SURGEON'S KNIFE.

Mr. Simeon Tietsell, of Saugerties, N. Y., had been treated for seven years by various physicians for what they called Stricture of the Urethra, without benefit. He finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculi or Stones in the Bladder. The doctor at once removed the foreign bodies with the knife and then gave his great Blood Specific, "Favorite Remedy," to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was eminently successful, and Mr. Tietsell's recovery was rapid and perfect.

While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all kidney and bladder diseases, it is equally valuable in cases of bilious disorders, constipation of the bowels, and all the class of ills apparently inscrutable from the constitutions of women. Try it. Your druggist has it, and its cost is only dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. The Doctor would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine, "Favorite Remedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to office practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery.

J. S. JAMES.

An Asiatic Wolff.

John H. Wolff, a young Jersey City merchant, went recently to visit Melinda Jacobus at Passaic Bridge, N. J. Just as he was getting ready to leave for his home, he took up a shot-gun, and pointing it at the young lady, playfully proposed to shoot her. She at once exclaimed, "Look out! The gun is probably loaded!" Just then the discharge came, and she fell fatally wounded. She at once made an affidavit that the shooting was entirely accidental. The idiot will be tried for manslaughter. He says he never before had a gun in his hand, and that he "just put his hand over that thing over the cap, and it went off." After all that has been said in the papers by way of caution, this class of offenders deserve no mercy. If a person points a gun or pistol at another, he should be severely punished, even if his guess as to its not being loaded proves correct.

A Woman's Testimony.

"I want to know, Mrs. Smith," interrupted Hubbard—"I want to know on which side of your house the ell is,—north, south, east or west?"

"It's on this side," replied the lady, motioning with her hand.

"The east side?"

"No."

"The west side?"

"No; it's straight across from Mrs. B—'s parlor window, not twenty feet from it, you—"

"Mrs. Smith," shouted the captain, "will you tell me if that ell is on the east, west, north or south side of your house?"

"It ain't on any side of the house," replied the witness, compressing her lips; "it's on the end. You know as well as I do. You've seen it many a time, and there ain't no use"—

"Come, come, Mrs. Smith!" interrupted Judge Cromer, "tell the gentleman where the ell of your house is situated,"

"Haven't I been telling him just as plain as I could?"

"Where is the ell situated?" said Hubbard, desperately.

"Right in the lot, back against the end of the house."

"Will you answer my question" shouted the affable captain, running his hand up his hair in desperation.

"What question?"

"Is the ell on the east, west, north or south side of the house?"

"Judge, I've told him just as plain as ever a woman could. I didn't come here to be sassed by no one-horse lawyer. I know him and his father before him. He ain't got no business putting on airs. What kind of a family—"

"Silence!" thundered Cromer. "Now, Mrs. Smith, which side of your house does the sun rise on?"

"That one," said the witness, indicating.

"Is the ell on that side?"

"Yes sir."

"The east side, then, Mrs. Smith?"

"Yes sir."

"Why didn't you say so then?" asked the exasperated captain.

"Cause you never asked me, you bald-headed old snipe. I know a thing or—"

"That will do," said Hubbard. "Take the witness," he added, turning to the opposing counsel.—N. Y. World.

—"What do you want the nomination for? You're sure to be defeated at the polls." So said Ragbag to young Symonds. "Yes," said Symonds, "I know it, but I must have the nomination. You see I'm engaged to be married, and I want to get out of it, and if I run for office the opposition papers will give me such a horrid bad character that the girl won't have me anyway. Catch the idea?"—Boston Post.

Bad habits are easily contracted; so are colds, and both are very hard to get rid of. The colds are quickly are surely cured by Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

—Mr. Elias Mills of Harrison county, Ohio, who is seventy years old, was married recently for the fifth time, his bride being sixty, and having twice before been led to the hymeneal altar.

Living Witnesses.
The hundreds of hearty, and healthy looking men, women and children, that have been rescued from beds of pain sickness and well nigh death by Parker's Ginger Tonic, are the best evidences in the world of its sterling merit and worth. You will find such in almost every community.

—"Ah, doctor, back from the Adirondacks? What luck did you have?" "No luck," growled the doctor, "I was there for a week, and I never killed a thing."

Annoyance Avoided.
Gray hairs are honorable but their premature appearance is annoying. Parker's Hair Balsam prevents the annoyance by promptly restoring the youthful color.

—Somebody observes that when six young ladies sit down to talk about a new dress pattern, a small boy with a tin horn is a refuge for the weary.

Easily Proven.
It is easily proven that malarial fevers, constipation, torpidity of the liver and kidneys, general debility, nervousness, and neuralgic ailments yield readily to the great disease conqueror, Hop Bitters. It repairs the ravages of disease by converting the food into rich blood, and it gives new life and vigor to the aged and infirm always.

—Red plush bonnets, adorned with flaming red feathers, held by large, old-fashioned paste buckles, are the choice of a few eccentric—not to say silly—ladies.

The Results of Necessity.
What the ancients suffered for the want of knowledge in medical science, can only be appreciated by contrasting the vast amount of suffering cured and pain alleviated in modern times, by the use of Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases. Its introduction was characterized by the necessary withdrawal of a score or more of illusive, quack nostrums, whose evil effects have left living monuments to denounce them. Thus is exemplified the proverb, necessity is the mother of invention.

Rheumatism
Neuralgia, Sprains,
Pain in the Back and Side.
There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.
This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.
Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, It never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.
The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:
Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our resort was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.
Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent pains in the stomach. The doctors gave me up. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.
G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.
E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.
Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never-failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.
Mr. Burdett writes:
It never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.
Full Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.
All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

KELLOWS'
Compound Syrup of
HYPO-PHOS-PHITES
A REALLY RELIABLE REMEDY FOR WASTING AND NERVOUS DISEASES.
After numerous experiments Mr. Fellows succeeded in producing this combination of Hypo phosphites, which has not only restored him to health, but has since been so successful in the treatment of disease emanating from loss of nerve power, and consequently muscular relaxation, viz:
Aphonia (loss of voice), Neuralgia, Anæmia, Nervous debility, Chronic Diarrhœa, Whooping Cough, Dyspepsia, Congestion of the Lungs, Fever and Ague, Palpitation of the Heart, Leucorrhœa, Melancholy, Malaria, Mental Depression, Nervousness.
MALARIA.
Persons living in Malarious districts may protect themselves from attacks of fever by the use of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites. Its effects in toning up the system enables us to ward off contagious disorders, and successfully combat disease.
The soluble phosphites and the other life-sustaining principles contained in Fellows' Hypophosphites are so carefully proportioned and so judiciously mingled, that their action upon the nerves, muscles and membranes in imparting vitality, strength and healthy action is generally apparent within twenty four hours, and the good effects experienced are of a permanent character.

Back Ache
POSITIVELY CURED BY
Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.
Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:
First.
Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts with increased rubefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.
Second.
Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession.
Third.
Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.
Fourth.
Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.
Fifth.
Because over 5000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.
Sixth.
Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

Testimonials.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

"The Old, Old Story."

The failure of the Pacific bank of Boston seems but a repetition of the old story. Mr. Benyon, the president of the bank, was mixed up with the "Rev." Winslow affair in Boston several years ago, and this bank was gotten up for him after his ejection from the Exchange bank; he was not a safe business man, but a "smart financier." Weeks, the speculator, everybody in and out of Boston has known for years to be without means, but the bank looked to a rise in speculative stocks, took the chances—and lost. This affair shows that banks in large cities are not the safe kind of investment they have been considered in times past. Better for the citizen of the rural district to secure a safe investment nearer home, even if it does not promise so much profit, than to take stock in banks whose solvency depends upon the combined success and honesty of speculative customers.

The "Cors di'a'ion" Contest.

In the case of the consolidation of the Boston & Lowell and the Concord railroads, Attorney-General Tappan declines to interfere until he sees further cause for interference. In a letter to the governor and council he says: In reference to the recent contract between the Concord and Boston & Lowell railroads, while it has seemed to me that the contract of Aug. 19th was such a one as should have been referred to the governor and council, and the railroad commissioners, for their approval, I have not been unmindful of the fact which your excellency suggests, that able lawyers hold a different opinion; and being also aware that many and grave interests might be involved in the final settlement of this question, and that much could be said on both sides, I have not considered the emergency so pressing as to warrant any hasty or ill-advised action on the part of the state. The question as to the legality or illegality of the contract, which is at the bottom of this whole controversy, is now fairly before the supreme court by a proper and legitimate mode of procedure.

I recommend it above all others. Yours truly, S. CHICHESTER. 357 Myrtle Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

We have received the first number of the "Plumbers' Trade Journal," published semi-monthly in New York by Hugh J. Hastings, Jr., at $3 per year; it is the "official organ of the Master Plumbers' association of the city of New York," and its object is denoted by its title. "Zion's Day Star," is another new candidate for popular support; it is an eight-page religious monthly, published at No. 1159 Broadway, N. Y., contains no advertisements, and the subscription price is fifty cents a year, or twenty-five cents for six months.

Guiteau's Trial.

On Saturday the attendance in the court room was composed mainly of women and school children, the men being in a decided minority. Among the witnesses examined were George C. Maynard, a schoolmate of Guiteau's, who lent the assassin the money with which he bought the revolver he used in murdering the President; Gen. Swaim, Col. Rockwell, and Dr. Bliss. A skeleton was produced in court, and the broken vertebre from Gen. Garfield's backbone; the latter ghastly relic was handled by the murderer with apparent curiosity, but with no exhibition of any other emotion.

An Unlucky Shot.

At the close of Saturday's session of the court before which the assassin of President Garfield is being tried for his worse than worthless life, Guiteau was conducted to the prison van, as usual, though a crowd of spectators, who jeered at him, and suggested that he would look well hanging from a tree near the courthouse, etc. As the van started for the jail it was accompanied by a countryman on horseback, who after about half the distance was traversed fired a shot through the side of the van at Guiteau, who was standing at the front looking through the grated window. The bullet grazed the assassin's arm hard enough to make a small bruise, not hard enough to draw blood; but he fell grovelling to the floor, yelping like a beaten cur. One of the guards, W. Z. Edlin, quickly returned the shot, and the would-be avenger wheeled his horse and galloped off, pursued by the van, which however was distanced. An hour later a body of police chased a man answering his description, and fired five shots at him, without effect. Still later a farmer named William Jones, living about six miles from Washington, was arrested at his home, and recognized as the shooter; at the time of his arrest he was under the influence of liquor. Many regrets were expressed in Washington that Jones' bullet did not make sure work of the murderer. Jones is of medium size, about thirty-five years old, and is said to be from Prince George county, Va., and to have been an army-mate of Gen. Garfield.

News and Notes.

The embarrassment of the Pacific national bank of Boston was caused by its making heavy advances to Theodore C. Weeks, a prominent stock operator. The shortage is said to be $700,000. The concern is in the hands of Bank Examiner Needham.

Early Friday morning four masked burglars bound and gagged the private watchman at Sargeant & Shaw's feed warehouse, Brooklyn, N. Y., and broke open the safe, but only found $54 in mutilated coin. The thieves escaped.

While assisting in unloading a load of lumber last Thursday at West Newton, Mass., Mr. Michael Costello of that village was struck in the head and instantly killed. He leaves a wife and eight children. He saw the teamster in difficulty, and in assisting him lost his own life.

At Columbus, Ohio, on the morning of the 18th inst., a fire broke out in the Imbecile asylum, situated three miles west of the city. It entirely destroyed a new building, and part of one dormitory. The loss to the state will be nearly $250,000. There is no insurance. No lives were lost, although the institution contained 614 pupils and nearly 150 employees. All the effects of the officers, teachers and other employes were consumed. Dr. Doren, the superintendent, says he can take care of the pupils for a short time. He has made an appeal for clothing and supplies.

Postmaster Stratham of Lynchburg, Va., the "Mahone man" over whose appointment the democrats of the United States senate made a deadlock, was attacked Tuesday night of last week in front of the Arlington hotel, by a young man named J. G. Hicks, of Richmond, Va., and in defending himself severely stabbed his assailant in the right shoulder. Mr. Stratham was discharged from custody on Thursday morning, Hicks refusing to prosecute.

At Minersville, Pa., about three o'clock in the morning on the 18th inst., some unknown miscreants attempted to destroy the family of M. Merkle, a large coal operator. A can of powder was placed on one of the parlor window seats, and fired with a fuse, shattering the lower part of the house, but not injuring the inmates.

The inquest on the body of Miss Ellen Kissner, whose headless body was found near the Wabash railway track, Chicago, resulted in a verdict of accidental death from being run over by the cars. The jury censured the road for failing to provide proper warning lights on their trains.

Sewall C. Strout has brought a suit against seven Bowdoin college students for injury done to his son, a freshman, by hazing. The boy's sight was injured by a piece of coal being thrown through his window. Ten thousand dollars damages is asked from each of the culprits. The names of the students sued are Noah B. K. Pettengill, Augusta; Charles H. Dunning, Brownville—juniors; Samuel E. Packard, Portland; Ernest H. Smith, Augusta; Henry R. Bradley, Bangor; Donald C. Clark, Bangor; Albert F. Sweetzer, Searsport—sophomores.

At Dayton, Washington territory, ninety-three cases of smallpox are reported, and the disease is assuming alarming proportions.

More than fifty buildings in New York have been declared unsafe by the bureau of inspection of buildings, since the Grand street disaster.

The labor congress at Pittsburg, Pa., on Friday resolved that the Chinese must go, and that cigars must not be manufactured in tenement houses.

John Hays of Waterbury, Conn., was found dead on a hotel stoop at Milton, N. Y., Friday morning. He had been on a spree, it is supposed.

Gen. Judson Kilpatrick, United States minister to Chili, is lying at the point of death at a watering place near Valparaiso.

Joe Smith, who, it is charged, brutally outraged and nearly murdered Miss Colwell of Weedsport, was captured in Broome county, New York, last Thursday, and taken to Weedsport. The constable had hard work to prevent the mob from lynching him.

An exchange says: "In the United States last year 33,155,991 telegrams were sent. The cost of this correspondence was about double what it would have been but for the necessity of paying the large dividends on highly 'watered' stock. The telegraph system should become a part of our postal system. Let the people wake up to the importance of the subject, and they can hasten the time. We have 170,103 miles of wire, besides that belonging exclusively to the railways. Great Britain has 26,156 miles of telegraph, operated by the post-office exclusively."

William M. Winchester, a master builder, was thrown from his carriage in Gloucester, Mass., last Thursday morning, his horse being frightened by a bicycle. He received several severe scalp wounds, and a bad cut under one ear.

Mr. T. B. Hussey, plow manufacturer of North Berwick, sent all his employes to the Mechanics' fair in Boston, at his own expense.

Biddeford has a corps of deputy sheriffs whose special business is the prosecution of the liquor law, and the Journal of that city says the whole gang do not find as much liquor in a week, as one poor, old, thirsty tramp finds in half an hour.

Rescued from Death.

William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the city hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half a dollar. I was so far gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have the past three years.

I write this hoping you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with diseased lungs, will be induced to take Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and be convinced that consumption can be cured. I have taken two bottles and can positively say that it has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness." Sold by all druggists.

—"Would you say," asked the professor, "I would rather walk," or "I had rather walk?" "I would say," replied the smart bad boy, "I had rather ride." And he was marked three below zero, with cloudy or partly clearing weather.

The Dangers of the Stock Market.

A man may be incredulous enough to risk his money in the fickle mysteries of a mercurial stock market, but when he gets the itching piles, he goes straight for Dr. Swayne's Ointment. Unlike the bulls and bears of the stock exchange, who clean you out of hard earned cash, it returns your money with interest, in the way of allaying the intense itching, and insuring sweet repose.

CAN CONSUMPTION BE CURED?

Some interesting Letters from the people,

Which Should be Read by those Afflicted,

Dr. Schenck gives the evidence on which he bases his assertion that

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED.

Clear and explicit statements from well-known persons which should convince the most skeptical.

For other Certificates of Cures, send for Dr. Schenck's Book on Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia. It gives a full description of these diseases in their various forms, also, valuable information in regard to the diet and clothing of the sick; how and when exercise should be taken, &c. This book is the result of many years of experience in the treatment of Lung Diseases, and should be read, not only by the afflicted, but by those who, from hereditary taint of other cause, suppose themselves liable to any affection of the throat or lungs.

From Mr. Harley P. Hopkins, of Providence, R. I. He is Cured of Consumption by Dr. Schenck's Medicines, after being given up to die by some of the best physicians of the city.

DR. J. H. SCHENCK:

Dear Sir—I have been cured of what three of the best physicians of this city told me was Consumption of the lungs, by the use of your medicines. I was first attacked with the disease in October, 1880, and although I was from that time continually under the care of a physician, I grew worse and worse until at last I was confined to my bed. I can hardly say that I was first attacked with the disease in 1880, for my lungs had been weak for many years previous to this, and I would quite often have severe pain in my breast if I took the least cold or exerted myself too much in any way. I grew worse, my cough became very bad; I had night sweats so severe that my bed through the night would be as wet as though water had been thrown over me. I was continually raising blood and large quantities of offensive matter from my lungs, and at last had all the well-known symptoms of Consumption in its last stages.

At the request of my family, my physician called in two other doctors of this city, and they after an examination pronounced my case was hopeless. They informed my wife that I had better be told that I could not live, as my time would be very short for arranging worldly affairs. They also said that no medicine would be of any use to me. The next day my friend, Mr. H. L. Leith, hearing of my condition, sent me a bottle of your Pulmonic Syrup, thinking it might relieve my cough, and make my expectoration easier. I began using it, never even hoping that it would cure me, but finding some relief from its use; when the first bottle was gone I sent and got another; so I continued it until I had used seven or eight bottles. All this time I was in bed and was so weak that I had to be fitted. This was not a difficult thing to do, however, as I only weighed about 90 pounds. As I have said, I commenced the use of the medicine with no thought of its curing me, but after taking the eight bottles I would sometimes feel a little hungry, a thing I had not before done for many months. I omitted to mention that after taking four or five bottles of the Pulmonic Syrup, I also began taking the Seaweed Tonic, and I also took some of the Mandrake Pills.

It is needless for me to give you an account of all my feelings during my recovery. Of course it was slow, but it was also sure. I gradually gained strength, the character of what I raised from my lungs was changed, not being so offensive, and at last I was able to get up and walk about my rooms. From this time my recovery was rapid. I gained flesh fast and soon went out doors, and now, I am entirely well, a wonder to all my acquaintances who saw me when I was so low.

I weigh 160 pounds, appetite good, and I can truly say that I never felt better in my life. I consider your medicines as wonderful in their effects. They have saved my life and I feel so thankful to you that I am anxious that all who are suffering with lung troubles should know how good they are. Of course, I can give no account of my cure, in telling of it than in writing and if any who read this are interested, they are welcome to call on me at my residence.

HARLEY P. HOPKINS,
No. 2 Howell St., Providence, R. I.

MR. HARLEY P. HOPKINS, who writes the foregoing letter to Dr. Schenck of Philadelphia, is an old resident of Providence. I have known him for the last fifteen years, and I can assure the public that all he has written in regard to his sickness and recovery is strictly true. He was considered a consumptive by his friends and by his physician and friends, and I believe that his recovery is entirely due to the use of Dr. Schenck's Medicines.

From Jules M. Royall, Esq., of Providence, R. I.

DR. J. H. SCHENCK & SON, Philadelphia:

Dear Sirs—About four years ago I over-heated myself at my work, (blacksmithing) and while perspiring freely, exposed myself to a draught which gave me a heavy cold. I was soon so sick that I had to give up work and employ a physician. He told me that my cold was on my lungs, and gave me medicine which gave me temporary relief. I was soon down again, however, and this time self feeling more than at first. Being told by a friend that your medicines were good in lung disease, I concluded to use them.

At this time I had severe pains in my breast, back and sides, a violent cough, terrible sweats at night, and when I coughed, I did it the day long, if I was to keep; I raised quite frequently a half tea-cup full of yellow matter at a time; and judging from all my symptoms, my friends advised me to be in the last stages of Consumption. They did not believe that I could live a week. My weight was only 115 pounds. Soon after beginning to use the medicines, I commenced to improve in every way, but the more marked improvement was in my gain of flesh, as I finally weighed 175 pounds. My cough was at last well, and have continued in good health without even feeling any weakness of the lungs ever since. Have worked steadily at my trade all this time.

I believe that I owe my life to the use of your medicines. Those affected are invited to call and see me at any time.

Yours Truly,

Consumption Permanently Cured.

CONNERSVILLE, IND., January 21st, 1881.

DR. SCHENCK:

Dear Sir—In 1861 I took a heavy cold, which quickly fastened on my lungs. I became unable to do anything. I was confined to my bed. My case went on from bad to worse, and developed rapidly into Consumption. At the time of the draft during the war, the examining physician rejected me as being unfit for service, one of my lungs being nearly gone. I had given myself to die, when John S. Benson, who formerly lived near this city, now residing in Indianapolis, recommended me to use Schenck's Remedies, as he had done in his own case and had been cured thereby. I did as he advised me, which proved to be my salvation. I procured some of your "Pulmonic Syrup," "Seaweed Tonic," and "Mandrake Pills." I commenced to use them, and found them to benefit me from the start. I continued to use your medicines faithfully, and in six months time I was entirely cured, my lungs becoming as strong as ever; and your medicines did the work.

Yours Respectfully,
SANDFORD CALDWELL.

I wish to add that since that time—twenty years ago—I have had no return of my trouble. The cure was a perfect and lasting one.

S. CALDWELL.

I know of the above case and can certify to the truth of the foregoing.

From Akron, Ohio—Consumption Cure

AKRON, OHIO, Feb. 19th, 1881.

DR. J. H. SCHENCK:

Dear Sir—Having been asked by many in regard to your medicines, and the benefit I had received from them, I have concluded to give you an account of my case. In the Winter of 1877 I was pronounced an incurable Consumptive by every physician in this place, as well as several in Cleveland. I had all the symptoms—cough, night sweats, great debility and loss of flesh. I was reduced in weight from one hundred and fifty pounds to eighty pounds. I had given up all hope of recovery, when I was told by Mr. James Scanlan that he had used your medicines with good effect, and he advised me to give them a faithful trial, although he not think he believed they would cure me, for I was so sick at this time that no one thought that I would ever get well. I thought, however, that they might give me temporary relief, and with this object I commenced to use your Pulmonic Syrup. I had not taken it two days before I felt great relief, especially in the severity of my cough. I then took the Mandrake Pills and Seaweed Tonic, and in two weeks my appetite came back, and I began to gain strength. I took your medicines for about three months. I was too sick to do any kind of work for two years. Your medicines made a perfect cure, and I have been in good health ever since. I do not know that I can say more than this, unless it be that I believe your medicines to be good, and that they will do all that you say they will do.

Yours Very Truly,
J. A. REILLY.

From Mr. John G. Nothacker, of Shelby, Ohio.

DR. J. H. SCHENCK Philadelphia:

Dear Sir—In May, 1879, I caught a heavy cold, which gradually settled on my lungs, causing great difficulty and pain in breathing. I could not rest at night, being kept awake by coughing. The loss of sleep and appetite at last reduced me very much—from 160 pounds, my usual weight when in health, to 123 pounds. I took the prescriptions of physicians, but they did me no good. One day, while looking over the CLEVELAND HERALD, I noticed that your medicines had cured many cases that were at least as bad as mine, and so concluded to use them. They were rather slow in their action at first, but after I had used them for a couple of weeks, I saw that I was getting better; my appetite improved, the pain and difficulty in breathing was relieved, and after using eight bottles I felt that I was restored to perfect health. I soon recovered my former weight, and I have been quite well ever since. I am satisfied that I owe my recovery entirely to your Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills.

Truly Yours,
JOHN G. NOTHACKER,
With C. H. Asken, Shelby, Richmond Co., Ohio.

From Mr. Robert W. Jones, of London, Ohio.

LONDON, OHIO, October 9th, 1880.

DR. SCHENCK

Dear Sir—About four years ago I was taken sick with what my physicians told me was Consumption of the Lungs. I had a bad cough, and was reduced very much in my weight. At different times, I had seven physicians of this place and also one from Bloomsburg, attending me, and although they all thought they could help me, I grew worse very fast under their treatment. I was compelled to give up all business for over two years, and no one believed, nor did I myself believe, that I could ever get well. One day I happened to call at Mr. Auburn Smith's Drug Store, in this place, and picked up one of your pamphlets. In reading the certificates of cures, I found one case so nearly like my own that I at once concluded to give your medicines a trial. I bought the Seaweed Tonic, Pulmonic Syrup and Mandrake Pills, and began their use according to the printed directions, and I can truly say, that from the first I saw a marked improvement in all my symptoms. This encouraged me to continue their use until I was entirely well. I have had good health since my recovery, and I believe your medicines saved my life. I know of several other persons in this city that have been cured by your remedies.

Yours Truly,
ROBERT W. JONES.

Guard the System Against

MALARIA

By Using

DR. SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS,

The Great Vegetable Substitute for Mercury.

They will cure Chills and Fever.
They will cure Diarrhœa.
They will cure obstinate Constipation, leaving the Stomach and bowels in a healthy condition.

They will cure Liver Complaint, that great forerunner of Consumption.

MANDRAKE PILLS

Do not produce sickness at the Stomach, nausea or griping. On the contrary, they are so mild and agreeable in their action that a person suffering with a sick headache, sour stomach, or pain in the bowels, is speedily relieved of these distressing symptoms. They act directly on the liver, the organ which, when in a healthy condition, purifies the blood for the whole body.

They are a perfect preparation of that great and well-known remedy, Mandrake or Podophyllin, a remedy that has displaced the use of mercury as well as many other poisonous drugs, in the practice of every intelligent physician.

Prof. John King, of the College of Medicine, of Cincinnati, says: "In Constipation it acts directly on the bowels without disposing them to subsequent costiveness. In Chronic Liver Complaint there is not its equal in the whole range of medicines, being vastly more useful than mercurial agents, arousing the liver to healthy action, increasing the flow of bile, and keeping of these actions longer than any other agent with which we are acquainted." (See American Dispensatory, page 770.)

In all cases of Liver Complaint or Dyspepsia, when there is great weakness or debility, Dr. Schenck's Seaweed Tonic should be used in connection with these Pills.

MANDRAKE PILLS,
SEAWEED TONIC,

Are sold by all Druggists, and full directions for their use are printed on the wrappers of every package.

Probabilities for New England:—

Fair and slightly warmer weather, south to west winds, and falling barometer.

The Thermometer at the CHRONICLE Office, at 4:00 o'clock this morning, registered 25 degrees above zero.

Sky clear.

A CONTRAST.

A year ago at this time the ground was frozen; ice several inches thick covered the fresh-water ponds in this vicinity—that is, where there were any fresh-water ponds, for they were few and far between—and poultry coming into the market was frozen solid. On the 22d of November the ice on the South millpond was strong enough to bear up an immense flock of gulls, and on the morning of the 23d the thermometer indicated four degrees above zero; on the latter date the navigation of the Merrimack river above Newburyport ceased. This year there are plenty of ponds, but no ice on them or on the rivers, and frozen poultry is something yet to come. Last year no wild geese were seen on their southward flight, excepting by the crews of vessels far at sea, the supposition being that the extreme cold weather and strong head winds which the birds found along shore, caused them to seek more favorable conditions for their migration at a distance from the land. On Friday of last week there were more wild geese in Great bay than had been seen there before at one time for many years, and on Friday evening a very large flock was seen flying over this city from the southward, evidently heading for the bay. The old gunners of the bay region are quite confident in their predictions of an open winter, based on the movements of the geese. There was a little bit of winter on Saturday night and Sunday, the fine rain of Saturday changing to snow after dark, and clearing off cool toward morning. Sunday at sunrise the grass and roofs of buildings were partially whitened, but the snow was nearly all melted before noon. The thermometer at midnight on Sunday was twenty-eight degrees above zero.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

Commodore John C. Beaumont, commandant of the navy yard, arrived back from Washington on Saturday last.

It is reported that Capt. Jonathan Young is to be relieved from duty as captain of the yard by Capt. A. E. K. Benham, late in command of the Richmond, flagship of the Asiatic squadron.

Naval Constructor Wilson on Friday received orders by telegraph to report at once at Washington, and left for that city by the next train. Mr. Wilson had previously received thirty days' leave of absence, to further examine the various plans of new vessels proposed by the advisory board.

At three o'clock Sunday afternoon an alarm of fire was sounded on the navy yard, caused as we are informed by the burning-out of a chimney in one of the houses on Seavey's island, no damage being done.

Chief Constructor Jno. W. Easby goes on the retired list on the 15th of December, and the position of chief of the bureau of construction and repair becomes thereby vacant. Naval Const. T. D. Wilson, now on duty at Portsmouth, N. H., is prominently mentioned as the successor of Mr. Easby.—Army and Navy Journal.

RAPPINGS.

A surprise party at a west-end residence last week was much annoyed by irregular thumpings against one of the windows and blinds, by some mysterious power which an hour's investigation by hosts and guests could not solve. The rappings became more frequent, louder and more persistent, until enjoyment was banished from the room, the ladies were dismayed, and consternation was depicted upon the faces of the otherwise genial man and matron of the house. At this juncture a gentleman from the south-end, of a practical turn of mind but not in least skeptical, suggested that he would solve the mystery in ten minutes if the party would but remain in the house, and leave him to make his investigations alone. This proposition was agreed to, and our friend, who by the way is something of an inventor, was soon crawling along on all fours by the front yard fence to a point beneath the troubled window; and once there, stretched prone upon the ground with upturned face he lay, watching for the mysterious knocker that had thus far baffled them. "Bang, whang," went the knocks; our friend felt of his bewildered eyes to see if they were open. "Whack, whack," and he closer hugged the ground, for as yet no materialized cause for the abominable racket within three feet of his head was discernable. "Bang, whang,"—ah, what tiny object was that ascending swiftly into space? "Whack, wh"—but he has it, and carries triumphantly in to his anxious companions, one small stone and six hundred feet of twine! 'Tis solved. The ubiquitous small boy had managed to rig a line to the house, attached the stone, and by another line carried to a barn sixty yards distant, had caused the rappings, then each time pulling the stone high in the air, out of sight. The pall was lifted, and "all went merry as a marriage bell."

Rev. James DeNormandie's lecture on Sunday evening was for the "Merchants." Our advice to this class is, "give honest measure, and advertise judiciously."

Mrs. M. H. Hardy of Toronto, who has there a home for unfortunate women, and who has had most remarkable success in restoring and saving this class, will give a familiar talk upon her work, at the chapel of the South Parish on Tuesday evening, at half-past seven o'clock. All are welcome.

The Portsmouth Brewing company pays a dividend of ten per cent to its stockholders this week.

Miss Borg's lecture, which is to be given at Miss Morgan's school this evening, is, we are assured, of profound interest. The lady is a native of Finland, a province of Russia, and has lived there all her life till within a few years. She is also an earnest student, and the combined results of her study and her own observation of the history and life of that interesting country cannot fail to be valuable. Tickets at Myers'.

In Boston, on Saturday, at the brokers' board, 650 shares of Eastern railroad stock changed hands at $39.50 to $37 per share. At auction, Eastern railroad brought $39 to $39.75 per share; Eastern in New Hampshire, $92.25; Portland, Saco & Portsmouth, $116.25; and $1000 of Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway bonds went at 88 1-4.

The Boston Globe says: "Hutchings & Pryor, the City Point yacht builders, whose boats rank high for both beauty and speed, are so confident that they can build a boat of equal capacity to the Madge for $3500, that can beat her, that they offer to stand all expense should the craft lose, and the contractor need not take the boat." Both the gentlemen named are from this vicinity, Mr. Hutchings being from Kittery and Mr. Pryor from this city. And they know how to build a boat that can sail, too.

People have wondered what kept the market price of Eastern railroad stock so much above what every sensible man knew must be its actual value. It turns out that the stock was "carried" in large amount by Weeks, the "depositor" in the Pacific bank of Boston; and the high rate at which he put the shares, brought it out in liberal lots. One gentleman in Rye, who bought at a few dollars a share some time ago, recently "went out" at $50 per share, or more than ten dollars better than he could sell the stock for today. Of course none but greenhorns have bought at recent quotations.

The circuit court of the United States begins a session at Concord this forenoon, when the trial of case Huntress vs. town of Epsom will be commenced.

The schooners Josie Johnson, Ella M. Johnson, Mary E. Smith and Lydia A. Davis took 10,000 lbs. of codfish into Newburyport on Thursday of last week, and realized from $2.30 to $2.62 per hundred pounds; earlier in the week $3 per hundred was the price. The schooner Northern Eagle last week carried into Gloucester, for three days in succession, over 6000 lbs. of cod each day, taken with gill-nets; and the Quickstep was reported to have done better still. The Northern Eagle was the first American fishing schooner to fit out with cod-nets; and she and the Josie Johnson both landed some very heavy fares in Portsmouth last winter.

Under the heading of "Cape Porpoise," the Kennebunk Star of last week says: "Mrs. Jane Huff died last Sunday evening, aged eighty-eight years. She leaves one son and three daughters. The son resides in Portsmouth, N. H., one daughter in Chicago, and two in Boston. Mrs. Huff was a widow; her husband died some years ago. The three daughters have lost two husbands each, and are all widows at the present time."

THE GLOUCESTER FISHERIES.

The Cape Ann Advertiser of last week contained a summary of the losses of life and property in the Gloucester fisheries for the season of 1881, now practically ended. The season has been favorable in points of catch and prices in most of the branches followed by the Gloucester fleet, and the losses have been below the average. Four vessels have been lost in the banks fishery, two with their crews, numbering twenty-five men; and one vessel each in the herring, shore and mackerel fisheries. The seven vessels were valued at $29,800; insurance $20,493. Eighteen men have been washed overboard or lost in dories, making a total loss of forty-three lives.

One of the vessels lost was the Vanguard, 40.47 tons register, wrecked March 19th at Rye beach. This schooner was engaged in the net-codfishing in Ipswich bay, and was trying to make Portsmouth harbor with 10,000 lbs. of fish on board, at the time of the disaster.

Since 1866, the annual loss of life in the Gloucester fisheries has fallen below forty only twice; in 1877 the loss was thirty-nine, and in 1878, thirty-five. In 1879 the number of lives lost was 266. Seven vessels were lost in 1877, and eight in 1878; in 1879, thirty-two vessels were lost, aggregating 2128 tons, and valued at $128,281. In 1880, four schooners and three boats were lost, aggregating 298 tons, and valued at $21,000; and with them were lost fifty-five seamen.

In addition to the fishing losses this year, two schooners belonging to the district of Gloucester, engaged in foreign and coasting trade, have been lost, making the marine losses of the district for 1881 nine vessels, aggregating 735.82 tons, and fifty mariners. One of the two freighting schooners lost was the Anson Stimson, whose captain died a few hours before the vessel struck on Brigantine shoal, on the New Jersey coast; and in the list of lives lost is Mr. Wm. Harrison Card of Newcastle, N. H., lost overboard from the schooner Ella, of which vessel he was mate.

is the most popular and beautiful in design, and fine finish. It is made of the very best steel. The barrel and frame is Nickel Strengthened, with indicator cylinder. Ivory Stock, and the whole beautifully engraved and enameled, giving a very pleasant contrast of colors. The mechanism is made of the best steel, and as it is impossible to show the beautiful finish of the Blue Jacket in an engraving, we have had a photograph taken of it, showing it in its natural colors. It is simply beautiful beyond description. It is finished IVORY BLINDS, ENGRAVED AND ENAMELED, and for less than $6.00, and is the most remarkable bargain we ever offered in firearms. This Revolver cannot be made to day for twice the money, and we do not see how it can be made to sell at less than $6.00. It is a perfect beauty, and when there are sold, no more can be had except at regular prices. THE BLUE JACKET is as well known as our Encyclopedia Britannica, and we have Hundreds of them in use, and we do not know of one that has not been satisfactory. Remember it is not to be compared with a $1 Revolver, but with a $6.00 Revolver, and we do not think that any one will say that the Revolver is not cheap at the money. THE HOUSEHOLD QUIZ MAGAZINE. If you will send us 50 cts. we will send you the QUIZ and the Revolver, postage paid, and we will give you, and the REVOLVER FREE, of all other charges. THE HOUSEHOLD QUIZ MAGAZINE is a 32 page paper, with Illustrated Engraved Cover, and is filled with choice Illustrations, Sketches, Stories by the best authors, Poetry, Jokes, Sketches, Illustrated Fashion Department, useful Information, Statistics, Amusements, Puzzles, Receipts, Tales of Travel, The Farm, The Kitchen, Industry, Trade, Commerce, etc. It is sure to be touching, has a large circulation, and the regular price for a year's subscription has always been $1.50.

J. S. JAMES.

The Naval Advisory Board.

According to the Saturday evening despatch of "Scott," the Washington correspondent of the Boston Traveller, the naval advisory board on the 18th inst. submitted written reports to the secretary of the navy. There are two reports; one, the majority report, signed by eight line officers and one engineer, and the other signed by three naval constructors, and Chief Engineer Isherwood.

The chief points of difference relate to the question of speed desirable in new vessels constructed, the line officers claiming greater accommodations for the captain at the expense of the speed, while the minority contend that speed is the most essential element. The line officers want the captain's cabin on the poop-deck, which the minority report says would act as a back-sail, and not only retard the speed but interfere with the heavy guns. There is also a difference as to the material to be used in the construction of the vessels, the majority favoring steel, and the minority iron. The minority claim that if the vessels were constructed as proposed by the majority, they would be only second-class vessels, and incapable of making the desired speed; the majority say they would be content with a speed of twelve knots an hour, while the minority contend that the first-class vessels should make at least fifteen knots an hour.

If "Scott's" report is correct, the difference of opinion between the two factions of the advisory board is as follows: One faction thinks the $31,000,000 which it is estimated would be needed to create a moderately-decent navy, should be laid out in the building of commodious yachts for the officers; the other faction thinks the money should be so laid out as to secure the greatest possible amount of fighting power in the proposed new vessels. Many people are under the impression that the supply of naval yachts is already sufficiently large, and that if any new ships are to be built, they had better be ships-of-war.

An"Old Maid's" Consolation.
The writer rallied a lady friend upon being an "old maid," and she replied: "I am past thirty; I have a good name. I have been bridesmaid a score of times. I ask myself with which one of these beautiful girls I have seen take the marriage vow would I exchange lots to-day? Not one! Some are living apart from their husbands; some are divorced; some are hanging upon the ragged-edge of society, endeavoring to keep up appearances; some are toiling to educate and support their children, and these are the least miserable; some tread the narrow boundary of the mysterious land, and some have gone into darkness and unknown horrors, and some are dead. A few there are who are loved and honored wives and mothers, with happy homes; but, alas! only a very few."—Exchange.

—It is said that white cats with blue eyes are always deaf.

The thoughtlessness of people is so great in regard to watchfulness against colds, etc., that were it not for the wonderful curative power of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup we should shudder at the fate of such.

The explosion on the British steamer Solway (not Severn, as previously reported) last week was caused by a barrel of naphtha taking fire. Eleven lives were lost.

Don't Get Discouraged!
because the doctors say you cannot live. I was troubled with dropsy, and given up to die. But after using Sulphur Bitters for three months, I am well. It is the best medicine for kidney diseases I ever saw.—Mrs. B——, Bridgeport.

W. C. Bartlow, keeper of the Farrallone islands light, with four fishermen and a boy, left San Francisco, Cal., on the 16th inst., for the light station in the schooner Ranger. Wreckage from the vessel was found inside San Francisco heads on the 17th, and all the crew are supposed to have perished.

The Results of Necessity.
What the ancients suffered for the want of knowledge in medical science, can only be appreciated by contrasting the vast amount of suffering cured and pain alleviated in modern times, by the use of Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases. Its introduction was characterized by the necessary withdrawal of a score or more of illusive, quack nostrums, whose evil effects have left living monuments to denounce them. Thus is exemplified the proverb, necessity is the mother of invention.

Rheumatism
Neuralgia, Sprains,
Pain in the Back and Side.
There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.
This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.
Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, It never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.
The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:
Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our friend was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.
Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have remained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.
G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
Your PAIN KILLER afforded relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.
E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.
Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a very reliable remedy for rheumatism and lameness.
Mr. Burdett writes:
It never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.
Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.
All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

FELLOWS'
Compound Syrup of Hypo-phos-phites
A REALLY RELIABLE REMEDY FOR WASTING AND NERVOUS DISEASES.
After numerous experiments Mr. Fellows succeeded in producing this combination of Hypophosphites, which has not only restored him to health, but has since been found so successful in the treatment of disease emanating from loss of nerve power, and consequently muscular relaxation, viz:
Aphonia (loss of voice), Neuralgia, Anæmia, Nervous debility, Chronic Diarrhœa, Whooping Cough, Dyspepsia, Congestion of the Lungs, Fever and Ague, Palpitation of the Heart, Leucorrhœa, Melancholy, Malaria, Mental Depression, Nervousness.
MALARIA.
Persons living in Malarious districts may protect themselves from attacks of fever by the use of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites. Its effects in toning up the system enables it to ward off contagious disorders, and successfully combat disease.
The soluble phosphites and the other life-sustaining principles contained in Fellows' Hypophosphites are so carefully proportioned and so judiciously mingled, that their action upon the nerves, muscles and membranes in imparting vitality, strength and healthy action is generally apparent within twenty four hours, and the good effects experienced are of a permanent character.

Back Ache
POSITIVELY CURED
BY
Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.
Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:
First.
Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and combine in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts with increased rubefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.
Second.
Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession.
Third.
Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.
Fourth.
Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.
Fifth.
Because over 1000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.
Sixth.
Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE BEST AND GREATEST MEDICINE

It will drive the Humor from your system, and make your skin clean and smooth. Tetter, Pimples and Blotches which mar your beauty are caused by impure blood, and can be removed in a short time, if you are wise and use the great blood purifier, SULPHUR BITTERS. Why suffer with Boils? Why have Blotches? Why look like a Leper? Why suffer with Rheumatism? What makes you tremble with Ague? What makes you so full of pain with Neuralgia and need a gentle soothing tonic to assist nature to repair the damage which your nerves are all suffering from? Sulphur Bitters is not a cheap rum drink, but a medicine. Your nerves are all on fire, your whole system is out of order, your blood is poor and impure, the digestive organs are clogged, the other preparations which claim to be blood purifiers do not do it, because they contain no Sulphur. Sulphur Bitters is a compound of such proportions as to make it NATURE'S GREAT REMEDY.

The Dose is small—only a Teaspoonful. It is the best and cheapest medicine. Try it and you will be satisfied. Get it of your druggist.

DON'T WAIT. GET IT AT ONCE.

The Meaker Tragedy.

At Montpelier, Vt., Nov. 19th, the supreme court overruled the exceptions in the case of Emeline L. Meaker of Waterbury, Vt., convicted of the murder of Alice Meaker, and the woman was sentenced to be hung on the last Friday in March, 1883. This murder was one of the most brutal and heartless in the annals of crime. The victim, a half-sister of Emeline Meaker's husband, was an orphan girl thirteen years old, and was sent from the poor farm in Charlotte to live in the Meaker household. A frail, timid child, from the time of her entering beneath the Meaker roof she was made to endure the torments of hell, the brutal woman and her equally brutal son, Almon F. Meaker, continually scolding, beating and abusing her. Finally the wretches took the miserable child from her bed one night, tied a sack over her head, drove miles with her to a swamp, forced her to swallow a dose of strychnine, and as soon as she was insensible buried her. The son appears to have one redeeming quality—love for his brutal mother; for on their trial he pleaded guilty to the charge of murder, and then lied recklessly in the endeavor to clear woman; he is under sentence to be hanged on the second Friday in February, 1882. While Mrs. Meaker was in jail at Montpelier, Vt., awaiting trial, she attempted to fire the building, and also made an attack upon the sheriff in which she displayed all the savage ferocity of a wild beast.

A Remarkable Escape.

Near New Chicago, Montana, a sand or crevice blast was set in the bluff where grading is being done for the Northern Pacific road. Seven kegs of powder were used for the main blast, and there were two smaller blasts set with shorter fuse to open the crevice. The fuses were lighted, the men sought shelter, and there were two explosions in rapid succession. Nelson Bennett, the contractor, started for the mine, followed by his bookkeeper and three laborers. Some one shouted, "The big shot isn't fired;" but the five men went on until they stood over the two hundred pounds of powder. Bennett too late realized the situation. The explosion was terrific, hurling 800 cubic yards of rock—at least a thousand tons—and the foolhardy five men with it, far upward and out into the river. That any of the unfortunates would survive was far from the thought of the spectators, but one by one the five men were fished out of the swift stream, bruised, bleeding and horrible specimens of humanity, but all alive and with sound bones. Bennett's first words were, "I made the best jump." He was thrown 120 feet by actual measurement. Railroad men and contractors familiar with such accidents consider the escape of these men the most remarkable on record.

Matthew Bassett and Mrs. Myerhaver, of Tarrytown, N. Y., were arrested in Lynn, Mass., last week, where they were living as man and wife. On Friday the woman's father-in-law arrived in Lynn, bailed out his daughter-in-law and her paramour, and the three afterward left for their home.

Living Witnesses.

The hundreds of hearty, and healthy looking men, women and children, that have been rescued from beds of pain sickness and well nigh death by Parker's Ginger Tonic are the best evidences in the world of its sterling merit and worth. You will find such in almost every community.

Over 700 quarts of adulterated milk were condemned in Newark, N. J., Saturday, by the state inspector.

The Dangers of the Stock Market.

A man may be incredulous enough to risk his money in the fickle mysteries of a mercurial stock market, but when he gets the itching piles, he goes straight for Dr. Swayne's Ointment. Unlike the bulls and bears of the stock exchange, who clean you out of hard earned cash, it returns your money with interest, in the way of allaying the intense itching, and insuring sweet repose.

The subscriptions for the Garfield Memorial hospital in Washington already aggregate $80,000. Its success would seem to be assured.

The packer of the "Neptune" brand of oysters, Mr. Thomas H. Dorsey, foot of Tenth street, North River, N. Y., writes: I had a sprained arm, and St. Jacobs Oil was applied. It reduced the swelling and eased the pain at once; proving it a remedy of rare worth.

Ash-Tonic;

A perfected purifyer of the system. In 1-2lb. bottles; 75 cents. For dyspepsia, the many forms of liver complaint, impure and impoverished blood, and functional derangements attendant upon debility. For symptoms indicated by indigestion, loss of appetite, nausea, sick headache, sour stomach, furred tongue, drowsiness, blanched lips, sallow complexion, pain in the side or back, eruptions, depression of spirits, nervous irritability and hysteria, and for building up the system, ash-tonic is unquestionably the most prompt and energetic remedy yet devised.

Gold assets never figured up so large as they do now in the treasury. The amount held is nearly $175,000,000, nearly $1,000,000 of it being gold bullion.

Renew your Lease.

There are times in every one's life when energy fails and a miserable feeling comes over them, mistaken for laziness. Danger lurks in these symptoms, as they arise from diseased organs. Parker's Ginger Tonic will restore perfect activity to the stomach, liver and kidneys, purify the blood, and renew your lease of health and comfort.—Advocate.

Two men, their wives and four children were drowned near Clayton, N. Y., Nov. 19th, by the sinking of a boat.

ASHBURNHAM, Mass., Jan. 14, 1880.
I have been very sick over two years. They all gave me up as past cure. I tried the most skillful physicians, but they did not reach the worst part. The lungs and heart would fill up every night and distress me, and my throat was very bad. I told my children I never should die in peace until I had tried Hop Bitters. I have taken two bottles. They have helped me very much indeed, I am now well. There was a lot of sick folks here who have seen how they helped me, and they used them and are cured, and feel as thankful as I do that there is so valuable a medicine made.

Guiteau's Trial.

On the opening of the court, Monday, Mr. Robinson asked permission to retire from the defence; Guiteau objected to his withdrawing, but he insisted, and Judge Cox relieved him from any further connection with the case. The government called Drs. Woodward and Lamb, and then rested their case. Guiteau made a short and rambling statement, and was followed by Mr. Scoville, who spoke briefly, and asked further time, which was granted, the court adjourning at twelve o'clock.

William Jones, the man arrested Saturday on suspicion of having shot at Guiteau, was on Monday held in $5000 for the grand jury. Officer Edlin, who shot at Guiteau's assailant, says Jones is not the man he fired at. The assassin is thereafter to have a guard of eight mounted police to and from the court-house and jail.

News and Notes.

At Bridgewater, Mass., Nov. 19th, the jury in the suit of Reuben Coville against the Boston Journal and Boston Post for libel, returned a verdict for the plaintiff, awarding damages of one cent against each paper. In the case of Long vs. the same papers, the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff, awarding the sum of $21 against the Post and $31 against the Journal.

In Bangor, Nov. 20th, Margaret Guthrie, aged eighteen years, was shot in the neck by her brother, who "in fun" pointed a didn't-know-it-was-loaded pistol at her. The dangerous idiot should be sent to state prison for life. Unless inflamation sets in, the girl may recover.

At Booneville, Mo., Nov. 19th, Thomas S. McDerman, city marshal, shot and killed A. B. Thornton, editor of the Booneville News, a greenback organ. The News of that morning had an article severely reflecting on McDesman's official acts, and indulging in some personal abuse. McDerman met Thornton on the street late in the afternoon, and an altercation ensued, during which blows were struck. Pistols were then drawn, and McDerman shot Thornton twice, once in the side and again in the head, the latter shot killing him instantly. McDerman gave himself up.

J. Stanley Brown, private secretary of President Garfield, and who has been acting as private secretary for President Arthur, has tendered his resignation, to take effect December 1st. He will prepare for the biographer all the papers, letters, etc., of the late President Garfield and then enter a business firm in Washington. President Arthur, in accepting his resignation, expressed sincere regret.

Sheriff Bucker of Bourbon county, Kansas, reports that he has captured the notorious Dick Little, one of the James gang of train robbers, at the residence of his father, thirty miles from Fort Scott. The state offered $10,000 and the railroads $5000 for the capture of Little, who was in both the Glendale and Blue Cut train robberies, and was the leader at Winston when three persons were killed.

Brig Lizzie, which arrived at Bull river, S. C., on the 16th inst., from Bermuda, picked up at sea on November 3d, a boat of the ship France of Dunkirk, with the chief mate and four seamen of that vessel. The rest of the crew, who were in two other boats, were probably lost.

A despatch from Thomaston, Me., states that the town had funds deposited in the Pacific bank of Boston for current payments. These funds are not lost; there is no doubt that depositors will ultimately be paid in full; but some temporary embarrassment might occur, but for the public spirit of the Hon. Edward O'Brien, of Thomaston, who will raise means for all current liabilities on his personal credit. Mr. O'Brien backed the town in the same way during the panic of 1857.

The post office at Smithville, Tex., and a freight train near Palestine, Tex., were robbed Friday night, and Saturday morning the International stage going to Laredo was stopped by armed men and the pouches robbed. The amount secured in either case is not known.

At Groton, Mass., on election day, not a few of the voters of that town scratched the name of John D. Long on the state ticket, and wrote in its stead that of Steans Kendall Abbott, the Groton murderer, who now lies in the Massachusetts state prison. This was done because the men disliked Gov. Long's action in reprieving Abbott, whom they believe murdered Mrs. Cruz.

The funeral of the late James Lot Ridgely, grand secretary of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows, took place Sunday afternoon from Odd Fellows hall in Baltimore, and was a most imposing affair. Prominent odd fellows from all parts of the country were present.

At Franklin, Me., a party of hunters had been hounding deer, and, while they were absent a short time, a quarter of meat which they had been using was poisoned. Fortunately, before they cooked any more of it, without mistrusting what was done, they gave a piece to their hound—a very valuable one—and in a short time he was dead.

The newspapers have chronicled the fact that the tug-boat Lehigh of New York was blown up recently at Glen Island. The engineer has just made his "official" report as follows: "The tug-boat Lehigh blowed up at Glen island on Monday, November 14." The cook was killed, but the engineer is not given to verbosity.

Andrew J. Butler of Reading, Mass., in the act of getting into his buggy the other day, stepped upon the hub of the wheel, when his foot slipped between the spokes. His horse started, tearing the knee from the socket, and badly bruising him otherwise. His recovery is doubtful.

A despatch from Durand, Wis., gives the particulars of the lynching of Edward Williams, alias Maxwell, one of the murderers of the Coleman brothers. He was caught in Kall county, Nebraska, Nov. 12th, and coveyed to Durand, where he arrived on the 18th. He was arriagned in court next day, and pleaded not guilty to the charge of murder. The court room was crowded, and several other men were outside. Williams had scarcely entered his plea and asked for time to procure witnesses, when a noose was thrown over his neck. Those inside the court room shoved him to a window, while those outside pulled the rope, and he was dragged some forty rods to a tree where he was hanged until he was dead.

About 500 passenger elevators are in use in New York, carrying at least 300,000 people a day. The ropes which raise the elevator cars break so frequently, that among the New York elevators there is at least one break a week. The safety clutches as a rule prevent disaster, holding the car in safety.

The marriage of Haughwort Howe of New York, Postmaster Pearson's private secretary, and Miss Charlier, the daughter of Prof. Elie Charlier of Charlier's institute, took place without hindrance on Wednesday of last week, in spite of Prof. Charlier's threats at one time that he would forbid the banns.

Mrs. Eliza Allen of Alfred, who was indicted for assault and battery by the grand jury at the last term of the supreme judicial court of Maine for York county, for pushing her husband's mother off the platform in front of the house and thereby causing her death, had a fit on Saturday morning, Nov. 12th, and died in it.

Found at Last.

About twelve years ago Miss Mary E. Woodman, who was born and brought up in Newburyport, became somewhat noted among musical circles in this city, for the high musical talent which she possessed. Her parents were living in New Hampshire at the time, thus leaving her no resource for a living, and forcing her to be dependent upon others, so that she was constantly changing her residence from the house of one friend or acquaintance to that of another. Finally she entered the home of a clergyman, who paid so much attention to her wants that after a while she became very desirous of his company, and in fact, gave him to understand that she loved him and desired him to marry her. He saw that the lady had mistaken his friendship for love, and on the plea of urgent business started off to Europe. The lady was frantic to think that her proffered affection had been refused, and borrowing money from her friends, she too started for Europe, threatening to kill her former benefactor if she should ever meet him in the course of her travels. A year or two passed away, and nothing had been heard from the lady, although vague rumors came to her relatives in this country, saying that she was dead. About six months since, the American minister to Spain became acquainted with a young lady who was engaged in teaching in a university of music and art, and that same teacher turned out to be none other than Miss Mary E. Woodman of this city, who had travelled all over Europe during the eight years previous, teaching music in the cities where she stopped, so that she might obtain a living; and she is now settled as teacher in one of the best universities in Lisbon.—Newburyport Herald.

A Reliable Establishment.

There are a few old-established and widely-known business houses in this country whose reputation for honesty and fair-dealing are so firmly established that they have won the entire confidence of the public. Foremost among these is the firm of Horace Waters & Co., of New York, whose pianos and organs have obtained celebrity for their superior construction and fine quality of tone. Mr. Waters first started in business about thirty-five years ago, and has sold nearly fifty thousand pianos and organs, which have found their way not only into every city and town of the Union, but to every civilized country on the globe. In their advertisement, which appears in this issue, they offer special low prices on some leading styles of instruments, and intending purchasers may find it to their interest to send for their catalogue.—Weekly Witness, N. Y.

Boston Drinking Water.

Boston has analyzed her drinking water, and the Globe of that city prints a map of the result, which is quite an interesting menagerie. Among the animalculæ shown we recognize the skeletons of the megatherium, the gyptodon, the ichyosaurus, the plesiosaurus, and the pterodactyl, all of which lived before the flood. The vegetable matter brought to light by the microscope includes what appears to us to be a broken cart wheel, a section of stove pipe, a prize beet, a clothes-horse and an old saddle. We are not surprised that the temperance party in Massachusetts is making progress backward.—Norristown Herald.

—Chicago has had over one thousand cases of small-pox within the past month.

—A report prevails in Charleston, S. C., that as soon as the recent demand for confederate bonds sprang up an enterprising New England firm started a factory for the purpose of manufacturing them, in order to supply our English cousins with all the article they want. The report can be traced to no authoritative source, but it recalls the fact, says a Charleston paper, "that during the late war, out of which the confederate bonds sprang, our brethren at the north supplied us with even a better article in the shape of confederate currency than we were able to manufacture at home."

A laughable incident happened not long since on the train between Lake Village and Weirs. A young and finely dressed couple were among the passengers, evidently on a wedding tour. The gentleman made himself conspicuous by his proud bearing as he walked through the car. After standing on the rear platform for a few moments he returned to his seat, dropped down beside the lady with an air of possession, placed his arm carefully on the seat behind her, and then took a survey of the situation. Imagine his surprise and disgust when he discovered his companion to be an elderly lady with glasses and green veil, instead of his blooming bride. It is needless to say a general shout went up in that car. He had got into the wrong seat.—Cor. Meredith News.

DIRECTIONS.

For Catarrh, Hay Fever Cold in the Head, etc., insert with little finger a particle of the Balm into the nostrils; draw strong breaths through the nose. It will be absorbed, cleansing and healing the diseased membranes.

FOR DEAFNESS, Apply a particle into the ear.

ELYS' CREAM BALM

Having gained an enviable local reputation, displacing all other preparations in the vicinity of discovery, is on its merits alone, recognized as a wonderful remedy. A fair trial will convince the most skeptical of its curative powers. It effectually cleanses the nasal passages of Catarrhal virus, causing healthy secretions, allays inflammation and irritation, protects the membranal linings of the head from additional colds, completely heals the sores and restores the sense of taste and smell. Beneficial results are realized by a few applications. A thorough treatment as directed will cure Catarrh. As a household remedy for cold in the head and snuffles it is unequalled. The Balm is easy to use and agreeable. Sold by all druggists at 50 cts. On receipt of 50 cts. will mail a package. Send for circular with full information.

POLICE COURT.

MONDAY Nov. 21; Batchelder, J.

John Bassett and Timothy Dunphy, two drunks, were assessed $9.90 each, which they paid.

James Gilchrist, alias "Scotty," drunk, ninety days at Brentwood, costs $6.90.

Albert More, James Walley and Patrick Kane, three boys, changed with displacing a switch on the Concord railroad and running off a hand-car, last Friday, were held in $100 each to answer at the April term of the supreme court, and to be of good behavior in the meantime. Two of these boys, More and Kane, with one other, were arrested last week for a similar offence committed on the Eastern road, but were allowed to go. This time they will probably be brought before the grand jury, as they deserve.

CIRCUIT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES.

[October Term—Lowell, J.]

The court came at Concord on Monday, when a jury was sent out to view the premises in Epsom in the case of Huntress vs. Epsom, wherein plaintiff claims damages by reason of an injury received Nov. 12th, 1877, by reason of an alleged defect in a higway known as the Concord Turnpike. Copeland & Edgerly, and Wallace Hackett, for pltf.; Foster, Mugridge and T. J. Smith for the town.

On motion of District Attorney Burns, John H. Albra and Fred. H. Gould of Concord were admitted to practice in this court.

In Inge vs. Hodgdon a motion for judgment on the verdict was sustained.

The court took a recess until the 28th.

THE LITTA CONCERT.

This concert, which is to be given at Music hall on the evening of Thanksgiving day, will without doubt be first-class, and pleasing throughout. Several of the members of the company are spoken of as follows by various papers:

Litta as "Lucia" quite outdid all her previous efforts, achieving, indeed, a positive triumph in the mad scene, at the conclusion of which she was twice called before the curtain amid a perfect storm of plaudits. The brilliant music was faultlessly sung.—Boston Herald.

Miss Hattie McLain possesses a phenomenal contralto voice under excellent cultivation, and made a most favorable impression upon her auditors.—Albany Argus.

The programme was ushered in with a piano solo by Miss Nellie P. Bangs, who is a favorite in Springfield, and the audience attested their appreciation upon her every appearance and recalled her in the second part.—Springfield Register.

Mr. John Skelton agreeably surprised every one by his brilliant and effective playing on the cornet, and his solos "La Favorite" and "Surf Polka," afforded a rare treat to those who heard them. He was enthusiastically applauded.—Toronto Globe.

Mr. Cleveland possesses a tenor voice to which it is a delight to listen. Nothing could have been more charming than his duo with Miss Litta, "A Night in Venice." —Zanesville Times.

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

The despatch steamer Tallapoosa, Comdr. A. G. Kellogg commanding, arrived at the navy yard on Sunday evening from New York and intermediate stations. Capt. C. C. Carpenter came down on her from Boston.

A Washington despatch of Nov. 20th says: "Commodore John C. Beaumont is detached from command of the Portsmouth navy yard Dec. 1st, and placed on waiting orders; Commodore Clark H. Wells is detached from duty as chief signal officer, and ordered to command the Portsmouth navy yard. Capt. Jonathan Young is detached from duty as captain of the Portsmouth navy yard, Dec. 8th, and placed on waiting orders; Capt. A. E. K. Benham is ordered to report Dec. 8th as captain of the Portsmouth navy yard."

The fire on Seavey's island, Sunday afternoon, was in the house occupied by Civil Engineer Craven, which was damaged by fire and water to the amount of two or three hundred dollars. The fire caught from a defective flue in the chimney, which examination shows was most wretchedly built originally, the only wonder being the house was not burned down long ago.

Mrs. Hattie M. Shuff of Epping will deliver a temperance lecture in the Court street Christian church this (Tuesday) evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Hardy will give a lecture at the chapel of the South Parish, on Court street, this evening at half-past seven o'clock, to which all are welcome. Mrs. Hardy has in Toronto, Canada, a home for unfortunate women, and her experience in caring for and saving them, which will be the subject of the lecture, is of much interest.

Lazare, "A Life's Mistake," was presented to a large and delighted audience last evening. The play coutains many striking and new situations, and at times grows very pathetic. The passions of love, hate and jealousy are cleverly depicted by the company engaged in the representation. The trials and sufferings of the jealous husband should be a warning to all who act hastily and without sober judgment.—Albany Argus.

At Franklin theatre Wednesday evening.

"Rooms for Rent" will be presented at Music hall on Monday evening of next week. See advertisement.

Mr. James M. Carr and wife contemplate passing a portion of the winter in New York and the west.

The millponds were skimmed with ice on Monday, except a narrow strip around the shores, where open water was seen. Not being able to reach the thin ice in order to break through and get wet, the small boy amused himself by throwing stones upon the ice; bye-and-by, when the weather gets colder, he will go skating, stub his toe against those stones, fall down, and spread his nose all over his face. No matter.

Capt. Joseph Haley, George Herbert and others, have purchased the schooner Storm King, 36.41 tons register, hitherto owned at Duxbury, Mass., and she will hereafter hail from this port, where she will at once engage in winter fishing.

The stone sloop employed by the Gangway rock contractors on Monday hauled in to C. E. Walker & Co.'s wharf, where her hoisting gear will be utilized in assisting to raise the new coal pockets.

The Humbug Yatchting & Fishing Association did not go afloat on the 20th inst.,—the first time the "Humbug" had missed making her regular weekly trip since she was put off early in the spring. The association have probably made their last cruise for this year—and when they give it up, the season of pleasuring with small boats may be considered very nearly at an end.

Theodore Jackson, the well known basso of Skiff & Gaylord's former minstrel troupe, Charles A. Mason, middleman, and Banks H. Winter, tenor, arrived at the Gibson house from Chicago on Friday night last, to join the California minstrels, which organization now numbers twenty-one members, and gave a fine entertainment to a small audience in Music hall Saturday evening. The entire company put up at the Gibson house, and are spoken of as all being of decidedly gentlemanly bearing off the stage.

Mr. John S. Sides of this city on Monday killed two foxes in Newington.

The schooner Maud B. Wetherell, Hontvet master, which arrived at this port last week from Summerside, Prince Edward island, was on Monday discharging 4200 bushels of potatoes for Mr. N. F. Mathes, and a large quantity of eggs for Mr. Samuel G. Hooper, the Water street grocer.

Heavy orders have been sent by Portsmouth dealers to Vermont, for turkeys for the Thanksgiving trade, the local supply of these birds being much less than usual. Chickens of home production are reported to be plentiful.

It is said that coal is retailed cheaper in Exeter the present season than anywhere else east of New York—which story we do not believe.

The dredgers completed their work in the harbor, on Monday, and were towed down the river. The channel has now been widened to Gilman's wharf, and is available for schooners of any size that are likely to visit us. The work of disintegration of the piles of mud left on the flat has already begun, and during the rain of Tuesday the water was discolored with the clay washed from them. This mud settles from the water, and much of it will find its way back to the channel from which it was taken. The action of the weather on these clay mounds can be seen at the piles dumped earlier in the season, which have shrunk visibly, and will soon, doubtless, disappear. We had supposed the idea was the permanent improvement of the river, and had hoped it would be followed by appreciative efforts on the part of our citizens. It appears now that the result will be a channel with fewer rocks, but far more uncertain size.—Exeter News-Letter, 18th.

The Eastern railroad car-shops in Salem, Mass., are now running on nine hours time.

Important.

When you visit or leave New York city, save Baggage Expressage and Carriage Hire, and stop at Grand Union Hotel, opposite Grand Central Depot; 500 rooms, fitted up at a cost of one million dollars, reduced to $1 and upwards per day. European plan. Elevator. Restaurant supplied with the best. Horse cars, stages and elevated railroad to all depots. Families can live better for less money at the Grand Union Hotel than at any other first-class hotel in the city. tsp15,82

As Thousands do Testify,

So does Thomas Roberts, Wholesale Grocer, Philadelphia, who says: "Burnett's Cocoaine allays all irritation of the scalp, and will most effectually remove dandruff and prevent the hair from falling out."

Burnett's Flavoring Extracts.—The superiority of these extracts consists in their perfect purity and great strength. They are warranted free from the poisonous oils and acids which enter into the composition of many factitious fruit flavors.

A COUGH, COLD OR SORE THROAT should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the throat troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years "Brown's Bronchial Troches" have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. THE SURGEON'S KNIFE.

Mr. Simeon Tietsell, of Saugerties, N. Y., had been treated for seven years by various physicians for what they called Stricture of the Urethra, without benefit. He finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculi or Stones in the Bladder. The doctor at once removed the foreign bodies with the knife and then gave his great Blood Specific, "Favorite Remedy," to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was eminently successful, and Mr. Tietsell's recovery was rapid and perfect.

While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all kidney and bladder diseases, it is equally valuable in cases of bilious disorders, constipation of the bowels, and all the class of ills apparently inscrutable from the constitutions of women. Try it. Your druggist has it, and its cost is only dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. The Doctor would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine, "Favorite Remedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to office practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery.

Proposals Invited.

TREASURER'S OFFICE,
PORTSMOUTH, Nov. 19, 1881.

Proposals are requested for a loan of $5000, redeemable in five years and payable in ten years, at a rate of interest not to exceed four per cent per annum, payable semi-annually. Authorized by the City Councils November 17, 1881, for municipal purposes.

Bids may be made for the whole or any portion of the amount; but no offer will be entertained at less than par, or at a per cent above the rate named.

Said proposals to be subject to the approval of the Joint Committee on Finance.

SULPHUR BITTERS

THE REST AND GREATEST MEDICINE

It will drive the Humor from your system, and make your skin clean and smooth. Those Pimples and Blotches which mar your beauty are caused by impure blood, and can be removed in a short time, if you are wise and use the great blood purifier,

SULPHUR BITTERS.

Why suffer with Boils? You are with that terrible Headache? Why lay and toss on that bed of pain, with Rheumatism? What makes you tremble so? Your nerves are all unstrung, and appetite fails you. Your friends declare you need a tonic. Sulphur Bitters is not a cheap rum or poor whiskey drink, to be taken by the glass, like other preparations which stimulate only to DESTROY. It is a medicine, and will do the work. Roots, Herbs and Berries combined with the Ex. TRACT OF SULPHUR in such proportions as to make a NATURAL GREAT NERVINE.

SULPHUR Bitters

The Dose is small—only a Teaspoonful. It is the best and cheapest medicine. Try it and you will be satisfied. Get it of your druggist. DON'T WAIT. GET IT AT ONCE Caught In His Own Trap.

A story—quite as good for being true—is told of two medical students, the one a very large, and the other a very small person, who were roommates and bedfellows. On a certain warm night the big man, who was on the inner side, awoke to the consciousness that he was being crowded to the wall, his companion having taken a good-sized reservation in the middle of the bed. By way of punishment of the encroachment with neatness and dispatch, he gently adjusted his soles and ousted the little fellow so effectually as to land him on the carpet. The ejected one showed no signs of resentment until several nights later, when, finding his bulky companion occupying a position similar to the one in which he had given offense, he plotted a revenge. Stealthily clambering over the huge form, he braced his back against the wall, and planting a foot on either side of his friend's spine, collected all his forces and gave a tremendous push. The effect was instantaneous, and if not just what had been anticipated, was certainly in strict accordance with nature's laws. The big man moved, but the bed moved with him, opening a wide space between itself and the wall, through which the little man immediately dropped to the floor, where he doubtless had a chance to recover from his astonishment and reflect on the reasons why another good plan had gone wrong.

Awfully Mean People.

One of those rough-clad, big-hearted miners who come into Santa Fe occasionally to lay in a stock of food, stepped into the post-office of that town recently, and, seeing in the window three letters held for postage, picked up one, and, looking at the address, said in a tone of great astonishment: "Why, this letter is for a lady in Denver!" "Yes," said the clerk. "And you holding it here?" in a tone of great astonishment. "Why, of course," answered the clerk; "don't you see it hasn't any postage paid?" In a tone of utter contempt for the man who would not forward a letter to a woman, paid or unpaid, the miner said: "Give me some stamps." It was done. He carefully put stamps on all the letters in the window, putting two on that of the feminine gender, to make sure that it would go all right, and stalked out of the office with the concluding remark, hurled at the head of the astonished clerk, "Strikes me there's some fearful mean people in this yer town."

Strangely Addressed.

The New York post-office has a man whose business for the past twenty-five years has been to decipher bad addresses. He has collected directions of the various cities of the country, and is said to know all the streets and a great number of the residences of New York city. Some time ago a foreign letter came directed to "Patrick Mahoney, First House in America." The letter was from Ireland, and after the usual inquiries the clerk learned the time that the vessel bearing the letter arrived. As an experiment, he placed it in the hands of a carrier, who was instructed to deliver it at the end of —— Pier. The house was a sailors' boarding house, and strange as it may seem, Patrick Mahoney was found. When the letter was opened the only contents were found to be a draft for $400.

"By reason of a very severely sprained ankle, one of my horses began to go very lame," writes Mr. R. Arnold, of 219 Meeting street, Charleston, S. C. "A thorough application of St. Jacobs Oil entirely cured the horse. I heartily endorse it as an excellent remedy for stock." Every one should use it.

—A lady of Troy, N. Y., recently showed a keener sense of justice than is often exhibited in such cases. She was engaged to be married to one Thomas J. Davis, a printer of Saratoga, and lately received a letter in which he confessed having compromised a young woman, and asked forgiveness. The Troy lady wrote that she freely forgave him, and retained all her affection for him, but that it was a duty he owed to God and himself, to wed the person he had injured. Thereupon the wretch committed suicide.

A Cure for Pimples!

My face for the last few years was covered with pimples so bad, that I used to be ashamed to go anywhere. I took two bottles of Sulphur Bitters and the pimples disappeared. I use them every spring.—G. K. D., Fall River.

—There is more real religion in paying one hundred cents on the dollar than in some of the most eloquent prayers ever delivered.

He Suffered for 35 Years.

GUILFORD, CT., May 15th, 1868.

For thirty-five years I have been the victim of that terrible disease, dyspepsia; have consulted eminent physicians, and tried almost every remedy. My family physician finally told me I could not be cured. The first dose of Coe's Dyspepsia Cure helped me, and, to-day, I consider myself cured, and am ready to affirm that it is the most valuable medicine ever placed before the public.

G. H. RICHARDSON.

PADUCAH, KY., May 10th, 1867.

During a confinement of eleven months in Libby prison, I was attacked with dyspepsia in its worst form. For two years I have suffered with it. I tried doctors a great many times without relief. This spring I became so debilitated as to be unable to walk one square. After taking two doses of Coe's Dyspepsia Cure I ate of everything on the table, felt no distress afterward, and have an excellent appetite.

True as sunshine melts the frost, Adamson's Botanic Balsam cures coughs, colds, and all difficulty of breathing. Price, 10, 35, and 75 cts.

—A Lewiston merchant received the following notice from a drummer, in the place of the usual printed form, announcing his intention to call with samples: "Gents: I hope to have the pleasure of sliding down your back cellar stairs, Nov. 21st. No bouquets. They fade and die."—Lewiston Journal.

Patients learn what doctors know, that a continued application of any particular internal medicine loses its power, and resort must be had to experiment. The use of Dr. Holman's Pad enforces the system by absorption and without poisoning, and this is the reason of its great popularity. Try it.

—Little Nell mashed her finger in the door, and came up crying and holding it in her other hand. All at once she stopped, as if listening; then, looking up through her tears, exclaimed: "Mamma, there's a little heart in my finger; I feel it frobbing."

The Prize of Beauty

would never have been awarded to Venus if her teeth had been yellow. Frail mortal, unlike the deities of fable, have perishable teeth, but these they may retain unimpaired to an advanced age, if they will use Sozodont, which keeps the teeth free from impurities which destroy them and renders them objects of admiration. It is pure, refreshing, leaves an agreeable flavor in the mouth, and sweetens the breath.

The Dangers of the Stock Market.

A man may be incredulous enough to risk his money in the fickle mysteries of a mercurial stock market, but when he gets the itching piles, he goes straight for Dr. Swayne's Ointment. Unlike the bulls and bears of the stock exchange, who clean you out of hard earned cash, it returns your money with interest, in the way of allaying the intense itching, and insuring sweet repose.

Guiteau's Trial.

The trial proceeded without special incident on Tuesday. Mrs. Blaine and Chief Justice Price, of New Mexico, were in the court room.

News and Notes.

Hon. Thomas B. Reed of Maine is on the ground at Washington, looking after his chances for the speakership of the House.

Marie Litta, the leading star of the company bearing her name, made a brilliant triumph on her first appearance in opera at the Grand Opera house in Paris, and afterward was in great demand by the operatic managers of Madrid, Berlin and Vienna. She filled successfully one season of opera at Vienna, Austria, in April and May, 1878. Returning to Paris, she was engaged by Max Strakosch for a season in America. She arrived home in October, 1878, after an absence of four years, and made her debut in opera at McVicker's theatre in Chicago.

By an explosion of dynamite cartridges in New York on the 21st inst., fifty-five houses were damaged and several persons injured, though no lives were lost.

Mrs. Frank Ratter, in jail at Cedartown, Ga., has confessed to murdering her husband by poisoning him.

Henderson Lassater was murdered near Harrison, Ark., Friday night. His house was surrounded by masked men, who broke down the door and shot him three times, in the presence of his wife and five children.

James Barnes of Lowell deliberately threw himself in front of a locomotive while it was about six feet from him, on the Boston & Maine railroad, at Tewksbury, Mass., Saturday, and was instantly killed. Barnes was suffering from aberration of mind. He leaves a widow and five children, four of the children being grown up.

Micah Dyer, Jr., one of the directors of the Pacific bank of Boston, had a deposit of $20,000 on his own private account, and also a large trust fund for which he is responsible, but he did not draw out one dollar before the Weeks-Benyon crash came, choosing to take his chances with the rest of the depositors, though he had knowledge of the impending crisis. George N. March, another director, (who is also the president of a Watertown, Mass., bank, and the treasurer of the Reversible Paper Collar company,) acknowledged to a reporter that he used his advantage as a director with full knowledge of the bank's difficulty, to draw his own deposit on the Thursday previous to the suspension. When asked what right he had to do so, he replied, "I did it for self-preservation. I believe that is the first law of nature."

John Ryan, aged seventy years, of Fairhaven, Vt., was killed a few days ago by the premature discharge of a gun.

A Bucyrus, Ohio, despatch says Lieut. Luke Clark of the regular army committed suicide at that place Saturday, by throwing himself before a locomotive. He was to have been married shortly to a lady at Bucyrus.

Uriah Meyer has been arrested on the charge of murdering the Kinzlers at Reading, Pa., in 1876. His brother Jonathan has confessed to the crime, and accuses Uriah of firing the fatal shot.

Chris Davis, a mulatto, in jail at Athens, Ohio, for an outrageous assault upon Mrs. Locke, an elderly lady of Albany, Ohio, was hung by a mob on the night of the 20th inst. The sheriff was overpowered and held while the mob took Davis out and hanged him to a bridge. The lynchers were not masked, and are known.

On the night of the 19th inst., when twelve miles off Absecom, N. J., the schooner Joseph H. Huddell, Jr., bound from Philadelphia for Boston with coal, was run into by an unknown ship which smashed her stern and destroyed her only boat. The schooner soon went down in eleven fathoms of water; the crew, seven in number, held on to the topmasts for twelve hours, and were taken off by the steamer Berkshire at noon on the 20th.

The "Vanity Fair Publishing Co.," of San Francisco, Cal., have purchased the name, trade, books, business and good will of the "Golden Era," the oldest newspaper on the Pacific coast, it having been established in 1852.

Grave charges are made against the United States naval asylum at Philadelphia, to the effect that the food furnished the inmates is poor in quality and insufficient in quantity.

State Detective Manning of Massachusetts on Friday last arrested Capt. G. L. Dixon, of the fishing schooner Flora Temple, of Gloucester, Mass., for being engaged in sheep stealing at Tarpaulin cove, in April of last year. At that time Capt. Dixon put into the cove with the schooner, and it is stated that the crew went ashore ostensibly to shoot deer, but instead shot mutton belonging to Captain John M. Forbes, in pasture at Gosnold. Two others of the crew are wanted for the same offence. The captain was placed under $600 bonds for his appearance at Edgartown on the 23d inst.

New Hampshire Items.

Strong and Burt, the shoe manufacturers who recently removed to Brookfield, Mass., from Dover, expect to employ 500 hands next year. They will get under way about Jan. 1st.

The democrats of Dover on Saturday night nominated Gen. Alfred Holtt as their candidate for mayor.

The barn on the farm of Wm. P. Frost at Durham, recently the Durham town farm, was burned early Sunday morning by an incendiary fire, with all its contents, including between fifty and sixty tons of hay. Partially insured.

The Great Falls Manufacturing Co. pays a three per cent dividend Dec. 1st.

The house of George Pray, near Garrison hill in Dover, was burned on the evening of the 19th inst. On the way to the fire one of the Dover engines ran into a hole in the street, and was damaged to the amount of several hundred dollars.

—An American cheese bore away the prize of a silver medal at the late great cattle and dairy show at Birmingham, England. The prize cheese was one of the largest ever made, weighing three-fourths of a ton. It came from Iowa.

—Lord Cornwallis could not endure umbrellas, which came into use about the time of the revolution. The English might have known better than to have trusted their cause into the hands of a man who did not know enough to get in out of the wet.

—Shall eggs be sold by the number or by the pound? is the momentous question that is said to be agitating several scientists. It has been learned that the average weight of twenty eggs laid by fowls of different breeds, is two and one-eighth pounds. The breeds that lay the largest eggs, averaging seven to a pound, are Black Spanish, Houdans, La Feches and Creve Cœurs. Eggs of medium size and weight, averaging eight or nine to the pound, are laid by Leghorns, Cochins, Brahmas, Polands, Dorkings, Games and Sultans. Hamburgs lay about ten eggs to the pound. Thus there is a difference of three eggs in one pound weight. Hence it is claimed that in justice to the consumer eggs should be sold by weight.

CAN CONSUMPTION BE CURED?

Some interesting Letters from the people,

Which Should be Read by those Afflicted,

Dr. Schenck gives the evidence on which he bases his assertion that

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED.

Clear and explicit statements from well-known persons which should convince the most skeptical.

For other Certificates of Cures, send for Dr. Schenck's Book on Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia. It gives a full description of these diseases in their various forms, also, valuable information in regard to the diet and clothing of the sick; how and when exercise should be taken, &c. This book is the result of many years of experience in the treatment of Lung Diseases, and should be read, not only by the afflicted, but by those who, from hereditary taint of other cause, suppose themselves liable to any affection of the throat or lungs.

From Mr. Harley P. Hopkins, of Providence, R. I. He is Cured of Consumption by Dr. Schenck's Medicines, after being given up to die by some of the best physicians of the city.

DR. J. H. SCHENCK:

Dear Sir—I have been cured of what three of the best physicians of this city told me was Consumption of the lungs, by the use of your medicines. I was first attacked with the disease in October, 1880, and although I was from that time continually under the care of a physician, I grew worse and worse until at last I was confined to my bed. I can hardly say that I was first attacked with the disease in ribs, for my lungs had been weak for many years previous to this, and I would quite often have severe pain in my breast if I took the least cold or exerted myself too much in any way. I grew worse, my cough became very bad; I had night sweats so severe that my bed through the night would be as wet as though water had been thrown over me. I was continually raising blood and large quantities of offensive matter from my lungs, and at last had all the well-known symptoms of Consumption in its last stages.

At the request of my family, my physician called in two other doctors of standing, and they after a examination agreed that my case was hopeless. They informed my wife that I had better be told that I could not live, as my time would be very short for arranging worldly affairs. They also said that my medicine would be of my use to me. The next day my friend, Dr. H. I. Leith, hearing of my condition, sent me a bottle of your Pulmonic Syrup, thinking it might relieve my cough, and make my expectoration easier. I began using it, never even hoping that it would cure me, but finding great relief from its use, when the first bottle was gone I sent and got more; so I continued it until I had used seven or eight bottles. All this time I was in bed and also weak that I had to be lifted. This was not a difficult thing to do, however, as I only weighed about 90 pounds. As I have said, I commenced the use of the medicine with no thought of its curing me, but after taking the eight bottles I would sometimes feel a little hungry, a thing I had not before done for many months. I omitted to mention that after taking four or five bottles of the Pulmonic Syrup, I also began taking the Seaweed Tonic, and I also took some of the Mandrake Pills.

It is needless for me to give you an account of all my feelings during my recovery. Of course it was slow, but it was also sure. I gradually gained strength, the character of what I raised from my lungs was changed, not being so offensive, and at last I was able to get up and walk about my room. From this time my recovery was rapid. I gained flesh fast and soon went out of doors, and now, I am entirely well, a wonder to all my acquaintances who saw me when I was so low.

I weigh 162 pounds, appetite good, and I can truly say that I never felt better in my life. I consider your medicines as wonderful in their effects. They have saved my life and I feel so thankful to you that I am anxious that all who are suffering with lung troubles should know how good they are. Of course, I can give better account of my case in telling of it than in writing and if any who read this are interested, they are welcome to call on me at my residence.

Yours Truly,

HARLEY P. HOPKINS,

No. 2 Howell St., Providence, R. I.

MR. HARLEY P. HOPKINS, who writes the foregoing letter to Dr. Schenck of Philadelphia, is an old resident of Providence. I have known him well for the last fifteen years, and I can assure the public that all he has written in regard to his sickness and recovery is strictly true. He was considered a consumptive in the last stages of the disease by his physician and friends, and I believe that his recovery is entirely due to the use of Dr. Schenck's Medicines.

No. 285 North Main St., Providence, R. I.

From Jules M. Royall, Esq., of Providence, R. I.

DR. J. H. SCHENCK & SON, Philadelphia:

Dear Sirs—About four years ago I over-heated myself at my work, (blacksmithing,) and while perspiring freely, exposed myself to a draught which gave me a heavy cold. I was soon so sick that I had to give up work and employ a physician. He told me that my cold was on my lungs, and gave me medicine which gave me temporary relief. I was soon down again, however, and this time suffered more than at first. Being told by a friend that your medicines were good in lung disease, I concluded to use them.

At this time I had severe pains in my breast, back and sides, a violent cough, terrible sweats at night, and also many times in the day time, if I was asleep; I raised quite frequently a half tea-cup full of yellow matter at a time; and judging from all my symptoms, my friends believed me to be in the last stages of Consumption. They did not believe that I could live a week. My weight was only 115 pounds. Soon after beginning to use the medicines, I commenced to improve in every way, but the more marked improvement was in my gain in flesh, as within two months I gained 25 pounds. I was at last well, and continued in good health without even feeling any weakness of the lungs ever since. Have worked steadily at my trade all this time.

I believe that I owe my life to the use of your medicines. Those afflicted are invited to call and see me at any time.

Yours Truly,

Consumption Permanently Cured.

CONNERSVILLE, IND., January 21st, 1881.

DR. SCHENCK:

Dear Sir—In 1876 I took a heavy cold, which quickly fastened on my lungs. I became unable to do anything. I was confined to my bed. My case went on from bad to worse, and developed rapidly into Consumption. At the time of the draft during the war, the examining physician rejected me as being unfit for service, one of my lungs being nearly gone. I had given myself to die, when John S. Benson, who formerly lived near this city, now living in Indianapolis, recommended me to use Schenck's Remedies, as he had done in his own case and had been cured thereby. I did as he advised me, which proved to be my salvation. I procured some of your "Pulmonic Syrup," "Seaweed Tonic" and "Mandrake Pills." I commenced to use them, and found them to benefit me from the start. I continued to use your medicines faithfully, and in six months time I was entirely cured, my lungs becoming as strong as ever; and your medicines did the work.

Yours Respectfully,

SANDFORD CALDWELL.

I wish to add that since that time—twenty years ago—I have had no return of my trouble. The cure was a perfect and lasting one.

S. CALDWELL.

I know of the above case and can certify to the truth of the foregoing.

From Akron, Ohio—Consumption Cure

AKRON, OHIO, Feb. 17th, 1881.

DR. J. H. SCHENCK:

Dear Sir—Having been asked by many in regard to your medicines, and the benefit I had received from them, I have concluded to give you an account of my case. In the Winter of 1873 I was pronounced an incurable Consumptive by every physician in this place, as well as several in Cleveland. I had all the symptoms—cough, night sweats, great debility, and loss of flesh. I was reduced in weight from one hundred and fifty pounds to eighty pounds. I had given up all hope of recovery, when I was told by Mr. James Scanlan that he had used your medicines with good effect, and he advised me to give them a trial, although I do not think he believed they would cure me, for I was so sick at this time that no one thought that I would ever get well. I thought, however, that they might give me temporary relief, and with this object I commenced to use your Pulmonic Syrup. I had not taken it two days before I felt great relief, especially in the severity of my cough. I then took the Mandrake Pills and Seaweed Tonic, and in two weeks my appetite came back, and I began to gain strength. I took your medicines for about three months. I was too sick to do any kind of work for two years. Your medicines made a perfect cure, and I have been in good health ever since. I do not know that I can say more than this, unless it be that I believe your medicines to be good, and that they will do all that you say they will do.

Yours Very Truly,

J. A. REILLY.

From Mr. John G. Nothacker, of Shelby, Ohio.

DR. J. H. SCHENCK Philadelphia:

Dear Sir—In May, 1879, I caught a heavy cold, which gradually settled on my lungs, causing great difficulty and pain in breathing. I could not rest at night, being kept awake by coughing. The loss of sleep and appetite at last reduced me very much—from 160 pounds, my usual weight when in health, to 113 pounds. I took the prescriptions of physicians, but they did me no good. One day, while looking over the CLEVELAND HERALD, I noticed that your medicines had cured many cases that were at least as bad as mine, and so concluded to use them. They were rather slow in their action at first, but after I had used them for a couple of weeks, I saw that I was getting better; my appetite improved, the pain and difficulty in breathing was relieved, and after using eight bottles I felt that I was restored to perfect health. I soon recovered my former weight, and I have been quite well ever since. I am satisfied that I owe my recovery entirely to your Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills.

Truly Yours,

JOHN G. NOTHACKER,

With C. H. Asken, Shelby, Richmond Co., Ohio. Feb. 21st, 1881.

From Mr. Robert W. Jones, of London, Ohio.

LONDON, OHIO, October 9th, 1880.

DR. SCHENCK

Dear Sir—About four years ago I was taken sick with what my physicians told me was Consumption of the Lungs. I had a bad cough, and was reduced very much in my weight. At different times, I had seven physicians of this place and one from Bloomsburg, attending me; and although they all thought they could help me, I grew worse very fast under their treatment. I was compelled to give up all business for over two years, and no one believed, nor did I myself believe, that I could ever get well. One day I happened to call at Mr. Auburn Smith's Drug Store, in this place, and read on one of your pamphlets in reading the certificates of cures, I found one case so nearly like my own that I at once concluded to give your medicines a trial. I bought the Seaweed Tonic, Pulmonic Syrup and Mandrake Pills, and began their use according to the printed directions, and I can truly say, that from the first I saw a marked improvement in all my symptoms. This encouraged me to continue their use until I was entirely well. I have had good health since my recovery, and I believe your medicines saved my live. I know of several other persons in this city that have been cured by your remedies.

Yours Truly,

ROBERT W. JONES.

Guard the System Against

MALARIA

By Using

DR. SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS,

The Great Vegetable Substitute for Mercury.

They will cure Chills and Fever.

They will cure Diarrhœa.

They will cure obstinate Constipation, leaving the Stomach and bowels in a healthy condition.

They will cure Liver Complaint, that great forerunner of Consumption.

MANDRAKE PILLS

Do not produce sickness at the Stomach, nausea or griping. On the contrary, they are so mild and agreeable in their action that a person suffering with a sick headache, sour stomach, or pain in the bowels, is speedily relieved of these distressing symptoms. They act directly on the liver, the organ which, when in a healthy condition, purifies the blood for the whole body.

They are a perfect preparation of that great and well-known remedy, Mandrake or Podophyllin, a medicine that has displaced the use of mercury as well as many other poisonous drugs, in the practice of every intelligent physician.

Prof. John King, of the College of Medicine, of Cincinnati, says: "In Constipation it acts upon the bowels without disposing them to subsequent costiveness. In Chronic Liver Complaint there is not its equal in the whole range of medicines, being vastly more useful than mercurial agents, arousing the liver to healthy action, increasing the flow of bile, and keeping of these actions longer than any other agent with which we are acquainted." (See American Dispensatory, page 700.)

In all cases of Liver Complaint or Dyspepsia, where there is great weakness or debility, Dr. Schenck's Seaweed Tonic should be used in connection with these Pills.

DR. SCHENCK'S MEDICINES,

MANDRAKE PILLS, SEAWEED TONIC, and PULMONIC SYRUP

Are sold by all Druggists, and full directions for their use are printed on the wrappers of every package.

AARON AKERMAN

Died at his residence about noon on Tuesday. Mr. Akerman was the son of the late Joseph Akerman, learned the trade of a tin-plate and sheet-iron worker with the late Jonathan Morrison, and after leaving that business opened a grocery store at No. 2 Congress street, corner of Church street, whence he removed to the Bell Tavern block, where he remained in business until the building was consumed by fire. Subsequently Mr. Akerman became connected with the Portsmouth Gas company as superintendent, succeeding in that office the late John Trundy. He was always of industrious habits and genial disposition, ever ready with a kind greeting for his friends and neighbors, and as a business man was reliable in every respect. He married a daughter of the late George Hart; his widow survives him. He leaves a son, Mr. Charles M. Akerman, and two daughters.

THOMAS PALMER MOSES.

Thomas P. Moses, poet, painter and musician, who was especially prominent in musical circles in this city forty years ago, died on the morning of Nov. 22d, of consumption.

He was the son of Thomas and Elizabeth (Trott) Moses, and was born in this city. When about sixteen years old he went to sea, and made several trips—to New Orleans, the West Indies, and other places. In 1832 he commenced taking lessons on the organ and piano, and in 1834 was appointed organist at the South Parish; from that time forward he devoted himself to music, and for many years was a popular teacher, the vocal concerts given by his classes being noted events in the amusement world. In 1849 a book by Mr. Moses, entitled "Leisure Thoughts, in prose and verse," was published by Samuel A. Badger; Mr. Moses also painted considerable; but music was his profession.

A few years prior to the rebellion he went to Marietta, S. C., as teacher of music and painting in a large seminary, and for a time prospered well; but the war destroyed his business and his immediate prospects, and after its close he returned to Portsmouth, and again took up his profession here. But a new generation had arisen, and younger men had taken the place he once occupied; and in January, 1876, he again went to South Carolina, from which place he returned about the middle of last summer, to die.

No one ever loved a home more ardently than did Mr. Moses his native city—its quaint houses, the beautiful drives and walks in the suburbs, the forests, and the noble Piscataqua. Especially did he delight in the river, and never wearied of extolling its beauties; he was a good boat-sailer, and from early manhood up to the time of his last departure from home his favorite recreation was a trip up or down the river, and often far out to sea, with a good boat, a fresh breeze and a selected party of friends; and when he felt himself drawing toward his end his most earnestly-expressed wish, next to the desire of once again greeting the friends of his youth, was that he might live to take one more sail upon his beloved river—a hope that he did not fully give up until a few days before his death—and at last find a resting-place near its murmuring waters.

He married on the 4th of January, 1876, Miss Ellen M. Franklin, daughter of Mr. Frederick A. Franklin of this city, who survives him.

POLICE COURT.

There are very few better plays than Lazare, "A Life's Mistake." The drama contains many new and thrilling situations, which are very interesting. The audience were delighted, and very often moved to tears in the very pathetic scenes, and at other times by the humor of the comedy parts moved to fits of uncontrollable laughter. The curtain fell at the end of each act to unbounded applause.—Harrisburg Patriot.

At Franklin theatre this evening.

Rev. Dr. Alden will preach in the Middle street Baptist church, Thanksgiving day, at 10:30 o'clock A. M.; subject, "Thankfulness amid sorrow."

Mr. Joseph Whidden, for many years engaged in the blacksmith business in this city, died in Cambridgeport, Mass., on Monday, the 21st inst. Mr. Whidden was a member of Strawberry Bank Encampment and Piscataqua Lodge of Odd Fellows, and the Mechanics' Association, of this city. The funeral services take place at Cambridgeport this forenoon, and the remains will be brought to this city for interment at three o'clock P. M.

C. E. Walker & Co. have this year received twice as much coal as last year, and 1000 tons of coal, now ordered, is being shipped at Philadelphia. Freights have ruled high, from $1.50 to $1.65 per ton, and are now $2.25 from Philadelphia and $2.50 from Baltimore. Coal has advanced in Boston, stove coal now selling at $6.75 per ton delivered, and $6.50 for broken coal, with a prospect of going still higher.

Members of the High School Alumni Association can procure their tickets to the sixth reunion on and after this day, at the office of Wm. Russell Foster, Esq. The annual meeting of the association, for the choice of officers, will be held at the Common Council room on Saturday evening, Nov. 26th.

The Litta Concert Co., which will give an entertainment in Music hall on the evening of Thanksgiving day, appeared in the Boston Music hall on Tuesday evening. The Boston Post says "the company contains much excellent talent."

The Eastern railroad is doing a good deal of work to secure a sufficient water supply in this city for its locomotives. A plentiful supply of good water has been struck on the north side of the railroad above Frenchman's lane, and a large gang of men are employed there; one large reservoir has been bricked up, and a big hole is being excavated for another; and a heavy foundation of granite is being laid for a boiler and engine house, for pumping purposes. A three-inch pipe of iron has been laid from the reservoir to the Creek road, and men are at work cutting a trench for laying the pipe the rest of the way in to the service standpipes at the station.

The part of Eugene Lazare, in "A Life's Mistake," which is to be presented at Franklin theatre this evening, is taken by a son of Ex-Lieut Gov. Kaufman of New York. Mr. Kaufman is strongly endorsed as an actor of marked talent, and his support is excellent.

The north end wharves had a lonesome look, Tuesday forenoon, being almost bare of shipping, one three-masted schooner and three gondolas being all there was to be seen. The gondolas were either loaded or loading for up river; the schooner, the "E. C. Allen," was lying at the Concord railroad wharf, light, bound to the Kennebec for a load of 800 tons of ice for Baltimore. Five vessels—two three-masted schooners, two two-masters and one brig—were reported as being in the lower harbor, bound up, three of the schooners and the brig, with over 1500 tons of coal, being consigned to J. Albert Walker, and the other schooner to E. F. Sise & Co. The schooner John Lenthall, of Exeter, was lying at Lyman's wharf, loading apples for a southern port; this vessel has finished her up-river trade for this year. The Dover schooner T. B. Garland was lying at Portsmouth bridge, discharging coal into gondolas, preparatory to proceeding up the Cocheco when sufficiently lightened. Capt. Philpott's gondola was loading at C. E. Walker & Co.'s wharf, with thirty-five tons of Franklin coal for the Exeter Coal Co. The schooner Samuel Hart, of St. George, Me., from Amboy, was discharging a cargo of Westmoreland coal at the Gas Co.'s wharf.

"The Octoroon" will be produced at the Franklin theatre, Thanksgiving afternoon and evening, by the Standard Theatre Co. and the Centennial Jubilee Singers. See advertisement.

A York man brought into this city on Tuesday six very large and fat grey squirrels, one of which weighed two pounds. They were killed in the woods at Cape Neddick by George A. Norton, a young man of that village.

N. H. S. P. C. A.

In view of the prevalence of disease among horses and other domestic animals at the present time, and the probability that our immediate vicinity may soon suffer in common with other less fortunate localities, the N. H. P. C. A. have employed a skillful officer to kill, in the most merciful manner, such animals as by reason of old age, disease or accident, may become worthless or burdensome to their owners, in order that there may be no suffering during the cold weather fast approaching. Persons having animals of any kind which they desire to have killed in a painless manner, have only to notify the society, and immediate attention will be paid to their request. No charge is ever made for the performance of this most merciful work. The society also suggests the necessity for the observance of particular care in the matter of protection from cold or rainy weather, and in feeding horses, cattle and swine. It has been demonstrated that good care and kind treatment ward off the attacks of the distressing diseases which are spreading consternation among the owners of horses and cattle in many sections of the country.

ELYS' CREAM BALM

Having gained an enviable local reputation, displacing all other preparations in the vicinity of discovery; is on its merits alone, recognized as a wonderful remedy. A fair trial will convince the most skeptical of its curative powers. It effectually cleanses the nasal passages of Catarrhal virus, causing healthy secretions, allays inflammation and irritation, protects the membranal linings of the head from additional colds, completely heals the sores and restores the sense of taste and smell. Beneficial results are realized by a few applications. A thorough treatment as directed will cure Catarrh. As a household remedy for cold in the head and snuffles it is unequalled. The Balm is easy to use and agreeable. Sold by all druggists at 50 cts. On receipt of 50 cts. will mail a package. Send for circular with full information.

A $6.00 REVOLVER FREE TO YOU.

THE WORLD RENOWNED BLUE JACKET IVORY HANDLE WITH GOLD PLATED CYLINDER

ENGRAVED AND ENAMELED

WEIGHT 7½ OUNCES

THIS CUT IS 2-3 SIZE.

THE BLUE JACKET

is the most elegant Revolver in the world, as well as the most perfect and beautiful in its design and finish. It is made of the very best steel. The barrel and frame is Nickel Silver-plated, with Gold-plated Cylinder, Ivory Stock, and the whole beautifully engraved, making a beautiful contrast of four different colors. The cut represents only two-thirds the actual size. Size is represented by the above illustration of Gold, Silver, Blue and Ivory. It reserves but a slight idea of this handsome weapon. It is strongly recommended to be the best IVORY HANDLE, ENAMELED AND ENGRAVED REVOLVER ever sold for less than $6.00, and to the most remarkable bargain we ever offered in firearms. This Revolver cannot be made to-day for twice what we are offering it for, and it will be a long time before we have to offer an article so cheap as this. We do not sell only; when these are sold, no more can be had except at regular prices. THE BLUE JACKET is an old well-known and popular Revolver in the world, and the new Model Blue Jacket is the best of all the old, combining you to hold it firmly and securely. It has a finely rifled barrel, positive stop-action locking the cylinder firmly in place, and warranted to shoot one cartridge at a time. With the BLUE JACKET you can shoot a ball or cartridge from its tailed tree. We guarantee its shooting qualities, and if you are not perfectly satisfied with it we will give you your money back. We purchased these Revolvers at less than manufacturers cost, and we will be satisfied if we can get the business, and at the same time introduce our publication THE HOUSEHOLD QUEEN MAGAZINE. If you will send us $2.00, and TEN CENTS extra to pay postage, we will mail the Magazine one year, and the REVOLVER FREE of all other charges. THE HOUSEHOLD QUEEN MAGAZINE contains 20 quarto pages, with handsome illustrated Engraved Cover, and is filled with choice Illustrations from all parts of the world. Stories by the best authors; Poetry; Anecdotes; Sketches; Illustrated Fashion Department; useful information; Solicitude; Answers to Correspondents; Household Notes; The Kitchen; Ladies' Items; The Toilet Table; The Garden; Wit, Humor, etc. It is now in its fourth year, has a large circulation, and is universally popular. Our subscription has always been $1.00.

FREE TO YOU. If you will cut this advertisement out, show it to your friends, and get a club of seven to join you, and send us the money for them, we will send you the Revolver and Magazine free for your trouble. PLEASE BEAR IN MIND that each one in the club will also get the Revolver and Magazine, and when all are sent with the club order, we will put a box of cartridges for each Revolver. As to our reliability, we refer to any New York Publishers or Merchants. Send money by Registered Letter or Post Office Order at our risk.

Address, E. C. RIDEOUT & CO., 10 Barclay Street, N. Y.

THE TARGET (Shot) has been made with the BLUE JACKET at 10 yards. It was done by using just a bullet-eye one inch diameter. CUT THIS OUT, IT WILL NOT APPEAR AGAIN.

Man and Woman Compared.

M. Delaunay, who is well known and respected as a man of science in France, has recently published a small work on woman's physical and intellectual status as compared with man's, in which he takes a bold ground at the very start, and proceeds, by scientific facts and observations, to show that in all highly civilized societies woman is not man's equal. During the first twelve years of life the female in certain respects excels the male, and among peasants it often happens that the female is the superior person of the two; but as age advances, and particularly as we rise in the scale of culture, the difference is reversed, and in greater ratio as the intelligence becomes greater. Thus the superiority of woman is sometimes met with among inferior races, but never among superior ones. Among the signs of woman's physical inferiority, M. Delaunay cites these: The nutritive phenomena with her are less intense; the blood is less dense, and contains fewer red and more white globules; she eats less, although she eats more frequently; her pulmonary capacity is less and she absorbs less oxygen; her temperature is lower; her skeleton, in proportion to the total weight of the body, is lighter; she is not so right-handed, and although she often appears larger, she is not so heavy; she is more flat-footed and less arched, which is "a sign of inferiority;" her voice is sharper; her movements are less precise, and among pianists the mechanism reaches in her a much lower degree of perfection that in man. Respecting mental endowments, M. Delaunay's observations are these: The cranium in woman has not so great a capacity as the cranium in man, the mean capacity of the two being 1.446 and 1.226 cubic centimetres respectively, a difference of 220 centimetres against woman; in woman the cranium is less high and more elongated; it is not so heavy, and finally, quoting another writer, M. Delaunay says that among the most intelligent societies in the world there is a notable proportion of women whose brains "approach more to the volume of those of certain gorillas" than do the least developed crania of the masculine sex—a libellous statement, which is printed because it is interesting, and not because it is true. M. Delaunay holds further that women have not shown themselves equal to men on their own ground when given equal opportunities. Female musicians from education have become very excellent performers, but there are none who have become great composers. It is the same, he says, with painting and the art of cooking. Among the thousands of women who have exercised the latter art, there have been few, if any, cordons bleus. Even as printers, while women work with minute care, they work mechanically and "without knowing very well what they are doing." As we said before, M. Delaunay's statements are reprinted merely for what they are worth.

—Thirty-six thousand one hundred and ninety-one changes were made in the New Testament by the revisers. In the book of Revelations alone there were 2,467.

—Two men disputed about their powers of endurance, and one said testily to the other: "I bet you that I can hold my leg in boiling water longer than you can." "Done," said the other, and the steaming water was brought. In went the legs, No. 1 with an air of defiance, No. 2 with an edifying serenity. No. 1 began to wince, No. 2 called calmly for the newspaper. No. 1 began to find it intolerable. No. 2 smiled at the humor of the paper. "In heaven's name!" at last exclaimed No. 1, exasperated by the heat of the water and the coolness of his antagonist, "what is your leg made of?" "Wood," sententiously replied the other.

Much valuable time is saved by treating cold at its first appearance. Nothing takes the place of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup for coughs, colds, irritation of throat, etc. Price 25 cents.

—Georgie, aged four years, was playing with his toys, when his cousin Mary, of sweet eighteen, seized him and gave him a kiss. Georgie broke away, crying out: "Sauce-box!" "Oh, fie," said his mother, "Georgie mustn't say that." Georgie: "That's what Cousin Mary said. That's what Tillington man last night when he kissed her."

A Baby Saved!

Since birth my baby had running sores all over his head, and the doctors said that he must die, for they could not heal them. I used everything I ever heard of, but it did no good. He got so bad that he would not nurse. My husband's sister told me to try Sulphur Bitters as she had great faith in them. I used a bottle and the sores commenced to heal. After using two bottles more, the sores all healed, and I consider my baby saved.—Mother, Concord, N. H.

—A western editor announced that he would cease to publish the big takes of game from hunters, unless he should share some of it. The next day he had carted to the door of his residence ten blackbirds and a dead mule. The next day he wrote: "Never mind the game—notices will be published as usual."

The Results of Necessity.

What the ancients suffered for the want of knowledge in medical science, can only be appreciated by contrasting the vast amount of suffering cured and pain alleviated in the modern times, by the use of Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases. Its introduction was characterized by the necessary withdrawal of a score or more of illusive, quack nostrums, whose evil effects have left living monuments to denounce them. Thus is exemplified the proverb, necessity is the mother of invention.

Rheumatism

Neuralgia, Sprains,

Pain in the Back and Side.

There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.

This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.

Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, It never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.

The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:

Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our resort was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.

Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.

G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced the greatest relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.

E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.

Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never-failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.

Mr. Burditt writes:
It never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.

Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.

All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

FELLOWS'

Compound Syrup of

HYPO-PHOS-PHITES

A REALLY RELIABLE REMEDY FOR WASTING AND NERVOUS DISEASES.

After numerous experiments Mr. Fellows succeeded in producing this combination of Hypophosphites, which has not only restored him to health, but has since been found so successful in the treatment of disease arising from loss of nerve power, and consequently muscular relaxation, viz:

Aphonia (loss of voice),	Neuralgia,
Anæmia,	Nervous debility,
Chronic Diarrhœa,	Whooping Cough,
Dyspepsia,	Congestion of the Lungs,
Fever and Ague,	Palpitation of the Heart,
Leucorrhœa,	Melancholy,
Malaria,	Mental Depression,
	Nervousness.

MALARIA.

Persons living in Malarious districts may protect themselves from attacks of fever by the use of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites. Its effects in tonic and stem enables us to ward off contagious disorders, and successfully combat disease.

The soluble phosphites and the other life-sustaining principles composing Fellows' Hypophosphites are so carefully proportioned and so judiciously mingled, that their action upon the nerves, muscles and membranes in imparting vitality, strength and healthy action is generally apparent within twenty four hours, and the good effects experienced are of a permanent character.

Back Ache

POSITIVELY CURED BY

Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.

Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:

First,

Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and combine in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts with increased celerity, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.

Second.

Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession.

Third.

Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.

Fourth.

Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.

Fifth.

Because over 2000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.

Sixth.

Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

A Lively Bear Garden.

The New York board of aldermen held a lively session Nov. 22d. Mayor Grace withdrew his nomination of Robert A. Vanwyck for police justice, and sent in the nomination of J. Henry Ford, deputy county clerk. Alderman Saur denounced Mayor Grace, and called him a liar. Alderman McClare (a republican) charged two of his colleagues with being traitors and selling their party, in voting for the confirmation of two democrats for the office of police justice; he also said that it was the current rumor that they had received money for their votes. Alderman Leamen and Alderman Waite, who were attacked, denied the charges of bribery. Ford's nomination was finally confirmed. The nomination of Andrew J. White for police justice was then taken up. Alderman McClare made an attack on the mayor, and proceeded to read a clipping from a newspaper with the heading, "Mayor Grace as a Fraud." He was interrupted by the cries of order, when Alderman Slevin remarked: "He is right when he says Grace is a fraud." In addition, Slevin called Grace a sneak. The nomination of White was finally confirmed, and the board adjourned.

News and Notes.

Four men have been indicted at Wheeling, W. Va., for doing business as insurance agents without a state certificate. They were agents for the so-called "Death-bed Insurance Companies," located in Pennsylvania.

A verdict for $5,000 was rendered at Philadelphia, Nov. 23d, in favor of Benjamin L. James of Burlington, N. J., against the Pennsylvania railroad company, for injuries sustained by being struck by a locomotive four years ago.

Warrants have been issued for John E. Simmons and George Upington of the Kentucky State lottery, having offices in New York, to answer charges of violating the lottery laws of that state.

J. Lauerman had a quarrel with his wife in New York city, Nov. 21st., P. Hueger interfered, and was shot. Lauerman shortly after shot himself dead.

The sixteen-years-old son of Ezra Carter of Blue Hill, Me., was accidentally shot in the neck on Friday, Nov. 18th, by one of his playmates.

The republicans of Boston on the evening of Nov. 22d nominated Dr. Samuel A. Green for mayor.

About 1,700 feet (one-calf) of the Nantucket jetty has been built, requiring 36,000 tons of stone. It has resulted in deepening the water over the flats, there being a good beating channel, with seven and a half feet of water, to the present terminus of the jetty.

Two colored boys, Eddie and Aleck Howard, on Nov. 9th met Richard O'Neill, aged fourteen, in a field near Franklin, La., and taking his gun from him, shot him through the shoulders and then beat him over the head, fracturing his skull. They have confessed the murder.

President Arthur moved into the White House on Tuesday of this week.

Secretary Folger of the treasury wants to change Windom's old bond-purchasing programme, and has submitted the question to the attorney general.

A despatch of Nov. 22d, from Cincinnati, says: "A two days' battle between two factions of countrymen, led by rival saloon keepers, has just ended at Fisher's station, Ind. The fight continued night and day. Stones, pistols, knives and pool balls were freely used. Benj. Bouch was beaten to death by Hank West, a saloon keeper. West was afterwards beaten to a pulp, and Andy Farrell, a saloon keeper, was horribly mangled. Thirty-two others were wounded, some fatally. One man was found in the woods at midnight, dead. There was a reign of terror in town, and a sheriff's posse found Farrell, blood stained beyond recognition, patrolling the street in front of his saloon, armed with a gun. All is quiet to-day."

Dr. W. A. Hammond gives his medical opinion that smoking is very bad for boys and women, stunting the boys, impairing their digestion, sight and hearing, rendering them subject to neuralgia and to diseases of the brain which impair mental force; it has also the same effect on women, because of their more sensitive nerves; but moderate smoking of cigars is very good for adult men, retarding the waste of the tissues, making food go further, enabling men to bear trouble with complaisancy, and preventing depressing emotions.

A woman carries off another valuable prize among five hundred competitors. The $2,000 prize offered by Prang for the best design for a Christmas card has been awarded to Miss Dora Wheeler. The design, which is said to be remarkable for its originality, is thus described: "It is intended as a typical picture of Christ's entrance in the flesh. A needy, waiting world is represented by a forlorn-looking woman and two children standing on a globe. They are clinging to a dead fir tree, exposed to the wintry blast, and are anxiously peering into the distance, from whence appears the Virgin Mother holding the infant Jesus, encircled by the glory of the sun. There is a whole history written in the woman's face."

The boiler in D. Milliken & Son's tannery at Bangor, Me., exploded Nov. 22d, nearly demolishing the building, which was old and of little value. Seven men were in the building at the time of the accident. William Barston, standing within four feet of the boiler, was blown twenty feet through a window and badly bruised and scalded, but not fatally hurt. Two others were slightly injured.

Richard Ormirod, an Englishman, sixty years old, while riding on Acushnet avenue in New Bedford, Mass., Nov. 22d, was thrown from a wagon and, striking on his head, congestion of the brain ensued, causing death in about an hour.

The widow of Senator Matt. H. Carpenter has presented to the Milwaukee public library 218 volumes of Hansard's Parlimentary Debates, running from 1812 to 1828, which formed an important part of the private library of the late senator.

Joseph Jefferson is undoubtedly the most successful actor that ever trod the boards. He has played Rip Van Winkle 3200 times. His profits, it is said, have averaged $400 per night, making his total profits $1,250,000. He sometimes earns a hundred thousand a year.

The statement is made that Mrs. Langtry, the "Jersey lily," is to make her debut on the stage in New York about New Year.

Mr. Oscar Wilde, the high priest of æstheticism, will arrive in this country next month, and will immediately begin to give lectures on art subjects. Before leaving London he will bring out an original play.

An association of New England hotel and boarding-house keepers will endeavor to procure the passage of an act providing that, when a person attempts to fraudulently evade the payment of a board bill, he may be imprisoned at the rate of one month for every $5 of the indebtedness.—Times.

The hotel keepers ought to try the law passed at the last session of our legislature, which inflicts a fine of twenty dollars and imprisonment not exceeding three months for defrauding hotel keepers in the matter of board. The law makes it the duty of all landlords to post up a printed copy of this law in a conspicuous place in each room of their hotels or inns.

—A good suggestion is like the crying baby at a public meeting; it ought to be carried out.

—There is more real religion in paying one hundred cents on the dollar than in some of the most eloquent prayers ever delivered.

—Why is it that when a pedestrian is drenched by a basin of water from a fourth-story window he always wants to whip somebody who lives on the first floor?—Detroit Free Press.

—At a social gathering on Austin avenue the following proceedings were had: "So your nephew is going to get married?" "Yes, ma'am; next Saturday the knot will be tied." Little Johnny, who had been listening with open mouth, says: "I say, ma, on the last day they let the poor fellow eat anything he wants to, don't they?"—Texas Siftings.

"ROOMS FOR RENT."

The play, or humorous sketch, or elongated farce, or whatever it may be proper to term it, which crowded the Windsor theatre in Boston all last week, will be presented by the same company at Music hall on Monday evening next. The following is the description given of the piece by an exchange:

The farce opens with a scene composed of two rooms in the house of Mr. Cleveland, a retired real estate agent, who has rooms for rent. It is rather difficult to imagine the "retirement" in this change, but then the programme is our authority. Mlle Rossvella, a concert singer and music teacher, lives in one of these rooms, while the other is occupied by Harry Hucclemen, a general Bohemian, and Albert Raymond, an artist. Madamoiselle has a dinner party, which Hucclemen interrupts by blowing a cornet. He becomes so intolerable that he is appealed to to desist, and gets an invitation to the dinner. The invited guests to this dinner are Colonel Bombast, a military gentleman, and his neice, Alice; also Frederick Dahl, a Danish dancing master, in love with Alice, who obtrudes himself and has to hide under the table to escape Bombast's wrathy disapproval. The scene is ended by the appearance of Raymond, who recognizes in Rossvella his wife, from whom he has been separated on account of his jealousy.

The second act discloses two other rooms—the one of Bombast and the other of Sam Cutter, a detective whose wife is an enthusiastic artist. Hucclemen advertises for a wife, and Mrs. Cutter answers an advertisement for a model. Hucclemen gets this answer, and bent upon matrimony, calls, and Mrs. Cutter receives him as the model. Cutter returns and tries to kill Hucclemen, whom he finds posing, but mistakes his motive. In the other room a funny scene occurs between Cleveland, the landlord, and Alice, between whom Col. Bombast is endeavoring to make a match. The dancing master also makes love to Alice, and is thrown out by Bombast.

All the characters are next introduced into the guests' parlor, where Hucclemen and Raymond are mistaken for burglars by Cutter. Bombast rings for the police, and brings the fire department. The last scene is a panic, where everything is straightened out in a most amusing manner.

Many of the situations are clever, and all are funny. It is bright and romping, and infects the audience with its spirit. The company is a good one, and carries the play through in a most creditable manner. Indeed, it can be truly said that so generally excellent a company is rarely met with.

double-column octavo pages of reading-matter yearly. It presents in an inexpensive form, considering its amount of matter, with freshness, owing to its weekly issue, and with a satisfactory completeness attempted by no other publication, the best Essays, Reviews, Criticisms, Tales, Sketches of Travel and Discovery, Poetry, Science, Biographical, Historical and Political Information, from the entire body of Foreign Periodical Literature.

It is therefore invaluable to every American reader, as the only satisfactorily fresh and complete compilation of an indispensable current literature, and valuable because it embraces the productions of the ABLEST LIVING WRITERS.

"No other periodical can compare with The Living age in interest and value. A veritable thesaurus of the best work of the most celebrated writers in literature, science, politics and art."—Boston Traveller.

"It supplies a better compendium of current discussion, information and investigation, and gives a greater amount and variety of reading-matter, which it is well worth while to read, than any other periodical."—Boston Journal.

"It contains not only the best solid literature, but also the best serial stories of the day. Its pages are sufficient to keep a reader abreast with the best printed thoughts of the best of our contemporary writers."—Episcopal Register, Philadelphia.

"The ablest essays and reviews of the day are to be found in it. We know of no investment of eight dollars in the world of literature that will yield equal returns."—The Presbyterian, Philadelphia.

"It is indispensable in every household where any attempt is made to keep up with the current thought of the day. . . It is thorough compilation of what is best in the literature of the day, whether relating to history, biography, fiction, poetry, art, science, politics, theology, criticism, or art."—Hartford Courant.

"It enables its readers to keep fully abreast of the best thought and literature of civilization."—Pittsburgh Christian Advocate.

"It being a weekly publication, is comparatively speaking, the cheapest magazine published."—Church Advocate, Detroit.

"No reader who makes himself familiar with its contents can lack the means of a sound literary culture."—New York Tribune.

THANKSGIVING.

This is the day set apart by the President of the United States and the Governor of the State for thanksgiving, and as such it will be observed, we trust, quite generally throughout the country.

As a people we have much for which to be thankful. Despite assassination, "the government lives;" and with short crops here and there, the agricultural interest of our land is in a prosperous condition. Indeed, as the return of this season reminds us of our causes of thankfulness, it seems more and more with each recurring year as a nation, toward which recently flowed the sympathy of the civilized world in our calamity, we have more for which to be truly grateful to Divine Providence than can have any other people upon the globe.

Let us then keep Thanksgiving in a true spirit. Let us remember the giver of all good, who has watched over this great and growing country for over a century, while it has accomplished so much; and in our public or personal prosperity, let us not forget our less favored neighbors, either as neighbors or as individuals, but "with charity for all" do what we can to enable them to enjoy a taste of the same blessings so freely bestowed upon ourselves.

A CELEBRATED SHIP.

In the window of Mr. Montgomery's music and art store, next door to the office of the CHRONICLE & GAZETTE, has recently been exhibited a fine painting of the ship "Judah Touro," representing her as going into dock at Liverpool. The Judah Touro was built in 1845 by Fernald & Pettigrew, on Badger's island, on the ways whence have been launched many celebrated vessels, and left Portsmouth under command of Capt. Daniel Marcy, who with R. D. Shepherd of New Orleans owned her, on the 25th of July of that year for Boston, where she loaded at India wharf for New Orleans. She arrived at New Orleans in September, and thence sailed for Liverpool. She was a ship of 749 tons old measurement, and the first ship built by Fernald & Pettigrew, who the following year built the R. D. Shepherd. The Judah Touro had a full-length figurehead of Mr. Touro, who was a noted citizen of New Orleans, and was afterwards a part owner in the R. D. Shepherd. While in Boston, the Judah Touro was visited at her berth on the north side of India wharf by many shipowners and others interested in navigation, and was admired as one of the best-built ships that ever sailed into Boston harbor. She was a fortunate craft in reputation, but the skill of her owners in obtaining business for her at New Orleans, in the days when the business for ships at that great cotton port was extensive, of course contributed to the happy results of her management. She presented a better appearance with her figurehead than did most of the ships which bore full-length figures at their prows, as the proportions were lifelike in size, and the appearance natural in every respect. Portsmouth boys in Boston at that period will recall their visits to the ship, which they pointed out to their companions with a commendable pride; and many will remember the kindly reception given to them by Capt. Marcy and his mate, Joshua W. Hickey, on board the "Judah Touro," during her stay in Boston. The painting of the ship has been restored, and the frame regilded, by T. C. Meagher. It is one of the faithful representations on canvas of the noble ships of former days.

No CHRONICLE to-morrow.

The emotional drama "Lazare; a life's mistake," was well performed at Franklin theatre on Thanksgiving eve, to a small audience. The other public entertainments of the evening were raffles for turkeys at a number of saloons, an assembly in Mechanics' hall by the City Guards, and a snow-storm.

At Franklin theatre, this afternoon and evening, the popular sensational drama of "The Octoroon" will be presented.

Poultry was in fair supply in this city on Wednesday, the 23d inst., and sold at reasonable rates, though purchasing seemed brisk, and most of the farmers' wagons were cleared early in the afternoon. Turkeys went at from twenty-five to thirty cents a pound, only nice ones bringing the latter price; ducks twenty-five cents; geese twenty cents; and chickens eighteen cents. Eggs sold from farmers' wagons at thirty to thirty-two cents a dozen.

The grand concert at Music hall by the Litta Concert Co. comes off this evening.

The evening train from Boston on the 23d was a long one, and packed with people bound home to spend Thanksgiving. A large number got out at the station in this city.

Services will be held in the Congregational, Baptist and Unitarian churches this forenoon at 10:30 o'clock. At the North church, Rev. Mr. McGinley will preach on "The perpetuity of the Gospel;" at the Middle street church, Rev. Dr. Alden will preach on "Thankfulness amid sorrow;" at the South Parish Rev. Mr. DeNormandie's subject will be "Thanksgiving for Our Country—its social, political and religious promise." The public are invited at all these churches.

"The Octoroon" at Franklin theatre this afternoon and evening, by the Standard Dramatic Co. and the Centennial Jubilee Singers. See advertisement.

According to the published list, there were fifty shares of the Pacific national bank of Boston owned in this city. The question which most interests the stockholders is, not if they are to lose the amount the stock cost, but how much besides they must pay under the law relating to their liability.

This evening, at Music hall, the most artistic musical entertainment of the season will be given. Mlle. Litta, the soprano, has been received with high favor in Paris, Vienna, New York, all the great cities of the west, and in Boston; and the other members of the company, if not of so wide reputation as the prima donna, are all eminent in their respective roles.

The literary and musical exercises of the sixth reunion of the High School Alumni association at Franklin theatre on Friday evening, Nov. 25th, will commence at 7:30 o'clock; doors open at seven o'clock. Members will be admitted only on presentation of the proper tickets, which may be procured of W. Russell Foster, Esq., at his office over the Portsmouth savings bank, this day (Thursday) between nine and 10:30 A. M., and on Friday between three and five o'clock P. M. The annual meeting of the association will be held at the common council room on Saturday evening, Nov. 26th.

Mr. Lewis Holmes has commenced building seven row-boats, each fourteen feet long, four feet five inches wide, and eighteen inches deep, for Smith & Co. of New York, who are procuring them for parties on Long island.

Mr. Ed. S. Fay, the noted Congress street clothing dealer, has purchased the interest of John J. Pickering, Esq., in the Portsmouth Shoe Company.

A paper is circulating asking for the construction of a marine railway on this side of the river.

Charles M. Murphy was re-elected mayor of Dover by 119 majority over Alfred Hoitt, the democratic candidate, Nov. 22d.

Dr. G. W. Hunter, general agent of Whitmore & Clarke's minstrels, arrived at the Gibson house Nov. 23d, his errand to this city being to arrange for an entertainment at Music hall on the evening of Nov. 30th.

Steamship Furnessia, Capt. Small, arrived at New York from Glasgow on Nov. 22d. Among the passengers were Mrs. John H. Burleigh, daughters and son, of South Berwick, Me., and Mrs. S. Tams, who went abroad with Miss Morgan in July last.

Richard Pickernell, of Kittery, broke his leg a few weeks ago by falling from a tree while hunting coons.

Two small cottages on the camp ground at Old Orchard were burned on Monday night, Nov. 21st.

A man who recently removed from York to South Berwick was offered $30 for a cow, and refused it, but subsequently sold the animal for $30.10. He was not so lucky in getting an advance on the offered price of an old horse, finally selling the old "crow-bait" for $2, after refusing an offer of $10.

The sawmill of A. K. P. Lord, in Lyman, was burned Nov. 21st, with all its contents and a large lot of sawed lumber.

Important.

When you visit or leave New York city, save Baggage Expressage and Carriage Hire, and stop at Grand Union Hotel, opposite Grand Central Depot; 400 rooms, fitted up at a cost of one million dollars, reduced to $1 and upwards per day. European plan. Elevator. Restaurant supplied with the best. Horse cars, stages and elevated railroad to all depots. Families can live better for less money at the Grand Union Hotel than at any other first-class hotel in the city. ta15,82

As Thousands do Testify,

So does Thomas Roberts, Wholesale Grocer, Philadelphia, who says: "Burnett's Cocoaine allays all irritation of the scalp, and will most effectually remove dandruff and prevent the hair from falling out."

Burnett's Flavoring Extracts.—The superiority of these extracts consists in their perfect purity and great strength. They are warranted free from the poisonous oils and acids which enter into the composition of many factitious fruit flavors.

A Lucky Pump Maker.

A present number of The Washington (D. C.) Post gives an interesting sketch how one Augustus De Grummond, driven out of the pump manufacturing business at the national capital owing to the general introduction of Potomac River water, was in his financial desperation led to venture sending a dollar to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, La., and in return obtained $15,000, having received, in return half of ticket No. 7,240 in the 137th monthly drawing of The Louisiana State Lottery on Oct. 11th. This good luck of a worthy Washingtonian will tempt many more to correspond with the beneficent to M. A. Dauphin, New Orleans, prior to the Grand Semi-Annual Distribution of over half a million of dollars on December 13th, under the sole control of Gen'ls G. T. Beauregard of La., and Jubal A. Early of Va. Some one else will be put in history in like manner.

A COUGH, COLD OR SORE THROAT should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchitis, Coughs, Catarrh, and the throat troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years "Brown's Bronchial Troches" have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. Sold at 25 cts. a box everywhere. ta,th & f u1 m

THE SURGEON'S KNIFE.

Mr. Simeon Tietsell, of Saugerties, N. Y., had been treated for seven years by various physicians for what they called Stricture of the Urethra, without benefit. He finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculi or Stones in the Bladder. The doctor at once removed the foreign bodies with the knife and then gave his great Blood Specific, "Favorite Remedy," to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was entirely successful, and Mr. Tietsell's recovery was rapid and perfect.

While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all kidney and bladder diseases, it is equally valuable in cases of billious disorders, constipation of the bowels, and all the class of ills apparently inseparable from the constitutions of women. Try it. Your druggist has it, and its cost is only dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. The Doctor would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine, "Favorite Remedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to office practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery.

A $6.00 REVOLVER FREE TO YOU.
THE WORLD RENOWNED BLUE JACKET
WITH IVORY HANDLE AND GOLD PLATED CYLINDER
ENGRAVED ENAMELED
WEIGHT 7½ OUNCES
THIS CUT IS 2-3 SIZE.
THE BLUE JACKET
is the most elegant Revolver in the world, as well as the most perfect and reliable in design and finish. It is made of the very best steel. The barrel and frame is Nickel Silver-plated, with Gold-plated Cylinder, Ivory Stock, and the whole beautifully engraved and enameled, making a beautiful contrast of four different colors. The cut presents only two-thirds the actual size, and as it is impossible to show the beautiful contrast of Gold, Silver, Blue and Ivory, it can only be said it is a gem of a handsome weapon. It is simply beautiful beyond description. It is the four INCH BARREL, STAMPED AND FINISHED REVOLVER ever sold for less than $6.00, and is the most remarkable bargain we ever offered in firearms. This Revolver cannot be made to-day for twice what we are offering it for, and it will be a long time before we shall be able to offer another such bargain. We have 1,000 only; when these are sold, no more can be had except at regular prices. THE BLUE JACKET is a well known and well finished revolver in the world, and the new Rimless Metallic Cartridge Shell fits the chamber, enabling you to hold it firmly and steadily. It has a finely rifled barrel, positive stop-action holding the cylinder firmly in place, and uses the extra long cartridges. With the BLUE JACKET you can shoot a spread or partridge from the tallest tree. We guarantee its shooting qualities, and if you are not perfectly satisfied within 10 DAYS AFTER YOU GET IT, we purchase it back at full price. We sell our Revolvers at less cost one-fourth their cost, and want to prove to you that we can do this and all the same time introduce our publication, THE HOUSEHOLD QUEST MAGAZINE. If you will send 50 CTS. and THE CENTS EXTRA to help pay postage, we will send the Magazine one year, and the REVOLVER FREE of all other charges. THE HOUSEHOLD QUEST MAGAZINE contains 24 quarto pages, with handsome Illustrated Engraved Cover, and is filled with choice Illustrations from all parts of the world. Stories by the best authors; Poetry; Anecdotes; Sketches; Illustrated Fashion Department; useful Information; Statistics; Answers to Correspondents; Household Notes; The Kitchen; Ladies' Items; The Table Talk; The Garden; Wit, Humor, etc. It is now in its fourth year, has a large circulation, and the price for a year's subscription has always been $1.50.
FREE TO YOU. If you will cut this advertisement out, show it to your friends, and get a club of seven to join you, and send us $7.00, with 70 cents extra to pay postage, we will send you the Revolver and Magazine free for your trouble. PLEASE BEAR IN MIND that each one in the club will also get the Revolver and Magazine, and when the club is complete, it is sent with the club order, we will put in a box of cartridges for each Revolver. As to our reliability, we refer to any New York Publishers or Merchants. Send money by Registered Letter or Post Office Order at our risk.
Address, E. C. RIDEOUT & CO., 10 Barclay Street, N. Y.

New Hampshire Items.

William F. Perkins, twenty-eight years old, a native of Hillsboro' Bridge, was caught between the bumpers of two freight cars at Elizabeth, N. J., Nov. 21st, and instantly killed.

A late examination of the books of the Ashuelot savings bank at Winchester, by an expert, is said by Albee's friends to show that instead of a deficiency of $112,000, the amount is less than $70,000, and that about $28,000 has been paid out in dividends more than has been earned, so that this and the interest reduce the deficiency to a small figure. Albee's friends are reported as confident that he can be entirely exonerated from the charge of embezzlement. He is now sick and helpless.

A peculiar case at law has been decided by Justice Foster: John D. Dimond refused to pay taxes on his house at Salisbury, claiming it was a place of worship and therefore exempt. The property was sold for taxes by the town, and bought by Enoch T. Harvey. The latter attempted to take possession, but the former refused to vacate. Dimond claimed that his house was a place of worship, inasmuch as it was the only place where he read the Bible, did his praying, read sermons, etc. Judge Foster decided against Dimond.

Gilbert Morrison's house, barn and sheds in Bethlehem were burned Nov. 22d, with a horse, cow, farm produce, household goods and clothing. Loss $2,000; insured $1,200. The fire caught from the chimney.

Postmaster General James points out, in his excellent report, a fact almost forgotten,—that the department of the public service over which he is called to preside, was intended to pay its way. The annual deficiencies are discreditable to the department, to Congress and the Nation. What is more and better, Mr. James shows how the postal receipts may be made to cover the expenditures,—by curtailing the star routes, abandoning the transportation of merchandise, reducing the compensation of postmasters to a reasonable figure, and appointing minor officers on business principles without regard to personal or partisan influence. The closing paragraphs of the report contain a striking presentation of the necessity for a reform in this respect.—Portland Advertiser.

—Coleridge knew how to write poetry, but he could not remove a horse collar to save his life.

—No man need talk about his own honesty, except the man who has no honesty to talk about.

—Dr. John M. Leonard, a practicing physician in Burlington township, Calhoun county, Mich., for forty years, confesses to having made and circulated bogus silver coins.

—A young lady ate half a wedding cake, and then tried to dream of her future husband. Now she says she would rather die than marry the man that she saw in that dream.

If you are coughing or not, but feel the presence of a cold in the system, use Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup and feel immediate relief. Price 25 cents a bottle.

—There is one suffering that the Michigan people escape. They don't have to attend the concerts given for their benefit. The only benefit they get out of some of these affairs is not hearing them.—Boston Globe.

Indulgent parents who allow their children to eat healthy of high-seasoned food, rich pies, cake, &c., will have to use Hop Bitters to prevent indigestion, sleepless nights, sickness, pain, and perhaps, death. No family is safe without them in the house.

—Another man, a New Yorker this time, has persisted in doing his own law work. The result is that an important part of his will, which disposed of nearly $1,000,000, is pronounced void.

Mr. S. S. Mason, Atlantic City, N. J., after a full experience, says: "St. Jacobs Oil is the best thing I know of to use for sprains, sores, bruises, and other similar troubles among horses.

—One of the latest æsthetic fashions is that of an old shoe designed as a receptacle for confectionery and a curiosity for a room adornment.

Renew your Lease.
There are times in every one's life when energy fails and a miserable feeling comes over them, mistaken for laziness. Danger lurks in these symptoms, as they arise from diseased organs. Parker's Ginger Tonic will restore perfect activity to the stomach, liver and kidneys, purify the blood, and renew your lease of health and comfort.—Advocate.

—A literary society of the Wesleyan University, at Bloomington, Ill., has refused membership to a negro student on account of his color. And yet the home of Lincoln, the Emancipator, was in Illinois.

Annoyance Avoided.
Gray hairs are honorable but their premature appearance is annoying. Parker's Hair Balsam prevents the annoyance by promptly restoring the youthful color.

—"America," says an Englishman, "is a country where a man's statement is not worth two cents, unless backed up with an offer to bet you ten dollars." They never bet in England, above all on horse racing.

The Results of Necessity.
What the ancients suffered for the want of knowledge in medical science, can only be appreciated by contrasting the vast amount of suffering cured and pain alleviated in modern times, by the use of Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases. Its introduction was characterized by the necessary withdrawal of a score or more of illusive, quack nostrums, whose evil effects have left living monuments to denounce them. Thus is exemplified the proverb, necessity is the mother of invention.

SWAYNES OINTMENT
AN UNFAILING REMEDY FOR ALL SKIN DISEASES SUCH AS TETTER, ITCH, SORES, PIMPLES, ERYSIPELAS, RING WORM &c.
THE GREAT CURE FOR ITCHING PILES
Symptoms are moisture, scaling, itching, worse at night; seems as if pin-worms were crawling about the rectum; the pile tumors are often affected. An elegant, economical and positive cure. SWAYNE'S OINTMENT is superior to any article in the market, sold by druggists, or send 50 cts. in S-ct. Stamps, 2 boxes, $1.25. Address, Dr. SWAYNE & SON, Phila., Pa.

Rheumatism
Neuralgia, Sprains,
Pain in the Back and Side.
There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.
This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.
Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, It never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.
The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:
Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says: About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our resort was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.
Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London: I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.
G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes: I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.
E. York says: I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.
Barton Seaman says: Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never-failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.
Mr. Burditt writes: It never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.
Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes: From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.
All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

FELLOWS'
Compound Syrup of HYPO-PHOS-PHITES
A REALLY RELIABLE REMEDY FOR WASTING AND NERVOUS DISEASES.
After numerous experiments Mr. Fellows succeeded in producing this combination of Hypo phosphites, which has not only restored him to health, but has since been found so successful in the treatment of disease, emanating from loss of nerve power, and consequently muscular relaxation, viz.:
Aphonia (loss of voice), Neuralgia, Anæmia, Nervous debility, Chronic Diarrhœa, Whooping Cough, Dyspepsia, Congestion of the Lungs, Fever and Ague, Palpitation of the Heart, Leucorrhœa, Melancholy, Malaria, Mental Depression, Nervousness.
MALARIA.
Persons living in Malarious districts may protect themselves from attacks of fever by the use of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites. Its effects in toning up the system enables us to ward off contagious disorders, and successfully combat disease.
The soluble phosphites and the other life-sustaining principles composing Fellows' Hypophosphite are so carefully proportioned and so judiciously mingled, that their action upon the nerves, muscles and membranes in imparting vitality, strength and healthy action is generally apparent within twenty days, and the good effects experienced are of a permanent character.

Mr. John O'Neil,

Back Ache
POSITIVELY CURED BY
Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.
Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:
First.
Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts with increased rubefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.
Second.
Because they are a genuine pharmaceutical preparation, and so recognized by the profession.
Third.
Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.
Fourth.
Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.
Fifth.
Because over 8000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.
Sixth.
Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

Mormonism.

The attempts of the census officials to obtain information among the Mormons in Utah have resulted, indirectly and unexpectedly, in a revelation of some interest respecting the internal workings of the Mormon church. Taylor, the head of the church, in order to prevent an application to the bishops for information concerning the people under their charge, stated that they did not occupy the ordinary relations of pastors to their people, but were the judges of secret courts by which all cases, whether temporal or spiritual, are decided. The internal discipline of the Mormon church has always been kept a profound secret as far as it was possible, and it may easily be that Taylor, far less adroit and shrewd than his predecessor, has exposed a detail which Brigham Young had successfully concealed. If so, this is one added to many proofs of the unenlightened and un-American character of Mormon methods, leaving the character of Mormon morality out of consideration altogether.

New Hampshire Items.

An adopted daughter of Elizur Tuttle of South Newbury, Vt., ran away with a married man named Wheeler, recently, and has just been found at Auburn in this state. The girl, who is only fifteen years old, has a mother and two sisters at Williamstown, Vt., and says that she was cruelly treated by her adopted parents, the Tuttles. She says, too, that she has not been improperly intimate with Wheeler, and that he took her out of kindness from a hard home. It is said that Wheeler cannot be found.

A Baby Saved!

Since birth my baby had running sores all over his head, and the doctors said that he must die, for they could not heal them. I used everything I ever heard of, but it did no good. He got so bad that he would not nurse. My husband's sister told me to try Sulphur Bitters as she had great faith in them. I used a bottle and the sores commenced to heal. After using two bottles more, the sores all healed, and I consider my baby saved.—Mother, Concord, N. H.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER is a scientific combination of some of the most powerful restorative agents in the vegetable kingdom. It restores gray hair to its original color. It makes the scalp white and clean. It cures dandruff and humors, and falling-out of the hair. It furnishes the nutritive principle by which the hair is nourished and supported. It makes the hair moist, soft and glossy, and is unsurpassed as a hair dressing. It is the most economical preparation ever offered to the public, as its effects remain a long time, making only an occasional application necessary. It is recommended and used by eminent medical men, and officially endorsed by the State Assayer of Massachusetts. The popularity of Hall's Hair Renewer has increased with the test of many years, both in this country and in foreign lands, and it is now known and used in all the civilized countries of the world.

The Prize of Beauty

would never have been awarded to Venus if her teeth had been yellow. Frail mortal, unlike the deities of fable, have perishable teeth, but these they may retain unimpaired to an advanced age, if they will use Sozodont, which keeps the teeth free from impurities which destroy them and renders them objects of admiration. It is pure, refreshing, leaves an agreeable flavor in the mouth, and sweetens the breath.

The Dangers of the Stock Market.

A man may be incredulous enough to risk his money in the fickle mysteries of a mercurial stock market, but when he gets the itching piles, he goes straight for Dr. Swayne's Ointment. Unlike the bulls and bears of the stock exchange, who clean you out of hard earned cash, it returns your money with interest, in the way of allaying the intense itching, and insuring sweet repose.

Treasurer's Report.

The annual report of the United States treasurer for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1881, states that the receipts of the government show an increase over those of 1880 from nearly every source. The total increase is $27,255,681.59, which, added to a net reduction of $6,930,070.19 in expenditures, makes an increase in the surplus revenue of $34,185,751.78.

The net revenues were $360,782,292-,67, and the net expenditures, $260,712,-887.59. The excess of receipts over payments was $100,069,404.98, of which $51,401,801.05 was expended in the redemption of the public debt. The balance in the treasury increased $48,667,-603.93,—from $203,791,321.88, at the beginning, to $252,458,925.81 at the end of the fiscal year. The amount expended on account of interest and premium on the public debt ran down from $98,552,-895.53 in the fiscal year 1880, to $83,568,-989.96, a reduction of $14,982,905.57.

The balance standing to the credit of disbursing officers and agents of the United States with the various offices of the treasury, June 30th, 1881, was $24,-936,307.88. The receipts for the fiscal year on account of the post-office department were $39,757,664.72, and the expenditures $38,544,955.11.

During the year fifty-four national banks were organized, and twenty went into voluntary liquidation, leaving 2,136 doing business at the close of the year. No national bank failed during the year.

At the close of the year there was held by the treasurer in United States bonds $360,505,900 as security for the circulation of national banks, and $15,295,500 as security for public deposits in national bank depositories. During the year $276,899,700 in bonds was deposited for these purposes, and $277,527,350 withdrawn, exceeding by far the transactions of any former year.

News and Notes.

Louis Raab, a farmer, living near Perrysburg, Ohio, shot his wife and then himself, Nov. 24th, both dying soon afterward. Raab was the father of nine children. Domestic infelicity caused the tragedy.

On account, probably, of the demand of Dakota for admission to the Union as a state, Secretary Kirkwood this year requested Gov. Ordway to make an unusually full report of the social, financial and industrial condition of that territory. The report is made public, and shows there has been during the past year a very large increase—estimated at nearly 50,000—in the population of the territory, by the immigration of, for the most part, industrious and intelligent settlers. The total valuation of property in the territory has nearly doubled. The finances of the territory are in excellent condition, bonds selling at from three to five per cent premium.

Judah P. Benjamin, late secretary of state for the confederate states, in a letter dated London, Nov. 7th, says: "There are no fund on deposit in England for the account of the confederate states. The assertions to the contrary emanate from speculators on the stock exchange. The bonds are intrinsically worthless."

The Washington Star, referring to the attempts to shoot Guiteau, says: "The attempts upon the life of Guiteau are reprehensible every way; they are breaches of law and order, and they are utterly discreditable to American marksmanship."

At Lancaster, Ohio, Nov. 23d, Herman Peter, a gunsmith, shot and fatally wounded Philip Betz, a decreptic tavern keeper, on the sidewalk in front of Peter's store. Three shots were fired, the last directly fo the face of Betz. Peter went to the jail and gave himself up. He says he was greatly excited at the time, having been out all day trying to trace a cruel slander upon his young daughter. Just as returned to his store, Betz, with whom he had previously had some difficulty, sneeringly taunted him about his daughter. This so enraged him that he fired immediately.

Tracy P. Cheever, grand secretary of the Massachusetts grand lodge of masons, died very suddenly Nov. 23d, having been stricken with paralysis at North Easton on the previous evening, be having gone to that town from his home in Chelsea to assist in constituting a new lodge. Mr. Cheever was a well known lawyer of Chelsea. He was in many battles during the war, and was severely wounded at Antietam.

The schooner Mary Jane foundered on Lake Erie, a few days ago, and her crew of six men perished.

An alarm of fire was caused in the London theatre at New York on the night of Nov. 24th, by the breaking of a steam pipe. The theatre was crowded, and in the panic that ensued many persons were hurt, though none were killed. Many of the chairs and benches in the theatre were broken.

During a heavy westerly blow on Nov. 20th, a son of Mr. Reuben Alley, aged fourteen years, in attempting to change the anchorage of his boat, near Beal's island, Me., was drowned. The body was recovered. On the 21st a neighbor of Mr. Alley's, Calvin Beal, while crossing the "Reach" during a heavy wind and high sea, had his boat swamped, and he was drowned.

Six members of a French family named Sainden, at Lisbon, Me., were recently taken sick; one died, and another will probably not survive. The cause of their sickness was a mystery till it transpired that they had purchased four pounds of green tea for one dollar of a pedler. Only those who had drank the tea were affected, and the physicians think the coloring matter contains poison.

A Portsmouth gentleman who took a look at York harbor one day recently, informs us that he saw quite an array of shipping there. The fishing schooners Chromo, Young Selim and Wanderer were lying at Simpson's wharf, and the President and another vessel at Varrell's wharf; two coasting schooners were lying at Marshall's wharf, and two brick-laden schooners at Rice's bridge—one above and one below the bridge—while a third bricker was loading at Norton's brickyard; and a cheb acco-boat was lying at the wharf near Rice's bridge. Several vessels have been loaded in York river this fall, with hay, potatoes, apples, wood and other produce; the last craft reported as having got a cargo there is the schooner John & Frank, loaded by C. F. Blaisdell, and the latest quotations are as follows, for goods delivered on the wharf: Hay, $16 a ton; wood, $4 to $5.50 a cord; apples, $2.50 to $3 a barrel; potatoes, eighty-five cents a bushel.

Mr. George W. Lane, of Gloucester, Mass., is sojourning for a few days at the Moody house, York beach, and spends his spare hours in hunting. The results of his excursions, up to Thanksgiving day, included one fox and two muskrats.

A correspondent writes from Biddeford that Rev. Charles E. Stowe, son of Harriet Beecher Stowe, is likely to be installed pastor of the Congregational church in Saco, Me., after a preliminary examination, which is to take place next week. Some of the elder church members have expressed doubts as to the soundness of the reverend gentleman's orthodoxy, but the younger portion of his flock are proud of him and consider him sound on the (orthodox) goose.—Boston Post, Nov. 24th.

Dr. Wilson L. Hawkes, of York village, and Miss Laura H. Chase, youngest daughter of Josiah Chase, Esq., of Chase's Mills, were married at the residence of the bride's father, Nov. 17th. A large number of the relatives and personal friends of the contracting parties were present, and the tokens of good will received by the bride were numerous and valuable. A luxurious supper was served, shortly after which the newly-made pair left the scene of festivity for their beautiful residence at York harbor. On Monday night of this week Dr. Hawkes and wife were complimented with a serenade by the York band.

Negotiations are in progress for the removal of one of the large shoe factories of Lynn, Mass., to Kennebunkport.

The Lord house, at York beach, will be called the Bartlett house after its enlargement. The contract for the enlargement has been let to parties in Concord, N. H., and work was commenced this week. The Goodwin house, at York harbor, is being enlarged one-third, under the personal superintendence of Landlord Goodwin himself, who is a practical carpenter and builder.

Messrs. Frank R. Bragdon and Albert Longell, of York, have purchased the schooner Chromo, of Gloucester, Mass., 8.08 tons register, for about $400, and will put her into business in the spring.

Gov. Plaisted of Maine has appointed Frank E. Rowell, Esq., of Kittery, a justice of the peace, and James Meserve, Esq., of Buxton, a trial justice.

Capt. Hartley Weare and Mr. David Farwell, of Cape Neddick, have leased for a term of twenty years the water-privilege of Chase's pond, York, and will put up a large mill for general sawing and planing, and for the getting out of shingles and clapboards. This pond is about the centre of a large lumber-producing district.

Hon. E. C. Moody, of York, recently shipped to Bangor, by schooner Unison, of Portsmouth, two very handsome sticks of timber to be used as masts—a sort of "carrying coals to Newcastle," apparently. Mr. Moody has cut a large lot of timber recently, and has quite a number of trees on his place suitable for schooners' masts.

Sea fowl were more numerous at York beach before the recent storm than for many years previously, but since then they have been very scarce.

A number of old-fashioned husking parties were given in York this fall, with old-fashioned New England suppers of turkeys, baked beans, pumpkin pies, etc.; they were all largely attended, and it was noticed by the older persons present that when any of the boys or girls "found a red ear" they went through the same performance that was so popular fifty years ago. The last husking of the season was at Charles Preble's, where in addition to the orthodox old-time viands a clam stew was served.

—Good tenors command $1,000 a year in St. Louis church choirs, baritones $800, sopranos from $600 to $1,000, and a smart organ-grider makes $6 a day.

FRIDAY, Nov. 25; Batchelder, J.

Simon G. Smith, drunk, $8 fine, $6.50 costs. Brentwood in default of payment.

Rev. J. G. Brooks of Boston, who preaches at the South Parish to-morrow, is the successor of Rev. Dr. Putnam of Roxbury, for a long time the most distinguished minister of New England.

Whitmore & Clark's Minstrels had their usual large audience at the Howard opera house, Saturday night; and, excellent as the company has heretofore proved itself, it gives every token of improvement by age. Hank White's rich and rollicky humor is sufficient, of itself, to float any minstrel company, and George M. Clark was seen at his best,—than which nothing more need be said. The remaining members of the company ably assisted in the mirth and music. The whole entertainment gave unqualified pleasure to the large and excellent audience.—Burlington Free Press.

At Music hall Nov. 30th. See advertisement.

A small audience attended the afternoon performance of "The Octoroon" at Franklin theatre on the afternoon of Thanksgiving day; in the evening the audience was larger, though still not large. The Litta Concert company, at Music hall in the evening, had a highly-cultivated audience, and one fair in point of numbers; the programme was a superior one, and all present were delighted with the manner in which it was gone through. The company is composed of superior talent, and deserved a full house; but Portsmouth people—at least that class of our people who can appreciate and enjoy a first-class musical entertainment—will not come out on Tanksgiving night. After such a dinner as the most of them indulge in on that day, an evening spent at a quiet game of whist, or in social converse with their sons and daughters, or somebody else's son or daughter, is more satisfactory.

Sheriff Kent as usual gave the prisoners in the jail a Thanksgiving dinner of turkey, pudding, pie, etc., defraying the expense out of his own pocket; forty-two pounds of turkeys were made away with by the prisoners, some of whom no doubt had not had so good a dinner for years.

It is suggested to the person who a few days ago carried off a very long-haired, dark colored kitten of peculiar appearance, belonging to a gentleman doing business on Pleasant street, that the best way to avoid unpleasantness is to return the animal to its owner; its whereabouts are known, and the next suggestion will come through a different channel.

The upper end of the north millpond was frozen over, and lively with skaters, on Friday; the eastern end of the pond is still open, and was utilized by Major Urch on one of his bicycles, the same day.

The school in district one, Kittery, taught by by Mr. Charles A. Shannon of this city, closed on Wednesday, Nov. 23d. The school was visited by the committee in the afternoon of that day, and pronounced by them to be the best in the town that they had thus far visited.

A ten-mile walking match in Franklin hall, on the afternoon of Thanksgiving day, was moderately well attended. The contestants were Daniel Collins, James Wright and James Buckley of Portsmouth, and a man named Lang, of Dover. Collins won, in one hour and forty-one minutes; Lang dropped out early in the race, and Buckley gave up after walking eight miles. After the walk there was a five-mile go-as-you-please race between A. Callaghan, W. Carroll, and Lang, which was won by the former in thirty-seven minutes, Carroll finishing two seconds later, and Lang six seconds behind Carroll.

Sixteen thousand pounds of split pollock, averaging five and one-third pounds to a fish, were brought in on the 23d inst. by the schooner Daniel C. Baker, for George Herbert & Co. These dealers have sent away within the past two weeks 2500 lbs. of boneless fish, nearly all of it on up-country orders.

It is announced that on and after Monday, Dec. 5th, the Eastern railroad train leaving Boston for Portland at 7:30 o'clock in the morning will run only as far as this city, and that a fast express train will leave Boston at 3:30 A. M. for Portland. The afternoon train from Portland will run as a fast express from Ipswich to Boston, and be followed by an accommodation train. The special fast train from Ipswich to Boston will be discontinued.

The schooner Storm King, recently purchased from Gloucester, Mass., owners by Capt. Joseph Haley, George Herbert & Co., and others, arrived at this port Nov. 25th, to fit at once for winter fishing under command of Capt. Haley.

Of "Rooms for rent," which will be played at Music hall on Monday evening, the Boston Globe says: "The piece is one of the most entertaining trifles ever presented in this city, and the characters are, without exception, excellently impersonated." The Herald says: "The fun grows fast and furious, and the auditor becomes infected with its rollicking spirit, so that one does not stop to seek for the plot, but wonders when the hilarity will cease. The cast is admirable, and every member of the company is well fitted for his or her part."

When a young lady raps on the window and smiles and waves her hand, to notify her best beau, who has just drawn up in a buggy at the curbstone to take her to ride, that she will be there in a minute, and the rap and smile and wave take effect on an unknown elderly gentleman who steps between the young people just at the wrong time, and who stops and looks up at the window in wonder as to what such an attractive young damsel can possibly want of him, the occurrence is somewhat embarrassing.

The fishing operations at Lunging island, Isles of Shoals, carried on by Mr. Elvin Newton, have closed for this year, and the men have come in. The season as a whole has not been very successful, the fall school of bait having struck in to the shores of the main land, so that the fall fishing at the islands was almost a total failure.

Osgood Lodge, No. 48, I. O. O. F., will give the first of their regular series of winter sociables on Thursday evening, Dec. 1st, in Odd Fellows' hall. This organization has long been locally famous for the excellent management displayed in the conducting of these social gatherings, and those who have enjoyed them in the past will be glad to know that they are to recommence so soon.

The schooners Christie Campbell, Nettie Adams and Grace Choate sailed for the fishing grounds Friday night. The scarcity of bait is a serious hindrance to the fishermen.

Quite a curiosity in the shape of a table is one made of marble, to be seen in Marden's eating house, opposite the post-office. It is of Chinese manufacture—nobody but a Chinaman or a Jap would have patience to make it—and the top is curiously inlaid with alabaster of different colors.

That bit of jolly fun, the comedy of Rooms for Rent, comprises a wealth of amusement.—Providence Journal.

There was a ball in Trefethen's hall at Kittery on the evening of Thanksgiving day, which was a well managed and largely attended affair. Many persons were present from this city.

European papers of late date contain an article published in this paper last August, descriptive of Major Urch's marine bicycle as it appeared to a passenger on the steamer Appledore, between this port and the Shoals. The article in question was credited to the Detroit Free Press.

Capt. Frank Emerson, of York, has succeeded in making a dam at "the millpond," so called, and hopes to harvest a big crop of ice the coming winter; he deserves success for his persistence, the dam having been carried away several times. Capt. Emerson proposes to stock the enclosed waters with choice fresh-water fish, and has erected hatching-houses at the head of the pond.

—The charges at the seige of Yorktown were remarkable. The charges at the celebration of it were not less remarkable.

—"Why dost thou soar, love?" sings the poet. Probably it is because he has been trying to mount the fiery, untamed bicycle. It will make any man sore.—Oil City Derrick.

—It has been discovered that Vermont and New Hampshire have more bald-headed men than any other states in the Union. It is the pure mountain air which does it.

—The number of persons in this world who have rheumatism is much larger than the number of those who have religion.

As Thousands do Testify,

So does Thomas Roberts, Wholesale Grocer, Philadelphia, who says: "Burnett's Cocoaine allays all irritation of the scalp, and will most effectually remove dandruff and prevent the hair from falling out."

Burnett's Flavoring Extracts.—The superiority of these extracts consists in their perfect purity and great strength. They are warranted free from the poisonous oils and acids which enter into the composition of many factitious fruit flavors.

Mothers! Mothers!! Mothers!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere. 25 cents a bottle. m.w & s &w n82

THE SUN FOR 1882.

Next year THE SUN will make its fifteenth annual revolution under the present management, shining, as always, for all, like all little, mean and gracious, contented and unhappy. Republican and Democratic, depraved and virtuous, intelligent and obtuse. THE SUN'S light is for each kind and womankind of every sort; but its general warmth is for the good, while it pours hot discomfort on the blistering backs of the persistently wicked.

THE SUN of 1868 was a newspaper of a new kind. It discarded many of the forms and a multitude of the superfluous words and phrases of ancient journalism. It undertook to report in a fresh, succinct, unconventional way all the news of the world, omitting no event of human interest, and commenting upon affairs with the fearlessness of absolute independence. The success of this experiment was the success of THE SUN. It effected a permanent change in the style of American newspapers. Every important journal established in this country in the dozen years past has been modelled after THE SUN. Every important journal already existing has been modified and bettered by the force of THE SUN's example.

THE SUN of 1882 will be the same outspoken, truth-telling, and interesting newspaper.

By a liberal use of the means which an abundant prosperity affords, we shall make it better than ever before. We shall print all the news, putting it into readable shape and measuring its importance, not by the traditional precedent, but by its real interest to the people. Distance from Printing House square is not the first consideration with THE SUN. Whenever anything happens worth reporting we get the particulars, whether it happens in Brooklyn or Bokhara.

In politics we have decided opinions; and we are accustomed to express them in language that can be understood. We say what we think about men and events. That habit is the only secret of THE SUN's political course.

The weekly edition of THE SUN gathers into eight pages the best matter of the seven daily issues. An Agricultural Department of unqualified merit, full market reports, and a liberal proportion of literary, scientific, and domestic intelligence complete in THE WEEKLY SUN and make it the best newspaper for the farmer's household that ever was printed.

Who does not know and read and like THE SUNDAY SUN, each number of which is a folio sheet of interesting literature, with the best poetry of the day, prose every like worth reading, news, humor, matter enough to fill a good sized book, and infinitely more varied and entertaining than any book big or little?

If our idea of what a newspaper should be pleases you, send for THE SUN.

Our terms are as follows:

For the daily SUN, a four-page sheet of twenty-eight columns, the price by mail, post paid, is 55 cts. a month, or $6.50 a year, or including the Sunday paper, an eight-page sheet of fifty-six columns, the price is 65 cents a month, or $7.70 a year, postage paid.

The Sunday edition of THE SUN is also furnished separately at $1.20 a year, postage paid.

The price of the WEEKLY SUN, eight pages, fifty-six columns, is $1 a year, postage paid. For clubs of ten sending $10 we will send an extra copy free.

THE SURGEON'S KNIFE.
Wonderful Surgical Operation--Removal of Urinary Stones from the Bladder--Successful.
Mr. Simeon Tietsell, of Saugerties, N. Y., had been treated for seven years by various physicians for what they called Stricture of the Urethra, without benefit. He finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculi or Stones in the Bladder. The doctor at once removed the foreign bodies with the knife and gave his great Blood Specific, "Favorite Remedy," to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was eminently successful, and Mr. Tietsell's recovery was rapid and perfect.
While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all kidney and bladder diseases, it is equally valuable in cases of bilious disorders, constipation of the bowels, and all the class of ills apparently inseparable from the constitution of a wounded. Try it. Your druggist has it, and its cost is only dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. The Doctor would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine, "Favorite Remedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to office practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery.

Naval Affairs.

Passed Assistant Engineer H. N. Stevenson has returned from a two years cruise on the Trenton, flagship of the Mediterranean squadron, and is now on waiting orders.

The training-ship Constitution started from Newport, R. I., Nov. 25th, in tow of the Tallapoosa. The Saratoga and Portsmouth, also of the training fleet, started from Newport on the same day, the former for Boston and the latter for Washington, but the Saratoga met with some mishap, and anchored just outside the harbor.

Some time ago, at the request of the department of state, the United States steamer Ranger, Commander Phillips, was ordered to Acapulco to protect the United States consul at that place, who, had had some difficulty with the inhabitants. A telegram from Commander Phillips was received by the secretary of the navy on Nov. 23d, stating that Consul Dexter had left Acapulco and the country two months ago.

The London (Eng.) News, in an article on the Guiteau trial, says: "It seems obvious that the question of Guiteau's sanity and responsibility is a matter of word chopping and of psychological casuistry. Guiteau is perfectly well aware of the nature of the act. We might say that Guiteau was crazed, just as so many people are cracked who are yet acknowledged to be fit to control their own affairs. If Guiteau is declared insane, a vast number of people like him, feather-brained, conceited fools, will justly infer that they, too, may indulge in eccentricities and murder."

The largest ship ever built in the Bath district, Maine, the "S. M. Whitmore," of 2,205 tons, was launched Nov. 23d. On the 24th, Arthur Sewall & Co. of Bath launched the ship "Iroquois," of 2,120 tons.

At Columbia, Mo., Nov. 24th, while twenty-five or thirty boys and girls were skating on a pond, the ice suddenly broke, and John Gath, Theodore Murphy and Maggie Buckner, each about sixteen years old, and members of well-known families, were drowned.

Thomas Hardy, the eminent English novelist, author of "Far from the Madding Crowd," "Return of the Native," etc., is writing a serial story for the "Atlantic Monthly." "The House of a Merchant Prince" is the title of W. H. Bishop's new novel. It will appear in the Atlantic, as his novel "Detmold" did, beginning in January and continuing through the year. It is said to be a charming story of New York life.

An additional supplement to Baxter P. Smith's History of Dartmouth College, containing the reports of the committees of investigation, and printed to match the original work, has been issued.

All should recollect that with the loss of health, loss of enjoyment and happiness soon follows. A cough or cold quickly undermines the health, and should be checked by the prompt use of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. For sale by all druggists. Price 25 cents.

Lieut. Commander Charles E. Clark and Assistant Paymasters Collander L. Lewis and Charles W. Littlefield have been ordered to examination for promotion.

A Cure for Pimples!
My face for the last few years was covered with pimples so bad, that I used to be ashamed to go anywhere. I took two bottles of Sulphur Bitters and the pimples disappeared. I use them every spring.—C. K. D., Fall River.

Lieut. Commander William Starr Dana has reported his return home, having been detached from the Shenandoah, South Atlantic station, and has been placed on waiting orders.

He Suffered for 35 Years.
GUILFORD, CT., May 15th, 1868.
For thirty-five years I have been the victim of that terrible disease, dyspepsia; have consulted eminent physicians, and tried almost every remedy. My family physician finally told me I could not be cured. The first dose of Coe's Dyspepsia Cure helped me, and, to-day, I consider myself cured, and am ready to affirm that it is the most valuable medicine ever placed before the public.
G. H. RICHARDSON.

PADUCAH, KY., May 10th, 1867.
During a confinement of eleven months in Libby prison, I was attacked with dyspepsia in its worst form. For two years I have suffered with it. I tried doctors a great many times without relief. This spring I became so debilitated as to be unable to walk one square. After taking two doses of Coe's Dyspepsia Cure I ate of everything on the table, felt no distress afterward, and have an excellent appetite.
F. T. GILLILAND, Late Lieut. U. S. A.

Assistant Paymaster John Corwin has reported his return home, having been detached from the Onward, Pacific station, and has been ordered to settle his accounts and then await orders.

The Results of Necessity.
What the ancients suffered for the want of knowledge in medical science, can only be appreciated by contrasting the vast amount of suffering cured and pain alleviated in modern times, by the use of Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases. Its introduction was characterized by the necessary withdrawal of a score or more of illusive, quack nostrums, whose evil effects have left living monuments to denounce them. Thus is exemplified the proverb, necessity is the mother of invention.

Rheumatism
Neuralgia, Sprains,
Pain in the Back and Side.
There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.
This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.
Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, It never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.
The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:
Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our recourse was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.
Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and violent rheumatism of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.
G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced immediate relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.
E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.
Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.
Mr. Burdick writes:
It never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.
Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.
All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and it will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

FELLOWS'
Compound Syrup of
HYPO-PHOS-PHITES
A REALLY RELIABLE REMEDY FOR WASTING AND NERVOUS DISEASES.
After numerous experiments Mr. Fellows succeeded in producing this combination of Hypophosphites, which has not only restored him to health, but has done more good and successful in the treatment of disease emanating from loss of nerve power, and consequently muscular relaxation, viz:
Aphonia (loss of voice), Neuralgia, Anæmia, Nervous debility, Chronic Diarrhœa, Whooping Cough, Dyspepsia, Congestion of the Lungs, Fever and Ague, Palpitation of the Heart, Leucorrhœa, Melancholy, Malaria, Mental Depression, Nervousness.
MALARIA.
Persons living in Malarious districts may protect themselves from attacks of fever by the use of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites. Its effects in toning up the system enables us to ward off contagious disorders, and successfully combat disease.
The soluble phosphites and the other life-sustaining principles composing Fellows' Hypophosphites are so carefully proportioned and so fully colloidally mingled, that their action upon the nerves, muscles and membranes in imparting vitality, strength and healthy action is generally apparent within twenty four hours, and the good effects experienced are of a permanent character.

Back Ache
POSITIVELY CURED BY
Benson's Capcine Porous Plasters.
Reasons Why they are Preferred to All Other Porous Plasters or External Remedies:
First.
Because they possess all the merit of the strengthening porous plaster, and contain in addition thereto the newly discovered powerful and active vegetable combination which acts with increased rubefacient, stimulating, sedative and counter irritant effects.
Second.
Because they are a genuine (pharmaceutical) preparation, and so recognized by the profession.
Third,
Because they are the only plasters that relieve pain at once.
Fourth.
Because they will positively cure diseases which other remedies will not even relieve.
Fifth.
Because over 1000 physicians and druggists have voluntarily testified that they are superior to all other plasters or medicines for external use.
Sixth.
Because the manufacturers have received the only medals ever given for porous plasters.

Calvin Farnham of Wakefield, who drowned himself a few days ago, was an industrious farmer, and a mystery hangs over the affair. On his way to the river he met Alvah Garland, by whom he sent a letter to his daughter, intimating that he intended to commit suicide.

Capt. Wm. Robinson of Dover was attacked in that city on the evening of Nov. 23d, by an unknown ruffian who attempted the old "garrote" game. Capt. Robinson was thrown down, but made so vigorous a resistance that the would-be robber fled without securing any booty.

The New York Sun.

Very many of our democratic friends take the New York Sun, for two reasons—there is connected with the paper a smart young man from Portsmouth, and the Sun is acknowledged to be the ablest democratic newspaper in the country. The peculiar excellence of the Sun to the general reader at once appears, in the condensed manner in which important news from all over the world is given, contrasted with the long-drawn-out style of the New York dailies, which with less to interest in their issues, spread out what they do have to an almost unlimited extent.

Conductor W. S. Rathburn, of the Lake Shore railroad, residing in Detroit, Mich., was cured by St. Jacobs Oil of a very severe case of rheumatism. He was delighted with its prompt action and influence.

A battery of United States artillery arrived at Fort Hamilton, New York, Nov. 25th, having marched all the way from Yorktown, Va., where they went to take part in the centennial celebration.

Centaur Liniment.

Invaluable to families, and owners of horses Sold everywhere.

In the absence of Mr. Lewis, a well-to-do farmer of Thomasville, Ga., Nov. 24th, his house was robbed and his wife and young daughter murdered.

Ash-Tonic;

A perfected purifyer of the system. In 1-2lb. bottles; 75 cents. For dyspepsia, the many forms of liver complaint, impure and impoverished blood, and functional derangements attendant upon debility. For symptons indicated by indigestion, loss of appetite, nausea, sick headache, sour stomach, furred tongue, drowsiness, blanched lips, sallow complexion, pain in the side or back, eruptions, depression of spirits, nervous irritability and hysteria, and for building up the system, ash-tonic is unquestionably the most prompt and energetic remedy yet devised.

The propeller Gaylord was sunk in the Ohio river near Ashland, Ky., Nov. 24th, by collision with another steamer; the engineer, cook and one deck hand lost their lives.

"Rough on Rats."

The thing desired found at last. Ask druggist for Rough on Rats. It clears out rats, mice, roaches, flies, bedbugs; 15 cts. boxes.

Three hundred Jewish refugees from Russia arrived in New York Nov. 25th.

Renew your Lease.

There are times in every one's life when energy fails and a miserable feeling comes over them, mistaken for laziness. Danger lurks in these symptoms, as they arise from diseased organs. Parker's Ginger Tonic will restore perfect activity to the stomach, liver and kidneys, purify the blood, and renew your lease of health and comfort.—Advocate.

The Dangers of the Stock Market.

A man may be incredulous enough to risk his money in the fickle mysteries of a mercurial stock market, but when he gets the itching piles, he goes straight for Dr. Swayne's Ointment. Unlike the bulls and bears of the stock exchange, who clean you out of hard earned cash, it returns your money with interest, in the way of allaying the intense itching, and insuring sweet repose.

OUT-DOOR GARMENTS.

It matters little if your costume be at fault, provided you have a fur-lined cloak, since faults are covered by an expanse that reaches within two or three inches of the lower edge. That expanse, too, is graceful in contour; enveloping the person, without bulkiness; convenient, because of the large sleeves, rendering it easy to put on; comfortable, because warm. Equipped in one of these cloaks, you defy not only the outer air, but the utmost acumen of the feminine gaze, for even that gaze must rest contented by the rich attractions of sicilienne, brocade or satin. Of course there are minor differences among these cloaks, some being handsomer than others, put none are more attractive in shape than the Grosvenor pelisse, which has plaitings set in the lower part of the back seam, and graduated plaitings that form the sleeves. Then come the family of redingotes, and equal to a Scotchman's clan they are. Made of the various mixed cloths, they have a tribe-like resemblance, but vary in lesser points, since some are dark, others light, etc. They too envelope the figure, but it is in a more business-like way. Last, but not least, are jackets of mixed cloth, while near akin are basques, the latter most generally of rich material such as plush or velvet.

STREET COSTUMES.

The Granville is a jaunty model for a street jacket, double breasted, tight fitting, and with the Melissa overskirt forms an excellent outfit. The overskirt, which would combine with almost any corsage or walking skirt, is arranged with a shawl pointed apron, draped in plaits at the left side, and in shirrings on the right. Another stylish street costume is the Isotta, made with narrow plaited ruffles around the lower edge, gathered flounce above, plain in front, and kilt plaited at the sides and back. A full drapery hangs at the back, and a draped apron in front; the basque is double breasted and tight fitting. Of course for street wear an addition of furs will soon be made. Large capes, seal sacques, seal dolmans, are all fashionable, to say nothing of fur-lined circulars and the fur lined cloaks mentioned above. The most decided novelty however, as I observe by Lord & Taylor's catalogue, is a cuirass of seal or beaver fur, without sleeves; while equally new is a plaited hunter's jacket of seal or beaver, with belting in at the waist. These last are intended for youthful belles only.

EVENING DRESSES.

The largest figures on upholstery goods are no larger than on evening fabrics, while for combination we have material where one mammoth stripe terminates only to be succeeded by another. Manifestly these huge floral patterns must be allowed some natural sway, and so we find them disposed in the lengthened sweep of court trains or the plain surface of a front breadth, while sandwiched in the interval between are the broad-striped fabrics. More modest even'g costumes are of plain satin combined with gauze, grenadine, or cashmere, and these are usually short Sleeves are often virtually ignored, yet elbow sleeves are seen, while the changes are rung on square and heart shaped necks, since the genuine low neck is conspicuously absent from evening assemblies. Most of have elbow sleeves. A white satin and gauze toilette is throughout an intricate mass of plaitings and shirrings, made with court train, all in one, heart shaped neck and elbow sleeves. Gloves a pale tan color, long and wrinkled, with diamond earrings and pin. A second toilette is of creamy white satin, richly embroidered on the front breadth with flowers in natural colors; court train; bodice pointed back and front; elbow sleeves; square neck, with garland of leaves encircling, and terminated by large bouquet on left shoulder; long, loose, tan-colored gloves, with narrow diamond bracelets and earrings. A blue and white satin toilette is made baby waist, shirred in front and sides, with court train, and trimmings of crystal passementerie; elbow sleeves; long, loose tan colored gloves, various narrow bracelets, and pearl earrings.

HOLIDAY PRESENTS.

Ladies here are already busy in preparing their Christmas presents. Stamped designs on linen are very fashionable for tidies, table covers, etc., and for outlining, the Florence etcing silk is used because it does not split or fray, is soft and even, and every way desirable. Quite an impetus too has been given to knitting, where favorite articles are silken laces for baby blankets and skirts, as well also as mittens, wristers, socks, stockings, and long purses. The latter are a return as we know to old ideas, but nothing is so fashionable now as something antique. Made of the Florence knitting silk, many of these handiworks are beautiful.

LUCY CARTER.

The Dover Republican of Nov. 25th says: "The sequence of an old family feud was yesterday carried out in Salmon Falls, by a shooting affray between Messrs. E. S. and E. E. Nowell, father and son, and an ex-saloon keeper, Geo. L. Wentworth. In the morning Geo. L. Wentworth visited his father's house, with his brother, and E. E. Nowell, and in a discussion drew a revolver, and but for the interference of his father would have shot Nowell. Nowell and the other Wentworth then left the house and crossed to the Boston & Maine depot close by. Sometime later Wentworth went to the depot, and was noisy and threatening. The elder Nowell called upon a police officer at once to arrest Wentworth, fearing that the latter intended the life of himself and son. At that Wentworth again drew his revolver, but his aim was diverted by the police officer, who threw up his arm and the ball entered the wall. Young Nowell then shot at Wentworth twice, one ball taking effect in the neck under the right ear, and passing through to the left side, and the other ball lodging in the upper part of the thigh. Nowell surrendered himself, and Wentworth was conveyed to the police station, his wounds dressed, and afterwards he was removed to Dover in a hack, sent thither by his wife, who resides in Dover and is in delicate health."

Edward S. Nowell is station master in Salmon Falls for the Boston & Maine railroad, and Edward E. Nowell, his son, is telegraphic operator at that station. The elder Nowell married a sister of Wentworth's, so the younger Nowell is a nephew of the man he shot. The Dover Democrat says Wentworth's wounds will probably prove fatal, and adds: "It is the general opinion of the law abiding people of Salmon Falls and vicinity that the shooting of Wentworth by young Nowell was justifiable. For years and years there has been an ugly family quarrel there, and Wentworth, it is said, has generally been to blame. Some eighteen months ago Nowell gave him a severe beating with a cane, being provoked thereto. The Nowells have the reputation of being sober, industrious and peaceful people generally, but passionate at times, and holding a great dislike for Wentworth. When the shooting occurred they were sober, while Wentworth was under the influence of liquor."

This "Major" George L. Wenthworth has more than once figured in the papers as being an aggressive and dangerous man when on a drunk. Two years and a half ago he shot at and wounded James Ricker of Dover; and somewhat later he had a quarrel in the same city with a man who, to get away from him, attempted to swim the river, and was drowned. The Democrat, in its account of the late shooting affair, says: "Our reporter went to Salmon Falls yesterday [Thanksgiving day] morning. During his rambles he learned that Major Wentworth was on one of his drunks, that he was armed with a revolver, and he had threatened to shoot one Jerry Sullivan and a French Canadian mill operative."

This Will Pay.

We consult the best good of our readers in recommending them now to secure the valuable and important information and most interesting reading matter, including a thousand or more of pleasing and instructive engravings and sketches, that can be obtained at trifling expense in the American Agriculturist. This is not merely a farm and garden journal, but is very useful to every house-keeper and to every household in village or country. It has an entertaining and useful department for the little ones. It is a journal that pays to take and read. Try it, and, our word for it, you will not be disappointed. Its constant, persistent exposures of humbugs and swindling schemes are worth far more than the cost of the paper. The 41st annual volume begins January 1st, but those subscribing now for 1882 get the rest of this year free. Terms: $1.50 a year; four copies $5 (English or German edition); single copy fifteen cents.

New-Fangled Whaling.

The new steamer Newport, of the New York & Cuba Mail Steamship company, ran into a school of sperm whales off the Delaware capes on her last southward trip. It was about eight o'clock in the morning, and Captain John F. Sundberg says he could see millions of them from the deck. He estimated the width of the school at half a mile and its length at twenty miles. The sea was smooth, the sun was shining, and all the passengers were on deck. The vessel was steaming at fifteen knots. One of them about sixty-five feet long was struck by the bow of the steamship at right angles, and about in the middle of its body. The shock nearly threw the passengers from their feet. At the moment of the collision the whale threw up its flukes and dengged the fore part of the deck. Commissioner Alden S. Swarm of the Brooklyn bridge, who was looking over the prow, was among the passengers who got drenched. The whale, Capt. Sundberg says, was cut in two, the fore part going to one side of the vessel and the after part to the other. The sea was colored with blood. The head was driven down into the water so far that when it came up it arose six feet above the surface, in plain sight of those who were looking over the side. The shock threw the steam-steering gear temporarily out of order, but otherwise the vessel was not damaged. A few minutes later a second whale was cut in two almost in the same manner as the first had been. The head passed under the propeller blades. The effect of this on the machinery alarmed the engineer in the engine room, who thought the blades had struck a drifting spar. The course of the vessel was then changed, and she ran out of the school.

Encounter With an Eagle.

Mrs. S. C. Hadlock of Peak's Island, Me., missed a turkey and could find no clue to the thief until recently, when she heard a great noise in her hen-coop, and investigation showed a large bald-headed eagle. Mrs. Hadlock yelled at him, then shook her fist and yelled again, but the eagle did not fly. She ran to the house for help, leaving her six year-old grandson to watch the bird. The latter attacked the little fellow, and the mother returned to the combat. She had a hard time fighting the eagle, now thoroughly enraged, but soon old Dr. Torrington, aged seventy, came to the rescue with a gun well loaded with No. 3 shot. The aim was a good one, and the eagle, after soaring aloft, fell with a piercing scream into the ocean. The doctor secured him, and found he was six feet and six inches from tip to tip of his wings. The bird is now in this city being mounted.—Boston Post.

NEW RAILROAD PROJECT.

President Phillips and Superintendent Sanborn of the Eastern railroad on Saturday looked over the ground between this city and York, to decide upon the advisability of building a branch from some convenient point on the main line of the road to York beach, with the especial view of accommodating the heavy summer travel to and from that favorite resort. It is reported that they were very favorably impressed with the scheme, and that the spur is likely to be ready for operation before the commencement of summer travel next season. One thing is confidently asserted—that if the Eastern railroad does not build such a line, the Boston & Maine road will.

THE HIGH SCHOOL REUNION.

The sixth reunion of the High School Alumni Association, in Franklin theatre last Friday evening, was in every point a success, the literary exercises being fully as interesting as those of any previous reunion, if indeed not better than ever before. President Jas. P. Bartlett, in opening, made graceful reference to the late James T. Fields, a former vice president of the association, and a warm friend of the high school. He was followed by Rev. Edward A. Rand, a vice president, in an excellent and appropriate address. A humorous original poem, "The Watch," was read by E. C. Pfeiffer, class of '80, and caused much mirth. Miss Edith Wendell sang two songs, and sang them beautifully, of course; and Wm. Russell Foster gave in excellent style a recitation from Dickens' "Tale of Two Cities." This part of the exercises closed with music by Harlow's orchestra, and the company then adjourned to Franklin hall, where a programme of ten well selected dances was gone through with, Mr. C. A. Hazlett acting as floor director, with Messrs. W. R. Foster, A. H. Sides, F. J. Philbrick, G. A. Blaisdell and H. Wendell for assistants.

The Jersey City Journal says that "Rooms for Rent," which will be presented at Music hall this evening, "is full of innocent hilarity and jolly fun." The Baltimore American says, "It is humorous throughout, and its situations are exceedingly laughable." The Hartford Courant calls it "two hours of fun. It is a bright play, written to amuse, and this it does, and does fully."

One of the busiest places in this city is Dr. Ed. S. Fay's extensive clothing store on Congress street. He keeps in stock a large and varied assortment of goods in his line, and his "asking" and "selling" prices are alike—at the lowest point at which a living profit can be made. He does not profess to sell at less than cost, not pretending that he carries on business merely for the fun of it, but does claim to sell clothing fully as cheap, and in many cases at much lower prices, than the same quality of goods can be bought for elsewhere.

The stockholders of the Avery Lactate Co held a meeting in this city recently, and voted to increase the capital stock of the corporation to one million dollars. Copies of the vote have been filed in the offices of the secretary of state, and of the city clerk in this city.

Of Wm. A. Huntley, who will appear at Music hall on Wednesday evening with Whitmore & Clarke's Minstrels, the Boston Herald says: "Mr. Huntley is a marvelous banjo player, and has a certain power over the instrument that no other banjo artist has ever here shown himself to possess." The Detroit Free Press calls him "the best banjoist that has appeared in Detroit." With the same company is Hank White, who for many years has been one of the most popular and widely-known performers on the minstrel stage.

Capt. Laughton resumes command of the schooner "Clytie," of Pembroke, Me., Capt. Coggins having been in command for the past three months. The Clytie has made four trips from Baltimore to this port during the past season, and has brought in 3100 tons of coal from that port. Her last cargo was on Saturday being discharged at the Concord railroad wharf. The Clytie on her last passage arrived at this port twelve hours before a fleet of coal-laden schooners which she passed off Cape Cod reached Boston. From the time the Clytie left the wharf at Baltimore till she reached this harbor she did not tack once, having the rare good luck of a favorable wind the entire passage.

The derrick on the wharf near Liberty bridge, used in discharging the gondolas loaded with stone for the new Episcopal church, has been taken down since the completion of the work. The estimate of the weight of stone used in building the church, as made by Joseph R. Holmes, the contractor for delivering the rock, is 2750 tons, the calculation being based upon the number of gondola loads discharged.

Eastern railroad stock, which dropped to $33 per share last week, recovered a little on Saturday, at the Boston brokers' board. At auction, Portland, Saco & Portsmouth railroad brought $116.50; Cocheco Manufacturing Co., $870; Eastern railroad 4 1-2 per cent bonds of 1906, $108.

Some of the scows and excavators used in dredging the Exeter river are laid up at Russell's & Odion's wharf, in anticipation of the closing of the upper waters of the Piscataqua.

Real estate transfers: Benjamin T. Webster to David H. Montgomery, land in Portsmouth, $200; Aaron Lang of Portsmouth to Joseph P. Marden, land in Rye, $200; Moses Mann to James J. Cutcherson, land in Greenland, $1; Newmarket savings bank to Henry Whittaker, land in Newmarket, $350.

Mr. John Albee is giving a series of four lectures in West 56th street, New York. The subjects announced are "The origin and development of the English language," and "Faded metaphors."

Residents of Old Orchard talk of offering a reward for the arrest of the fire-bug who has been operating there. They have held a public meeting to consider the question of facilities for putting out fires, and another is to be held soon.

Preparations are being made by the proprietor of the Hotel Bartlett, at York beach, for the building of a landing near Roaring rock for the use of the steamer which will be put on the route between York and Portsmouth next summer. Mr. J. P. Simpson is building a new wharf at York harbor, adjoining his old one.

The Circuit Court of the United States comes in at Concord this morning, when the trial of case Huntress against town of Epping will be resumed.

The hearing in equity case Bickford vs. Davis and others, fixed for to-day, has been postponed by the agreement of counsel.

The Rear Admiral's flag was seen flying from the flag staff at the navy yard on Sunday.

"A GOOD INVESTMENT."

Information Regarding the Boston and Sheep Mountain Mining Company.

OFFICE OF GOFF, HASTINGS & CO.,
No. 131 DEVONSHIRE ST.,
BOSTON, Nov. 22d, 1881.

Mr. Editor: Since the publication of an article in your paper a few days ago, headed "A Good Investment," regarding the large prospective value of the stock of the Boston & Sheep Mountain Mining Co., numerous inquiries have reached us from investors who read the article, asking for further information before investing in the stock; we therefore take this means of answering these questions:

1st. The property belonging to the company comprises eight mining claims located on Sheep Mountain, Ten Mile Mining District, and adjoins the famous Robinson Mine. The great Robinson ore chute runs directly into and through the Boston & Sheep Mountain Co.'s claim.

2d. Development work is being vigorously prosecuted night and day, with three eight-hour shifts of men. The main working shaft is now down 125 feet, and we are assured by eminent mining experts, as well as the company's superintendent, that the mine will be a "bonanza" as soon as the shaft reaches the depth at which the Robinson incline would naturally strike it.

3d. The present engine and hoisting machinery at the mine is now being replaced by very heavy and powerful machinery, capable of hoisting fifty tons per day.

4th. The mine is being worked as a business enterprise and not as a mere stock speculation. Its appointments are all first class, its management is able, intelligent, energetic and honest. The company's superintendent is one of the ablest mine managers in Colorado. He stakes his reputation on his reports of the property, and accepts his remuneration in the stock of the company instead of drawing an ordinary money salary. In his last weekly report he says:

"The Robinson chute is looking better, and more ore is in sight now than ever before. Every foot now driven enhances the value of Boston & Sheep Mountain, as the ore body is daily growing in strength and richness as it comes toward our territory."

The Robinson Mine is now paying its stockholders $100,000 per month in dividends, and it is said by their superintendent that they can as easily pay $200,000 per month, as they have about five million dollars worth of ore developed and standing in the mine ready for stoping and hauling to the smelters.

5th. The shares of the Boston & Sheep Mountain Company are $10.00 each, full paid and non-assessable. The company offer a limited amount of treasury stock for development work at $1.00 per share.

If your readers desire an investment in mining stock of any kind, which has a chance of becoming much more valuable than the price paid for it, we can recommend this stock to them. It is offered now at a low figure to insure immediate working capital.

The time to buy mining stock is when its treasury stock is offered at bed rock prices for development work. Immense fortunes have been made in this way.

Orders should be sent in immediately to secure the stock before an advance is made in price. Respectfully yours,

GOFF, HASTINGS & CO.,
Financial Agents.

THE SUN FOR 1882.

Next year THE SUN will make its fifteenth annual revolution under the present management, shining, as always, for all, big and little, mean and gracious, contented and unhappy, Republican and Democratic, depraved and virtuous, intelligent and obtuse. THE SUN'S light is for mankind and womankind of every sort; but its genial warmth is for the good, while it pours hot discomfort on the blistering backs of the persistently wicked.

THE SUN of 1882 was a newspaper of a new kind. It discarded many of the forms and a multitude of the superfluous words and phrases of ancient journalism. It undertook to report in a fresh, succinct, unconventional way all the news of the world, omitting no event of human late or art, and commenting upon affairs with the fearlessness of absolute independence. The success of this experiment was the success of THE SUN. It effected a permanent change in the style of American newspapers. Every important journal established in this country in the dozen years past has been modelled after THE SUN. Every important journal already existing has been modified and bettered by the force of THE SUN's example.

THE SUN of 1882 will be the same outspoken, truth-telling, and interesting newspaper.

By a liberal use of the means which an abundant prosperity affords, we shall make it better than ever before. We shall print all the news, putting it into readable shape and measuring its importance, not by the traditional yardstick, but by its real interest to the people. Distance from Printing House square is not the first consideration with THE SUN. Whenever anything happens worth reporting we get the particulars, wether it happens in Brooklyn or Bokhara.

In politics we have decided opinions; and we are accustomed to express them in language that can be understood. We say what we think about men and events. That habit is the only secret of THE SUN's political course.

The weekly edition of THE SUN gathers into eight pages the best matter of the seven daily issues. An Agricultural Department of unquaintd merit, full market reports, and a liberal proportion of literary, scientific, and domestic intelligence complete in THE WEEKLY SUN and make it the best newspaper for the farmer's household that ever was printed.

Who does not know and read and like THE SUNDAY SUN, each number of which is a Golconda of interesting literature, with the best poetry of the day, prose every line worth reading, news, humor, matter enough to fill a good sized book, and infinitely more varied and entertaining than any book big or little?

If our idea of what a newspaper should be pleases you, send for THE SUN.

Our terms are as follows:

For the daily SUN, a four-page sheet of twenty-eight columns, the price by mail, post paid, is 55 cents a month, or $6.50 a year, or including the Sunday paper, an eight-page sheet of fifty-six columns, the price is 65 cents a month, or $7.70 a year postage paid.

The Sunday edition of THE SUN is also furnished sepa ately at 1 20 a year, postage paid.

The price of the WEEKLY SUN, eight pages, fifty-six columns, is $1 a year, postage paid. For clubs of ten sending $10 we will send an extra copy free.

THE SURGEON'S KNIFE.

Wonderful Surgical Operation—Removal of Urinary Stones from the Bladder—Successful.

Mr. Simeon Tistsell, of Saugerties, N. Y., had been troubled for seven years by various physicians for what they called Stricture of the Urethra, without benefit. He finally consulted Dr. David Kennedy, of Rondout, N. Y., who found his trouble to be Urinary Calculi or Stones in the Bladder. The doctor at once removed the foreign bodies with the knife and then gave his great Blood Specific, "Favorite Remedy," to prevent their reformation. The entire treatment was eminently successful, and Mr. Tistsell's recovery was rapid and perfect.

While "Favorite Remedy" is a specific in all kidney and bladder diseases, it is equally valuable in cases of bilious disorders, constipation of the bowels, and all the class of ills apparently inseparable from the constitutions of women. Try it. Your druggist has it, and its cost is only dollar a bottle. The lucky man is he who puts this advice in practice. Don't forget the name and address, Dr. David Kennedy, Rondout, N. Y. The Doctor would have it understood that, while he is engaged in the introduction of his medicine, "Favorite Remedy," he still continues the practice of his profession, but confines himself exclusively to office practice. He treats all diseases of a chronic character, and performs all the minor and capital operations of surgery.

Naval Affairs.

Assistant Surgeon Francis L. Nash has been detached from the naval hospital at New York, and granted three months' leave.

Passed Assistant Surgeon Henry G. Beyer has been detached from the naval hospital at Washington and ordered to the naval hospital at New York.

Passed Assistant Surgeon L. G. Henneberger has been ordered to the naval hospital at Washington.

Passed Assistant Surgeon John C. Fisher has been ordered to report by letter to the general superintendent of the life-saving service, for temporary duty in the examination of crews.

Capt. Philip C. Johnson is detached from command of the receiving-ship New Hampshire, and ordered to duty as chief signal officer of the navy.

Rear Admiral John C. Howell has been placed on the retired list of the navy, he having reached the age of sixty-two years. His retirement promotes Commodore J. C. Beaumont to the rank of rear admiral.

Secretary Hunt has issued a general order calling the attention of commanding officers of naval vessels to the regulations regarding the employment of pilots, and to the fact that their services are authorized only when necessary. Commanding and navigating officers are expected to pilot their vessels under ordinary circumstances, and where such duty is not specially difficult.

A third attempt within a month was made to rob Mrs. Thornton's residence, at Pensacola, Fla., Nov. 24th. A negro with a drawn knife was held by the ladies of the family until men arrived. The ladies were choked and bruised, but succeeded in capturing the robber.

Friday, Nov. 25th, Sang Armor, colored, was hanged in Crawfordville, Ga., for the murder of a white man; Jos. Rogers was hanged at Rogersville, Tenn., for the murder of two men; Henry Johnson, colored, was hanged at Sumter Court House, S. C., for the murder of another colored man; and Richmond James, colored, was hanged at Marion, S. C., for murder. Squire Clark, colored, sentenced to be hanged the same day at Lexington, S. C., was respited.

The Ocean mills in Newburyport had 200 tons of coal on fire from Tuesday to Friday of last week before they succeeded in quenching the flames.

Some one attempted to break into the residence of Dr. Stackpole, trying both the back door and window, Tuesday evening. The dog barked, and before the hired man could reach the door, he had disappeared in the darkness.—Dover Republican.

From the above we are unable to assert positively which one of the two it was that disappeared in the darkness—the dog or the hired man.

As a perfectly reliable and economical remedy, we cordially recommend Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. Price 25 cents a bottle. For sale everywhere.

J. Baker, a white man, has been arrested at Little Rock, Ark., for shooting Rev. Mr. Jackson, a negro, with small shot, in a quarrel, on Thursday of last week.

Indulgent parents who allow their children to eat heartily of high-seasoned food, rich pies, cake, &c., will have to use Hop Bitters to prevent indigestion, sleepless nights, sickness, pain, and perhaps, death. No family is safe without them in the house.

Another attempt to kill or capture the czar of Russia and his family is reported.

Society Belles.

On account of its remarkably delicate and lasting fragrance society belles are loud in their praises of Floreston Cologne.

A heavy storm prevailed on the British coast last week, and much damage was done.

True as sunshine melts the frost, Adamson's Botanic Balsam cures coughs, colds, and all difficulty of breathing. Price, 10, 35, and 75 cts.

On Monday of last week Robert Maxwell, a prominent farmer living near Cairo, Ga., killed Adam Seigler, a negro, for attempting to outrage his little daughter.

Living Witnesses.

The hundreds of hearty, and healthy looking men, women and children, that have been rescued from beds of pain, sickness and well nigh death by Parker's Ginger Tonic are the best evidences in the world of its sterling merit and worth. You will find such in almost every community.

William Merrick of Brandon, Vt., shot a hound which was interfering with his own dog in the Adirondack hunting region, and in return Merrick was shot and mortally wounded by the owner of the hound.

The Results of Necessity.

What the ancients suffered for the want of knowledge in medical science, can only be appreciated by contrasting the vast amount of suffering cured and pain alleviated in modern times, by the use of Swayne's Ointment for skin diseases. Its introduction was characterized by the necessary withdrawal of a score or more of illusive, quack nostrums, whose evil effects have left living monuments to denounce them. Thus is exemplified the proverb, necessity is the mother of invention.

—One of the latest æsthetic fashions is that of an old shoe designed as a receptacle for confectionery and a curiosity for a room adornment.

Rheumatism

Neuralgia, Sprains,

Pain in the Back and Side.

There is nothing more painful than these diseases; but the pain can be removed and the disease cured by use of Perry Davis' Pain Killer.

This remedy is not a cheap Benzine or Petroleum product that must be kept away from fire or heat to avoid danger of explosion, nor is it an untried experiment that may do more harm than good.

Pain Killer has been in constant use for forty years, and the universal testimony from all parts of the world is, It never fails. It not only effects a permanent cure, but it relieves pain almost instantaneously. Being a purely vegetable remedy, it is safe in the hands of the most inexperienced.

The record of cures by the use of PAIN KILLER would fill volumes. The following extracts from letters received show what those who have tried it think:

Edgar Cady, Owatonna, Minn., says:
About a year since my wife became subject to severe suffering from rheumatism. Our resort was to the PAIN KILLER, which speedily relieved her.

Charles Powell writes from the Sailors' Home, London says:
I had been afflicted three years with neuralgia and I found spasms of the stomach. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. I tried your PAIN KILLER, and it gave me immediate relief. I have regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation.

G. H. Walworth, Saco, Me., writes:
I experienced terrible relief from pain in the side by the use of your PAIN KILLER.

E. York says:
I have used your PAIN KILLER for rheumatism, and have received great benefit.

Barton Seaman says:
Have used PAIN KILLER for thirty years, and have found it a never-failing remedy for rheumatism and lameness.

Mr. Burditt writes:
It never fails to give relief in cases of rheumatism.

Phil. Gilbert, Somerset, Pa., writes:
From actual use, I know your PAIN KILLER is the best medicine I can get.

All druggists keep PAIN KILLER. Its price is so low that it is within the reach of all, and there will save many times its cost in doctors' bills. 25c., 50c. and $1.00 a bottle.

Nervousness.

MALARIA.

Persons living in Malarious districts may protect themselves from attacks of fever by the use of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites. Its effects in toning up the system enables us to ward off contagious disorders, and successfully combat disease.

The soluble phosphites and the other life-sustaining principles composing Fellows' Hypophosphites are so carefully proportioned and so judiciously mingled, that their action upon the nerves, muscles and membranes in imparting vitality, strength and healthy action is generally apparent within twenty four hours, and the good effects experienced are of a permanent character.

TRADE MARK Seminal Pastille

Is entirely New and positively effective Remedy for the speedy and permanent cure of Seminal Emissions and Impotency by the solitary way, viz., Direct Application to the principal Seat of the Disease. The use of the remedy is attended with no pain or inconvenience, and does not interfere with the ordinary pursuits of life. This mode of treatment has stood the test in very severe cases, and is now a prominent remedy. It is to be noticed that this preparation. Practical observation enables us to positively state that the Pastille will produce satisfactory results in cases defied by the Medical Faculty, and Patent Medicine Venders, and that in cases of long standing and curing this very prevalent trouble, the remedy is yet unknown, and unapproached. It is intended, 1st, to relieve the effects of personal care, when it never exists; 2d, to relieve two-thirds of the cases of Impotency, which will not yield to other treatment; 3d, to cure the most obstinate cases of Seminal Emissions, which will yield to no other remedy. Full directions for using accompany each box. Price, $1 per box, or six boxes for $5, sent by mail, on receipt of price. Address, "Seminal Pastille," which will not be the name of any other article, and must be ordered by name. Sold by druggists generally. Wholesale agents, HARRIS REMEDY CO., MFG. Daily Chronicle.

A Russian "Nobleman."

At St. Petersburg, Russia, Nov. 26th, a young man under the pretence of urgent state business obtained an audience at the ministry of the interior with Gen. Tcherevine, who was presiding over a commission for mitigating the sentences of exiles. As soon as he was admitted he fired a revolver at the general, but the ball passed harmlessly between his arm and side. The general secured and disarmed the youth, who said he was merely the instrument of another person.

A later report says the would-be assassin of Gen. Tcherevine is a nobleman, Nichlai Sankowsky, from the government of Grodno. He arrived in St. Petersburg a few days previous to the assault, accompanied by a person named Meinikoff, who has been arrested as an accessory. Sankowsky is a Catholic, and is twenty-eight years old. He states that having become poor by dissipation, he was meditating suicide when he met Meinikoff, who persuaded him to commit political murder. Sankowsky was a volunteer during the rising in Hertzegovina, and formerly kept a restaurant.

Of the Church Militant.

Rev. Dr. W. L. Gage, of the Hartford, Conn., Pearl street Congregational church, entered his house about eight o'clock Sunday night and found a burglar there, whom he clinched as he was endeavoring to escape. A tussle followed which was continued some time, the burglar endeavoring to use a pistol. The struggle continued in the hall, down the front steps into the street, where the burglar was thrown and held by the muscular clergyman until help arrived. The thief was armed with a formidable "jimmy," besides his pistol. He had packed almost the entire wardrobe of Mr. Gage and wife, ready for removal. He gives the name of John Gillesome, and is believed to be a New York professional.

—After all, the "induction balance" may yet prove a success. It was tested upon a politician to see if he had any brains, and it truthfully located them in his stomach.

A Cure for Pimples!

My face for the last few years was covered with pimples so bad, that I used to be ashamed to go anywhere. I took two bottles of Sulphur Bitters and the pimples disappeared. I use them every spring.—C. K. D., Fall River.

The dead body of an unknown middle-aged man, well dressed, with a twenty-pound paver attached to the neck, was found at New London, Conn., in Winthrop's cove, Sunday. In his pocket was a bill from H. Wagner, San Antonio, Texas, to M. A. Adams, and a little money. An inquest was held, with a verdict of suicide.

The Prize of Beauty

would never have been awarded to Venus if her teeth had been yellow. Frail mortal, unlike the deities of fable, have perishable teeth, but these they may retain unimpaired to an advanced age, if they will use Sozodont, which keeps the teeth free from impurities which destroy them and renders them objects of admiration. It is pure, refreshing, leaves an agreeable flavor in the mouth, and sweetens the breath.

Ida Bowker, a child eleven years old, was feloniously assaulted near the railroad station at Abington, Mass., Saturday evening, by Samuel E. Bennett, a man nearly fifty years of age. The assault was of a most inhuman character. Bennett has a family. He has been arrested.

The Dangers of the Stock Market.

A man may be incredulous enough to risk his money in the fickle mysteries of a mercurial stock market, but when he gets the itching piles, he goes straight for Dr. Swayne's Ointment. Unlike the bulls and bears of the stock exchange, who clean you out of hard earned cash, it returns your money with interest, in the way of allaying the intense itching, and insuring sweet repose.

James Doran was found frozen to death, Nov. 26th, at South Groveland, Mass. He was forty years of age, and leaves a wife and mother.

He Suffered for 35 Years.

GUILFORD, CT., May 15th, 1868.

For thirty-five years I have been the victim of that terrible disease, dyspepsia; have consulted eminent physicians, and tried almost every remedy. My family physician finally told me I could not be cured. The first dose of Coe's Dyspepsia Cure helped me, and, to-day, I consider myself cured, and am ready to affirm that it is the most valuable medicine ever placed before the public.

G. H. RICHARDSON.

PADUCAH, KY., May 10th, 1867.

During a confinement of eleven months in Libby prison, I was attacked with dyspepsia in its worst form. For two years I have suffered with it. I tried doctors a great many times without relief. This spring I became so debilitated as to be unable to walk one square. After taking two doses of Coe's Dyspepsia Cure I ate of everything on the table, felt no distress afterward, and have an excellent appetite.
